

CONTENTS

Tables, Figures, Exhibits, and Numbered Boxes	vii
Preface	xi
Acknowledgments	xv
About the Author	xvii
Introduction	xix
PART ONE: INTRODUCTION TO HEALTH COMMUNICATION	1
1 What Is Health Communication?	3
2 Current Health Communication Theories and Issues	30
3 Cultural, Gender, Ethnic, Religious, and Geographical Influences on Conceptions of Health and Illness	71
PART TWO: HEALTH COMMUNICATION APPROACHES AND ACTION AREAS	89
4 Interpersonal Communications	91
5 Public Relations and Public Advocacy	121
6 Community Mobilization	147
7 Professional Medical Communications	175
8 Constituency Relations in Health Communication	198
PART THREE: PLANNING, IMPLEMENTING, AND EVALUATING A HEALTH COMMUNICATION PROGRAM	213
9 Overview of the Health Communication Planning Process	215
10 Situation Analysis and Audience Profile	237

11	Identifying Program Objectives and Strategies	281
12	Developing Tactical and Evaluation Plans	298
13	Implementing, Monitoring, and Evaluating a Health Communication Program	336
Appendix A: Examples of Worksheets and Resources on Health Communication Planning		353
Appendix B: Selected Online Resources on Health Communication		363
Glossary		371
References		379
Name Index		413
Subject Index		419

TABLES, FIGURES, EXHIBITS, AND NUMBERED BOXES

TABLES

1.1 Health Communication Definitions	8
1.2 Key Characteristics of Health Communication	12
1.3 What Health Communication Can and Cannot Do	27
3.1 A Comparative Overview of Ideas of Health and Illness	79
3.2 Examples of Disease-Specific Ideas of Illness	83
4.1 Comparing Cultural Norms and Values	94
4.2 Barriers to Effective Provider-Patient Communications: Patient Factors	111
5.1 Public Relations Functions in Health Care	123
5.2 Characteristics of Types Relevant to Public Relations	125
5.3 Key Characteristics of Ethical Public Relations Programs	130
5.4 Dos and Don'ts of Media Relations	136
5.5 Mass Media Channels and Related Public Relations Tools	139
7.1 Key Audiences of Professional Medical Communications	178
7.2 Key Obstacles to Clinician Change	184
7.3 Communication Approaches and Tools and Their Effects	188
7.4 Key Communications Tools and Channels in Professional Communications	193

8.1	Guidelines for Establishing and Preserving Long-Term Relationships	205
8.2	Potential Drawbacks of Partnerships	208
9.1	Key Elements of an Effective Health Communication Program	227
10.1	Qualitative Versus Quantitative Research Methods	266
10.2	Frequency of Explicit Criteria for Evaluation of Health-Related Web Sites by Criteria Groups	271
12.1	Examples of Communication Concepts for a Program on Childhood Immunization	309
12.2	Key Elements of a Partnership Plan	321
12.3	Drawbacks of Evaluation	328
13.1	Examples of Areas of Monitoring with Related Data Collection and Reporting Methods	344

FIGURES

1.1	Health Communication Environment	23
2.1	Attributes of the Audience	34
2.2	Ideation Theory	42
4.1	The Potential Impact of Interpersonal Communications on Behavior: A Practical Example	99
9.1	Health Communication Cycle	221
9.2	Key Steps of Health Communication Planning	223
10.1	Key Steps of Situation Analysis	241

EXHIBITS

9.1	Examples of Outcome Objectives for a Program on Pediatric Asthma	234
10.1	Audience Segmentation Example	250
10.2	SWOT Analysis for the Caribbean Cervical Cancer Prevention and Control Project	264

11.1	Sample Communication Objectives: Understanding the Connection with Other Program Elements	286
------	---	-----

NUMBERED BOXES

2.1	Diffusion of Innovation Theory: A Practical Example	35
2.2	Raising Awareness of Infant Mortality Disparities in San Francisco	48
4.1	Personal Selling Case Study	102
4.2	The Impact of Effective Provider-Patient Communications on Patient Outcomes: A Pediatric Nurse Practitioner's Perspective	106
4.3	Impact of Physician Attitudes on Patient Behavior: A True Story	108
5.1	Johnson & Johnson's Campaign for Nursing's Future Initiative	127
5.2	Using the Internet as a Key Public Relations Channel: The Schepens Eye Research Institute	131
6.1	Social Mobilization to Fight Ebola in Yambio, Southern Sudan	155
6.2	How Bingwa Changed His Ways	158
6.3	Gay Men's Health Crisis HIV/AIDS Timeline	162
7.1	National Foundation for Infectious Diseases Flu Fight for Kids: Case Study	189
8.1	How Constituency Relations Can Help Advance an Organization's Mission: A Practice-Based Perspective	206
8.2	National Cancer Institute Guidelines for Considering Commercial Partners	210
10.1	Audience Profile: Got a Minute? Give It to Your Kids!	252
12.1	NCI's Cancer Research Awareness Initiative: From Message Concepts to Final Message	311
12.2	Community Theater in Benin: Taking the Show on the Road	315

For my daughters, Oriana and Talia, and, of course, my husband, Roger Ullman