

Dr. J. Patrick Fiore is the founder and President of Aprecis Group Leadership Services (AGLS). He has been involved in helping organizations and leaders reach their potential both personally and professionally.

Dr. Fiore has served as the Team Leader of Journey Church of the Highlands in West Milford, New Jersey for the past thirty years. In addition to his local responsibilities, Pat speaks both nationally and internationally, specializing in the areas of mentoring, coaching, training, team building and organizational development.

In addition to being a conference and seminar speaker, Pat hosted a weekly television program, "Break Through." He is listed in Who's Who in Executives and Professionals, Who's Who in New Jersey, Who's Who in Religion, and has received an honorary appointment to the Research Board of Advisors at the American Biographical Institute, as well as an award from the Outstanding Scholars of the 20th Century.

Dr. Fiore has authored, "Administrative Systems For The Non-Profit Organization". This is a four-volume manual that has been a resource tool for many leaders, helping them in the structuring of the administration of their non-profit organizations.

Pat also created a nationwide coaching network for a large international non-profit group, and has been instrumental in the development of leaders and coaches.

For the last eleven years Pat has taken his education and experience from the non-profit sector and "crossed over" into the corporate for-profit arena.

AGLS, under Pat's direction, has developed a four-fold approach to its consulting process: Executive Coaching, Leadership Coaching Team, Coaching Organizational and Coaching

Dr. Fiore's philosophy is evident in the AGLS motto: "Our Goal Is To Facilitate Your Success"!

Pat has been happily married for the last 35 years to Susan, his high school sweetheart. The Fiore's have two grown children, Bethany and Adam.
