

NAME INDEX

A

Abbs, P., 40, 64
Ackerman, D. M., 255
Addams, J., 201
Adler, R., 24, 26
Ahlstrom, S. A., 194, 197, 267
Aleshire, D. O., 188
Alexander, H. A., 65
Alinsky, S. D., 151, 155
Andrews, D., 169
Appadurai, A., 264, 271
Appleby, R. S., 253
Aquinas, Thomas, 98
Argyris, C., 38, 126, 345
Atkinson, T., 37, 66
Ayers, W., 37

B

Bain, K., 356
Baltodano, M., 155
Banks, R., 241
Banner, J. M., Jr., 37
Barnard, H., 202
Barth, K., 267
Bartlett, D., 76, 85–89, 91–92, 93, 94,
96, 97, 172, 183
Bass, D. C., 27, 29–30, 37, 90, 369
Baum, W. W., 256, 257
Baxter, R., 196
Beaumont, E., 16
Beecher, L., 194
Behan, W. P., 268
Bell, C., 38
Bellah, R., 261, 364, 381
Benner, P., 319

Benson, R., 81–85, 93, 95, 96, 97, 98,
183, 342, 365, 370
Bentwich, N., 225, 226, 227
Bergant, D., 41, 47, 49, 50, 53, 54,
56, 59–60, 61–62, 69, 98, 129,
183, 365, 366
Berkovits, E., 230
Bess, J. L., 37
Blodgett, B., 301–302, 309–310, 317, 320
Boal, A., 185
Bond, L., 15
Bons-Storm, R., 255
Bourdieu, P., 23, 38, 50, 151, 171
Boyle, H. C., 37
Brekke, M., 254
Brereton, V., 201, 205, 207, 239
Brookfield, S., 92–93
Brown, M., 209
Brown, R. M., 42
Brown, W. A., 253
Browning, D. S., 252, 261, 262
Bruner, J., 29, 38
Brunner, E., 267
Burrows, M. S., 259
Bushnell, H., 198
Butler, J., 41–42, 47, 49, 50, 51, 53,
54, 56, 61, 62, 63, 187, 342, 370
Bycel, L., 228, 229, 234, 254
Byrne, P., 253

C

Caillois, R., 186
Cairns, 256
Caldwell, M., 218–219

Campbell, D., 253
 Cannon, H. C., 37
 Cannon, K. G., 255
 Carey, P. W., 241, 244, 253, 269
 Carnell, E., 241
 Carpenter, D., 281
 Carpenter, J. A., 205, 239, 270
 Carroll, J. W., 188, 254
 Cetuk, V. S., 126
 Cherry, C., 197, 198, 251, 252
 Chopp, R., 37, 56, 155, 255, 261, 262, 270
 Claxton, G., 37, 66, 174, 183–184
 Cobb, J., 256, 261, 262
 Coffin, W. S., Sr., 333
 Cohen, N. J., 65
 Colby, A., 14, 16
 Coleridge, S. T., 198
 Collins, A., 61
 Cone, J. A., 213, 243
 Cooperrider, D. L., 384
 Copeland, S., 147, 148, 149
 Cornwall Collective, 255
 Corrigan, M., 219, 233
 Cox, H., 18
 Cretin, J., 215, 218
 Cunningham, C. E.
 Curran, R. E., 216
 Csikszentmihalyi, M., 36, 298

D

Dahill, L., 14, 259
 Damon, W., 36, 298
 Daniel, W. A., 211, 242, 250
 Daniels, W. H., 200, 201–202, 205
 Darby, J. N., 206, 232, 267
 Darder, A., 155
 Davis, A., 147, 149
 Davis, K., 54, 179, 282
 Day, D., 253
 Day, R. E., 200, 239, 267
 de Certeau, M., 37–38, 66

Deem, W. H., 254
 Derrida, J., 151
 Deutsch, K. W., 251
 Dewey, J., 23, 345
 Dixon, A. C., 268
 Dobschuetz, B., 200, 201, 204
 Dorsett, L. W., 201, 202, 204, 205, 206
 Douglass, F., 148
 Downey, M., 259
 Dreyer, E. A., 259
 Dreyfus, H., 321
 Dreyfus, S., 321
 Dryer, E., 191, 199–207
 DuBois, W.E.B., 211
 Duke, J. O., 310
 Dwight, T., 191, 192–199, 236–239, 300, 341, 371
 Dykstra, C., 1, 12–13, 22, 23, 27, 29–30, 37, 90, 121, 369, 372
 Dyrness, W., 143–144

E

Edwards, J., 192, 198, 300
 Edwards, R., 199–200
 Egan, K., 38
 Eggleston, E., 47
 Ehrlich, T., 16
 Eisner, E., 49–50, 285
 Elenes, C. A., 138
 Eliot, T. S., 163, 185
 Ellenson, D., 228, 229, 234, 254
 Evans, A., 256
 Evans, R., 256
 Evison, I. S., 262

F

Fairfield, P., 37, 38, 176
 Farley, E., 37, 66, 237, 249, 250, 260–261, 267, 269
 Feld, E., 284

- Fichter, J. H., 254
 Fielding, C. R., 254, 300
 Findlay, J. F., Jr., 201
 Fiorenza, F. S., 262
 Fish, S., 74–75
 Fitzmier, J. R., 192, 193, 194, 266
 Ford, P., 25
 Fortis, R., 304
 Foster, C. R., 14, 121
 Foucault, M., 151
 Fowler, J. W., 261
 Fox, S., 131
 Fragomeni, R., 159–161, 168, 169,
 171, 174, 175, 176–177, 179, 180,
 181, 183, 366
 Fraser, J. W., 192
 Freire, P., 137, 154–155
 Friedlaender, I., 228
 Friedman, T., 335, 336
 Fulkerson, M., 22
 Furlong, J., 66
- G
- Galloway, A. E., 254
 Gardner, H., 36, 298
 Gawande, A., 186
 Geiger, A., 225, 226
 Getz, G., 200, 201, 202, 204, 205
 Gibbons, J., 221–222, 233
 Giddens, A., 145
 Gilpin, W. C., 237, 253, 269
 Ginzburg, L., 228
 Glazer, N., 251
 Golemon, L., 14
 Graham, B., 263, 271
 Graham, E. L., 37
 Green, A., 250
 Greene, M., 31, 56, 103, 129, 150, 155
 Griffin, P. R., 208–209, 210, 211, 213
 Groome, T., 126, 261
 Grossman, P., 15
- Gumperz, J., 129
 Gustafson, J. M., 128, 238, 253
- H
- Hall, D. J., 131, 259
 Hall, E. T., 38
 Hamer, F. L., 70
 Handy, R. T., 241, 252
 Hansen, D. T., 37
 Harnack, A., 226
 Harper, C. A., 199, 231
 Harris, M., 31
 Hart, D. G., 270
 Hauerwas, S., 145
 Hays, R., 73
 Hecker, I., 222, 223, 243
 Hefner, Monsignor-Rector, 306
 Hemrick, E. F., 245
 Hennessey, P. K., 245
 Henry, C., 241
 Hesselgrave, D., 154
 Hill, J. J., 219–220
 Hiltner, S., 254, 261
 Hodgson, P., 98–99
 Hoffman, L. A., 259
 Hoge, D. R., 245
 Holder, A., 259
 Holifield, E. B., 192, 196, 198
 Holtz, B., 65
 hooks, b., 57, 76
 Hopewell, J. F., 253, 262
 Hopkins, S., 231
 Hough, J. C., 253, 254, 256, 261, 262
 Huber, D., 24–25, 26
 Huber, M., 15, 64
 Hughes, M., 104, 116–123, 124–125,
 126, 172, 183
 Huizinga, J., 186
 Hunter, G., 299, 300
 Hunter, J. D., 21, 271
 Husdon, W. S., 271

