Dr. Scott A. Yorkovich

Scott's professional focus is on helping leaders and organizations learn how to use leadership to achieve greater results in personal and organizational life. His own journey of transformation greatly informs and inspires his work with clients today. At one time, Scott was a successful, but unfulfilled professional. Now, as a focused, strategic, and fulfilled leader, he helps other individuals and organizations experience greater outcomes.

Professional Expertise/Services

Scott Yorkovich is president of Revelare Corporation in St. Paul, MN. He has consulted with business leaders from all fields for more than 20 years. His work focuses on leadership development and organizational effectiveness. He works with leaders at all levels of the organization and all experience levels to help them discover their innate potential and use that for greater personal and professional outcomes. Scott also helps organizations become better stewards of their professional and intellectual assets. Scott serves as an adjunct professor at Bethel University and Capella University and has written two PhD-level courses in organizational leadership.
