

John Mutz

John has been a leadership consultant and executive coach with over 20 years of experience in many diverse business settings in Southern California.

His coaching practice focuses on executive and managerial level leaders, and increasing their capacity to perform through self-management, working more effectively with others and understanding their business culture. He has used a hybrid coaching- mediation model to penetrate and reconcile gaps between among executives and their spheres of influence creating extraordinary impact in productivity. His strengths include working with groups and individuals to increase performance

Professional Expertise/Services

John's initial experience in leadership development programs began with creating a Leadership Development Institute at Los Angeles Police Department's Wilshire Station in his position of Station Commander. The Wilshire Station at that time was known as one of the busiest stations in Los Angeles and was recovering from a poor image following its response to significant rioting and looting in the area. Over a five year span the institute offered a variety of training for police officers, school teachers, fire fighters, business leaders and community members in leadership, customer service, process improvement and teamwork. This training culminated in consecutive annual quality service awards for the station by the California Council for Quality & Service. Following many requests for John to deliver training outside the police setting, he created a private company dedicated to leadership development now known as DynamX Consulting. He retired from the Los Angeles Police Department in 1999 to work full-time as a consultant. He was recruited by Right Management in 2000 as an executive coach and has continued his relationship with Right.
