

Ann V. Deaton, Ph.D.,

PCC is a leadership coach with DaVinci Resources. She is certified in coaching by Newfield Network, as well as holding a PCC (Professional Certified Coach) credential from the International Coach Federation. Ann received her doctorate in Clinical Psychology from The University of Texas at Austin and worked in leadership roles in health care settings prior to transitioning into coaching. in 2003.

Professional Expertise/Services

Since 2002, Ann has been providing leadership coaching and teambuilding to individual leaders and organizational teams to enhance their self awareness, communication, decision-making, and leadership effectiveness. She is trained in the use of Appreciative Inquiry, The Leadership Circle 360, Myers Briggs Type Inventory, Emotional Intelligence, The Leadership Culture Survey, and the Conflict Dynamics Profile, as well as other approaches and assessments. Ann serves as a leadership coach in Virginia Commonwealth University's School of Business, Partnership for Nonprofit Excellence, Virginia Health Care Foundation's Leading for the Long Term, NAWBO Executive Dialogue, and CIA University's Program on Creative Leadership. She teaches coaching courses for The University of Texas at Dallas Executive Coaching Program and psychology and doctoral research courses for the University of Phoenix.

Recent Assignments-

- Statewide association – To develop the leadership expertise and teamwork of its middle managers through a series of leadership workshops and team coaching.
- Workshop-- To enable leaders to understand how to embody their leadership through an awareness of nonverbal cues, posture, and movement
- CFO to learn how to build relationships and communication skills
- VP of a major financial institution to focus on developing her leadership skills and identifying options for upward mobility
- 360 assessment and leadership coaching of nonprofit executive directors to leverage strengths and develop resources in other areas
- Event manager to learn how to effectively say "no" to unfeasible customer demands in order to create shared vision and deliver consistently beyond customer expectations

Education and Professional Affiliations

- Ph.D., Clinical Psychology, The University of Texas at Austin
- M.A., Clinical Psychology, The University of Texas at Austin
- B.S. University of Dayton
- Certificate, Nonprofit Management, Virginia Commonwealth University

Contact Information

DaVinci Resources
4724 Snowmass Rd. Glen Allen, VA 23060
804-270-6902 Ann@DaVinciResources.com