Hutchings, P., 15
Hymans, D., 116

I

Inchausti, R., 176
Ireland, J., 191, 214–223, 243–245

J

Jenkins, J., 305, 312–313
John XXIII, Pope, 244
John Paul II, Pope, 257, 314

K

Kaplan, M., 229
Kauffman, C. J., 214
Kavanagh, A., 294
Keane, J., 219, 233
Kelly, R., 236, 237, 242, 248
Kelsey, D., 37, 39, 47–48, 64–65, 225,
237, 248, 259, 267, 356
King, M. L., Jr., 243
Kitigawa, J. M., 252
Krauth, C., 209
Kuklick, B., 198, 223, 270

L

Lannie, V. P., 217
Lave, J., 27, 38, 331, 349–350, 354
Lebeau, W., 113, 115, 368
Lederhendler, E., 256, 266
Lee, J. M., 97
Lehman, M., 76–80, 87, 91, 95, 97,
172, 284, 341, 365
Leistyna, P., 155
Leo XII, Pope, 216, 217, 219, 243
Leshner, W. E., 256
Leveen, A., 40
Liebman, C. S., 230, 246–247, 255
Lincoln, C. E., 147, 243
Lindbeck, G., 251, 259

Lischer, R., 17–18, 20
Little, S., 97
Loisy, A., 220
Lyman, R., 161–167, 168, 169, 171,
175–177, 179, 185, 262, 351, 365
Lynn, R. W., 237

M

MacIntyre, A. C., 27, 29, 37
Magid, S., 133–138, 152, 153, 154,
172, 183, 355, 367, 368
Magolda, M. B., 64
Mamiya, L. H., 211, 212, 213, 231, 243
Marchal, J., 335, 343
Marler, P. L., 188
Marom, D., 131
Marsden, G., 240, 252, 255
Marsh, C., 70, 73
Martain, J., 245
Martin, J. P., 254
Marx, A., 228
Matthews, L., 195
McCall, R., 167, 173–174, 177, 186
McCormick, C., 202
McCormick, N., 202, 204
McDermott, R., 38
McQuaid, B., 219, 233
Meland, B., 129
Mendelssohn, M., 225
Meye, R. P., 259
Meyer, M., 246, 266
Miller, D. E., 261, 270
Miller, G. T., 192, 195, 211, 237
Miller, S. L., 98, 389
Mills, M., 15
Mintz, A., 253
Mohler, R. A., 270
Moody, D., 200–202, 204
Moore, M. E., 97
Moorehead, W. G., 202
Morais, S., 228, 233
Mordey, A., 306

Morgan, D., 330, 331–336, 340, 341,
342–345, 346–347, 348, 350,
351–352, 372
Morreale, S. P., 64
Morse, J., 194
Moses, S., 195
Moss, R. V., 128
Mouw, R. J., 259
Moynihan, J. H., 220
Mudge, L. S., 261, 262
Muller, E. C., 269

N

Nairn, T., 138–143, 144–145, 152,
153, 262, 355
Neumark, H., 71–72
Neusner, J., 247
Niebuhr, H. R., 70–71, 73, 74, 128,
238, 267, 271

O

O'Brien, M. K., 254
Ochs, C., 259
O'Connell, D., 233
O'Connell, M. R., 215, 216, 217,
218, 219, 221, 222
O'Malley, J.S.J., 244, 245
Osmer, R. R., 97, 261

P

Palmer, P. J., 113, 114, 142, 155, 261
Parsons, Talcott, 3
Pauw, A. P., 145–151, 152, 153, 172, 342
Payne, D., 181, 207–214, 241–243
Pearson, E., 194
Pennefether, W., 232
Percy, M., 185
Peshkin, A., 240
Philipson, D., 241, 246
Pius IX, Pope, 243

Platt, G. M., 3
Poling, J. N., 261, 262, 270
Polk, D. P., 262
Pollock, J. C., 204
Porpora, D., 357, 380
Porter, E., 195
Potvin, R. H., 254
Pyle, W. T., 299

R

Rahner, K., 245
Raphael, M. L., 227, 246
Rashi, 77, 98
Reher, M., 243
Revel, B., 228, 233
Rhodes, L. N., 256
Richardson, N. D., 256
Robbins, R., 307–308, 314, 316
Robertson, R., 265
Rommen, E., 154
Roosen, D. A., 256
Ropers-Huilman, B., 37
Rosov, W., 37, 108, 112, 115
Rossi, A., 104, 110–114, 115–116,
119, 120, 124–125, 368
Roth, J., 247

S

Saher, J. M., 228
Sanders, C., 70, 72–74, 75–76, 80, 89,
90, 94, 95, 96, 97, 172, 183, 282, 342, 367
Sarna, J., 227, 228, 229, 230
Schatzmann, J., 40–41, 50
Schechner, R., 186
Schechter, S., 191, 223–230, 246–248, 341
Scheffler, I., 131
Schertz, M., 24, 26
Schmucker, S., 209
Schneiders, S. M., 259
Schner, G. P., 249, 250, 254, 259

