

Index

• A •

- AAR. (Association of Authors' Representatives, Inc.), 266
- accent, speech, 144–146
- acceptance call, 287–289
- accounting, 48–49
- acknowledgments, 310
- action
- beginning of novel, 197–199
 - chapter beginning, 205
 - chapter ending, 208
 - cute first meeting, 196
 - definition, 129
 - hooking readers, 193
 - internal monologue guidelines, 156
 - narration, 135–138
 - pacing tips, 164, 174
 - point of view, 151
 - Sagging Middle Syndrome, 167
 - scene ending, 211–212
 - summary, 136
- address, 244
- adjectives
- overused, 130, 131
 - pacing tips, 175
 - setting description, 113
- advance, 290–291
- advance reading copy (ARC), 303, 312
- adverbs, 130, 131
- advertising. See PR support
- advertorial, 313
- afterword, 310
- agent
- benefits, 261–262, 343
 - call of acceptance, 287–289
 - change of editor, 299
 - commission, 263
 - function, 15, 262–263
 - relationship with writer, 263
 - selection, 265–266
- alliteration, 327
- Alpha hero, 67–68
- amnesia plot type, 161
- anthology, 30
- apostrophe, 145
- appearance
- hero, 65
 - heroine, 61
- ARC. See advance reading copy
- archived newspaper, 226
- art, cover, 292, 304–307
- artwork, in office, 50
- Association of Authors' Representatives, Inc. (AAR), 266
- athlete, 71
- atlas, 114
- attraction. See sexual tension
- author
- assessment of strengths, 37–38
 - characteristics, 42
 - editor selection, 252
 - genre selection, 35–38
 - goal, 2
 - love of genre, 37, 330
 - migration from category to mainstream, 28
 - name, 244, 292, 293, 305
 - personal Web site, 316
 - questions for self-reflection, 341–344
 - relationship with agent, 263
 - relationship with editor, 298–301
 - review quote, 308
 - stereotype, 1, 41
- author alteration stage, 303
- author voice
- character's knowledge, 131–132
 - description, 129, 130–135
 - dialogue, 128
 - love scenes, 184–187
 - narration, 129
 - overview, 14, 127–128
 - personalization, 130
 - places to express, 128–129
 - point of view, 128, 131–132
 - reader's reaction, 128, 133
 - separation from character's voice, 129, 140
 - word choice, 130–131
- Avon (publishing imprint), 53

• B • baby, birth of, 161, 323 back-cover copy, 306–307, 312 background information, 194, 199–202

 bad-boy hero, 69
 Ballantine Books (publisher), 53
 Bantam (publishing imprint), 53
 Bebak, Arthur (Creating Web Pages For Dummies), 316 beginning, of chapter
 action, 205
 hooking reader, 205
 importance, 204–205
 predictability, 209
 space breaks, 242
 beginning, of novel
 action, 197–199
 background information, 194, 199–202
 boredom, 194–195
 cute first meeting, 195–197
 dialogue, 198–199, 203
 effective opening lines, 202–204 examples, 198, 202–204
 finding, 197–199
 importance, 191
 narrative, 198–199
 overview, 14, 192
 presence of hero and heroine, 193–194 reader involvement, 198, 199, 204 tips to hook reader, 192–194 beginning, of scene, 210 best-seller
 list, 21, 39
 unexpected, 28
 Beta hero, 68–69
 bio, author, 310
 birth control, 187
 book
 cover, 292, 304–309
 free copies, 292 grammar reference, 232–233 home library, 48
 reader's buying process, 191 research tips, 223–224, 225 signing, 313–314
 tax deductions, 49
 travel research, 227
 used, 223
 bookmark, 315
 book-specific points, 159–160 bookstore book signings, 313–314
 research tips, 39, 223–224, 250–251

boredom
 beginning of novel, 194–195
 description, 133–134
 pacing, 158, 332
 reason for rejection, 334
 bulletin board, 47, 255, 316

• C •

call-in show, 314
 capital expense, 49
 category romance. See also series romance benefits and drawbacks, 27–28
 cover art, 305
 length, 27
 versus mainstream romance, 25 migration to mainstream romance, 28
 overview, 11, 26–27
 reader expectations, 33
 sensuality level, 33
 celebrity gossip, 79 chapter
 length, 205
 page numbers, 242
 partial manuscript submission, 260 transitions, 209
 chapter beginning
 action, 208
 hooking reader, 205
 importance, 204–205
 predictability, 209
 space breaks, 242
 chapter ending
 action, 208
 cliffhanger technique, 206–207, 209
 importance, 204
 mixed messages, 207–208
 overview, 206
 physical intimacy, 207
 predictability, 209
 punch, 208–209
 character board, 76
 character names
 child characters, 75
 dialogue writing tips, 149
 hero, 71–72
 heroine, 62–64
 legal issues, 229–230
 Native Americans, 72
 secondary characters, 75
 successful title, 328
 character voice. See voice, character

