

Jody R. Rogers, PhD, FACHE, is principle in Healthcare Leadership Solutions. The mission of Healthcare Leadership Solutions is to enhance the leadership effectiveness of managers and aspiring leaders primarily but not limited to healthcare professionals.

Professional Expertise/Services

Dr. Jody R. Rogers is a Visiting Professor in the Graduate Program in Healthcare Administration at Trinity University in San Antonio, Texas and a former Professor at Baylor University. He is a Board Certified Healthcare Executive, a Fellow in the American College of Healthcare Executives and has over 30 years of healthcare experience. Dr. Rogers has a Bachelors of Science in Medical Technology and Biology, a Masters Degree in Business Administration from Boston University and a Masters Degree from the U.S. Army-Baylor University Graduate Program in Health Administration. His Doctorate is in Health Services Research, Policy, and Administration from the University of Minnesota.

Dr. Rogers served for over 23 years in the U. S. Army, retiring in 1999 as the Director of the U.S. Army-Baylor University Graduate Program in Health Administration. He served in various administrative and leadership positions within the Army Medical Department culminating as The Army Surgeon General's Strategic Planner prior to becoming Director of the Baylor Graduate Program in Healthcare Administration.

Since his retirement, Dr. Rogers has taught several graduate courses at Trinity University. Currently, Dr. Rogers also serves as the Program Manager, Executive Skills Branch of the Leader Training Center, Army Medical Department (AMEDD) Center and School. His responsibilities include budget management, planning, organizing and conducting an executive leadership course for senior AMEDD Officers. In addition, Dr. Rogers oversees the administration of a database that tracks executive level competency for 15,000 AMEDD Officers. Dr. Rogers also serves as a faculty member with the American College of Healthcare Executives speaking nationally and throughout the AMEDD on the subject of leadership in healthcare. Dr. Rogers has recently been designated as a Certified Master Facilitator Candidate for The Leadership Challenge, an industry leading book on Evidence Based Leadership.

Recent Assignments

Visiting Professor, Trinity University, 2003 – present

Program Manager, Army Medical Department Center and School Executive Skills Program 2000 – present

Adjunct Professor, US Army- Baylor University Graduate Program in Health and Business Administration, 2001 – present

Faculty Member – American College of Healthcare Executives 3005 - present

Education and Professional Affiliations

- Doctor of Philosophy, Health Services Research, Policy, and Administration, Univ. of Minnesota, 1993
- M.H.A., Baylor University, 1985
- M.S.B.A. Boston University, 1982
- B.S. University of Wisconsin – Stevens Point
- Fellow, American College of Healthcare Executives
- Board Certified in Health Administration, American College of Healthcare Executives

Contact Information

Healthcare Leadership Solutions

2054 Chittim Hollow Drive

San Antonio, TX 78232

Email: jrogers5@satx.rr.com

Website: www.healthcareleadershipsolutions.com