Schön, D. A., 38, 126, 309–310, 319, 320, 345
Schreiter, R. J., 129–131, 150, 264
Schuller, D., 254
Schultze, Q. J., 64
Schuth, K., 98, 214, 215, 244, 254,
255, 257, 389
Schwarzfuchs, S., 227
Schweitzer, F. L., 261
Seals, M. A., 299
Seaver, R., 156
Seymour, J., 97
Shaw, J., 55–56
Shriver, D. W., 256
Shulman, L., 1, 14–15, 33, 122, 372, 379
Sloan, D., 252
Smith, J. T., 211
Snyder, W. M., 38
Spalding, Bishop, 218–219
Srivastva, S., 384
Stackhouse, M. L., 253
Stephens, J., 16
Serk, A., 16
Stewart, L., 240
Stewart, M., 240
Stone, H. W., 310
Stott, J., 143
Strommen, M., 254
Stuart, M., 195
Sullivan, W. M., 14, 25, 37, 261–262, 319, 320, 321, 322, 357
Suziedelis, A., 254

T

Tanner, D., 50, 65
Tanner, L., 50, 65
Taylor, M. K., 261, 270
Taylor, W., 350–351
Thompson, M. M., 103, 105–108,
109–110, 114, 119, 124–125, 183,
374

Thurman, H., 243, 282
Tillich, P., 141, 267, 325
Tolentino, B., 14
Tomlinson, J., 265
Torres, R. D., 155
Torrey, A. R., 204
Torrey, R., 240
Townes, E., 147
Tracy, D., 71, 72, 74, 90, 141, 259
Tull, P., 41, 44, 47, 49, 50, 52, 60–62,
63, 69, 187–188, 367
Turner, L., 15
Turner, V., 186

V

Vanier, J., 112
Vella, J. K., 37
Visotzky, B., 330, 336–339, 340, 341,
342–345, 347–348, 350, 352, 370,
372
Volf, M., 37

W

Ware, H., 194
Warford, M. L., 65
Washington, B. T., 213, 242
Wehrheim, C. A., 97
Welch, S., 145
Wellhausen, J., 226
Wenger, E., 27, 35, 38, 348, 349–350, 354
Wenzke, A. S., 192, 193, 194, 196,
197, 198, 237
Wertheimer, J., 253, 269
Wheeler, B. G., 65, 98, 188, 253, 261,
262, 389
White, J. M., 198, 214, 217, 220,
221, 222, 243, 244, 255, 269, 270
Whitehead, E. E., 319
Whitehead, J. D., 319
Whitney, D., 384

- Williams, D. D., 128, 238, 252
Williams, R., 16
Williamson, S. C., 145–151, 152, 153,
172, 179, 342
Wilson, R., 76, 85–89, 91–92, 93, 94,
96, 97, 172, 183, 188, 370
Winthrop, J., 197
Wister, I., 228, 233
Wolpe, G., 20–21
Wood, C. M., 121, 126
Woodrum, A., 155
Woods, L., 192, 194, 195, 196
- Y
- Yitzchaki, S., 98
Young, M. I., 151
- Z
- Ziegler, J., 238, 254

SUBJECT INDEX

A

- Academic uses of God-language, 361–362
- Academy of Jewish Science, 225
- Action: critical reflection and, 148–149; practical reasoning and congruent, 345
- African Americans. See also Schools of emancipation: first seminaries for, 207–208; seminary studies for, 212–213, 241–243; studying historical dialogue of black women, 147–148
- African Methodist Episcopal (AME) Church: origins of, 207; schools opened by, 242
- Agency of contexts, 129–130
- Alignment: creating with spiritual practices, 292–294; defining, 324
- American Missionary Society, 208
- Americanists, 243–244
- Andover Theological Seminary, 194–197
- Apprenticeships. See also Field education: cognitive, 25; field education and, 298; identity formation and student, 123–125; participating with teacher's practices as, 28–29, 30; practical, 5–6; professional identity and normative, 7–8, 378; training in liturgical performance, 159–161, 283–284; types of, 5
- Aristotle, 23
- Ashmun Institute, 207
- Association of Theological Schools (ATS), 65

- Athens and Berlin* (Kelsey), 47
- Atlantic Philanthropies, 383
- Audience, student as, 170–173, 180

B

- Being There* (Carroll and others), 188
- Belonging, 35–36
- Ben Sira*, 227
- Benedictines, 232
- Between the Bible and the Church* (Barlett), 86
- Bible schools. See Religious training schools
- Biblical texts. See also Canonical texts: framework for exploring, 331–336; interpreting, 85–89, 364–365; preparing sermons from, 86–89; teaching practices for, 40–42, 59–60; teaching practices for reading, 40–42, 59–60; understanding religion through study of, 78; varying curricular approaches to, 50–51
- Birth of a Nation*, 70
- Black clergy, 212–213, 242. See also African Americans; Schools of emancipation

C

- Campus ministries, 252
- Campus setting and teaching practices, 44–46
- Canonical texts: framework for exploring, 331–336; heightening awareness of, 137; interpreting,

- Canonical texts, continued
 85–89, 364–365; presence of God found in study, 109–110; religion understood through, 78; role in clergy's education, 364–366; studying in pairs, 284–285; teaching practices for, 40–42, 59–60; varying curricular approaches to, 50–51
- Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, 1, 383
- Catholic Abstinence League, 216, 221
- Catholic church. See Diocesan free-standing seminaries; Roman Catholic seminaries
- Catholic Colonization Bureau, 216
- Catholic Theological Union, 288–289
- Catholic University of America, 218–219
- Centering Moment* (Thurman), 282
- Central Conference of American Rabbis, 246
- Challenges, 20–38; aligning teaching with and culture, 34–37; cultivating pastoral imagination, 12–13, 22–30; engaging pedagogical imagination, 30–32; field education's, 296–298; finding signature pedagogical framework, 32–34; forming religious identity and vocation, 101–103; found in seminary education, 4–5; public's expectation of clergy, 20–21; working with non-traditional students, 56–57
- Chapel services, 278–280, 294–295
- Christ and Culture* (Niebuhr), 71, 73, 74
- Church Divinity School of the Pacific, 276–278
- CityWorks, 301
- Classrooms: communities of practice extended beyond, 350–351; engaging prayer in, 107–108; questions about classroom pedagogy, 14; relating pedagogies to field education, 317–319; teaching practices of, 47
- Clergy: becoming holy vessels, 112–113; challenges of preparing, 4–5; cultivating pastoral imagination of, 26–30, 339–340, 352–354; demands on, 9–10; developing professional judgment, 319–322; Dryer's legacy to, 239–241; Dwight's legacy to, 238–239; educating in meaning-making, 366–368; forming culture with tradition, 368–369; leadership skills required, 67–69; modeling practice of holiness, 114–116; Parson's study of, 3; performance role of, 156–159; preparing for work, 17–18; professional status of, 2–3; public's expectation of, 20–21; reasons for studying education of, 2, 12–15; reliance on spiritual practices, 272–273; role as agents of God, 358–359; scope of current study on, 1–2; studying canonical texts, 364–366
- Clergy Education Study: about, 383–384; data analysis, 390–391; literature review, 385; methodology for, 384–385; participating in survey of faculty, 389–390; primary question of, 13–15; report of findings, 391; site selection for, 385–387; site visits during, 388–389; survey design and implementation, 387–388
- Clergy educators. See Teachers
- Cognitive apprenticeships, 25
- Cognitive performance, 161–167
- Cognitive rationality, 3–4
- Cohesion, 375–376
- Communal pedagogies, 188
- Communities: function of interpretive, 74–75; learning, 120; relating historic events to religious, 42–43