- characters. See also hero; heroine; secondary characters
- background information, 199–202
 - boring beginning, 194–195
 - character-driven plot, 81–82
 - common mistakes, 279–280, 330
 - creation guidelines, 75–76
 - description, 131–132, 134
 - enhancement through setting, 109–112
 - importance, 12, 57–58
 - interest in each other, 58, 64
 - knowledge, 131–132
 - legal issues, 229–230
 - love scene timing, 180–181
 - motivation, 180, 279–280
 - outline creation tips, 119, 120
 - overview, 12–13
 - questioning technique, 80–81, 120–121
 - reasons for rejection, 334, 335
 - setting as character, 112–113
 - setting selection, 104–106
 - stereotypes, 280
 - synopsis writing, 258
 - time period description, 108
- chick lit, 34
- child characters
- birth of baby, 161, 323
 - custody case, 162
 - names, 75
- children, of writer. See family
- Christian romance
- ideal pacing, 173
 - overview, 30
 - physical intimacy, 96, 97, 183
 - reader expectations, 33
 - sensuality level, 33
- city. See geographical setting
- clarity, 136–137
- class, writing, 52, 233
- cliché
- author voice, 141
 - character voice, 143
 - cute first meeting, 196
 - successful title, 327–328
- cliffhanger technique, 206–207, 209
- climax
- function, 77
 - overanalysis, 100–101
 - overview, 100
 - pacing, 99
 - versus resolution, 100
- club, local, 315
- clues, revealed, 161
- colon, 148
- comedy, romantic comedy, 320. See also humor
- comma
- dialogue writing tips, 148
 - overview, 234
- competence, 109–110
- complete manuscript, 259, 261
- computer
- crashes, 220
 - laptop, 43
 - overview, 45
 - revision process, 274
 - selection, 45–46
 - word count, 243
- condom, 187
- conference
- agent selection, 265
 - editor selection, 252–253
 - market research, 251
 - overview, 51–52
 - PR support, 317
 - submission procedures, 255
- confession, of love, 160
- conflict. See also specific types
- common mistakes, 330
 - cute first meeting, 196–197
 - effective use, 92–98
 - function, 86–87, 93
 - heroine's emotions, 60
 - hero's emotions, 65
 - types, 87–91
- confrontation, 160, 164
- contemporary romance
- birth control, 187
 - eternal present guidelines, 24–25
 - overview, 11, 24
 - physical intimacy, 183, 187
 - popularity, 23
- contest, 253–254, 317
- continuity, 30
- contract negotiation
- agent's function, 262
 - analysis, 293–294
 - editor's initial phone call, 288
 - mainstream romance, 295
 - overview, 16
 - permissions issues, 228–230
 - professional assistance, 294
 - questioning editor, 289–293
 - series romance, 295
 - time frame, 288, 292, 296
 - tips for success, 295–296

contractions, 138
 contrived first meeting, 196 control issues, 92 conversation. See dialogue copy editor, 240, 302
 copywriting, 307
 corner, of room, 42
 country. See geographical setting cover flat, 307
 cover letter

- complete manuscript, 259
- elements, 257
- partial manuscript, 260
- proofreading, 258
- resubmission, 276
- tone, 258

 cover, of book, 59, 292, 304–309
 cover page, 244
Creating Web Pages For Dummies (Smith, Bud E. and Bebak, Arthur), 316 creativity

- category romance, 27
- mainstream romance, 25–26
- outline creation, 121–122
- writer's block, 340

 critique group, 52, 84 crying, 285, 289
 current events, 24
 custody case, 162
 cute meet, 195–197

● D ●

dad-next-door plot type, 324 dash

- dialogue writing tips, 148
- examples, 235–236
- overview, 234
- pacing tips, 175

 deadline. See time
 death, 323
 dedication, 310
 deflag stage, 302
 Dell (publishing imprint), 53
The Deluxe Transitive Vampire: The Ultimate Handbook of Grammar for the Innocent, the Eager, and the Doomed (Gordon, Karen Elizabeth), 233 description. See also narration

- author voice, 129, 130–135
- basic setting, 107, 108
- book as soapbox, 135
- boring beginning, 194–195
- characters, 131–132, 134

- common pacing problems, 165–166
- dialogue writing tips, 149
- important versus unimportant information, 133–135
- love scenes, 184–187
- overuse, 130–131, 217–218, 330
- overview, 129, 133
- setting as character, 113
- thesaurus use, 135

design department, 304–305 detailed revision, 271, 273–274 dialect, 140–141, 144–146 dialogue. See also voice, character

- action narration, 137
- author voice, 128
- beginning of novel, 198–199, 203
- effect on reader, 170
- eternal present guidelines, 24
- grammar and punctuation guidelines, 145, 148–150, 232, 236
- historical romance, 143
- importance, 144
- narrative-writing tips, 172
- overuse, 130, 131, 170–171
- pacing, 169–171, 173–174
- reading rate, 170
- rules of logic, 150
- scene endings, 211
- secondary characters, 144
- test of authenticity, 142
- three or more speakers, 150
- tips for success, 144–150
- unattributed, 149
- use of research, 147–148 dictionary, 143, 238

 disbelief, suspension of, 120 Dorchester Publishing (publisher), 53 dream sequence, 96–97 driving time, 44

● E ● editing process

- contract questions, 292
- line editing, 300–301
- revision stage, 272–273

 editor

- call of acceptance, 287–289
- change of, 299
- common criticisms, 277–280
- conference appointment, 52
- contest submissions, 253–254
- contract questions, 289–293

