

Index

A

- Abbott Laboratories, 36, 46, 82, 126
- Abrashoff, D. M., 22–23
- Accountability, 28, 140
- Action, questions encouraging, 121–122
- Action learning, 175–186; coaching in, 177, 183–186; components of, 176–177; ground rule in, 181–183; leadership development with, 179–181; procedure for, 178–179
- Adams, M.: on how to become questioning leader, 173; on Institute for Inquiring Leadership, 186; on mindset for asking questions, 77, 78, 79, 80, 172; on opening to new possibilities, 154
- Adaptability to change, with questioning cultures, 34–35, 41
- Adaptive problems, 144, 154
- Advice, giving, 65, 87
- Affective questions, 72
- Alliances, asking questions of partners in, 159–162
- American University, 176
- Amgen, 154
- Analytical questions, 72
- Anderson, N., 123
- Andracchi, F.: biography of, 191; on managing conflict, 44; on overcoming discomfort with questions, 59–60; on solving problems, 142–143
- Anheuser Busch, 162
- Answer dependency, 109, 110
- Answers: asking questions without knowing, 54; correct, 30–31, 56; fear of, 52–53; leaders expected to give, 11–12, 52; listening to, 90–94
- Appreciative inquiry, 84–85
- Asking questions: as continuous process, 23–25, 30–31; as creating learning organizations, 12–13, 27, 31; framing when, 82–85; lack of skill in, 56–57; mindset for, 77–82; occasions offering opportunities for, 107–108; providing training in, 109; reality revealed by, 17–19; as step in questioning process, 87–90; timing for/when, 85, 89–90, 103, 106–108; without knowing answers, 54. See also Avoiding asking questions; Questioning process; Unasked questions
- Attitudes. See Mindsets
- Austin, J. E., 163
- Avoiding asking questions, 51–62; corporate cultures as reason for, 27, 58–59; impatience as reason for, 55–56; lack of skills as reason for, 56–57; overcoming, 59–62; to protect ourselves, 52–55

Axelrod, E. M., 140

Axelrod, R. H., 140, 141–142

B

Badaracco, J., 44, 45, 46

Bandura, A., 29

Bass, B., 121

Bay of Pigs invasion, 15–16

Beckhard, R., 165

Beedon, J., 140

Bell, B., 159

Bell, C., 159

Bianco-Mathis, V., 54, 118, 134, 147

Blanchard, K., 35, 164

Block, P., 28, 33, 53, 115

Blohowiak, D., 167, 173

Boeing, 175

Bossidy, L., 123

Boston Red Sox, 17

Boud, D., 186

Bruner, J., 29

Burger King, 155

Busch, A. III, 100

C

Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce (CIBC), 156

Canty, G., 180

Carew, J.: biography of, 191; on employees learning from bosses, 123; on importance of why questions, 70; on innovation with questioning culture, 39; on judging responses to questions, 91; on role of questions in organizational learning, 30; on telling vs. asking, 12, 60

Carkhuff, R., 117–118

Carter, J., 87

Center for Creative Leadership, 1, 101

Challenger disaster, 14–15

Champy, J., 121

Chandon, W., 57

Change: adaptability to, with questioning cultures, 34–35, 41; brought about by asking questions, 60–61, 171–172; leaders' willing to, 101–102; resistance to, 111; using questions to promote, 166–169

Charan, R., 123

Charoux, E.: biography of, 191; on implementing organizational change, 167; on introducing questioning culture, 109; on managing conflict, 151

Circuit City, 20, 102

Cisco, 162

Clarification (clarifying) questions, 72, 148–149

Clarke-Epstein, C., 110, 123, 126–127, 130, 158

Clemens, J., 100

Closed questions, 74–75; defined, 68; responses to, 87; when to use, 74

Coaching: in action learning, 177, 183–186; as approach to leading, 134–139; establishing relationship for, 82, 117–120; GROW model of, 136; in inquiry leadership training, 188–189

Coffman, V., 31

Coleman, M.: biography of, 191–192; on fear of asking questions, 53; on following up after questioning, 95; on impact on leaders of asking questions, 172; on mindset for asking questions, 78, 79; on team building, 37

