

Index

A

- Accessibility, of mentor, 196, 248
- Active, role of mentors and students, 238–240, 263
- American Academy of Arts and Sciences, 33, 63
- Antimentor, 191, 239, 259
- Apprenticeship: graduate training as, 156–157; vs. mentoring, 15
- Attenuation of memes. See Extinction of memes
- Authoritative parenting style, 197
- Authorship, 111–112, 116, 188, 231, 236–237
- Availability, of mentor, 195–197
- Awards, system for granting, 227

B

- Barton, M. (student), 54, 57
- Baumrind, D., 197
- Bohr, N., 5–7, 25, 159, 241, 242
- Boyer, S. (pseudonym): collaboration, 83–84, 87, 150, 244–245; educating public, 89; guidance, 84; humanitarianism, 86; impact on students, 83–90; independence-guidance balance, 87–88; lab culture, 83–85; patient care, 88–89; relationship with Motulsky, 78–82; self-reliance, 84; social/ethical responsibility, 86–87, 89; voracious reading, 87, 90; work-family balance, 85

C

- Collaboration, 107, 208–210, 247; Boyer and, 83–84, 87, 150, 244–245; Lewontin and, 107; Motulsky and, 75, 82
- Continuity of memes, 230–237, 264; context of values, 235–237; learning to mentor, 234–235; in professions under pressure, 232–233
- Conversation, as transmission pathway, 241–242
- Creativity and innovation, 263–264
- Creativity norms, 184–185
- Crick, F., 10–11
- Csikszentmihalyi, M., 9
- Cultural capital, 74, 169
- Cultural domain, xiv, 123, 124, 125*t*, 222, 223
- Cultural evolution, 16, 222–223; apprenticeship as mechanism of, 127
- Culture: change at cultural level, 263; pattern maintenance through mentoring, xi–xii; of students, 236. See also Memes
- Cytogeneticist. See Gall, J.

D

- Damon, W., 9
- Dawkins, R., 16, 222–223
- Dewey, J., 249–250
- Diversity, adaptive value of, 212–213

- DNA, discovery of, 11
- Dobzhansky, T.: anticareerism of, 97; influence on Lewontin, 24, 93–98, 101, 104, 190; moralism of, 24, 96–97, 98
- Domain category of memes, 123, 124, 125t
- Dunn, L., 93
- E
- Einstein, A., 6, 95–96, 266
- Emergence of memes, 148–151, 240
- Erickson, E., 265
- Ethical translation, 134
- Evolutionary, systems perspective: cultural domain, xiv, 123, 124, 125t, 223; freedom-guidance balance and, 247–248; individual practitioner, 223; interaction among subsystems, 223–224; investing in mentees, 248–249; social field, 223. See also Memes
- Experiential learning, 15, 156
- Extinction of memes, 147–148, 149t, 232, 238
- F
- Fastow, A., 153
- Field category of memes, 123, 124, 125t
- Flow-supportive learning, 46
- Funding, helping student secure, 169, 202–203, 204–205, 248
- Future directions, for mentoring, 262–265
- G
- Gall, J., 33–62; academic career, 38, 231; admiration of, 48, 193; advisor during graduate school, 37; awards, 33, 42, 48; background, 24; breadth of interests, 50–51, 53–54, 228–229; at Carnegie Institute, 38; case study of student of, 54–61; creative accomplishments, 33–34; development of/formative influences on, 34–38; Gall's students on Gall, 48–54; gender equality practiced by, 34, 42–43, 48, 52–54, 233; integrity, 50; lab culture, 45–46, 52–54, 57–58, 141–142, 158–159, 161, 170, 242, 244, 245; as mature scientist, 38–42; modeling by, 45, 51–52, 229; passion for research, 48–50; personal messiness of students, 51; as scientist's scientist, 40; selection of students, 169; social/cultural capital provision, 74; training of next generation, 42–47; values, 46–47
- Gardner, H., 9, 14, 171, 185, 191, 226
- Generations concept, in present study, 8–9
- Genetic research: competition in, 12–13; fraud in, 10
- Genetics, 7–9
- Global code sheet (GCS), 271–272; sample, 285–288
- Good mentoring, 14; examples of, 29–32; how it works, 119–120; promoting, 219–220
- Good Work* (Gardner et al.), 10
- Good work, defining, 9
- Good-work memes, 132–142; creating facilitative lab structure, 140–142; fair and equal treatment of others, 135–137; giving students freedom and guidance, 137–140; honesty, integrity, and ethics in research, 132–135; number of members inheriting, 133t; number of members who inherited each meme, 133t

