

Contents

Foreword	xii
By Marc Benioff
Introduction	1
1.0 My Dot-Com Life Begins	5
Brainstorm: Who Knows What Could Happen If You Raise Your Hand?	7
Brain Trust: Take Responsibility, by Heidi Roizen	11
2.0 Nature or Nurture? A San Francisco Upbringing	14
Brainstorm: All the Fuss About “Passion”—and How to Tap into Yours	16
3.0 The First Axiom of Business: Find a Need and Fill It	18
Brainstorm: The Fringe-Thoughts List: Where Most Great Ideas Develop	19
Brainstorm: Feedback, Feedback, Feedback	22
4.0 Comcate Is Born: The Nuts and Bolts of Starting a Business	26
Brainstorm: The Business Plan Myth	28
Brainstorm: Why Some People Get More Stuff Done (and Start Real Businesses)	33
5.0 First Meeting with a VC (It’s All About the Network)	36
Brainstorm: The Power of Mentors	37
Brainstorm: When to Ask a Dumb Question	40
Brain Trust: Taking Mentor Relationships to the Next Level, by Brad Feld	42
6.0 Signing Up Early Customers: Selling the Sizzle and the Steak	44
Brainstorm: Asking Questions: There’s a Right and a Wrong Way	47

	Brainstorm: I Have a Strategic Plan. It's Called Doing Things.	49
7.0	Confronting Failure . . . and Bouncing Back	52
	Brainstorm: Building Resilience—A Transferable Quotient	57
	Brainstorm: How to Create and Leverage an Advisory Board	60
8.0	Hiring an Interim CEO: My First Big Mistake	64
	Brainstorm: Three Sure Ways to Maximize Luck	68
9.0	The Hunt for a COO: Recruiting a Top Team	70
	Brainstorm: The Art of Courtship	78
	Brainstorm: How to Overcome Fear of Failure	85
10.0	Life as a Road Warrior: Making Memorable Sales Pitches	90
	Brainstorm: Presentations—Worthy of Obsession	93
	Brainstorm: Pricing in an Early-Stage Company	100
	Brain Trust: Life Is a Sales Call, by Jeff Parker	105
11.0	I'm a Sophomore: Balancing Work, School, and Life	106
	Brainstorm: Redefining the Entrepreneurial Lifestyle: Sleep, Nutrition, Exercise	108
	Brainstorm: Being a Corporate Athlete	114
	Brain Trust: A Life That Works, by Chris Yeh	119
12.0	A Silicon Valley Life: Building Me, Inc.	121
	Brainstorm: Networking 101	124
	Brainstorm: Networking 202	126
	Brainstorm: Every Cold Call Can Be Warm—Rich First-Time Interactions	128
	Brainstorm: Creating and Projecting Brand “Me”	131
13.0	The Product Development Process: Cheap, Good, or Fast?	137
	Brainstorm: Dare to Be Mediocre: Good Is the Enemy of Perfect	141
14.0	It's a Frugal, Frugal World: Bootstrapping Through the Inevitable Cash Squeeze	144
	Brainstorm: Asking for Money Versus Asking for Advice	147

15. □	The Long, Hard Slog: Achieving Scale	149
	Brainstorm: A Relationship-Based First Business	152
	Brainstorm: Getting More Good Revenue and Less Bad Revenue	154
	Brain Trust: Keep Slogging Away, by Carol Rutlen	157
16. □	Fulfilling the Mission, One Customer at a Time	158
	Brainstorm: Make Meaning: What Gets You and Your Employees Up Each Day?	160
17. □	The Road Ahead: Leaders of the Flat World	162
	Brain Trust: How to Think About the Future, by Sean Ness	165
18. □	What Will You Be Shouting When You Reach the Grave?	167
	Brainstorm: Entrepreneurs Are Optimists	170
	Brain Trust: Let Your Heart Guide You, by Timothy J. Taylor	171
	Appendix A: What's Next	173
	Appendix B: A One-a-Day, One-Month Plan to Becoming a Better Entrepreneur	175
	Appendix C: Ben's Reading List	179
	Acknowledgments	183
	Endnotes	185
	The Author	189