Collaboration, questions as leading to, 31. See also Teams

Collins, J., 17, 21, 46, 106

Commitment: of action learning coaches, 185–186; of team members, 137, 140

Communication, in questioning cultures, 42–43

Community leaders, questions for, 162–164

Conflict management, 43–44, 150–151

Constellation Energy, 175

Content questions, 73

Cook, M., 162

Cooperrider, D., 84, 117, 145

Corporate cultures. See Organizational cultures; Questioning cultures

Courage, required to ask questions, 53–54

Crowley, J., 22

Cultures. See Organizational cultures; Questioning cultures

Curiosity, 30, 31, 38, 88

Customers, questions for, 156–159

D

Daudelin, M., 1, 101, 146–147

Decision making, 32–34. See also Problem solving

Dell, M., 24, 27

Dialogue, 103–104, 147

Dillon, J., 87

Dilworth, L., 45, 179, 180

Direct reports. See Employees

Disempowering questions, 3, 64, 115–116

Diversity, framing questions and, 83–84

Double-loop learning, 33, 75

Drucker, P. F.: on listening, 91, 92; on practices of effective executives, 19; on questions asked by effective leaders, 19, 164–165; on shaping future of organizations, 156; on telling vs. asking, 23–24

Dumb questions: fear of asking, 13, 19; from new leaders, 131; power of, 19

DuPont. See Holliday, C.

E

Eden, D.: on asking customers questions, 157; on asking questions as fun, 35; on benefits of questioning culture to leaders, 43; biography of, 192; effective use of questions by, 21; on questions related to goals, 125; on transformative power of questions, 169

Effective executives, common practices of, 19

Effective questions, 68, 87–88

Einstein, A., 88

Employees: building leadership by, 123–124; encouraging action and innovation by, 121–122; establishing coaching relationship with, 82, 117–120; finding right questioning style to use with, 116–117; fostering reflection by, 120–121; motivating and empowering, 35–36, 99, 103, 115–117; new, questions for, 130–131; performance appraisals of, 126–130; setting objectives with, 124–126

Empowering employees, 35–36, 99, 103, 115–117

Empowering questions, 64–65, 116

Ethical question, 164

Evans, R., 73

Expectation, of giving answers, 11–12, 52

Explorative questions, 71

F

Failures, due to not asking questions, 13–17, 54, 117, 155–156

Fear, of asking questions, 52–55

Feedback, using questions when giving, 128–129

Finkelstein, S., 17, 18, 58

Flexibility, with questioning cultures, 34–35, 41

Follow-up questions, 75

Following up, as step in questioning process, 94–95

Ford Motor Company, 162

Framing questions, 82–85; appreciative inquiry as approach to, 84–85; diversity and, 83–84; as step in questioning process, 86–87

Fresh questions, 72

G

General Electric (GE), 175

Global Institute for Action Learning, 186

Goals: achieving, with teams, 137–139; questions for determining, 125, 164

Goldberg, M.: on answer-driven organizations, 27; on curiosity, 30; empowering questions suggested by, 65; on goal-related questions, 125; on perception of questions, 57; on questions vs. statements and opinions, 167; on relationship between action and questions, 121–122; on requirements for change, 53; on risk taking, 39; on self-awareness, 40; vision-related questions used by, 165

Goldsmith, M., 24–25, 94, 129, 165

Great questions, 65–68, 76

Groupthink, 15

GROW model of leadership coaching, 136

H

Halloran, J., 65

Hamel, G., 122

Hammer, M., 155–156

Harbison, J. R., 160–161

Harper, M.: on benefits of questioning culture, 31, 33; biography of, 192; on changing leadership style, 110;

on creating questioning culture, 112; favorite questions of, 66–67; on lack of skill in questioning, 57; on leaders as coaches, 118; questions of, to encourage innovation and action, 122; team building by, 134, 136, 137

Heifetz, R., 56, 59, 143

Heimbold, C., 100

Hesselbein, F., 92, 123, 165, 168–169

Hewlett-Packard, 160; Laboratories, 165–166

Hii, A., 43

Hoffman, R.: biography of, 192; on gaining understanding of colleagues, 120; on listening, 92; on questioning's benefits to leaders, 2, 41–42, 60; on solving problems, 145–146, 148

Holliday, C.: on asking stakeholders questions, 162; biography of, 192; on engaging people with questions, 141; on impatience of executives, 55; on importance of questions, 1–2, 62; on managers asking questions, 107; use of questions by, 100–101; on why questions, 71

Holton, E., 29

Hopf, G.: biography of, 193; on checking reality with questions, 138–139; on discovering power of questions, 11–12; how questions used by, 169; on opportunities to ask questions, 107; on transition to coaching, 118–119