GoodWork Project, 8, 9–10
 Gould, S. J., 91, 98–99

H

Haidt, J., 244
 Hammond, C. (pseudonym), 54–61;
 affinities with Gall, 56t; influential qualities of, 58t; influential qualities of Gall, 58t
 Henderson, K. (pseudonym): ethics, 114; feedback, 115–116;
 independence, 113, 115; merited authorship, 116; pathways of transmission, 115–116; relationship with Lewontin, 111–112;
 students on, 113–116; work ethic,
 113, 114
 Horizontal (peer) mentoring, 171–172
 Hubby, J., 99
 Human Genome Project, 11, 92
 Hwang Woo Suk, 10

I

Implications for practice: future directions, 262–265; for mentees, 257–260; for mentors, 253–257
 Inherited memes, 142–145; members possessing/inheriting each, 143t Institutions, role in mentoring:
 preparation of mentors, 261–262;
 reward mentoring, 261; support, 260–261
 Intel Science Talent Search, 13

J

Jenks, L. (student), 114–116
 Journal article, rejection of student,
 202

K

Keinänen, M., 171, 185
 Kennedy, D., 1, 188

Key, T. (student), 54, 57
 Kluckhohn, C., 122
 Knowledge: tacit, 165–166, 241; transmission of (see Values/practice/knowledge transmission)

L

Laboratory culture: of Boyer, 83–85;
 of Gall, 45–46, 52–54, 57–58,
 141–142, 158–159, 161, 170, 242,
 244, 245; of Lewontin, 112, 115, 158–159, 169–170, 229, 242; of Motulsky, 141, 158, 171, 245. See also Values/practice/knowledge transmission, laboratory role in Lapsley, D. K., 225
 Last Supper Table, 100, 107, 109, 142, 161
 Lewontin, R., 91–117; academic career, 98; accessibility, 106–107;
 anticareerism and, 97–98, 229;
 anticareerist attitude, 104;
 authorship, 111–112, 231, 237;
 background, 24–25; breadth of thinking, 116; broad interests, 105; case study of student of,
 110–112; at Columbia, 93–94;
 development and formative influences, 94–98; Dobzhansky influence on, 94–98, 101, 104, 190; early career success, 99;
 ethics, 103–104, 111, 114;
 fairness, 107–108; financial support by, 203; guidance, 109–110; Henderson's students
 (see Henderson, K.); independence, 105–106, 109, 111, 113, 115; individualized interest in students/work, 211; intellectual brilliance of, 104–105, 109; interaction/collaboration, 106, 107;
 lab culture, 112, 115, 158–159, 169–170, 172, 229, 242, 245;

