

Contents

About the Authors	v
Acknowledgments	xi
Chapter One: Why Write, Anyhow? Understanding Voice, Theory, and Standards in Contemporary Classrooms	1
What Is the TIP Writing Process	1
Jane’s Story: Learning to Participate Through an Ice Cream Social	2
Jamie’s Story: Patience and Creativity Pay Off	4
Debbie’s Story: Labels Create the “Can’t”	5
A Word About Our Goals	6
It Ain’t All Theory—But a Little Bit Helps	7
Product Approaches: Understanding Writing As a Sum of Its Parts	7
Process Approaches: Movement Toward Authenticity	10
The TIP Writing Process: A Balanced, Authentic Approach	11
Authenticity and Effective Practice	12
Flow and Optimal Experience	13
What We Believe About Writing	14
What Writing Is Not	15
What Writing Is	16
The TIP Weekly Schedule	19
A Few Words About Standards	19
The Principled Argument	20
The Assimilationist Stance	21
A Simple Fact: Too Many Standards	22
Acculturation Instead of Assimilation	23
A Place for Standards	24
Who Will Benefit From the TIP Approach?	25
Chapter Two: Developing Voice and Authority	27
Lessons for Developing Voice and Authority	28
Lists of Ten	29
Basic Description	30
Rich Description	32
The Frame	33

Round Robin Theme Exchange	35
Sight, Smell, Taste-Touch, Sound (SST-TS)	37
Picture Writing	39
The Alien Encounter	41
The Archaeologist	43
The Blueberry	45
The Hall Walk	47
The Reporter	49
Transactional Writing	51
Visualizing	53
Writing Directions	55
The Friday Essay	57
Chapter Three: Developing Mini Lessons	59
Using the Writing Workshop and Mini Lesson Approach	59
Developing Mini Lessons	60
Determine Content Need	60
Keep Them Short	61
Make Them Simple	61
Engage Students and Provide for Interaction	61
Provide Practice Time	62
Consider What's Next	62
Get Students Comfortable	62
Evaluate	62
Mini Lessons and Special Education Students	63
Chapter Four: Discovering Organization	65
Developing Organizational Mini Lessons	66
Don't Spill the Topics	67
Sweet Organization	69
Paragraph Jigsaw	72
Persuading Paragraphs	74
Beginning-Middle-End	77
Fitting the Pieces Together	78
Situation-Problem-Solution	79
Thesis Statements and Organizing Ideas	83
Checking It All Out	87

Chapter Five: Learning the Little Stuff: Sentence Structure, Punctuation, Contractions, Descriptive Vocabulary, and More	89
Developing Grammar Mini Lessons	90
Ask Yourself	90
Scaffold	90
Identify and Practice	90
Follow Up	91
Knowing Nouns and Venturing About Verbs	92
I'm Just Acting!	94
Postcards from the Past	95
It's Happening—Right Now!	96
Looking into the Future	97
Who? What? A World Without Pronouns	98
Dance, FANBOYS, Dance!	99
Crushing Contractions	103
Capitalizing Capitalization	108
Quoting Quotables	110
Appropriate Apostrophes	112
Defragging Sentence Fragments	116
Comma Chameleon	120
Prefix Circles	123
Prefix Puzzle	126
Bucket o' Words	128
Vocabulary Pictures	129
It's in the Bag: Adding Descriptive Details	131
Overusing and Abusing "Very"	133
Idiomatic Scavenger Hunt	136
 Chapter Six: Finding Out About Research	 141
Developing Research Skill Mini Lessons	142
Noting Notes	143
Building Focused Thesis Statements	145
Working Out a Working Outline	147
Developing I-Search Research Papers	150
Brainstorming I-Search Topics	152

Narrowing Down the I-Search Topic	153
Developing a Search Plan	154
Identifying Potential Resources	155
Gathering Information, Integrating Information, and Self-Evaluation	157
Appendix: NCTE/IRA Standards for the English Language Arts	161
References	165
Index	169