

CONTENTS

| | | |
|---|---|------|
| | Foreword | xi |
| | Acknowledgments | xiii |
| | The Editors | xv |
| | The Contributors | xvii |
| 1 | Why Civic Service Tom Rice, David P. Redlawsk | 1 |
| 2 | Partnerships That Work: Developing and Sustaining Service-Learning Partnerships with Government Agencies Steven G. Jones, Johnny Goldfinger, Timothy M. Koponen Voices: Social Service Agencies as Government Partner | 23 |
| 3 | CommUniverCity San José: Building a Partnership for Service and Learning Terry Christensen, Melinda Jackson Voices: City and University | 42 |
| 4 | Learning Politics and Learning to Learn: A Collaborative Service-Learning Project with a Local Government Jeffrey L. Bernstein, Joseph Ohren Voices: The Government Practitioner | 70 |
| 5 | Linking Advanced Public Service-Learning and Community Participation with Environmental Analytical Chemistry: Lessons from Case Studies in Western New York Joseph A. Gardella Jr., Tammy M. Milillo, Gaurav Sinha, Gunwha Oh, David C. Manns Voices: The Community Organization | 98 |

| | | |
|-----------|--|------------|
| 14 | Reciprocity: Creating a Model for Campus-Community Partnerships | 308 |
| | Marsha K. Turner, Rosa Ramos Morgan | |
| | Voices: Community Revitalization with a Collaborative Partnership | |
| | Appendix A: Service-Learning with Government Partners: A Summary of Additional Examples | 329 |
| | Charlotte Ridge | |
| | Appendix B: Service-Learning Resources | 341 |
| | Index | 345 |