How questions, 168–169

Howard Johnson, 155

Hymowitz, C., 154

I

“I don’t know,” saying, 20–21, 29, 102, 111

Image of company, question for determining, 164

- Innovation: questioning culture as foundation for, 38–39; questions encouraging, 121–122
- Inquiry leadership training, 186–190; coaching in, 188–189; leadership characteristics developed in, 186–187; Question Thinking (QT) techniques in, 187–188, 189–190
- Institute for Inquiring Leadership (IIL), 186, 190
- International Business Machines (IBM), 160
- Isaacs, W., 103–104
- J
- Jackson, N., 162
- Jacobs, R. W., 140
- Janis, I. L., 15, 16
- Johnson & Johnson, 160
- Judging mindset: described, 78, 80; difficulty of avoiding, 81; relationships produced by, 79, 80; typical questions from, 79
- K
- Kanter, R. M., 168
- Kaplin, B., 84, 117
- Kennedy, J. F., 15–16, 87, 173
- Kennedy, R., 15
- Kentucky Fried Chicken (KFC), 155
- Kliman, S., 161
- Knight Ridder, 97–98
- Knowles, M., 29
- Knowling, R. Jr., 166
- Kotter, J., 19, 166, 171
- Kouzes, J., 28–29, 63, 86, 105, 172
- Krug, D., 19
- L
- Laughlin, T.: on benefits of questioning leadership style, 61; biography of, 193; questions of, to build relationship with staff, 119
- Laurie, D., 143
- Leaders: as action learning coaches, 177, 183–186; changed by asking questions, 60–61, 171–172; community, 162–164; of future, 173–174; great, continuous asking by, 23–25; “Level 5,” 46; managers vs., 19, 171; promoting organizational change by using questions, 166–169; questioning modeled by, 99, 100–102; research on, using questions, 3–5; role of, in shaping questioning culture, 98–109; suggestions for, on how to begin asking questions, 172–173; traditional vs. coach, 134–139; training for, 175–190. See also Managers
- Leadership: inquiry, developed through action learning, 179–181; new level of, with questions, 6–7; questions as tool for, 19–25; questions to build, 123–124; strengthened in questioning cultures, 46–47; by telling vs. asking, 2, 12, 23–24, 60, 119
- Leading questions, 75, 87
- Learning: action learning coaches’ commitment to, 185–186; in alliances, 160–161; from everyone in company, 24; in performance appraisals, 126–130; questioning culture as encouraging, 29–31, 45–46; questions as opportunities for, 18; single-, double-, and triple-loop, 33, 75. See also Action learning
- Learning mindset: adopting, 81–82; described, 77–78, 80; for framing questions, 86; maintaining, after getting answer, 90–91; relationships produced by, 78–79, 80; typical questions from, 79
- Learning organizations: asking questions as creating, 12–13, 27, 31; leaders creating, 100–102

Leeds, D., 90, 125, 159
Lencioni, P. M., 139, 143
Lendemann, R., biography of, 193
Levi, D., 150
Lincoln, A., 87
Linsky, M., 56, 59
Listening: by action learning coaches, 185; importance of,
    90–92, 94; improved, in questioning cultures, 42–43; ways of demonstrating, 92–93
Loyalty: of customers, 159; to organization, 104–105

M

Maciariello, J. A., 19, 156
Managers: action and innovation encouraged by, 121–122; coaching relationships established by,
    117–120; leaders vs., 19, 171; leadership-building questions for, 123–124;
    performance appraisals by, 126–130;
    planning and objective setting by,
    124–126; questioning modeled by,
    131; questions for new employees for, 130–131; reflection fostered by,
    120–121. See also Leaders
Manville, B., 159
Marquardt, M., 176
Marsick, V., 145
Mayer, D., 100
McDonald's, 155
McNulty, N., 180
Mead, M., 133
Merck, 160
Mezirow, J., 120
Milchling, S.: biography of, 193; on finding right questioning style,
    116–117; on probing questions,
    72–73, 116; on questions not asked, 54, 117; types of questions favored by, 67; on understanding furthered by questions, 61

Mill, J. S., 20, 139–140
Milliken, 158
Mindsets: after getting answer, 90–91;
    for framing questions, 86; learning
    vs. judging, 77–82
Mission, question for determining, 164
Mitroff, I., 33
Mittelstaedt, R. E., 14
Moon, K.-H., biography of, 193–194
Morale, improving, 138
Morris, J., 46, 61
Morton Thiokol, Inc. (MTI), 14–15
Motivating employees, 35–36,
    115–117
Motorola, 156, 160
Multiple questions, 75
Mumford, A., 180