- disagreement about revisions, 275–276 factual accuracy, 214, 215 fairness, 299
 goal, 295, 298
 name on cover letter, 257 personalized rejection, 268, 271, 283 point of view preferences, 153–154 relationship with author, 298–301 revision time, 274
 selection, 252–253
 sincerity, 272
 thank-you note, 275
 use of margins, 240
 efficiency, 215, 218, 219 electronic publisher, 252
 ellipses
 dialogue writing tips, 148
 examples, 235
 overview, 234
 pacing tips, 175
 em dash. See dash e-mail. See also writers' group list, 316–317
 stories, 225
 emotional conflict
 characters' realization of love, 97–98 commonly used, 92–93
 definition, 87
 example, 88–89
 hero creation, 65, 66
 heroine creation, 88–89
 importance, 87
 versus intellectual conflict, 87 outline components, 118
 overview, 13, 81
 reader expectations, 20
 resolution, 101–102
 Sagging Middle Syndrome, 166
 synopsis writing, 258–259
 timing, 93–95
 emotional information, 74 emotional intimacy, 83, 94 emotional response
 action narration, 137
 function of internal monologue, 155
 hero creation, 65, 66
 heroine creation, 59–60
 increased sexual tension, 179, 181–182 key milestones, 162
 link to plot, 85
 love scene description, 184–185 pacing problems, 165
 point of view, 150–152
 ending, of chapter
 action, 208
 cliffhanger technique, 206–207, 209
 importance, 204
 mixed messages, 207–208
 overview, 206
 physical intimacy, 207
 predictability, 209
 punch, 208–209
 ending, of novel. See also resolution confession of love, 160
 epilogue, 102
 marriage proposal, 98–99
 overview, 14
 reader expectations, 20, 98
 synopsis writing, 259
 ending, of scene, 210, 211 entertainment expense, 49 envelope. See SASE
 epilogue, 102
 ePublisher (electronic publisher), 252 erotica, 34–35
 eternal present, 24–25, 103, 146 ethnicity, 63, 71
 etymological dictionary, 143 exclamation point, 148, 175 exotic name, 64 expenses, 49
 expert
 permission issues, 230
 research tips, 227–228
 review quote, 309
 external conflict, 13, 90–91
- F ●
- factual accuracy. See also research editor's role, 214, 215 heroine's name, 62–63
 hero's name, 72
 legal issues, 229–230
 factual information, 74 fair use, 229
 family
 dedication, 310
 involvement, 12, 45
 separate phone line, 46
 setting research, 114
 support after publication, 317–318
 support after rejection, 284, 285
 unreliable sources, 225 writing time, 43–45 family, character's, 162 family saga, 35

fan mail, 316
 fashion, 25
 fax machine, 47
 filing, 218, 220–221
 finances
 contract questions, 289–290
 record keeping, 48–49
 first-person point of view, 128, 150, 156
 five senses, 186
 flag, 302
 flap copy, 307
 flashback, 138, 201–202 flexibility, 261, 276
 font, 240–241
 foreign market, 34, 146, 291. See also market foreign word, 146
 foreshadowing, 128
 foreword, 310
 form reject, 269–270, 281–282 format, manuscript
 cover page, 244
 flashbacks, 202
 font, 240–241
 margins, 240
 overview, 16, 239
 paragraphing, 241–242
 reason for rejection, 336
 running head, 242
 spacing, 240–241
 formula, 10, 19
 fragrance, 50
 free copy, of book, 292 friend
 dedication, 310
 grammar help, 233
 support after publication, 317–318
 support after rejection, 284, 285
 unreliable sources, 225
 front cover. See cover, of book front matter, 310 front sales copy, 307 frustration, 179
 functional word count, 243–244 futuristic romance, 29

• G • galley stage, 303

 geographical setting, 105–107, 216 Getting Your Book Published For Dummies (Zackheim, Sarah Parsons), 294 goals
 editor, 295, 298
 writer, 119, 168

Golden Heart Award (writing contest), 254
 Gordon, Karen Elizabeth (The Deluxe Transitive Vampire: The Ultimate Handbook of Grammar for the Innocent, the Eager, and the Doomed), 233 Gothic romance, 29
 grammar
 correct word choice, 237–238 dialogue writing tips, 145, 148–150, 232, 236
 friend as resource, 233 narrative writing, 232, 236
 overview, 16, 231
 pacing tips, 174
 proofreading tips, 238–239
 reason for rejection, 333 reference book, 232–233 rule breaking, 236
 tone, 236, 237
 uniqueness of character voice, 141–142 word-processing program, 233
 writing course, 233
 guest appearance, 312–313, 314

• H • hard drive, 46

 hardcover book, 307
 Harlequin (publisher), 53
 Harper Collins (publisher), 53 head hopping, 154
 headphones, 50
 hero. See also characters appearance, 65
 beginning of novel, 193–194
 creation guidelines, 64–66
 demonstration of competence, 109–110
 editors' common criticisms, 278–279
 emotional conflict, 65, 66, 88–89
 external conflict, 91
 first meeting with heroine, 160, 163, 195–197 Gothic romance, 29
 as heroine's equal, 65–66
 love scene timing, 181
 morality, 65
 name, 71–72
 number of sexual partners, 178
 outline components, 118
 overview, 12–13, 64
 point-of-view guidelines, 152–154 problematic characteristics, 71 proximity to heroine, 92
 reader expectations, 19–20
 realization of love, 97–98, 160

