

Index

- accounts 79
action-based preference 86–7 adjacency pairs 4, 63–6 alerts 144
alienation 7
anchor positions 199
 trajectories to 212–14
anticipatory completions 168 appositionals 149–52
audience diversity 187–91
- Chomsky, Noam 10
class-specific question words (CSQWs) 124–5
 repetition 125–32
closings 214–15
 closing problem 215–21
compliments 83–6
conditional relevance 63–6 constituting relationships 199 context 256
 approaches 245–6 talk in public inquiries 250–6 talking context into being 247–50 conversation analysis (CA) 1, 258–70 historical perspective 6–11 correction 134–5
- data acquisition 20–3 delays 78
design-based preference 86–7 disjunction marker 177 dispreferred responses 78–9 distribution rule 201
- embedded correction 135 embedded repetition 177–8 exposed correction 134
externalist view 5
- first pair part (FPP) 64 action-preference 86–7 grammatical form 87–8 flooding out 26
formats in speech 30
formulations in speech 30
- Garfinkel, Harold 6, 8 gate-keeping 199
Goffman, Erving 6, 14–15 grammar of language 40–1, 49
- historical development of CA 6–11
how-are-you inquiries 208–10
- identification–recognition sequence 202–8 individualist view 5 interaction order 6
interruptions of speech 36–7, 51–6 intersubjectivity 12–13, 66–70
intrigue 14–17
irony 70–2
- Jefferson, Gail 6, 24–5
- keys in CA 30–1
- laughter 25–6
listening techniques 185–7 locally managed conversation 39

- machinery of conversation 2–6, 258–70 macro aspects 245, 246 meanings 70
 methods in CA 20, 34–5
 collection management and analysis 34 collections 31–3
 data acquisition 20–3
 keys 30–1
 theorizing from observations 28–30 transcription and observation 23–8
- next-turn repair-initiator (NTRI) 103, 111 non-lexical verbalizations 149–52
- openings 197
 core sequences 200–8
 how-are-you inquiries 208–10
 pick-ups 197–8
 telephone conversations 198–9 trajectories to anchor position 212–14 trouble-premonitory responses 210–12
- organizations 2
 overlap of speech 51–6
- palliatives 79
 party-administered conversation 39 patterns in speech 30 pauses in speech 28
 pick-up lines 197–8
 post-expansions 104–8
 post-framing 115
 pre-closings 217–18
 pre-expansions 95–103
 preference 77–8
 action-based vs. design-based 86–7
 compliments 83–6
 concurrent preferences 81–3 organization of interaction 90–3 responses 78–9
 structural consequences 80–1 twin preference structure 89–90 type-conformity preference 87–9
- preferred responses 78–9 pre-framing 115
 procedural consequentiality 246 pro-forma agreement 79
 progressivity 91
 public inquiries 250–6
- recipient design 5, 177 recognitional overlap 53 recognitional reference forms 89–90 recognizability 178 recording conversations 22–3 referent shift 85–6
 referents for words 128 repair 110–13, 135–6 as a vehicle for action 133–5 class-specific question words (CSQWs) 124–5 offering a candidate 132–3 open-class repair initiators 119–24 other-initiated repair 117–19 repetition and CSQWs 125–32 self-repair 114–17
 self-repair, preference for 113–14
- Sacks, Harvey 6, 9–10 first lecture 11–12
 methods in CA 21–2
- scale-downs 85
 Schegloff, Emanuel 6
 second pair part (SPP) 64 insert expansions 103–4 self-deprecation 83
 self-initiated, same-turn self-repair (SISTSR) 117
- sequence 95, 109
 insert expansion 103–4
 post-expansion 104–8
 pre-expansion 95–103
- sequential analysis 73–4 serial organization of speech 59 social life 1, 17–18 spouse talk 191–4
 starting conversations 197–8 telephone 198–9
- stories 174–5, 194
 audience diversity 187–91
 co-tellership 191–4 entitlement 184–5
 format 178–84
 more than one utterance 175–8 second stories 185–7
- summons-answer sequence 200–2
- talk 1, 17–18
 machinery 2–6
 understanding 12–14, 59–63
 telephone conversations 23, 198–9
 closings 215–21
 how-are-you inquiries 208–10

- identification–recognition sequence 202–8
- summons–answer sequence 200–2
- theorizing from observations 28–30
- transcribing conversations 23–5
- transition relevant places (TRPs) 42–3, 47
- transition space 47–51
- trouble-premonitory responses 210–12
- turn construction and design 139, 171–2
 - anatomy of turns 139–40
 - beginnings 140–52
 - collaborations 167–71
 - endings 152–6
 - interactions 157–67
- turn-constructional units (TCUs) 41–2, 48, 113
- turn-initial overlap 53
- turns-at-talking 3–4, 36–7, 56–7
 - awaiting completion 38
 - constructing turns-at-talk 39–42
 - distribution in conversation 43–5
 - grossly apparent facts 38–9
 - next-speaker selection 45–6
 - one-at-a-time rule 37
 - overlap and interruption 51–6
 - transition places 42–3
 - transition space 47–51
- turn-terminal overlap 53
- type-conformity preference 87–9
- understanding 59–63, 74–5
 - adjacency pairs and conditional relevance 63–6
 - intersubjectivity 66–70, 12–13
 - irony 70–2
 - sequential analysis 73–4
- uneasiness 7
- yes–no interrogative (YNI) 86–7, 88–9

