Foreword	ix
Preface	xi
Acknowledgments	xiii
Batch Plant Dust Collection—An Engineered Approach to Dust Reduction Don Feuerstein, Barney Olson, and Natalie Gaydos	1
Forehearth Coloring Advancements John M. Bauer	11
Gob Temperature Control Brent Illingworth, Jim Knope, Steve Nixon, Alan White, and Julian Railey	23
Applications and Challenges for Infrared Temperature Measurement in Glass Manufacturing with an Emphasis on Tempering of Low-Emissivity Glass James Earle and Frank Schneider	39
Industrial Experiences with a New Surface Treatment Technology Heiko Hessenkemper	47
What is the Ideal Glass Batch Depth of a Glass Furnace? E. Muijsenberg, M. Muijsenberg, J. Chmelar, and Glenn Neff	57
Effects of Surface Structure on Wetting of Patterned Superhydrophobic Surfaces Bharat Bhushan and Yong Chae Jung	65
Critical Thinking David Kalman and Alison Lazenby	75

Glass Melting at Corning's Research Facility David McEnroe and Michael J. Snyder	85
Small Scale Melting Platforms for Problem Solving Michael J. Snyder and David McEnroe	93
Solving Glass Problems Melissa Mesko and J. T. Fisk	101
Numerical Simulation of the Submerged Combustion Melting Process Bruno A. Purnode, Raj Venuturumilli, Jaydeep Kulkarni, Lewis Collins, and Grigory Aronchik	115
Operation of a Pilot-Scale Submerged Combustion Melter David Rue, Walter Kunc, and Grigory Aronchik	125
Development of an Advanced Batch/Cullet Preheater for Oxy-Fuel Fired Glass Furnaces H. Kobayashi, E. Evenson, and Y. Xue	137
Innovations in Container Glass Production in Central and Eastern Europe Günter Lubitz	149
Tin Bath Bottom Blocks—Challenges and New Solutions Götz Heilemann, Bernhard Schmalenbach, Thomas Weichert, and Klaus Santowski	159
Electric Forehearths for Borosilicate Glasses—A Recent View Peter R.H. Davies, Alex J.R. Davies, Douglas H. Davis, Christopher J. Hoyle, and Larry McCloskey	171
Low NO _x Combustion in Regenerative Glass Furnaces Ruud Beerkens and Hans van Limpt	187
Advanced Cleanfire® HRI™ Oxy-Fuel Boosting Application Lowers Emissions and Reduces Fuel Consumption Michael Habel, Kevin Lievre, Julian Inskip, Jan Viduna, and Richard Huang	203
Oxygen Enrichment: Recognizing and Addressing the Hazards Robert L. Martrich, Joseph W. Slusser, and Kevin A. Lievre	213
Chromium VI: Concerns, Compliance and Controls Terry L. Berg and Carlos E. Davis	221
Examination of a Used Chrome-Alumina Monolithic Lining from an Insulation Fiberglass (C-Glass) Electric Melter Howard Winkelbauer and Mathew Wheeler	229

Structure, Microstructure and Refractory Performance Nigel Longshaw	249
Author Index	263
