The Leadership Challenge® Workshop in Australia, hosted by WorkSmart Australia this past November in Sydney, was recently highlighted in an article in Human Resources Magazine (Australia). The author of this review was quite impressed by the two-day workshop, calling it “highly engaging, well structured, practical and inspirational and is suitable for all levels of leaders.” She also took note of facilitator Michael Bunting’s expertise, praising his skill in creating “a safe and supportive environment in which to share and learn.” As a result of the success of this first workshop, additional public workshops are scheduled for 2009. So Australia, welcome to The Leadership Challenge family!