versus real-life man, 67
 reasons for rejection, 334
 role of secondary characters, 73, 74
 romantic suspense, 32
 Sagging Middle Syndrome, 166–167
 sense of humor, 66 setting as character, 113
 softer side, 66
 strengths, 65, 66, 111–112
 types, 67–70
 uniqueness of voice, 141
 western romance, 33–34
 heroine. See also characters appeal, 59
 appearance, 61
 beginning of novel, 193–194
 as center of plot, 59 common internal conflicts, 92–93 complexity, 60–61
 creation guidelines, 59–61
 demonstration of competence, 109–110
 editors' common criticisms, 277–278
 emotional conflict, 88–89
 emotional responses, 59–60
 external conflict, 91
 first meeting with hero, 160, 163, 195–197
 first-person point of view, 156
 Gothic romance, 29
 as hero's equal, 65–66
 imperfections, 61–62 involvement of reader, 59–61, 99
 love scene timing, 181
 modesty, 61
 name, 62–64
 number of sexual partners, 178
 outline components, 118
 overview, 12–13, 58–59
 point-of-view guidelines, 152–154 proximity to hero, 92
 reader expectations, 19
 realization of love, 97–98, 155, 160
 reasons for rejection, 334
 response to Alpha hero, 67, 68 role of secondary characters, 73, 74
 romantic suspense, 32
 Sagging Middle Syndrome, 166–167
 setting as character, 113
 strengths, 62, 111–112
 uniqueness of voice, 141
 Heyer, Georgette (author), 31 hired help, 44 hissing, 149
 historical events, 108, 215

historical romance
 boring description, 133–134
 cliffhanger technique, 206
 dialogue, 143
 factual accuracy, 33, 62–63, 72
 ideal pacing, 173
 information overload, 217 Internet research tips, 223
 length, 31–32
 overview, 11, 23
 physical intimacy, 183
 reader expectations, 33
 setting, 23, 107–108
 holiday, 162
 home office
 creation, 42–43
 equipment and supplies, 45–48, 49
 importance, 12
 personalization, 50
 homemaking duties, 43–45 honesty, 298
 hooking reader, 192–194, 205, 327
 humor, 66. See also romantic comedy husband, 43, 45

ideas, writing, 78–81, 218, 342 ideology, 106, 135 imperfections. See also vulnerability
 hero, 68
 heroine, 61–62
 imprint, 255
 index cards, 47
 inspirational romance
 ideal pacing, 173
 overview, 30
 physical intimacy, 96, 97, 183
 reader expectations, 33
 sensuality level, 33
 intellectual conflict, 87, 90 intercutting scenes, 211–212 internal conflict, 90–93 internal monologue
 definition, 150
 function, 155
 overview, 154–155
 writing tips, 156
 Internet. See also Web sites
 market research, 251
 PR efforts, 313, 316–317
 research tips, 220, 222–223, 225
 saved URLs, 220
 tax deduction, 49

interview
 agent, 264, 265–266
 expert, 227–228, 252
 TV and radio appearance, 314 intimacy. See emotional intimacy; physical intimacy

• J • jealousy, 318, 344

 job
 Alpha hero, 67
 Beta hero, 69
 demonstration of competence, 109–110
 information overload, 218
 problematic, 71
 research basics, 215, 228
 junior editor, 253

• K •

Kensington Books (publisher), 53 key setup points, 159–161, 321–324 kiss, 164, 179
 knick-knacks, 50

• L •

language. See description; grammar; word choice laptop computer, 43
 last name, 72
 lawsuit, 162, 228–230 lawyer, 294
 length, manuscript. See manuscript length letter
 cover, 257–258, 259, 260, 276
 permissions issues, 230
 query, 15, 256–259
 rejection, 268–270, 281–283 revision, 268, 270–271, 276, 277 letterhead, 47
 libel, 229 library
 home, 48
 PR support, 315
 research tips, 223–224, 226
 workspace creation, 43 line, 11
 line editing, 300–301, 302–303 Literary Market Place (LMP), 251, 265 loaded word, 113
 local club, 315

long title, 326
 love
 characters' realization of, 97–98, 155, 160 function of point of view, 151 mutual confession, 160
 versus physical intimacy, 177 love scene. See also physical intimacy; scene writing author's voice, 184–187
 description, 184–187
 increased sexual tension, 179, 181–182 market considerations, 183–184, 186
 pacing, 182–183
 placement, 178–183
 reader expectations, 183–184
 resolution, 183
 setting, 186–187
 timing, 179–182

• M • magazines

 ads, 312, 315–316
 agent selection, 265
 contract advice, 294
 expense, 49
 market research, 251
 research tips, 223, 224, 226
 travel research, 114
 writer's resources, 53–54 mailing list, 316–317
 mainstream romance
 amount of advance, 291
 versus category romance, 25 challenges of market, 26 contract negotiations, 295
 cover art, 305
 creative freedom, 25–26
 length, 25, 243
 migration from category romance, 28 need for agent, 261
 overview, 11, 25
 PR support, 311
 manuscript
 acceptance, 287–289
 agent analysis, 262
 complete, 259, 261
 editors' common criticisms, 277–280 partial, 15, 259–261 resubmission after revision, 270, 283 saved copies, 220, 221 shipping, 47
 unsolicited, 15, 254