- Last Supper Table, 100, 107, 109, 142, 161; Marxist philosophy, 91–93, 100, 102, 108, 229, 237; as mature scientist, 98–99; meme transmission, 108–110; modeling, 110; publications, 91; resource provision by, 203–205; respect for diversity, 107; selection of students, 102, 168–169; sponsorship, 112; students on, 102–110; training the next generation, 100–102; value of mentoring, 103; work ethic, 113, 114
- Lineage heads, choosing: Generation 1, 17–18, 20*f*; Generation 2, 18, 20*f*; Generation 3, 18–19, 20*f*. See also Gall, J.; Lewontin, R.; Motulsky, A.
- Lineage-signature memes, 231; of Gall, 127–130, 146; of Lewontin, 131–132; of Motulsky, 130–131; number of lineage members inheriting each, 128*t*
- Lysenko, T., 96
- M
- Memes: continuity of, 230–237, 264; defining, xx, 16; domain, xiv, 123, 124, 125*t*, 222, 223; emergence of, 148–151, 240; extinction of, 147–148, 149*t*, 232, 238; field, 123, 124, 125*t*; good-work (see Good-work memes); lineage-signature (see Lineage-signature memes); person category, 123, 124; possessed, 126; society/humanity, 123, 124, 125*t*–126*t*; survival through long apprenticeships, 243; survival through positive emotions, 244–245; transmitted by observation, 164–167. See also Memes, quantitative analysis of transmission
- Memes, quantitative analysis of transmission, 121–153; coding process, 126; conclusion of analysis, 151–153; domain category of memes, 123, 124, 125*t*; extinction and emergence, 146–151; field category of memes, 123, 124, 125*t*; inherited/absorbed memes, 126; inherited memes, 142–145; intergenerational transmission of memes, 123–126; least inherited memes, 145–146; lineage-signature memes, 122, 127–132; memes all lineages share, 132–142; person category of memes, 123, 124; possessed memes, 126; practitioner-related memes, 125*t*; society/humanity category of memes, 123, 124, 125*t*–126*t*; types of memes, 125*t*–126*t*
- Mentees: know yourself, 257; play active role, 259; seek good fit in learning/working environment, 258–259; seek good fit in mentor, 258; seek out multiple influences, 259–260
- Mentoring: benefits of effective, 2, 3–4; by direct means, 240–242; by indirect means, 242–243; reasons for, 265–267; reflecting on, 26–27; vs. apprenticeship, 15; vs. sponsorship, 14–15
- Mentoring chains, 122
- Mentoring relationships, negative aspects of, 187–191; abuse and extreme self-interest, 188–189; authorship, 188; conclusions to, 216; intellectual property, 188; neglect, 189–191, 246. See also Mentoring relationships, positive aspects of
- Mentoring relationships, positive aspects of, 192–216; admiration

- for mentor, 192–193; availability and involvement, 194–198; conclusions to, 216–217; financial support, 202–203, 204–205; freedom-guidance balance, 198–202; frequent and positive feedback, 205–208; individualized interest in students and their work, 210–213; as personal, 213–216; resource provision, 203–204, 205; supportive atmosphere, 202; supportiveness, 193–194; treating students as collaborators, 208–210. See also Mentoring relationships, negative aspects of
- Mentors, implications for practice, 253–257; address individual differences, 254–255; create community, 255–256; desirable characteristics of, 265; enact key values/practices in plain view, 255; facilitate building social capital, 256–257; help students learn by doing, 256; know yourself, 253–254; student selection, 254; think out loud, 255
- Mentors: shortage of, 4. See also Mentoring; Mentors, implications for practice; Values/practice/knowledge transmission, mentor role in
- Modeling: by Gall, 45, 51–52, 229; by Lewontin, 110; mentor role in, 162–164; by Motulsky, 75–77; as transmission pathway, 225–226, 241–242
- Moral character, 225–226
- Moral personality, 225
- Morgan, T. H., 104
- Motulsky, A., 63–90; admiration for, 192–193; anti-Semitism and, 64–65; awards, 63; background, 23–24; caring ethic, 79, 231; case study of student of, 78–82; collaboration, 75, 82, 83–84, 87; compassion, 244; conscientiousness, 79; development/formative influences on, 63–67; education of, 65–66; as founding father of medical genetics, 73, 74; guidance by, 71–72, 84; humanitarianism, 77–78, 79, 86, 229; independence-guidance balance, 87–88; intellectual freedom, 71–72; in Israel, 69; lab culture, 141, 158, 171, 245; as mature scientist, 67–70; modeling, 75–77; one-on-one meetings, 229; patient care, 88–89; public education, 68, 70, 80; on role of scientist, 68–71; selection of students, 82; self-reliance, 84; social/cultural capital provision, 74; social/ethical responsibility, 86–87, 89; student autonomy, 72–73; third generation (see Boyer, S.); training program of, 168, 242; voracious reading by, 87; at Walter Reed, 66; work-family balance, 80–81, 85
- Muller, H., 97
- Murray, H. A., 122
- N
- National Academy of Sciences, 33, 34, 49, 63, 262
- National Institutes of Health, 11, 227
- Naturalist. See Gall, J.
- Neglect, of mentee, 189–191, 246
- Nobel Prize in science, 11, 34, 43, 75, 97
- O
- Occupation, systems composing, 126t
- Oswaldt, P. (student), 113–114

