

The Authors

Christoph Burger heads the Practice Group Telecommunications, Transport, Utilities at esmt customized solutions. He has research interests in customer management, business scenario planning, and business plan assessment.

Franziska Frank heads Business Development Russia, Eastern Europe, and China at esmt customized solutions.

Bülent Gögdün is Program Director at esmt and is responsible for business development in Turkey.

Frank Jacob holds the Chair of Marketing at the Berlin campus of ESCP-EAP European School of Management. His fields of interest are industrial marketing and services marketing.

Wesley J. Johnston is CBIM RoundTable Professor of Marketing at J. Mack Robinson College of Business, Georgia State University, Atlanta. His research focus is on sales force management and B2B-marketing.

Michael Kleinaltenkamp is Professor of Marketing, particularly B2B-Marketing, at Freie Universität Berlin. His research focuses on service marketing and relationship management.

Martin Kupp is Program Director at esmt customized solutions. His research interest focus on business strategy in technology markets, strategic and technology-enabled innovation, and sales strategy on B2B-markets.

Aubert Martin is President and Chief Executive Officer of Siemens Energy & Automation, Inc. He has executive responsibility for the company's strategic direction, operating performance, and marketplace success. He is a member of the company's Board of Directors and a member of the Board of Voest-Alpine Industries, Inc.

Benjamin Moor has spent five years consulting in a variety of technology markets. He is currently a candidate for a Masters in Business Administration at the Darden School of Business, University of Virginia.

Wulff Plinke is Founding Dean of esmt. Prior to this position he was Professor of Industrial Marketing Management at Universität Hannover, at Freie Universität Berlin, and at Humboldt-Universität Berlin.

Olaf Plötner is Managing Director of esmt (European School of Management and Technology) customized solutions and a lecturer in Accounting at Freie Universität Berlin. His research focuses on customer relationship management, business management, communication, and marketing strategy.

Mario Rese is Professor for Business Administration and Marketing at Ruhr-Universität Bochum. He has research interests in competitive strategy, customer analysis, and marketing controlling.

Brian N. Rutherford is an Assistant Professor of Business Administration at Richards College of Business, University of West Georgia. His research interests are in the areas of inter and intra organizational selling and sales management.

Arun Sharma is Professor of Marketing at the School of Business Administration, University of Miami, Florida.

Jagdish N. Sheth holds the Charles H. Kellstadt Chair of Marketing in the Goizueta Business School at Emory University, Atlanta. He has published widely in different areas of marketing and business strategy.

Albrecht Söllner is Professor for International Management at the European University Viadrina, Frankfurt (Oder). His research interests include new institutional economics, path dependency, business relationships, and the international division of labor.

Robert E. Spekman is Tayloe Murphy Professor of Business Administration at the Darden School of Business, University of Virginia. He is an internationally recognized authority on B2B-marketing, supply chain / channels management, and strategic alliances.

Dale Wilson is Vice President, Sales Division of Siemens Energy & Automation. He directs activities involving sales of the company's industrial products, power distribution, and residential businesses.