- Communities of practice: extended beyond classroom, 350–351; modeled by teachers, 373–374; modes of belonging and, 35–36; practicing integration in, 348–352
- Community practice, 369
- Community worship, 275–280;
diverse liturgical traditions and, 278–280, 294–295; effect of religious homogeneity on, 277; faculty’s commitment to, 277; importance of, 275–276; relation to group and individual formation, 293–294; shared liturgical traditions and, 276–278; variations in, 274, 275
- Competing academic traditions, 47–49
- Congregational context, 303
- Conservative Judaism, 134–136, 246, 247
- Context. See also Contextual encounter; Contextual transformation: agency of, 129–130; congregational, 303; content found in, 129; contextualization, 132; developing consciousness of, 132, 133–138; developing pastoral identity in, 310–313; discerning social, 98; emphasizing present through, 131–132; formation and, 125–126; noticing human conditioning, 154, 155; pedagogies about, 127–128; performance and influence of, 180; reconstructing, 141–144; religion in global, 153–154; rising interest in, 128–132; social change and impact on seminaries, 253–257; transforming, 132–133, 145–152
- Contextual education. See Field education
- Contextual Education Handbook* (Candler School of Theology), 129
- Contextual encounter, 132, 138–145; fostering dialogical reciprocity, 145; fostering pluralism, 145; mutual understanding, 144–145; nurturing empathy during, 144
- Contextual transformation, 132–133, 145–152; critical reflection and action, 148–149; ethical and theological analysis in, 148; historical dialogue in, 147–148; seeking change through teaching, 146; seminars and participation in, 151–152
- Continuity and change in traditions, 235–271; Dryer’s legacy in religious training schools, 239–241; Dwight’s legacy in Protestant traditions, 236–239; effect of globalization in, 256–257; emphasis on practical theology, 260–262; expansion of feminist perspectives, 255–256; growing interest in spirituality, 258–260; Ireland’s influence on Catholic seminaries, 217–218, 243–245; maintaining traditions in changing world, 263–266; Payne’s legacy in African American seminaries, 241–243; “professional competence” movement, 254–255; Schechter’s legacy in rabbinical seminaries, 246–248; social change and impact on seminaries, 253–257
- Cooperative service of small groups, 283
- Critical reflection and action, 148–149
- Critical thinking: coaching students in, 94–95; expanding use of, 102; interpretative practice and, 89–92; teaching, 92–96
- Cross-cultural learning, 307–308
- Cultural ethos, 191
- Curriculum: adapting fourfold, 149–150; Andover’s first, 195–197; balance in, 376–377; denominational differences in, 53; developing professional identity with, 6;

Curriculum, continued

effect on teaching practices, 49–54; implicit, 188; Ireland's minor and major seminary, 217–218; Jewish Theological Seminary, 233–234; myths about, 117, 118; “professional competence” movement and,
 254–255; religious training school,
 205; shaped by theological issues,
 118–119; social sciences added to,
 245, 250–251; St. Paul Seminary's, 220–221; varying approaches to Biblical courses, 50–51

D

Dangers of formation, 116
 Data analysis for study, 390–391
 Deep participation in ritual, 366–367
 Dialogical methods of Talmud study,
 77–80, 93
 Diocesan free-standing seminaries:
 about, 214; development of St.
 Paul Seminary, 219–221, 222;
 founding of new, 232; interpretive and formative pedagogies of, 221–
 222; Ireland's legacy, 217–218, 243–245; minor and major seminary curricula, 217–218; patterns of priestly imagination arising in, 222–223
 Discernment: developing, 120, 121–
 123, 126; dynamics of play and,
 184; social context for textual studies, 98
 Discipling, 53
 Diversity. See also Student diversity:
 dependency on student tuition and,
 55–56; holistic formation and cultural, 289–292; interest in context due to, 130; liturgical traditions reflecting, 278–280, 294–295;
 questioning influence on teaching practices, 44–47; range of student,

 54–59; of teaching practices, 39,
 63–64

Dominicans, 232

Dutch Reformed Church, 236

E

Education. See also Field education:
 challenges in seminary, 4–5; formative purpose of, 11; increasing participation of women and marginalized students in, 54–55; linking Catholic Church to public schools, 216–217; need for normative knowledge by clergy, 8–10;
 preparing clergy for work, 17–18;
 questions about distinctive pedagogy, 14; requirements in clergy's, 22; requirements of clergy's, 22;
 roots of in apprenticeship, 5–6;
 three apprenticeships for, 5–8

Educational Imagination, The (Eisner), 49–50

Educators. See Teachers

Eldership, leadership through authority, 111, 120

Emancipation. See Schools of emancipation

Embodiment: pedagogy of formation as means to, 123–125; process of, 126; transformative power of teacher and, 115

Eschatology, 14, 16

Ethics: contextual transformation and analysis of, 148; cultural context of,
 141; facing questions of medical,
 138–142; retrieving traditions for assessing, 140–141; sensitizing students to, 71, 73, 75–76; teaching in field education programs, 310