N

Nabors, L., 54, 118, 134
Nadler, G., 57
NASA, 14–15
Nokia, 175
Novartis, 175

O

Oakley, D., 19
Objectives, planning and setting,
    124–126
Open-ended questions, 68–73; breaking ice with, 85–86; defined, 68; to help team problem solving,
    148–149; how to use, 73; phrases used in, 69; responses to, 87; types of, 71–73; why questions, 69–71
Oracle, 160
Organizational change. See Change
Organizational cultures, discouraging questions, 27, 58–59. See also
    Questioning cultures
Organizations: benefits of questioning culture to, 27–28, 29–39;
    learning, 12–13, 27, 31, 100–102;

- questioning climate in, 24; without questioning cultures, 27, 58–59
- Ostlund, C.: biography of, 194; on helping teachers overcome obstacles, 149–150; on impatience, 55–56
- ## P
- Pan Am, 155
- Parker, M., 18–19
- Partlow, J.: biography of, 194; on multiple uses of questions, 158; on questions for performance appraisals, 127–128
- Partners, asking questions of, 159–162
- Pekar, P., Jr., 160–161
- Performance appraisals, 126–130
- Perspectives: broadening, of leaders, 172; gaining fresh, to organization, 153–155; of others, gained from asking questions, 31, 56; value of, in problem solving, 32, 143, 145
- Peters, T., 133
- Peterson, D., 20
- Pfizer. See Whitt, S.
- Politics, understanding realities in, 44–45
- Posner, B., 28–29, 63, 86, 105, 172
- Prejudices, 17–18
- Probing questions, 72–73, 116, 149
- Problem solving: helping team overcome obstacles in, 148–150; improved by asking questions, 61; improved by questioning cultures, 32–34; rushing process of, 55–56; stages in, 146–148; using questions in, by teams, 142–146. See also Action learning
- Problems: due to not asking questions, 13–17, 54, 117, 155–156; leader's actions as contributing to, 23; technical vs. adaptive, 143–144, 154
- Process questions, 73
- Purpose, question for determining, 164
- ## Q
- Questioners, rewarding and appreciating, 108–109
- Questioning. See Asking questions; Questioning process
- Questioning cultures, 27–47; adaptability to organizational change with, 34–35, 41; characteristics of, 28–29, 98; conflict management in, 43–44; decision making and problem solving improved by, 32–34; employees motivated and empowered by, 35–36; as foundation for innovation, 38–39; individual benefits of, 39–47; of Knight Ridder, 97–98; leaders' need to create, 24; leadership strengthened in, 46–47; learning encouraged by, 29–31, 45–46; listening and communication in, 42–43; organizational benefits of, 27–28, 29–39; organizations without, 27, 58–59; self-awareness increased by, 40–41; teamwork strengthened by, 36–37, 61–62; understanding of political realities with, 44–45
- Questioning cultures, creating, 98–112; creating safe environment when, 102–104; getting started, 112; handling resistance to, 109–112; leader's role in, 98–109; modeling questioning when, 99, 100–102; optimizing opportunities for questions when, 106–108; providing training in questioning when, 109; rewarding and appreciating questioners when, 108–109; standard operating procedures and, 106; steps for, 154–155; values for, 104–106

- Questioning process, 85–95; follow-up in, 94–95; framing questions in, 86–87; initiating, 85–86; learning mindset needed for, 86; listening in, 90–94; tips on asking questions in, 87–90. See also Asking questions
- Questions: beginning to use, 59–60, 172–173; to demonstrate listening, 92–93; to determine vision and values, 164; dumb, 13, 19, 131; effective, 68, 87–88; framing, 82–85; great, tips on creating, 65–68, 76; as leadership tool, 19–25; modeling use of, 99, 100–102, 131; power of, 1–2; that create connections, 72; used by author in research, 4
- Questions, types of: closed questions, 68, 74–75, 87; content vs. process questions, 73; disempowering questions, 3, 64, 115–116; empowering questions, 64–65, 116; for helping team overcome obstacles in problem solving, 148–149; importance of, 63; mindset and, 79; multiple questions, 75; open-ended questions, 68–73, 85–86, 87, 148–149; using right, with different individuals, 116–117. See also Unasked questions; specific types of questions
- R
- Rajab, E. M.: on benefits of questioning to leaders, 45; biography of, 194; on correct answers, 30–31, 56; on framing questions, 84; on open-ended questions, 68
- Reality: distorted, with unasked questions, 17–19; increasing understanding of, 44–45, 138–139
- Reflection: in action learning, 183; fostering, 120–121; by inquiring leaders, 187; leaders' modeling, 101; questioning culture as encouraging, 40; by team members, 140, 142
- Reflective questions, 72
- Relationships: building, for coaching, 82, 117–120; produced by learning mindset, 78–79, 80
- Research, on questioning leaders, 3–5
- Resistance, to questioning culture, 109–112
- Responses. See Answers
- Responsibility, shared, 28, 151–152
- Revans, R., 56, 66, 131, 175, 179
- Rimanoczy, I.: biography of, 194–195; on focusing on questions vs. answers, 2, 123–124; on framing questions, 84
- Risk taking: fear of, 52–55; questions as encouraging, 39
- Rogers, C., 117
- Roman, C., 54, 118, 134
- Russell, B., 42
- S
- Salespeople, questioning by, 159
- Salford University, 176
- Samsung, 175
- Schein, E., 101, 112, 121
- Schlesinger, A., 15–16
- Sears, 155
- Self-awareness: of action learning coaches, 186; questioning culture as increasing, 40–41; reflection as increasing, 120–121
- Self-confidence: of action learning coaches, 186; questioning culture as increasing, 41–42
- Semler, R., 52
- Senge, P., 76, 133
- Sharer, K., 154
- Siemens, 175
- Single-loop learning, 33
- Skills: listening, 91, 185; questioning, 56–57