- manuscript formatting
 cover page, 244
 flashbacks, 202
 font, 240–241
 margins, 240
 overview, 16, 239
 paragraphing, 241–242
 reason for rejection, 336
 running head, 242
 spacing, 240–241
- manuscript length advantages of outline, 117 calculation, 243–244
 category romance, 27
 cover page format, 244
 historical romance, 31–32
 individual chapters, 205 mainstream romance, 25, 243
 Regency romance, 31
 Sagging Middle Syndrome, 168
 series romance, 242
 synopsis, 260–261
- manuscript submission advantages of outline, 117
 after revision, 276–277, 281–282
 agent's function, 262
 basic types, 255–256
 complete manuscript, 259
 electronic, 255
 fear of submission, 343
 overview, 14–16
 partial manuscript, 259–261
 preparation checklist, 245
 query letter, 256–259
 simultaneous submission, 255
 targeted pitch, 254–256
 wait for response, 250, 276
- map, 114
- margin, 240, 301
- market. See also foreign market agent analysis, 262
 first-person point of view, 156
 genre selection, 37–39
 love scenes, 183–184, 186
 mainstream romance challenges, 26
 research tips, 38–39, 250–252
 revision time, 275
 successful title, 326
 unexpected bestseller, 28
- marriage-of-convenience plot type, 161, 322
- marriage proposal, 98–99
- masculine name, 72
- mealtime, 44
- media, 39, 312–313, 314
- Medieval period, 23
- meeting, first, 160, 163, 195–197
- memory computer, 46
 human, 161, 225
- men, 19, 33, 67, 141
- metaphor, 134
- middle, of story, 166–169, 278
- milestones, 118, 159–162
- miniseries, 328
- MIRA Books (publisher), 53
- mistaken-identity-plot type, 324
- mom-lit, 34
- money. See finances
- monitor, computer, 46
- monogamy, 178
- morality, 65
- morning writing time, 44
- motivation, 180, 279–280
- movie, 225, 226
- multi-generational novels, 35
- multiple submission. See simultaneous submission, 255
- music, 50
- mystery plot type, 161
- N •
- name, author
 cover art, 305
 cover page, 244
 pseudonym, 292, 293
- name, character
 child characters, 75
 dialogue writing tips, 149
 hero, 71–72
 heroine, 62–64
 legal issues, 229–230
 Native Americans, 72
 secondary characters, 75
 successful title, 328
- narration. See also description
 action, 135–138
 author's voice, 129
 character's knowledge, 132
 clarity, 136–137
 versus narrative, 129
 overview, 129
- narrative
 beginning of novel, 198–199
 definition, 144
 grammar guidelines, 232, 236 versus narration, 129

narrative (continued)
 overuse, 172
 pacing, 171–174
 National League of American Penwomen, 51
 Native Americans, 72
 networking (personal contact), 251, 265 newsletter, 251
 newspapers
 expense, 49
 idea search, 79–80
 research tips, 114, 223, 224, 226
 niche market, 28–35 nickname, 72
 nighttime writing, 44
 note taking, 228, 289
 Novelists, Inc. (writers' organization), 51

• 0 • occupation

 Alpha hero, 67
 Beta hero, 69
 demonstration of competence, 109–110
 information overload, 218
 problematic, 71
 research basics, 215, 228
 office
 creation, 42–43
 equipment and supplies, 45–48, 49
 importance, 12
 personalization, 50
 omniscient narration, 128 online writers' communities. See writers' group option clause, 292
 Other Woman (character type), 95 outline. See also synopsis advantages, 117 components, 117–118
 effective use, 121–123
 function, 117
 importance, 116–117
 overview, 115–116
 tips for creating, 118–122
 writer's block, 339
 overseas publishing. See foreign market

• P •

pacing
 action narration, 137–138
 balance between showing and telling, 173–174 boredom, 133, 157

climax and resolution, 99 common problems, 165–166, 278, 332
 definition, 157
 dialogue, 169–171, 173–174
 effect on reader, 163–166 example, 163–164
 ideal, 173
 individual scenes, 158
 link to plot, 158–166
 love scene, 182–183
 milestones, 159
 narrative, 171–174
 overview, 14
 Sagging Middle Syndrome, 166–169 tips to slow down or speed up, 174–175
 word choice, 174, 175
 packaging. See cover, of book pad, writing, 47
 page number, 242
 page one copy. See front sales copy page-specific revision, 271, 273–274 paid advertising, 312 paper, 47, 241
 paragraph formatting, 241–242
 length, 171, 203
 paranormal romance, 30–31, 327 parentage, revealed, 161 parentheses, 148
 partial manuscript, 15, 259–261
 passive voice, 174 pen name, 292, 293
 pencil, 47
 Penguin Books (publisher), 53 perfection, 339 period, 148
 permissions, 228–230, 316 personal conflict, 91–93 personal contact, 251, 265 phone call acceptance, 287–289
 expenses, 49
 final revision, 299–300 separate line, 46
 photocopier, 47
 physical comedy, 32
 physical intimacy. See also love scene birth control, 187
 chapter ending, 207
 contemporary romance, 183
 definition, 83
 dream, 96–97
 effect on sexual tension, 182 emotional basis, 180