Exploring the Moral Heart of Teaching (Hansen), 37

F

- Facilitating mutual understanding, 144–145
- Faculty. See Teachers
- Field education, 252, 296–325; curricular balance and, 376–377; defined, 296; developing pastoral identity in context, 310–313; developing professional judgment, 319–322; doing practical theology in, 322–324; language and cultural studies in, 306–307; methods of, 299–300; pedagogies developing reflection, 309–310; purpose and challenges of, 296–298; questions about, 298; questions for investigation, 298–300; relating classroom pedagogy to, 317–319; Yale requirements for, 301
- Field education directors, 297
- Findings of Clergy Education Study, 391
- Formation, 100–126. See also Field education; Professional identity: contextual meanings of, 125–126; dangers of, 116; developing human maturity through, 291; dimensions in performance, 181–182; emphasis in 19th-century Catholic seminaries, 222, 223; expansion of spiritual, 258–260; field education emphasizing human, 305–306; individual guidance for, 287–289; lay student, 295; necessity of spiritual community for, 292; as part of signature pedagogical framework, 123–125; pastoral imagination and pedagogies of, 101; pedagogical challenges to, 101–103; practicing holiness, 104, 110–116; practicing in the presence of God, 103–104, 105–110; practicing religious leadership, 104–105, 116–123; professional development as, 11–12, 100–101; professional education in, 11; program of holistic, 289–292; small groups for spiritual, 280–287; strategies for, 103–105
- Four Quartets* (Eliot), 163, 185
- Franciscans, 232, 233
- Free-standing seminaries, 191, 192–199; adapting fourfold curriculum, 149–150; Dwight's legacy in Protestant traditions, 236–239; embrace of social sciences, 250–251; expansion of spiritual formation in, 258–260; founding of Andover Theological Seminary, 194–195; pedagogies and curricula of first, 195–197; vision and pastoral imagination of, 197–199
- Fuller Theological Seminary, 240
- Fundamentalist-evangelical seminaries, 231
- Fundamentals, The*, 240

G

- Game metaphor for performance, 171–172
- Gemara, 77, 98
- Gemiluth chasadim* (social work), 229, 253, 368
- Geniza* manuscripts, 227
- Global contexts, 153–154, 256–257
- God. See God-language; Presence of God
- God-language, 357–363; academic uses of, 361–362; clergy as agents of God, 358–359; describing God as intimate and personal, 360–361; describing God in imagery, 359–360; God as active force for good, 362–363; learning art of, 357–358, 380
- God's Long Summer* (Marsh), 70, 73

Good Work (Gardner and others),
298, 324
Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary,
240
Greenfield Academy, 231

H

Halakhah (law), 230
Hampton Normal and Agricultural School, 242
Hartford Theological Seminary, 237
Hasidism, 224
Havrutah, 78, 280, 284
Heart subordinate to mind, 111, 112,
368
Hebrew Union College, 228, 241,
246, 256
Hermeneutics of Ernesti (Woods), 194
Hokmah (secular studies), 233
Holiness: becoming holy vessels, 112–113, 115, 181, 368; modeling practice of, 114–116; practicing, 104, 110–116; reflecting in liturgical performance, 181
Holistic formation, 289–292
Horizon of interpretation, 367
Horizontal integration, 330
Houston College, 242
How to Think Theologically (Stone and Duke), 310

I

Identity. See Professional identity
Illinois State Normal School, 199–200
Illinois State Normal University, 231
Imagery of God, 359–360
Imagination. See Pastoral imagination;
Pedagogical imagination
Imperative horizons, 133
Implicit curriculum, 188
Institutional cohesion, 375–376
Institutional self-consciousness about teaching, 374–375

Integration: horizontal and vertical,
330; of practical reasoning,
345–348; reinforcing impulse toward, 344; teaching practices for,
331–339

Integrity: connecting with personal identity, 113; evaluating vocational, 297–298; integrating in liturgical performance, 181; requiring of student presentations, 117

Intern practicum groups, 302

Internal goods of teaching practices,
29, 176, 177

Internships. See Field education

Interpretation: appropriating tradition with, 81–85; by choosing “right methods,” 85–89; of canonical texts, 364–365; as continuous dialogue, 76–80, 93; critical thinking and, 89–92; developing horizon of, 367; elements of, 72–76; engaging in field education, 318; exploring patterns of, 97; incidents calling for, 71–72; Jewish law, 98; narrative possibility, 213–214; pedago-gies used for, 76–89, 96–97;
performance and, 178–179; relationship to God and, 90–91; studying Biblical texts with, 331–336;
teaching skill of, 70–71

Interpreters: about, 73; interacting with thing to be interpreted,
73–74

Interpretive communities, 74–75

Intimacy of small groups, 283

J

Jesuits, 232

Jewish seminaries. See Rabbinical seminaries

Jewish Theological Seminary,
227–228, 233–234, 241, 246, 247,
256

- Jewish tradition: Conservative view of modernity and, 134–136, 246, 247; cultivating klei kodesh, 112–113, 115, 181, 368; Hasidism, 224; interpretation of Jewish law, 98; pedagogies of synagogue and yeshiva, 48; prayer vs. study of sacred texts, 108
- Judaism. See also Jewish tradition; Rabbinical seminaries; Talmud studies: Conservative view of modernity and tradition, 134–136, 246, 247; gemiluth chasadim (social work), 229, 253, 368; Hasidism, 224
- K
- Klei kodesh* (holy vessels), 112–113, 115, 181, 368
- Knights of Labor, 216
- L
- Labor: organized by priests, 253; retraining from class consciousness, 204; work ethic in religious training for, 203–204
- Lamentabili* (Pope Pius IX), 243
- Lane College, 242
- Latina theologies, 255–256
- Lay student formation, 295
- Leadership: apprenticing students in liturgical, 283–284; clergy's role as, 21, 67–69; concern with religious, 1–2; eldership and, 111, 120; elements of spiritual, 274; Payne's development of black, 212–213; personal transparency and, 274; practicing religious, 104–105, 116–123; sources of black clergy, 242
- Learned clergy, 300, 341, 342
- Learner's minyan, 284
- Learning: to construct sermons, 169; cross-cultural, 307–308; educator's expectations of student, 24–26; facilitating integrative, 349–350; as formative process for student, 10; integrating in field education, 298; reflected in performance, 158–159, 178; responsibility for student, 51–52
- Learning communities, 120
- Lexington Seminar, 55, 65
- Lilly Endowment, Inc., 1–2, 383
- Literature review for study, 385
- Liturgical performance: deep participation in, 366–367; developing mastery in, 173–176, 177–178; reflecting integrity and holiness in, 181; training in, 159–161, 283–284
- Liturgical traditions: community worship of shared, 276–278; worship with diverse, 278–280, 294–295
- Livingston College, 242
- M
- Man, Play, and Games* (Caillois), 186
- Marketing religion: disseminating Bible's message, 206–207; Moody's retail methods for saving souls, 201
- Meaning: clergy's need for personal, 9–10; interpreting events and search for, 71–72; social practices of making, 366–368
- Means and manner of performance, 173–176
- Meditations, guided, 282
- Mekinah* Talmud course, 76–80
- Methodology: Clergy Education Study, 384–385; method and strategy in pedagogy, 66
- Mildmay Deaconess Home, 232
- Ministers. See Clergy
- Ministry at the Margins* (Sanders), 75

