

INDEX

A

Activities, Candy Surveys, 127–128;
Cataloguing and Debriefing Qualitative Data, 147–149; Collage and Drawing, 112–113; Conducting a Focus Group, 109–110; Creating Improvisations, 133–135; Creating Interview Guides or Protocols, 94–96; Creating Journal and Scrapbook Protocols, 142–143; Creating Rule, 61–64; Creating YPE Roles, 64–66; Defining YPE, 53–54; Developing a Survey, 120–122; Developing Focus Group Guides or Protocols, 106–107; Documenting Meeting, 67–68; The First Thing You Think of When I Say . . . , 110–111; Group Journal Writing, 68–69; Hand-Tallying and Setting Up a Database, 153–155; Human Surveys, 125–127; If This Organization Were a Movie . . . , 116; Individual Goal Setting, 70–71; Logic Modeling, 82–85; Mapping, 107–109; Matching YPE Team Interviewers with Respondents, 98–99; My Gift to the Group, 58–59; The Performance with Respondents, 136–138; Performing as an Interviewer, 100–101; Performing Journal Writing, 143–144; Performing Me, 59–60; Qualitative Data Analysis, 149–152; Question-Asking Game, 89; Question-Asking Performance, 86–89; Reality Wheel, 76–78; Reflection on a Word, 52–53; The Rehearsal, 136; Selecting Focus Group Respondents, 107–109; Selecting Interviewer Respondents, 96–98; Selecting People to Survey, 123–125; Selecting Performers to Participation, 135; Storyboard, 78–81; Survey Games, 126–127; What Is a Survey, and Why Should I Conduct One?, 119–120; What Is an Interview, and Why Should I Conduct One?, 91–94; What Is Journal Writing, and How Can It Be Used as an Evaluation Tool?, 141–142; What is the Performance Method, and Why Should I Use It?, 131–133; The “Yes, And . . .” Game, 56–57. See also Icebreakers; YPE teams

Adult community maps, 115
Adult facilitators, assigning YPE, 41; moving to performance director from role of, 47–48
Adult-youth partnerships, adult development through, 12; play as leveling the playing field in, 26. See also Facilitators; Youth evaluators
Age issues, population details for use in selecting respondents, 98r; requirements regarding, 39–40; value of engaging youth of different ages, 40
American Evaluation Association, 5
B
Baker, A., 88, 105, 119, 120
Beth, 8–9
Blogging collective journaling, 145
Bloom, G. A., 5
Bob, 10
Bruner Foundation, 88, 105, 119, 120

C

California Wellness Foundation, 4
Calvert, M., 10, 12
Camino, L., 5, 10, 12
Candy Surveys (activity), 127–128
CAR (caring, ability, and respect), 157–158
Cataloguing and Debriefing Qualitative Data (activity), 147–149
Chase Smith, J., 10
Checkoway, B., 5, 7, 9, 16
Children’s Environments Research Group (CERG), 4
Children’s Participation (Hart), 40
“Children’s Participation in Community Settings” (1999 meeting), 7
Childwatch International Research Network, 7
Classroom performance, 138–139

- Coleman Advocates, 15–16
 Collage and Drawing (activity), 112–113
 Collective journaling, 144–145
 Communication/listening skills, 58–59
 Communities, adult maps of their, 115;
 impact of YPE on, 14–16; See also Society
 Compensation issue, 38–39
 Conducting a Focus Group (activity), 109–110
 Convention on the Rights of the Child, 6
 Cousins, J. B., 5, 6
 Creating Improvisations (activity), 133–135
 Creating Interview Guides or Protocols
 (activity), 94–96
 Creating Journal and Scrapbook Protocols
 (activity), 142–143
 Creating Rule (activity), 61–64
 Creating YPE Roles (activity), 64–66
 Creative imitation, 22
 Creativity, building a YPE project environment with, 46–47; manifested by YPE, 19–20; performance and play related to, 20–21; in surveying, 125–128
CYD Journal: Community Youth Development, 7
- D
 Data, interactive representation of, 158–159;
 multimedia presentations of, 158; visual representation of, 157–158; YPE report outline for presenting, 155–157
 Data analysis, Cataloguing and Debriefing
 Qualitative Data activity for, 147–149;
 creative approaches to, 147–155;
 Hand-Tallying and Setting Up a Database activity for, 153–155; Qualitative Data Analysis activity for, 149–152;
 quantitative, 152–155
 Data collection, using journaling for, 140–145;
 using performance for, 130–139; training youth interviewers for, 91–101; training youth to develop surveys for, 117–129
 Data interactive presentations, The Game
 Show, 158; The Play’s the Thing, 159
 Defining YPE (activity), 53–54
 Developing a Survey (activity), 120–122
 Developing Focus Group Guides or Protocols (activity), 106–107
 “Did you know?” memos, 158
 Dobbie, E., 7
 Documenting Meeting (activity), 67–68
- The Dog Whisperer*, 163
 Donohue, J. J., 5
- E
 Environment. See YPE environment
 Erbstein, N., 11
 Evaluation, benefits of YPE on, 16–18; creating a new language for, 55; using journaling in, 140–145; participatory, 5–6;
 as scary subject, 50. See also YPE (youth participatory evaluation)
Evaluation Exchange (Harvard Family
 Research Project), 7
 Evaluation questions, 86–89
- F
 Facilitators, assigning YPE adult, 41; moving to performance director role by adult, 47–48; training youth focus group, 102–116. See also Adult-youth partnerships; YPE teams
 Fetterman, D. M., 54
 Finn, J., 5
 The First Thing You Think of When I
 Say . . . (activity), 110–111
 Flanagan, C., 15
 Focus group activities, Collage and
 Drawing, 112–113; Conducting a Focus
 Group, 109–110; Developing Focus
 Group Guides or Protocols, 106–107;
 The First Thing You Think of When I Say . . . , 110–111; If This Organization Were a Movie . . . , 116; Mapping,
 114–115; Selecting Focus Group
 Respondents, 107–109
 Focus groups, advantages and disadvantages of, 105r; attending the “squeaky wheel”
 in, 103; benefits of using, 102–103;
 creative activities for, 110–116;
 description of, 104–105; helping young people to conduct, 104–110; potential ZPD-rich environments of, 103. See also
 Youth focus group facilitators
 Free Management Library, 103
- G
 The Game Show (YPE report format), 158
 Ginwright, S., 14
 Golombek, S., 10
 Goodyear, L., 10