P

Palmer, P., 63
 Parenting: authoritative, 197;
 effective, 247–248
 Parsons, T., xi
 Patterns of culture, maintenance of,
 xi–xii
 Person category of memes, 123, 124
 Pharmacogenetics, 63
 Physician scientist. See Motulsky, A.
 Porter, B. (student), 54, 57, 59
 Possessed memes, 126
 Poulson, D., 37
 Power abuse, by mentor, 2
 Practice, transmitting. See Values/
 practice/knowledge transmission
 Practitioner-related memes, 125*t*
 Present study: case approach, 30–31; coding procedures, 270–271; conceptual framework, 222–224; data analysis, 272–274; data collection, 19, 21, 269–270; gender issues, 19;
 global code sheet, 271–272; interview protocol, 275–283; lineage head choice, 17–19, 20*f*; privacy issues, 32; sampling strategy,
 17–19, 20*f*; terminology issues,
 22. See also Evolutionary, systems
 perspective
 Professional pressures, 13–14,
 226–228
 Purposive sampling, 21

R

Racism, 98–99
 Research topic, guidance in choosing, 45–46, 139, 200–201

S

Situated learning, 156
 Skilling, J., 153
 Smith, J. M., 99

Social capital, 169, 256–257
 Social Darwinism, 99, 178 Society/humanity category of memes, 123, 124, 125*t*–126*t*
 Sponsorship vs. mentoring, 14–15
 Supportive relationships, 187–217, 246
 Systems approach, 15–16.
 See also Evolutionary, systems
 perspective

T

Tacit knowledge, 165–166, 241
 Tacit learning, 164, 236, 259
 Tenner, E., 153
 Time management issues, 109–110,
 251–253

V

Values/practice/knowledge transmission, 46–47, 155–186; coding process, 156; conclusions, 185–186;
 student role in, 182–185. See also Values/practice/knowledge transmission, laboratory role in; Values/
 practice/knowledge transmission, mentor role in
 Values/practice/knowledge transmission, laboratory role in, 171–182;
 arming for survival, 179; competitive vs. cooperative lab, 177;
 cooperating now, and later, 180;
 “extra hands” concept, 176–177;
 independence-control balance,
 177–178; labs as microcosms, 175–180; memes transmitted by lab structure, 181–182; nonlin-eage lab, 177; peers as teachers, 171–175; survival of the fittest
 now, and later, 178–179
 Values/practice/knowledge transmission, mentor role in, 157–171;

creating learning environment, 167–171; by cultural/social capital provision, 74, 169–170; forms of talk, 159–162; good work, 166–167; group exchanges, 161; learning by observing, 163; memes transmitted by observation, 164–167; modeling, 162–164; one-on-one exchanges, 161; by physical space organization, 170; results of infrequency of exchanges, 162; by setting tone in lab, 170–171; by student selection, 168–169; tacit knowledge,

165–166; teaching by example, 163

Vertical mentoring, 171–172

Vygotsky, L., 22, 172

W

Watson, J., 11–13, 178

Wheeler, J., 7

Wilson, E. O., 35, 99

Z

Zone of proximal development, 172

Zuckerman, H., 43

