

CONTENTS

Preface	xiii
Acknowledgments	xv
About the Authors	xvii
Introduction	1
ONE Moving Journals Beyond the Banal	5
An Admission: Early Errors	5
What Changed?	8
Fluency Journals as Practice	10
Inspiration for the Name	11
TWO Fluency: The Missing Ingredient in Writing Instruction	13
What Is Writing Fluency?	13
Why Teach Fluency?	14
Supporting English Language Learners	16
Correctness: Where Does It Fit in a Fluency Program?	16
The Importance of Prompts	18
Music Promotes Fluency	19
Journals and Gender	20

PART ONE Rain: Creating the Climate For Spontaneous Writing	23
THREE Introducing the Program to Students	25
The Nitty-Gritty: Materials You'll Need	25
Setting Up for Success: Self-Fulfilling Prophecies	26
Laying the Track: The First Days	27
Choosing the Distributor of Journals: End of Day One	30
Clarifying the Classroom Protocol (Day Two)	31
Addressing Privacy and Child Abuse Issues	34
Explaining the Grading Criteria	38
Introducing the Music Component	43
Reviewing the Protocol	44
Presenting the First Prompt	45
FOUR The Essential Role of Music	49
Necessary Equipment	52
Selection and Progression of Music	52
Letting Students Know What's Playing	55
PART TWO Steam: Prompts for Inspiration	57
FIVE Focusing on Topics That Matter	59
Fluency Journals as "Safe Havens"	63
Choosing a Prompt	64
Crafting Prompts of Your Own	66
SIX Working with the Prompts in the Classroom	69
Reinforcing the Prompts Before the Writing Begins	70
Addressing Student Questions	71
Students' Own Prompts	72
Choosing Skilled Prompt Readers	74

PART THREE Speed: The Writing Practice	75
SEVEN Motivation and Feedback	77
Encouragement During Early Sessions	77
The Teacher's Role During Journal Time	81
Reinforcing the Energy	82
Immediate Feedback	82
The Power of Volunteer Readers	85
How to Listen and What to Say	85
EIGHT Addressing Problems During Journal Time	89
Disturbances	89
Frozen Writers Counseling	91
NINE Assessment, Response, and Grading	97
How to Read the Journals	99
Commenting on the Written Entries	100
The Inside Front Cover: The Grade and the Teacher's Writing	101
More on the Carrot and Stick	102
Writing Summative Comments	104
Subsequent Grading	105
Grading for Special Situations	108
Alternative Evaluation Practices	111
TEN Extending the Work	113
Ways to Share Journals	113
Exploring Other Content Areas	115
Possible Modifications to the Program	116
EPILOGUE: Au Revoir, Journals!	119

PART FOUR The Prompts	123
Prompt Topics	124
First Day	130
Relationships	130
Sorting Out the World	139
Goofy and Imaginative	150
The Natural World	155
Taking Risks; Aspirations	159
Inventions, Innovations, and Pastimes	162
Personal Habits and Self-Identification	164
Dreams	172
Deep Life Issues	174
Last Day	180
APPENDIXES
A. Selected and Annotated Discography	181
B. Fifty Tips for Success from Students	195
C. Taxonomy of Teacher Comments on Individual Entries	199
D. Student Examples	201
1. Pamela’s End-of-Year Entry	203
2. Ya Ni’s End-of-Year Entry	205
3. Tim’s Advice	207
4. Angela’s Journal Strategies	209
5. Jerry Xie’s Pre and Post Entries	211
E. Bibliography	215
Index	216