It is Peter's core belief that we are all co-creators of the world in which we live and work. Our families, our schools, our places of work, our neighborhoods and towns – all of these are the communities that make up our world. Through our daily behaviors, speech, actions and choices, we contribute to the character of those communities, and shape the world in which we live and work, for ourselves, for our families, for our friends, for our colleagues and co-workers, for visitors, and for our fellow citizens.

Peter's own sense of mission is driven by his strong desire to help his clients enrich their own lives, and create great places to work and live. He is guided in his work by these, his personal and professional values: dare to be true, do good work in service of the common good, honor others, be fair, and make choices that promote a healthy mind, body and spirit.

Peter holds an MBA from the Amos Tuck School of Business Administration at Dartmouth College, a B.A. magna cum laude from Bowdoin College, and the C.P.L.F. 1<sup>er</sup> Degré from the University of Paris – Sorbonne. The Henry Luce Foundation named him a 1980 Luce Scholar.

Peter lives in Santa Cruz. When he is not speaking, working with clients or writing, you're more likely to find him in the water or on his bike relishing the natural beauty of the Central California coast!