- historical romance, 183
- importance, 96, 160
- inspirational romance, 96, 97, 183
- monogamy, 178
- no-strings lovemaking, 180
- obstacles to, 96
- pacing example, 164
- reader expectations, 33
- versus romance, 177
- series romance, 183
 - before sexual tension, 180
 - suspense-building technique, 83
 - timing, 94
- pictures
 - character creation, 76
 - cover art, 305–306
 - research, 221, 225, 227
- pitch. See manuscript submission
- place-based stereotype, 63
- playboy hero, 70
- plot. See also specific plot components
 - character-driven, 81–82
 - common mistakes, 279, 331
 - components, 77
 - effective types, 159–162, 321–324
 - first-person point of view, 156
 - heroine as center, 59
 - idea search, 78–81
 - link to characters' emotions, 85
 - link to pacing, 158–166
 - logic, 85–86, 120
 - milestones, 118, 159–162
 - outline, 118, 120
 - overanalysis, 100–101
 - overview, 13–14, 77
 - reader expectations, 20, 99, 120
 - reasons for rejection, 334–335
 - role of conflict, 93
 - role of secondary characters, 73
 - Sagging Middle Syndrome, 167–168
 - setting selection, 104–106
 - stages, 78
 - successful title, 327
 - suspense-building tips, 84–85
 - synopsis writing, 258, 260
- point of view (POV)
 - author voice, 128, 131–132
 - character voice, 150–156
 - definition, 150
 - editor's preferences, 153–154
 - emotional responses, 150–152
 - functions, 150–152
 - hero versus heroine, 152–154
 - internal monologue, 150, 154–156
 - multiple, 152, 154
 - narrative writing tips, 172
 - risks of first person, 156
 - romantic suspense, 152
 - secondary characters, 75, 153
 - series romance, 152
 - single, 153
 - types, 128
 - writing tips, 152–154
 - politics, 106, 135
 - pop culture, 24
 - positive thinking, 342
 - POV. See point of view
 - PR support
 - mainstream romance, 311
 - realistic expectations, 311–312
 - series romance, 311
 - types, 312–317
 - predictability, 209
 - pregnant-heroine plot type, 161
 - press release, 313
 - print ad, 315–316
 - printer, 46
 - production process
 - contract questions, 292
 - copy edits, 302
 - cover production, 304–309
 - edit review, 301–302
 - follow-up on status, 344
 - galley stage, 303
 - overview, 301–302
 - time, 302
 - profession
 - Alpha hero, 67
 - Beta hero, 69
 - demonstration of competence, 109–110
 - information overload, 218
 - problematic, 71
 - research basics, 215, 228
 - professional credentials, 257
 - professionalism, 296, 299
 - proofreader, 303
 - proofreading, 238–239, 258
 - pseudonym, 292, 293
 - psychological thriller, 29
 - public domain, 229
 - public relations. See PR support
 - publisher
 - electronic, 252
 - goal, 295
 - selection, 14, 249
 - Web sites, 53, 251, 255
 - publishing industry. See market punch ending, 208–209 punctuation. See also specific punctuation dialogue writing tips, 145, 148

 overview, 231
 pacing tips, 175
 rule breaking, 236

• Q •

query letter, 15, 256–259
 questioning
 agent, 264, 266
 beginning of novel, 194, 204 contract details, 289–293
 idea search, 79, 80–81
 outline creation, 120–121
 research basics, 215–217
 revision technique, 273 self-reflection, 341–344 quotation, 229, 308–309

• R •

radio program
 PR support, 312–313, 314
 research tips, 225, 226
 reader belief in plot, 99, 120 book-buying process, 191 characteristics, 18–19
 effect of dialogue, 170 effect of pacing, 163–166 function of internal monologue, 155 hook at beginning, 192–194, 205 reaction to author's voice, 128, 133
 successful title, 325–326
 suspense, 82–83
 uniqueness of character voice, 140
 use of outline, 121–123
 willing suspension of disbelief, 120
 reader expectations
 common mistakes, 329
 end of novel, 98
 love scenes, 183–184
 overview, 10, 19–20
 plot, 20, 99, 120
 romantic suspense, 33
 secondary expectations, 33
 reader involvement
 beginning of novel, 198, 199, 204
 common mistakes, 331
 heroine, 59–61, 99

research, 214
 romantic suspense, 82–83
 reading choice of genre, 36–37 romance books, 20–22 studying love scenes, 184 real estate, 49
 receipts, 49
 Regency romance, 31, 223
 rejection
 common reasons, 333–336 editors' comments, 268, 271, 283 encouraging, 282–283 giving-up point, 282, 344 invitation to resubmit, 270, 283
 letter, 268–270, 281–283
 overview, 16
 professional response, 283–286 repetition, 167 research. See also factual accuracy action narration, 137
 basics, 215–216
 bookstores, 223–224
 common pacing problems, 165
 efficiency, 215, 218, 219 firsthand experience, 228 idea file, 218
 information overload, 217–218
 Internet tips, 220, 222–223, 225 library, 223–224, 226
 magazines, 223, 224, 226
 market study, 38–39, 250–252 movies, 225, 226
 newspapers, 223, 224, 226 organized, 219–221
 outline creation, 120
 overview, 213
 permissions issues, 228–230 radio programs, 225, 226
 reader involvement, 214
 reason for rejection, 335
 saved documents, 220, 221 setting, 106, 108, 114, 216 stopping point, 343
 travel, 114, 226–227
 TV shows, 225, 226
 unreliable sources, 225
 use of dialogue, 147–148 reserve, 290
 resolution. See also ending, of novel versus climax, 100
 emotional conflict, 101–102
 function, 77, 101

