

David D. Hayes

David is the Principal of Seasoned Speakers, a company founded out of his passion for public speaking and training. As a proven and effective training professional, David's down-to-earth attitude helps him relate to a wide range of audiences and trainees. He is a natural presenter and is at home in front of a small or large group. His personality and passion for what he does, creates an engaging environment that promotes interaction and student participation while increasing material retention.

Professional Expertise/Services

For nearly 10 years David worked in sales and sales management where he developed a knack for discovering the needs of his clients and then helping them find the best solution to fill those needs. This skill plays a key role in his ability to discover and deliver the most appropriate training to meet the specific needs of the client. He is an experienced instructor/facilitator in the areas of Leadership, Communication, Train-the-Trainer, and Ethical Business Practices as well as other "soft skills". He also has experience delivering technical training in the areas of software, computer training, and industrial safety related courses.

Recent Assignments

- Microsoft – description
- Transitioning to Leadership
- One-on-One Communications
- Structured on the Job Training (SOJT)
- FASTrac Working Styles
- Ethical Leadership
- Teambuilding for Leaders
- Performance Coaching
- Problem Analysis
- Presentation Skills
- Team Leadership

Education and Professional Affiliations

- B.S. Computer Science
- NCCER Master Trainer
- Toastmasters Regional Winner
- Dale Carnegie Course Graduate

Contact Information

Seasoned Speakers
1405 Glenview Dr, DeRidder, La 70634
337.396.4751 • seasoned.speakers@gmail.com