Ministry in Context (International Missionary Council), 154
 Mishnah, 77, 98
 Mission statements of seminaries, 46, 64
 Modernity: Conservative Judaism's view of, 134–136, 246; exploring paideia vs. wissenschaft, 47–49, 64–65, 225–226, 355–356; negotiating seminary traditions and, 248–249; relationship to tradition, 133–134; Schechter's role in mediating tradition and, 224
 Modes of belonging, 35–36
 Moody Bible Institute: development of, 200–202; Dryer's legacy in, 239; Moody's retail methods for saving souls, 201; retraining laborers away from class consciousness, 204
Moral Vision of the New Testament, The, 73
 Morality: introducing students to moral theology, 81, 82, 83; relating to religious vocation, 82
 Morris College, 242
 Myths about curricula, 117, 118

N

Narrative: narrative possibility, 213–214; pedagogical use of, 342
 National Council on Religion in Higher Education, 251–252
New Rabbi, The (Fried), 20–21
 Nontraditional students, 56–57
 Normative apprenticeship: professional identity and, 7–8, 378; role in preparation of clergy, 8–10

O

Oberlin Theological Seminary, 237
On Liturgical Theology (Kavanagh), 294

Online courses and Web sites, 338–339, 348–349
Open Secrets (Lischer), 17–18
 Ordination: faculty support for student exam, 52–53; screening process for, 287

P

Paideia (tradition). See also Tradition: clergy's embodiment of, 265–266; education as formation of, 211; wissenschaft vs., 47–49, 64–65, 225–226, 355–356
 Pastor. See Clergy
 Pastoral character, 314–315
 Pastoral identity. See Professional identity
 Pastoral imagination: challenge of developing, 22–26; cultivating in seminary traditions, 191; development of Puritan, 197–198; educators' fostering of, 13–14, 24–26; integrative pedagogy for cultivating, 340–342; maintaining religious traditions in changing world, 263–266; pedagogies of formation and, 101; studying, 12–13; teaching practices cultivating, 26–30, 339–340, 352–354; training schools and Bible institutes, 206–207; transformation effected by Payne's, 213–214; two patterns of priestly imagination, 222–223; vision and discernment in, 120, 121–123
 Pastoral lifestyle, 315
Pastores Dabo Vobis (Pope John Paul II), 305, 314
 Pedagogical imagination: about, 39–40; case studies in, 59–63; exercising, 30–32
 Pedagogy. See also Pedagogical imagination: Catholic interpretive and

- formative, 221–222; contextual, 127–128, 152–153; Dryer’s use of, 204–206; field education, 308–310, 317–319; formation, 101–103; fostering pastoral imagination, 13–14; function of elements of interpretation, 72–76; interdependence of, 342–343; method and strategy in, 66; narrative, 342; prayer as pedagogical method, 109; questions about classroom, 14; rabbinical pedagogies of cultural renewal, 228–230; relating field education to classroom, 317–319; religious training school, 205; seminaries’ use of, 7; signature, 33; used in interpretive practice, 76–89
- Performance, 156–186; context’s influence on, 180; engaging in field education programs, 318; formation in, 181–182; four features of, 167; game metaphor for, 171–172; learning reflected in, 158–159, 178; liturgical, 159–161; means and manner of, 173–176; pedagogy of interpretation and, 178–179; performer and audience, 170–173, 180; preparing clergy students in, 157–159; problematic connotations of, 184–185; public speaking as, 156, 196–197; reflecting holiness and integrity in, 181; script in, 167–170, 183; teaching as play, 182–184; telos of, 176–178; transformation in, 186
- Personal guidance, 293–294
- Personal relationship to God, 360–361
- Phronesis*, 319, 320
- Play: dynamics of discernment and, 184; role of performance and, 183; use of term, 186
- Practical apprenticeships, 5–6
- Practical reasoning: integrating, 345–348; model used at Trinity Lutheran Seminary, 321–322
- Practical theology: about, 260–262; field education as, 322–324
- Practices. See Spiritual practices; Teaching practices
- Prayer: congruency of relationships and, 113; developing confidence leading, 284; discussions with students on developing, 111; engaging in class, 107–108, 260; Jewish study of sacred texts vs., 108; as pedagogical method, 109; subordinating mind to heart in, 111, 112
- Premillennialism, 200
- Preparation for the Professions Program, 2
- Presbyterian General Assembly, 236
- Presence of God, 103–110; awakening students to, 103–104; practicing in, 105–110; religious leadership practicing in, 120
- Priestly imagination. See Pastoral imagination
- Priests. See also Clergy: organization of labor by, 253; training in liturgical performance, 159–161
- Primary theology, 275, 294
- Principle of double effect, 98
- Professional education. See Education
- Professional identity. See also Formation: attention given to in curricula, 6; cultivating pastoral identity, 318–319; education and transformation of, 11; field education and, 310–313; form of normative apprenticeship and, 7–8, 378; formation and, 11–12, 100–101; identity of teacher, 113; mastering liturgical performance and, 177–178; views of clergy’s professional status, 2–3
- Professionalism in seminary education, 254–255

