

Pfeiffer Partner Program

TIM BUIVIDAS

Tim Buividas. M.S., founded the Corporate Learning Institute in 1992. His passion is working in change management consulting, training and development, team and individual coaching and facilitation interventions. His goal is to create provocative learning experiences that change people's lives. Through the delivery of his services Tim has impacted over 15,000 participant lives from major corporations and organizations throughout the world.

Tim provides services that focus on managing change, leadership and management development, team building, and personal style assessment for organizations that are ready to create positive change throughout their organizations. In his position, he is certified in experiential education, Meyers Briggs, DiSC Personal Profile Systems, and Situational Leadership.

Tim brings 17 years of leadership and management experience to his practice. His experience includes expertise in management, sales, marketing and operations. He has worked internationally in Venezuela over a period of 4 years.

Tim is currently working on his Doctorate in Organizational Leadership. He received his graduate and undergraduate degrees from Benedictine University. He holds a Master of Science in Management & Organizational Behavior, with a focus in organizational development and a Bachelor of Science. Buividas has expanded his education as a dedicated member of many organizations including the Organizational Development Institute, Organization Development Network, Association of Experiential Education, American Society of Training & Development, SHRM, TEC, Experiential Training and Development Alliance, and the Association of Psychological Type. He has used his education and memberships as a continual growing experience to better serve his clients' needs. Tim is on the board of directors of the Experiential Training and Development Alliance and also on the Career Advancement Network.

Tim is also an Adjunct Professor for Benedictine University and Chicago School of Professional Psychology and past adjunct for Dominican University, Keller Graduate School, and College of DuPage Business and Professional Institute. Tim is completing his doctoral dissertation focusing on Patrick Lencioni's Five Dysfunctions of a Team.

Tim recently (2006) co-authored a book titled The A-Z Guide of Experiential Learning. Tim can be reached at 630-971-5173, or tbuividas@corplearning.com