

CONTENTS

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS: Supernatural Humans
We Can't Live Without xi

Introduction: Undead Wisdom 1

PART ONE

TWILIGHT

1 You Look Good Enough to Eat: Love, Madness, and the Food Analogy 7
George A. Dunn

2 Dying to Eat: The Vegetarian Ethics of Twilight 25
Jean Kazez

3 Can a Vampire Be a Person? 39
Nicolas Michaud

4 Carlisle: More Compassionate Than a Speeding
Bullet? 49
Andrew Terjesen and Jenny Terjesen

PART TWO

NEW MOON

5 Vampire-Dämmerung: What Can Twilight Tell Us about God? 63
Peter S. Fosl and Eli Fosl

- 6 To Bite or Not to Bite: Twilight, Immortality, and the Meaning of Life 79
Brendan Shea
- 7 Mind Reading and Morality: The Moral Hazards of Being Edward 93
Eric Silverman
- 8 Love and Authority among Wolves 107
Sara Worley

PART THREE

ECLIPSE

- 9 Bella Swan and Sarah Palin: All the Old Myths
Are Not True 121
Naomi Zack
- 10 Vampire Love: The Second Sex Negotiates the Twenty-first Century 131
Bonnie Mann
- 11 Edward Cullen and Bella Swan: Byronic
and Feminist Heroes . . . or Not 147
Abigail E. Myers
- 12 Undead Patriarchy and the Possibility of Love 163
Leah McClimans and J. Jeremy Wisnewski
- 13 The “Real” Danger: Fact vs. Fiction for the Girl
Audience 177
Rebecca Housel

PART FOUR

BREAKING DAWN

- 14 Twilight of an Idol: Our Fatal Attraction
to Vampires 193
Jennifer L. McMabon

CONTENTS

ix

15	Bella's Vampire Semiotics Dennis Knepp	209
16	Space, Time, and Vampire Ontology Philip Puszczalowski	219
17	For the Strength of Bella? Meyer, Vampires, and Mormonism Marc E. Shaw	227
18	The Tao of Jacob Rebecca Housel	237
	CONTRIBUTORS: Ladies and Gentlemen, Introducing the Stars of Our Show, Humans, Vampires, and Shape-Shifters Alike	247
	INDEX: For Those Who Can't Read Minds	253