Group Journal Writing (activity), 68–69
 Growing Up in Cities project, 7

H

Hand-Tallying and Setting Up a Database (activity), 153–155
 Harris, E., 10
 Hart, R., 11, 40
 Harvard Family Research Project, 7
 Heath, S. B., 14, 21, 30
 Holzman, L., 22, 23, 28, 29, 39
 Horsch, K., 10, 13
 Human development; link between play, performance and, 21–24; relationship between learning and, 39; role of play in, 24–26. See also ZPD (zone of proximal development)
 Human Survey (icebreaker), 50–52
 Human Surveys (activity), 125–127

I

Icebreakers, Human Survey activity as, 50–52; “If This Organization Were a Movie,” 27–28. See also Activities
 If This Organization Were a Movie . . . (activity), 116
 “If This Organization Were a Movie” (icebreaker), 27–28
 Improvisation strategy, 48–49
 Individual Goal Setting (activity), 70–71
 Innovation Network, 74
 Interactive data presentations, 158–159
 International Convention on the Rights of the Child, 4
 Interviews, taken prior to creating surveys, 118; training youth to take, 91–101; training youth to take survey, 117–129. See also Respondents
 “Irrelevant knowledge production,” 162

J

James, T., 5, 14, 15, 31
 Journal writing, collective journaling, 144–145; Creating Journal and Scrapbook Protocols activity for, 142–143; overview of, 140–141; Performing Journal Writing activity for, 143–144; What Is Journal Writing, and How Can It Be Used as an Evaluation Tool? activity for, 141–142

K

Kaftarian, S. J., 54
 Karen, 10
 Kellogg Foundation, 7
 Kirshner, B., 13

L

Larson, R., 10
 Learning, relationship between development and, 39; ZPD environment and, 39
 Lewis-Charp, H., 10, 11
 Listening skills, 58–59
 Little, P.M.D., 10
 Logic model, 75t
 Logic Modeling (activity), 82–85
 London, J., 10, 11, 12, 13

M

Mapping (activity), 107–109
 Marx, K., 22, 29, 32
 Mary, 14
 Matching YPE Team Interviewers with Respondents (activity), 98–99
 McGillicuddy, K., 5
 McLaughlin, M. W., 13
 Monica, 12
 Monitoring strategies, Documenting Meeting activity, 67–68; Group Journal Writing activity, 68–69; Individual Goal Setting activity, 70–71; suggestions for YPE team, 66
 MOST Programme (UNESCO), 7
 Multimedia presentations, 158
 My Gift to the Group (activity), 58–59

N

New Directions for Evaluation, 7
 Newman, F., 22, 28, 39

O

Objectives, 86
 O’Connor, C., 10
 O’Donoghue, J. L., 13
 Online collective journaling, 144–145
 Organizations. See Youth organizations

P

Parents, CAR (caring, ability, and respect) commitment by, 157–158; performance of staff members as, 131