- Smyk, D.: biography of, 195; on framing questions, 83; on increasing morale, 138; on performance appraisals, 127; on value of perspective in problem solving, 32
- Spitzer, Q., 73
- Stakeholders, 155–164; community leaders as, 162–164; customers as, 156–159; importance of questioning, 155–156; vendors and partners as, 159–162
- Standard operating procedures, 106
- Stewart, C.: biography of, 195; on deciding to lead with questions, 16–17; on effective questions, 87–88; on empowering staff, 61–62; on following up after questioning, 94, 95; on leading through questions, 168; on needing to know answers, 52
- Stimulating questions, 149
- Stoner, J., 164
- Strategy formation, 153–155
- Summarizing questions, 149
- Suppliers, asking questions of, 159–162
- Swanson, R., 29
- Sydanmaanlakka, P.: biography of, 195; on giving feedback, 128–129; on leadership, 123; on leading by questioning vs. telling, 2; on questioning cultures, 28, 38; on self-leadership, 47
- ## T
- Team meetings: encouraging open discussion in, 139–140; encouraging reflection in, 140, 142; energizing, 141–142; negative aspects of, 133
- Teams: coaching approach to leading, 134–139; current popularity of, 133; managing conflict on, 150–151; questions as strengthening, 36–38, 61–62; sharing responsibility on, 151–152; traditional vs. coaching leaders' behaviors with, 134, 135; using questions in problem solving by, 142–150
- Technical problems, 143–144
- Telling: leading by, 2, 12, 23–24; transition from, to asking, 60, 119
- Telling dependency, 109, 111–112
- Thornhill, M.: biography of, 195–196; on effect of questions on employees, 99, 103; on improved leadership using questions, 47
- Tichy, N. M., 18, 24, 27
- Timing: for asking questions, 85, 106–108; for introducing questioning culture, 110; sense of, of action learning coaches, 184; when asking questions, 89–90, 103
- Tischler, L., 161
- Titanic* sinking, 13–14
- Toyota, 71, 162
- Training: action learning, 175–186; inquiry leadership, 186–190; in questioning, 109
- Triple-loop learning, 33, 75
- Trosten-Bloom, A., 84, 117
- Trust: creating environment encouraging, 102–104; learned by action learning coaches, 184; questioning culture as increasing, 33, 42
- ## U
- Unasked questions: distorted reality as result of, 17–19; failures due to, 13–17, 54, 117, 155–156; impatience as reason for, 55–56; missed opportunities with, 106. See also Avoiding asking questions
- Ury, W., 150–151

V

Vaill, P., 33, 40, 122, 131
Values: action learning coaches and, 185; organizational, and developing questioning culture, 104–106; outside perspectives and, 153; questions related to, 117; using questions for developing, 164
Vendors, asking questions of, 159–162
Vision: developing, 164–166; outside perspectives and, 153

W

Wal-Mart, 59, 155
Welch, J., 18, 28
Wheatley, M.: on dialogue, 104; on energizing organizations, 35; on leaders' modeling reflection, 101; on questions for leaders to ask themselves, 107; on teams, 38, 133, 141
Whitmore, J., 136

Whitney, D., 84, 117, 121
Whitt, S.: biography of, 196; on developing coaching relationship, 82; on learning with questions, 46; on performance appraisals, 126; on questions for vendors and suppliers, 160; on questions used with teams, 36–37, 136–137, 148
Why questions, 69–71
Wooden, J., 88
Worthington Steel, 156
Wurtzel, A., 20, 102, 111

X

Xerox, 160

Y

Yankelovich, D., 58
Yawkey, T., 17

Z

Zombie companies, 18
Zuboff, S., 172