

Contents

A Preface for Changing Times (2010)	ix
An Invitation to Healing Conversations	xiii
Getting Started	xvii
Supporting others without fixing, rescuing, or judging
1 When You Need a Friend	1
Please, Don't Ask Me How I Am, Unless . . .	2
Beginning a healing conversation
Using the Rule of Six	6
Asking for help
Just Listen	10
After a sudden loss
Rediscovering Empathy	13
What comforts you may not comfort someone else
It'll Be OK, Sugarplum	17
Being a light at the end of the tunnel
Mommy, Will He Be OK?	19
Helping children face their fears and yours
Asking One Friend to Help Another	24
When you don't have the answers
Before and After the Move	28
Emotional attics and new road maps
It's Not What You Think	32
The hidden hurts of bankruptcy

Who Am I If I'm Not Who I Was?	36
After a life-changing event
It's Over	40
A relationship ends
Anniversaries of Loss	43
Special dates to remember
Reflection: Tuning Out of Your Head, Tuning In to Your Heart	46
2 Health Matters	49
Test Results	50
Getting the news or waiting to hear
Peaceful Warrior	54
When you want to help deal with a diagnosis
Facing Surgery	58
Before, during, and after
Paciencia	62
Recovering from depression
Is the Doctor In?	66
Making the most of your time as a patient or as a doctor
What's the Difference Between a Cure and Healing?	69
Living with chronic pain
What About Me?	74
Supporting the caregiver
Second Sight	77
When a disability becomes an ability
After the Accident	81
Fears remain
A Cry for Help	84
Responding to attempted suicide

Reflection: How to Be with Someone Who's in Pain	89
3 Transitions: Heart, Mind, Body, and Soul	93
"We're Getting Divorced"	94
Appreciating what you may not understand
Be a Friend, Not a Hero	98
Helping someone deal with verbal abuse
I Don't Want to Be a Burden	106
Supporting the widowed spouse
Splinters, Mice, and Little Things	110
Learning to live alone
Broken Hearts and Burnt Offerings	113
When a gift offers a reservoir of care
Plant Closings and Pink Slips	115
Taking away their jobs but not their dignity
Trapezes	118
Being laid off, fired, or acquired
What Is Enough?	122
Retirement as a way of life
I Know Her Name	125
Living with Alzheimer's
The Long Goodbye	129
When death takes its time
He Knows He's About to Die	133
Visiting a friend in a hospice
Reflection: Being with Their Silence—and Yours	137
4 Lost Loves and Special Friends	139
Leo the Cat	140
Putting a "four-footed angel" to sleep

When You Don't Get the Chance to Say Goodbye	144
Unfinished feelings
Best-Laid Plans	148
When last wishes clash with the needs of the living
It's a Blessing, Really	151
When death brings relief
Take a Friend to Lunch	153
Writing the obituary
Oh, Damn! Did Anybody Bring a Knife?	156
Scattering ashes
When Mom Leaves	161
A gift of poetry
Honoring Paul Tsongas	163
Writing a eulogy
Notes to Keep a Memory Alive	166
A letter to the children
When a Young Child Dies	168
A parent's bewilderment lingers
Frail Submarines	174
When someone chooses suicide
When Tragedy Inspires Action	178
Responding to a sudden death
Grief Unburied	182
Sorrow returns in waves
Reflection: Sometimes There Are No Words	185
Epilogue: In the End	189
Healing Takes Time
Appreciations	195
The Author	199
Index	201