- Participatory evaluation, origins and development of, 5; study findings on, 5–6. See also YPE (youth participatory evaluation)
- Patton, M. Q., 54
- Performance, of a classroom, 138–139; data collection using, 130–139; example of improvising a, 48–49; five tips for maintaining posture of, 162–164; freedom and creativity related to, 20–21; as an interviewer, 91, 100–101; link between human development and, 21–24; moving from adult facilitator to director of, 47–48; of societal roles, 22; of staff members as parents, 131; transformation of roles through, 23–24; as ZPD (zone of proximal development) component, 23
- Performance activities, Creating Improvisations, 133–135; “If This Organization Were a Movie” (icebreaker), 27–28; The Performance with Respondents, 136–138; The Rehearsal, 136; Selecting Performers to Participation, 135; What is the Performance Method, and Why Should I Use It?, 131–133
- Performance directors, continuous work on role as, 162–163; moving from adult facilitator to role of, 47–48
- Performance tips, 1. continuously create the ensemble/performatory environment, 162; 2. keep working on performance as director, 162–163; 3. treat youth as who they are becoming, 163–164; 4. help youth and your perform “in advance of yourselves,” 164; 5. build with everything you have, 164; The Performance with Respondents (activity), 136–138
- Performing as an Interviewer (activity), 100–101
- Performing Journal Writing (activity), 143–144
- Performing Me (activity), 59–60
- Pittman, K., 5
- Play, creativity related to performance and, 20–21; human development and role of, 24–26; as leveling playing field of adults and youth, 26; link between human development and, 21–24; The Play’s the Thing (YPE report format), 159
- Practical participatory evaluation (P-PE), described, 5
- Programs, activities for articulating the operation of, 76–86; collective journaling by participants of, 144–145; establishing objectives of, 86; organizational culture and structure of, 43–44; YPE in non-participatory, 41–44. See also Staff members; Stakeholders; Youth organizations
- ## Q
- Qualitative Data Analysis (activity), 149–152
- Quantitative data analysis, 152–155
- Question-Asking Game (activity), 89
- Question-Asking Performance (activity), 86–89
- ## R
- Reality Wheel (activity), 76–78
- Reflection on a Word (activity), 52–53
- The Rehearsal (activity), 136
- Respondents, collective journaling by, 144–145; Matching YPE Team Interviewers with Respondents activity, 98–99; matching YPE team members to youth, 99; matching YPE team members with adult, 99–100; population details for use in selecting, 98; Selecting Focus Group Respondents activity, 107–109; Selecting Interviewer Respondents activity, 96–98. See also Interviews
- Richards-Schuster, K., 7
- Role playing, 21
- Roles, performance directors, 47–48, 162–163; performance leading to transformation of, 23–24; performance of societal, 22; as ZPD (zone of proximal development) component, 23
- Rules, Creating Rule activity for, 61–64; determining YPE team, 62–63; “three-strikes,” 62
- ## S
- Sabo, K., 4, 7, 10, 11, 88, 105, 119, 120
- Selecting Focus Group Respondents* (activity), 107–109
- Selecting Interviewer Respondents* (activity), 96–98
- Selecting People to Survey* (activity), 123–125
- Selecting Performers to Participation* (activity), 135

- Senge, P., 13
- Shaniqua, 13, 46
- Sherrod, L. R., 15
- Social Work and Urban Planning
 Department (University of Michigan), 7
- Society, impact of YPE on, 14–16;
 performance of roles embedded in, 22.
See also Communities
- Sommers, M., 10, 13
- Soukamneuth, S., 10
- Staff members, as adult facilitators, 41,
 47–48; adult-youth partnerships by, 12,
 26; CAR (caring, ability, and respect) commitment by, 157–158; performance as parents by, 131. See also Programs
- Stakeholders, data presentations made to, 155–159; “did you know?” memos sent to, 158; engaging and preparing, 44. See also Programs
- Sticker surveys, 129
- Storyboard (activity), 78–81
- Survey activities, Candy Surveys, 127–128;
 Developing a Survey, 120–122; Human Surveys, 125–127; Selecting People to Survey, 123–125; What Is a Survey, and
 Why Should I Conduct One?, 119–120
- Survey Games, 126–127
- Surveys, advantages and disadvantages of,
 120r; creative approaches to taking, 125–
 128; hints for creating and administering, 119–125; making questions meaningful to youth, 118–119; taking interviews prior to creating, 118; taking sticker, 129
- T
- Theory of Change, 74
- “Three-strikes” rule, 62
- Totalities, change through, 22–23; transformation of development and, 26–32; ZPDS and changing, 30–31
- Training, youth focus group facilitators, 102–116; youth interviewers, 91–101. See also Youth evaluators
- Training youth focus group facilitators, Collage and Drawing activity for, 112–113;
 Conducting a Focus Group activity for,
 109–110; Developing Focus Group
 Guides or Protocols for, 106–107; The First Thing You Think of When I Say . . . activity for, 110–111; If This Organization Were a Movie . . . activity for, 116; Mapping activity for, 114–115;
 Selecting Focus Group Respondents activity for, 107–109
- Training youth interviewers, Creating Interview Guides or Protocols activity for,
 94–96; Matching YPE Team Interviewers with Respondents activity for, 98–99;
 Performing as an Interviewer activity for, 100–101; Selecting Interviewer Respondents activity for, 96–98; What Is an Interview, and Why Should I Conduct
 One? activity for, 91–94
- Transformative participatory evaluation
 (T-PE), 5
- U
- UNESCO, 7
- University of Michigan, 7
- U.S. Diana Princess of Wales initiative, 14–15
- V
- Vygotsky, L. S., 19, 21–23, 29, 39, 163
- W
- Wandersman, A., 54
- Web sites, blogging collective journaling, 145; Free Management
 Library, 103; Innovation Network, 74;
 Theory of Change, 74
- Weisenbach, A., 10
- What Is a Survey, and Why Should I
 Conduct One? (activity), 119–120
- What Is an Interview, and Why Should I
 Conduct One? (activity), 91–94
- What Is Journal Writing, and How Can
 It Be Used as an Evaluation Tool?
 (activity), 141–142
- What is the Performance Method, and Why
 Should I Use It? (activity), 131–133
- Wheeler, W., 13
- Whitmore, E., 5
- Wingspread Declaration, 8e–9e
- Wright, M., 5
- Y
- Y-MAC (Youth Making a Change) [San Francisco], 15–16
- The “Yes, And . . .” Game (activity), 56–57