- importance, 100–102
 love scene, 183
 overview, 100
 pacing, 99
 resources. See writing resources respect, 298
 retailer. See bookstore reunion-romance plot type, 323 review quote, 308–309
 revision
 author's flexibility, 276 author's relationship with editor, 298–299 copy edit stage, 302–303 disagreement with editor, 275–276 editors' common criticisms, 277–280
 final, 299–300
 incremental approach, 274 letter, 268, 270–271, 276, 277
 process, 271–275
 purpose, 298
 resubmission, 276–277, 281–282
 rewriting trap, 123
 Sagging Middle Syndrome, 168–169
 types, 271, 273
 writer's block, 339
 reward, 285
 role-playing exercise, 76 romance, 58, 177 romance genre commonality within, 17
 definition, 10
 driving force, 18
 history, 1–2
 major categories, 11–12, 21–28
 popularity, 1, 11
 subgenres, 12 variety, 17
 romance writer
 assessment of strengths, 37–38
 characteristics, 42
 editor selection, 252
 goal, 2
 home page, 53
 love of genre, 37, 330
 migration from category to mainstream, 28
 name, 244, 292, 293, 305
 personal Web site, 316
 questions for self-reflection, 341–344
 relationship with agent, 263
 relationship with editor, 298–301
 review quote, 308
 stereotype, 1, 41
 Romance Writers of America (RWA), 21, 51, 254 Romance Writers Report (magazine), 53, 294 romantic comedy, 32. See also humor
 romantic suspense
 background information, 201
 cliffhanger technique, 206
 function, 77
 hero, 32
 heroine, 32
 overview, 32, 82
 pacing tips, 164, 173
 point of view, 152
 reader expectations, 33
 reader involvement, 82–83
 setting as character, 112–113 versus suspense novels, 33
 suspense-building tips, 83–85 writing challenges, 32 Romantic Times Bookclub Magazine, 54 royalties
 advance, 290–291
 agent's function, 263
 rates, 291
 rubber bands, 47 runaway-bride plot type, 322–323
 running head, 242
 RWA. See Romance Writers of America
- S •
- saga, 35
 Sagging Middle Syndrome (pacing problem), 166–169, 278 SASE (self-addressed, stamped envelope), 256, 257, 277 satellite media tour, 313 saving documents, 220, 221 scene writing. See also love scene
 common mistakes, 331
 end of scene, 210, 211
 intercutting technique, 211–212 narrative-writing tips, 172
 pacing, 158
 point of view guidelines, 153–154
 tone, 210
 transitions, 210–212
 writer's block, 338–339
 schedule, 44 science fiction. (futuristic romance), 29 search engine, 52–53, 222

- secondary characters. See also characters
 - dialogue, 144
 - editors' common criticisms, 280
 - function, 73–74, 144
 - future connected book, 75
 - names, 75
 - overview, 73
 - point of view, 75, 153
 - Sagging Middle Syndrome, 167
 - stereotypes, 74, 280
 - suspense-building tips, 85
 - voice, 74
- secondary suspense, 83–85
- secret-baby plot type, 161, 323
- self-addressed, stamped envelope. See SASE
- self-image issues, 92–93
- semicolon, 148
- senior editor, 253, 277
- senses, five, 186
- sensuality. See physical intimacy
- sentence length, 137, 174–175
- series romance. See also category romance
 - amount of advance, 291
 - contract negotiations, 295
 - cover art, 304
 - length, 242
 - need for agent, 262
 - physical intimacy, 183
 - point of view, 152
 - PR support, 311
- setting
 - accuracy, 114
 - as character, 112–113
 - definition, 103
 - description, 107, 108, 113
 - enhancement of characters, 109–112
 - Gothic romance, 29
 - historical romance, 23, 29, 107–108
 - importance, 103
 - location selection, 104–107
 - love scenes, 186–187
 - research, 106, 108, 114, 216
 - time period, 103, 107–108
 - tips for use, 107
- setup, 81–82
- sex. See physical intimacy
- sexual tension
 - characters' realization of love, 97–98
 - definition, 178
 - dream, 97
 - effect of physical intimacy, 180, 182
 - effect on conflict, 95–96
 - love scene placement, 178–180
 - padding tips, 164
 - tips for increasing, 179, 181–182
- shipping manuscript, 47
- short title, 326
- signing, book, 313–314
- simultaneous submission, 255
- single title. See mainstream romance
- single-word title, 326
- situational conflict, 91
- slang, 24, 146
- slapstick humor, 32
- slush manuscript, 254
- small-town setting, 106
- Smith, Bud E. (Creating Web Pages For Dummies), 316
- soapbox, 135
- software, 46, 49, 233
- sound bite, 314
- space break, 240, 241–242
- spacing, 240–242
- specialized vocabulary, 136
- speech pattern. See dialect
- spelling
 - dialect use, 145
 - overview, 16
 - proofreading tips, 238–239
- spoken cliché, 141, 143
- spoon site, 225
- sports hero, 71
- St. Martin's Press (publisher), 53
- static character, 61
- stereotyped character, 74, 280
- sticky note, 47
- storage. See saving documents
- stranger, stranded with, 322
- subgenre. See also specific subgenres
 - definition, 12
 - dream of physical intimacy, 96, 97
 - overview, 28
 - types, 28–35
- submitting manuscript
 - advantages of outline, 117
 - after revision, 276–277, 281–282
 - agent's function, 262
 - basic types, 255–256
 - complete manuscript, 259
 - electronic, 255
 - fear of submission, 343
 - overview, 14–16
 - partial manuscript, 259–261
 - preparation checklist, 245
 - query letter, 256–259
 - simultaneous submission, 255

targeted pitch, 254–256
 wait for response, 250, 276
 subsidiary rights, 262–263, 291 suspense. See romantic suspense synonym, 237–238
 synopsis. See also outline author flexibility, 261 complete manuscript submission, 259, 261
 definition, 116
 length, 260–261
 overview, 256
 partial manuscript submission, 260
 query letter, 258–259
 syntax. See grammar