- Program of Priestly Formation (PPF), 245, 314
- Protestant seminaries. See also Free-standing seminaries; Religious training schools; Schools of emancipation: Dwight's legacy in, 236–239; pedagogical strengths of, 231; practical theology in, 260–262
- Public speaking: as performance, 156, 196–197; Puritan oratory, 196–197
- Puritans: development of pastoral imagination, 197–198; public persuasion and oratory of clergy, 196–197
- R
- Rabbi Isaac Elchanan Theological Seminary, 228, 233, 246, 247, 254, 256
- Rabbinic imagination. See Pastoral imagination
- Rabbinical Assembly of America, 246
- Rabbinical seminaries: cultural renewal pedagogies, 228–230; curriculum of Jewish Theological Seminary, 233–234; dialogue and disputation in, 230; embrace of social sciences, 245, 250–251; expansion of spiritual formation in, 258–260; influence of Zionism on, 256; late-nineteenth century, 228; learner's minyan, 284; movement to professionalism in, 254–255; pedagogical strengths of, 231; pedagogies of 19th century, 229; Schechter's legacy to, 227–228, 233, 246–248; study partners (havrutah), 78, 280, 284
- Rabbis. See also Clergy: dialogical methods of Talmud study, 77–80, 93; social work and reform extended by, 229; teaching students to think like, 80
- Racism, 147–148
- Reacting, skills for, 139–140
- Reconstructing context, 141–144
- Redemptorists, 232
- Reflection: action and critical, 148–149; art of theological, 313; field education developing, 309–310
- Reformed Pastor, The*, 196
- Relationships, congruency of prayer and, 113
- Religious fundamentalism, 21
- Religious homogeneity, 276–278
- Religious order house of study, 214
- Religious pluralism: contextual encounter and, 132; fostering, 145; instilling tolerance, 102–103
- Religious studies, 252
- Religious tradition. See Tradition
- Religious training schools, 191, 199–207; development of Moody's Bible school, 200–202; differences between Dryer and Moody's visions, 203–204; Dryer's legacy, 239–241; implementation of Dryer's vision, 202–203; influenced by Dryer's Normal School background, 199–200; life of students, 207; populist disdain for seminary studies, 205; vision of, 200
- Ritual. See also Performance: deep participation in, 366–367; developing mastery in performance of, 173–176, 177–178; using when words are inadequate, 158
- Roman Catholic seminaries. See also Diocesan free-standing seminaries; Seminaries: diocesan free-standing seminaries, 214, 232; embrace of social sciences, 245, 250–251; establishment of formation houses, 232–233; formation in programs of, 125; fourfold curriculum of, 149–150; increasing number of women in, 255; interpretive and formative pedagogies, 221–222; Ireland’s legacy in, 217–218, 243–245; movement to professionalism in, 254; pedagogical strengths of, 231; practical theology in, 260–262; Program of Priestly Formation, 245; religious formation in, 295; religious order house of study, 214; spiritual formation in, 258–260

Rules for Radicals (Alinsky), 155

S

Saving Work (Chopp), 155

Schools of emancipation, 181, 207–214; closing knowledge gap between races, 209; founding of first, 207–208; funding for, 208; legacy in African American seminaries, 241–243; mistrust of formal education in, 207, 209; Payne’s vision of ministerial training, 209–211; pedagogical strengths of, 231; tailored to emancipation, 211–213

Screening process for ordination, 287

Script in performance, 167–170, 183

“Second Great Awakening,” 194, 199

Second Vatican Council, 244

Secular City, The (Cox), 18

Seminaries. See also Diocesan free-standing seminaries; Free-standing seminaries; Rabbinical seminaries; Religious training schools: adapting fourfold curriculum, 149–150; aligning, 34–37; Andover Theological Seminary, 194–197; clinical settings for education, 252–253; cohesiveness in diverse traditions, 278–280, 294–295; collaborating with universities, 251–253; curricular balance of, 376–377; denominational differences in curricula, 53; development of St. Paul Seminary, 219–221, 222; diocesan free-standing, 214, 217–223, 232; diversity of teaching practices in, 39; Dryer’s vision of religious training, 200; Dwight’s legacy in Protestant, 236–239; education in global context, 153–154; educational context in, 128–130; English vs. American student populations, 55–56; expectation of student learning in, 24–26; formation in, 125–126, 258–260; fostering pastoral imagination in, 12–13, 22–26; free-standing seminary, 191, 192–199; homogeneity and communal worship, 277; implicit curriculum of, 188; influences on teaching practices, 44; influential leaders, 191, 230–231; institutional cohesion of, 375–376; institutional self-consciousness about teaching, 374–375; Ireland’s influence on Catholic, 217–218, 243–245; marginalized students in, 54–55; mission statements of, 64; negotiating modernity and tradition, 248–249; pedagogical imagination in, 30–32; preparation of clergy for work, 17–18; quality of teaching in, 379–380; quest for professional competency in, 254–255; reconstructing theology and tradition in, 257–258; religious training schools, 199–200; response to global influences, 256–257; Schechter’s rabbinical legacy, 246–248; schools of emancipation, 207–214; selecting for study, 385–387; signature pedagogical framework of, 32–34; social change and impact on, 253–257; social sciences in, 245, 250–251;

- Seminaries, continued system of 19th century French, 215; tensions between academic and ministry careers, 57–58; types of training at, 5–8; use of term, 1; visited during study, 388–389;
 women in, 54–55, 255–256
- Seminary educators. See Teachers
- Sermons: criteria for excellence in, 179–180; developing as performance, 177; learning to construct,
 169; teaching students to prepare,
 86–89, 337–338
- Signature pedagogical framework:
 about, 33, 371–372; contextual pedagogies in, 127–128, 152–153;
 finding, 32–34; formation pedago-gies in, 123–125; interpretive peda-gogies in, 96–97
- Skill apprenticeship, 26
- Small groups, 280–287; apprenticing
 students in liturgical leadership,
 283–284; contributions of, 286–
 287; cooperative service by, 283; examples of, 281–283; focusing on social justice, 285–286; intern practicum groups, 302; intimacy of, 283; purpose of, 280–281; relationship to community and individual, 293–294; studying canonical texts in, 284–285
- Social justice, 285–286
- Social practices of meaning-making, 366–368
- Social work. See also Voluntary activism: Dryer's success with,
 200–202; gemiluth chasadim, 229,
 253, 368; rabbi's role in, 229
- Society of the Divine Word, 289–292
- Soteriology, 14, 16
- Speaking of God, 357–363; academic ways of, 361–362; as active force for good, 362–363; clergy as agents of God, 358–359; describing God in imagery, 359–360; as human relationship, 360–361; learning art of, 357–358, 380
- Spiritual authority, 111, 120
- Spiritual formation, 53, 274
- Spiritual practices, 272–295; aligning influence of, 292–294; clergy's reliance on, 272–273; defined, 369–370; individual guidance for spiritual formation, 287–289;
 program of holistic formation,
 289–292; role of community worship, 275–280; small groups for spiritual formation, 280–287;
 ways seminaries cultivate, 274
- Spiritual tradition. See Tradition
- Spirituality: Abbs' view of, 64; growing interest in, 258–260
- St. John's Seminary: cross-cultural learning at, 307–308; field education at, 299; focus on human formation at, 305–306; language and cultural studies program, 306–307;
 mission of, 305; pastoral formation at, 314–316
- St. Paul Seminary, 219–221, 222
- St. Thomas Aquinas Seminary, 218
- St. Vincent de Paul Society, 253
- Strategy in pedagogy, 66
- Student diversity: distinguishing cultural and personal issues, 291–292;
 influence on teaching practices,
 44–47; range of, 54–59
- Students. See also Vocation: appreciation for teachers, 62; awakening to presence of God, 103–104; challenging beliefs and traditions of,
 102; contextual consciousness of,
 132, 133–138; critical thinking by,
 102; demographics of, 54–55;
 developing human maturity through formation, 291; developing pastoral character and lifestyle, 314–315; developing professional

