

Ardi Ghorashy M.Sc., PMP, PgMP, MCP

Professional Trainer, Coach & Speaker (CAPS/NSA)

With 27 years of experience in R&D, IT and business operations and management, Mr. Ghorashy specializes in Project and program Management, product development, methodology & PMO consulting, training and coaching. Ardi has trained and coached over 11,000 managers worldwide in project and program management, risk management, MS Project, EPM, leadership, portfolio management and finance in industries as diverse as banking & trust, insurance & reinsurance, manufacturing, telecommunication, software development, ship building aerospace, and retail and spoken at a number of PMI chapter events.

Mr. Ghorashy holds a Masters degrees in Engineering from UMIST in UK with three years of postgraduate research work with the UK Atomic Energy at Imperial College, London. He also holds a certificate in Adult Education and Development from OSIE at University of Toronto and has attended executive development programs in Leadership, Finance, Marketing, Operations and Strategic Planning at various business schools and a has certificate of education in Positive psychology from Penn. State University. He is a Project Management Professional (PMP), Program Management Professional (PgMP), Microsoft Certified Professional and a member of PMI, PDMA, IEEE, CSTD/ASTD, the Markham Board of Trade, and Toronto Product Management Association (TPMA), Society for Neuroscience, National Speakers Association (NSA) and Canadian Association of Professional Speakers (CAPS), Southern Management Association, International Coaching Federation (ICF), Results Coaching Systems (RCS), and NeuroLeadership Institute.