- Youniss, J., 15
- Youth evaluators, age issue of, 39–40; assessing work done by, 40–41; becoming a, 11; benefits to, 10–11; as focus group facilitators, 104–116; interviews/surveys taken by, 91–101, 117–129; issue of compensation for, 38–39; motivation of, 36–37; recommended number of, 38; selection of, 37–38. See also Adult-youth partnerships; Training
- Youth focus group facilitators, creative activities used by, 110–116; helping them to conduct focus groups, 104–110. See also Focus groups
- Youth in Focus, 10, 43
- Youth organizations, benefits of YPE to, 12–14; culture and structure of, 43–44
- increasing youth participation by using YPE, 14. See also Programs
- “Youth participation in Community Evaluation and Research” (Checkoway, Dobbie, & Richards-Schuster), 7
- “Youth Participation in Community Research and Evaluation” (2000 meeting), 7
- Youth participatory Evaluation: A Field in the Making*, 7
- Youth REP Step by Step: An Introduction to Youth-Led Research and Evaluation* (Youth in Focus), 43
- YPE environment, continuously development of performatory, 162; Creating Rule activity for building, 61–64; creating the, 60–66; creating the rule component of, 62–63; Creating YPE Roles, 64–66; creativity component of, 46–47
- YPE evaluation reports, interactive representation of, 158–159; multimedia presentations of, 158; outline of typical, 155–157; visual representation of, 157–158
- YPE plan activities, Logic Modeling, 82–85; Question-Asking Game, 89; Question-Asking Performance, 86–89; Reality Wheel, 76–78; Storyboard, 78–81
- YPE plans, for articulating how the program operates, 76–86; asking for what you want in, 76–77; establishing objectives as part of, 86; formulating evaluation questions, 86–89; logic model used to design, 75r; overview of, 73–75; reality check function of, 79
- YPE projects, assigned facilitator to, 41; building a creative environment for, 46–47; creating rules for, 62–63; engaging and preparing stakeholders in, 44
- YPE Report Outline, 155–157
- YPE teams, creating a new language for evaluation for, 55; creating rules, 62–63; creating the team environment, 46–47, 60–66; developing a YPE plan, 73–89; discovering what each member has to offer the, 49–54; getting started with assembling the, 46–47; monitoring the ensemble, 66–71; performing as individual evaluator in, 66–67; performing as the ensemble, 55–60; really listening to one another, 58–59. See also Activities; Facilitators
- YPE (youth participatory evaluation), assessing value of, 40–41; benefits to adults involved in, 12; benefits to youth involved in, 8–11; described, 6–8; impact on communities and society, 14–16; impact on evaluation field, 16–18; overview of, 4–6; of programs which are not participatory, 41–44; reports/presentation of findings, 155–159; Wingspread Declaration of Principles for, 8e–9e; words of encouragement about, 160–162; working definition of, 7. See also Evaluation; Participatory evaluation
- Yu, H. C., 10

Z

- Zeldin, S., 5, 10, 12, 13
- Zimmerman, K., 10, 11
- ZPD (zone of proximal development), blogging collective journaling to create, 145; changing totalities and, 30–31; contributions of differing ages/capacities to, 40; creative imitation/being related to as components of, 22; described, 21–22; learning and, 39; ongoing relational activity as creating, 21–22, 28, 29; performance and role component of, 23; potential of focus groups for, 103. See also Human development