- judgment, 319–322; developing skills for reacting, 139–140; discerning social context for text, 98; effect of diversity on teaching practices, 44–47, 54–59; English vs. American, 55–56; identity formation via apprenticeships, 123–125; individual guidance for, 287–289; instilling religious tolerance in, 102–103; introducing to moral theology, 81, 82, 83; learning as formative process, 10; listening for ethical issues, 71, 73, 75–76; mastering liturgical performance, 173–176, 177–178; perceived tensions between academic and ministry goals, 57–58; preparing sermons, 86–89, 337–338; reinforcing impulse toward integration, 344; requiring integrity in presentations, 117; responsibility for learning, 51–52; speaking about God, 357–358, 380; support for ordination exams, 52–53; teacher performing for, 170–173, 180; teaching learning skills to, 59–60; vocation of, 297–298, 311–313
- Subordinating mind to heart, 111, 112, 368
- Sulpicians, 232
- Supervised ministry. See Field education
- Supervised Ministry Handbook* (Yale Divinity School), 300
- Supervising field education, 301–302
- Survey design and implementation, 387–388
- Systematic Theology* (Tillich), 325
- T
- Taize prayer services, 280, 295
- Talmud studies. See also Canonical texts: at Academy of Jewish Science, 225, 226; dialogical methods of, 76–80, 93; interpreting text, 364–365
- Teachers: apprenticing students, 28–29, 30; coaching critical thinking, 94–95; commitment to communal worship, 277; connecting identity with integrity, 113; developing integrated pedagogies, 371–372; exercising pedagogical imagination, 30–32, 40; fostering pastoral imagination, 13–14, 24–26; internal goods of teaching practices, 176, 177; modeling community of practice, 373–374; modeling practice of holiness, 114–116; participating in national survey of, 389–390; quality of teaching, 379–380; reinforcing student's impulse toward integration, 344; responsibility for students' learning, 51–52; students' appreciation for, 62; support for student ordination exams, 52–53
- Teaching practices. See also Interpretation: aligning, 34–37; Andover Theological Seminary's, 195–197; classroom setting and, 47; competing academic traditions and, 47–49; cultivating pastoral imagination, 26–30, 339–340, 352–354; curricula and, 49–54; defined, 370; developing critical thinking, 92–96; developing skills for reacting, 139–140; diversity of seminary, 39, 63–64; Dryer's, 204–206; effect of campus setting on, 44–46; exploring in educational traditions, 191; exploring paideia vs. wissenschaft, 47–49, 64–65, 225–226, 355–356; focus of study on, 383–384; impact of student diversity on, 44–47, 54–59; integrative, 331–339; interdependence of, 342–343; internal goods of, 29; letting Holy Spirit

- Teaching practices, continued “down” to students, 110–111; modes of belonging and, 35–36;
 more than techniques, 27; passing on communal norms with, 29–30;
 patterning students with, 27–29;
 for pedagogical imagination, 59–
 63; reading Biblical texts, 40–42,
 59–60; teaching as play, 182–184;
 teaching interpretation skills, 70–
 71; teaching oneself, 105, 110,
 114, 374; types of influences on, 44
- Techné*, 319–320
- Testem Benevolentiae* (Pope Leo XIII), 243
- Theodicy, 14, 16
- Theological Education*, 26, 154
- Theological reflection, 313
- Theological thinking, 330, 341
- Third Plenary Council of Baltimore,
 217, 220, 233
- Tradition. See also Continuity and change in traditions; Jewish tradition; Modernity: appropriating, 81–85; canonical study as study of,
 93–94; Conservative Judaism’s view of, 134–136, 246; embodiment of holiness, 115, 126; maintaining in changing world, 263–
 266; paideia vs. wissenschaft, 47–49, 64–65, 225–226, 355–356;
 preparing students to perform,
 169–170; relating to circumstances without precedent, 131; religious communities and relationship to,
 42–43; retrieving for assessing facts, 140–141; Schechter’s role in mediating modernity and, 224;
 social practices as living memory of, 367; Trinity Lutheran Semi-nary’s inherited, 324
- Transformation: contextual, 132–133, 145–152; drama located in, 186;
 education and professional, 11;
 embodiment and, 115
- Transparency: disposition of, 110;
 goal of spiritual formation, 274;
 reflecting personal faith and priestly role, 161; teaching oneself,
 105, 110, 114, 374
- Trinity Lutheran Seminary, 303–305;
 dual focus of field education, 304; field education at, 299; inherited traditions of, 324; model of practical reasoning used, 321–322; requirements of field education, 304
- Troubling in My Soul*, A (Townes), 147–148
- Tuskegee Institute, 242

U

- Union of American Hebrew Congregationists, 246
- Union Seminary, 207, 237
- United Synagogue of America, 246

V

- Vatican II, 244
- Vertical integration, defined, 330
- Vincentians, 81, 82, 98, 232
- Vocation: evaluating student’s, 297–
 298; exploring in field education,
 311–313; faculty’s image of own,
 362–363; forming, 101–103; relating morality to, 82
- Voluntary activism: Dryer’s success with social work, 200–202; emerging after Second Great Awakening, 199; growing from vision of Andover, 198; Ireland’s public work, 216–217; small groups focused on social justice, 285–286;
 social work and reform extended by rabbi, 229

W

Wilberforce University, 210, 211, 212, 242
Wissenschaft (teaching), paideia vs., 47–49, 64–65, 225–226, 355–356
 Women: Dryer's vision of religious study for, 200, 201, 202–203; Dwight opens Greenfield academy to, 193; historical dialogue of African American, 147–148; increasing participation of, 54–55, 255–256
Women, Race, and Class (Davis), 147
 Women's Aid, 200–201
 Workers. See Labor

Y

Yale Divinity School, 300–302; field education at, 299; ideal of learned clergy, 300; intern practicum groups, 302; requirements of supervised ministry, 301; teaching ethics in field education programs, 310
 Yeshiva, 224
 YMCA (Young Men's Christian Association), 199
 YWCA (Young Women's Christian Association), 199, 200

Z

Zionism, 256, 367

