
CONTENTS

A Note from the Leader to Leader Institute xi

Frances Hesselbein

Foreword xiii

Jim Collins

Acknowledgments xvii

About the Contributors xix

Introduction xxv

Doug Crandall

PART ONE: LEADERSHIP AND VALUES DEVELOPMENT

1 Becoming a Leader Developer 3

Eric G. Kail

2 Learning from Failure 16

Doug Crandall

3 You Must Lead Yourself First 32

Greg Hastings

- 4 Influencing Your Organization's Moral Philosophy 44
Brian Tribus
- 5 Developing Organizational Values in Others 62
Chip Daniels
- 6 The Authentic High-Impact Leader 88
Sean T. Hannah
- 7 Leader Development and Self-Awareness
in the U.S. Army Bench Project 107
Dennis P. O'Neil, Patrick J. Sweeney,
James Ness, Thomas A. Kolditz

PART TWO: LEADERSHIP STYLES AND SITUATIONS

- 8 Teaming High-Potential Talent 133
Jack Jefferies
- 9 Leading as If Your Life Depended on It 160
Thomas A. Kolditz
- 10 Creating Urgency and Inspiring Your Team 188
Robert Morris
- 11 Quiet Leadership 206
Eric J. Weis
- 12 Leading Without Words 218
Jeff Bergmann
- 13 Developing Charisma with Caution 238
Dena Braeger
- 14 Trust: The Key to Combat Leadership 252
Patrick J. Sweeney

PART THREE: LEADING ORGANIZATIONS

- 15 Socialized Leadership 281
Todd Henshaw

- 16 Leading at the Business End of Policy 296
James Tuite
- 17 Harnessing the Power of Culture and Diversity for Organizational Performance 313
Remi Hajjar, Morten G. Ender
- 18 Developing Organizational Commitment
by Putting People First 338
Todd Woodruff
- 19 Managing Expectations When Leading Change 363
Everett S. P. Spain

- Index 387