• T • tabloid, 225

 tag, dialogue, 149, 172 talent, 12
 tape recorder, 42
 taxes, 48–49
 technical words, 136
 textbook, 224
 thank-you note, 275
 thesaurus, 135, 237–238 third person, 128
 time
 contract negotiation, 288, 292, 296 critique groups, 84
 effective opening lines, 204 efficient research, 215, 218, 219
 production process, 302
 revision process, 274–275
 setting, 3, 107–108
 to write, 43–45
 time travel, 31
 timeline errors, 85
 tip sheet love scene guidelines, 184
 market research, 251
 overview, 27
 publisher Web sites, 53 submission procedures, 255
 title
 cover art, 305
 cover page, 244
 running head, 242
 tips for success, 325–328
 tone
 cover letter, 258
 cute first meeting, 196–197 grammar rules, 236, 237
 individual scenes, 210

Regency romance, 31
 successful title, 327
 synopsis writing, 259
 top-line revision, 271, 273–274, 277 tortured hero, 70
 total functional word count, 243–244
 transitions, 209, 210–212 translation, 146
 travel
 expenses, 49
 research tips, 114, 226–227
 trust issues, 92
 TV appearance, 312–313, 314 TV watching
 research tips, 225, 226
 writing schedule, 44

• U • unattributed dialogue, 149 uncorrected page proof, 303 unisex name, 63

 unsolicited manuscript, 15, 254 urban legend, 225

• V • verbal quirk, 142 vocabulary, specialized, 136 voice, author

 character's knowledge, 131–132
 description, 129, 130–135
 dialogue, 128
 love scenes, 184–187
 narration, 129
 overview, 14, 127–128
 personalization, 130
 places to express, 128–129
 point of view, 128, 131–132
 reader's reaction, 128, 133
 separation from character's voice, 129, 140
 word choice, 130–131
 voice, character. See also dialogue character creation guidelines, 76 consistency, 142
 function, 139–140
 internal monologue, 156
 overview, 139
 point of view, 150–156
 secondary characters, 74 separation from author's voice, 129, 140 uniqueness, 140–142 vulnerability, 110–111. See also imperfections

• W •

- Warner Books (publisher), 53
- warranties and indemnification clause, 228
- Web sites. See also Internet
 - agent selection, 265, 266
 - author's personal site, 316
 - magazines, 54
 - online writers' communities, 39
 - publishers, 53, 251, 255
 - searches, 52–54
 - setting research, 114
 - spoof sites, 225
 - writers' organizations, 21, 51, 251
- wedding, 161
- western romance
 - foreign markets, 34
 - hero, 33–34
 - overview, 33
 - setting selection, 105
- willing suspension of disbelief, 120
- woman-in-jeopardy plot type, 161, 324
- women's fiction, 34–35. See also specific types
- word choice
 - author's voice, 130–131
 - grammar issues, 237–238, 239
 - love scene description, 185–187
 - overview, 134–135
 - pacing, 174, 175
 - specialized vocabulary, 136
 - speech accent, 146
 - varied, 130
- word count. See manuscript length
- word-processing program
 - grammar-check feature, 233
 - selection, 46
 - spell-check feature, 238
 - tax deductions, 49
- workspace
 - creation, 42–43
 - importance, 12
 - office equipment and supplies, 45–48
 - personalization, 50
- writer
 - assessment of strengths, 37–38
 - characteristics, 42
 - editor selection, 252
 - genre selection, 35–38
 - goal, 2
 - home page, 53
 - love of genre, 37, 330
 - migration from category to mainstream, 28
 - name, 244, 292, 293, 305
 - personal Web site, 316
 - questions for self-reflection, 341–344
 - relationship with agent, 263
 - relationship with editor, 298–301
 - review quote, 308
 - stereotype, 1, 41
 - The Writer* (magazine), 54
 - writer's block, 337–340, 342
 - writers' conference
 - agent selection, 265
 - editor selection, 252–253
 - market research, 251
 - overview, 51–52
 - PR support, 317
 - submission procedures, 255
 - Writer's Digest Magazine*, 54
 - writer's goals, 119, 168
 - writers' group. See also e-mail
 - market research, 39
 - online, 39
 - overview, 52
 - PR support, 316
 - submission procedures, 255
 - support after rejection, 284, 285
 - writers' organization. See also specific organizations
 - agent selection, 265
 - contract advice, 294
 - market research, 251
 - types, 51
 - writing course, 52, 233
 - writing guidelines. See tip sheet
 - writing process
 - advantages of outline, 117
 - efficient research, 219
 - response to rejection, 285
 - rewriting trap, 123
 - trouble getting started, 341–342
 - use of outline, 121–123
 - writer's block, 337–340
 - writing schedule, 43–45
 - writing resources, 38, 50–51

• Y •

young-adult novel, 35

• Z •

Zackheim, Sarah Parsons (Getting Your Book Published For Dummies), 294