

Contents

Foreword by Jo Kenrick	ix
<hr/>
How to use this book	xi
<hr/>
Acknowledgements	xiii
<hr/>
About the authors	xv
<hr/>
SECTION 1 The Case for Change	1
1 The Scale of the Medium	3
1.1 The development of commercial radio in the UK	5
1.2 Measurement and growth of the commercial radio audience	8
1.3 Who listens to commercial radio?	11
1.4 Radio's status as an advertising medium	14
1.5 What does the future hold for commercial radio?	18
1.6 Summary	25
<hr/>
2 The 'True' Radio Context	27
2.1 Why and how people listen	29
2.2 Radio's media attributes	33
2.3 How radio communicates	42
2.4 Effectiveness of the medium	48
2.5 Summary	51
<hr/>
3 The Need for a Different Approach	53
3.1 Why the need for a different approach?	55
3.2 Why does radio advertising have to be creative?	57

3.3	Why aren't we better at using radio?	60
3.4	The challenges and opportunities of the medium	62
3.5	Summary	65
<hr/>
SECTION 2	Harnessing the True Power of Radio	67
4	What is Advanced Level Creativity?	69
4.1	Effectiveness is a relative term	71
4.2	Three common structural problems	72
4.3	The crucial importance of brand linkage	76
4.4	Realism vs. shooting for the moon	78
4.5	Thinking at campaign level	80
4.6	Summary	80
<hr/>
5	Best Practice Process for Creating Better Radio	83
5.1	Providing the optimum radio brief	85
5.2	Judging good radio ideas	91
5.3	The art of radio production	102
5.4	Branding in sound	111
5.5	Summary	120
<hr/>
6	Measuring Radio's Effect	121
6.1	Defining the research objectives	123
6.2	The importance of split samples	125
6.3	Where to do the research	126
6.4	When to do the research	128
6.5	Sample sizes	129
6.6	Method and questionnaire	131
6.7	Measuring the short-term sales effects of radio	132
6.8	Measuring the effect of radio sponsorships and promotions	134
6.9	Summary	136
<hr/>

SECTION 3 Thinking about Radio as ‘New Media’	139
7 The New Challenges Facing Brand Communications	141
7.1 The evolving consumer context	143
7.2 How brand marketing is changing	146
7.3 Dialogue, the new brand driver	148
7.4 Summary	152
<hr/>
8 Radio’s Role in Emerging Brand Thinking	153
8.1 Radio as a brand conversation medium	155
8.2 Harnessing the power of radio for brand conversations	164
8.3 New conversational roles for radio	166
8.4 Summary	170
<hr/>
SECTION 4 The Seven-Step Guide to Better Radio Advertising	171
9 The Seven-Step Guide to Better Radio Advertising	173
Step 1: Define a clear role for radio	175
Step 2: Keep the brief simple	176
Step 3: Ask for the team with radio skills	178
Step 4: Take care over tone	179
Step 5: Use the right judging criteria	181
Step 6: Use preproduction	182
Step 7: Consider using a director	184
Summary	185
<hr/>
SECTION 5 Appendices	187
Appendix 1 The RAB Bus Research Study	189
<hr/>
Appendix 2 Radio Script	191

Appendix 3 Online Radio Ads Track Listing (www.better-radio-advertising.co.uk)	193
References	205
Index	207
