Welcome to a Special Edition of The Leadership Challenge Newsletter!

To help celebrate The Leadership Challenge Forum 2008 (taking place August 8-9 in Denver, Colorado), we have put together this pre-Forum special edition of our newsletter. This exciting event has sold out, but there will be several web-based activities for both attendees and those of you who aren't able to attend. Also, stay tuned for our post-Forum special edition newsletter that we will be sending out after the event.

The Leadership Challenge Forum 2008

Later this week, individuals from businesses, educational institutions, government agencies and the military, healthcare and nonprofit organizations, and consulting firms will sit down together for a chance to get better acquainted, share resources, ask questions, identify challenges, and learn more about one another's innovative applications of The Leadership Challenge.
