The Best of the Big Apple

New York is the concentrate of art and commerce and sport and religion and entertainment and finance, bringing to a single compact arena the gladiator, the evangelist, the promoter, the actor, the trader and the merchant. It carries on its lapel the unexpungeable odor of the long past, so that no matter where you sit in New York you feel the vibrations of great times and tall deeds, of queer people and events and undertakings.

New York is nothing like Paris; it is nothing like London; and it is not Spokane multiplied by sixty, or Detroit multiplied by four. It is by all odds the loftiest of cities.

—E. B. White, Here Is New York

Novelist and essayist E. B. White wrote the words above more than 50 years ago, but his characterization of New York remains accurate today. And though the grandeur and importance of New York has not changed, the city is in a constant state of flux. In a way, New Yorkers have short attention spans. A restaurant, show, club, or store might be the hottest thing; a couple months later another has opened or been discovered and that once hot spot quickly becomes passé.

But not everything has to be new and hot for New Yorkers. We don't always appreciate change because that means we might have lost something we had come to love. New Yorkers respect the city's standards, the institutions that have been essential New York. What would we do without that reassuring sight of the Lady in the harbor; or the gleaming spire of the Empire State Building? Or the perfect pizza? Or a Sunday in Central Park? Or the rumbling of the trains beneath the earth? Or the sounds of jazz from a Village club? So while New York is ever-changing, its core remains the same. And we wouldn't have it any other way.

1 Most Unforgettable Travel Experiences

- Sailing to the Statue of Liberty: On Liberty Island in New York Harbor. If you have time to do only one thing on your visit to New York, sail to the Lady in the harbor. No other monument embodies the nation's, and the world's, notion of political freedom and economic potential more than Lady Liberty. It is also the ultimate symbol of New York, the personification of the city's vast diversity and tolerance. See p. 249.
- Visiting the Empire State Building Observatory at Dusk: Like the Statue of Liberty, the Empire State Building, once again the tallest building in New York, is one of the city's definitive icons. Arrive at dusk and watch the lights of the city come on. It's pure magic. See p. 242.
- Walking the Brooklyn Bridge: Manhattan has five major bridges connecting the island to other shores, and easily the most historic and most fascinating is the Brooklyn Bridge. For a close-up look at what was a marvel of civic engineering when it was built in 1883, and a true New York experience, take the walk across the bridge from Manhattan to Brooklyn. See p. 241.

- Taking the subway to Yankee Stadium for a Yankee game: It doesn't sound very intriguing, does it? Good or bad, there's nothing like being crammed into a subway car packed with rabid Yankee fans. And it's an experience you'll not soon forget. See p. 251.
- Jogging around the Central Park Reservoir: Okay, you don't even have to jog it. You can walk the jogging path around the Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis Reservoir and take in the beauty of Central Park, the views of Central Park West, Fifth Avenue, and especially the skyline of midtown Manhattan. See p. 275.

- Spending Sunday Morning in New York: This might not sound so unforgettable, but to experience the city minus the noise and activity is something special. I've noticed quite a few tourists, usually jet-lagged Europeans, wandering the parks and streets early Sunday mornings.
- Walking 125th Street: Take a walk across this famous Harlem boulevard and your senses will be assaulted from the music, the variety of stores, the restaurants, the impromptu stalls selling everything from homemade CDs to fresh bean pies, the street prophets and musicians; the energy on this street is relentless.

2 Best Events

- Best Parade: West Indian–American Day Carnival and Parade. Held on Eastern Parkway in Brooklyn, this is the biggest parade in New York. The music (calypso, soca, reggae, and Latin), the amazing costumes, and the incredible Caribbean food make this an unforgettable experience. If you're lucky enough to be in town on Labor Day, don't miss it. See p. 34.
- Best Street Festival: Ninth Avenue International Food Festival. Held for one weekend (usually in the middle of May), this festival is the perfect illustration of the ethnic diversity in the city. You can taste foods from local restaurants and sample cuisines from Afghani to Peruvian. See p.32.

- Best Time of Year to Come to New York: Summer. Most people prefer the temperate days of fall to visit New York, and that's when the city is most crowded; but my personal favorite season is summer, when the streets are empty, restaurants and shows are easier to get into, and countless free outdoor cultural events abound.
- Best Day to Come to New York: New Year's Day. You've skipped the insanity of New Year's Eve and arisen fresh and sober. Get out on the town early; you have the city practically to yourself.

3 Best Museums

- Best Overall Museum: American Museum of Natural History. You can spend your entire visit to New York at this 4-square-block museum; there is that much to see. From the famed dinosaur halls to the Hall of Ocean Life, the Museum of Natural History houses the world's greatest natural science collection. See p. 239.

- Best Art Museum: Metropolitan Museum of Art. Not only the best art museum in New York, but the best in North America as well. The number of masterworks housed here is mind-boggling. See p. 244.

- Best-Looking Museum: Museum of Modern Art. Though the sight of the Guggenheim is the most memorable, MoMA's $450-million renovation makes it the classiest- and coolest-looking museum, inside and out, in town. See p. 245.
- Best Home Posing as a Museum: The Louis Armstrong House Museum. This unassuming house in Queens, was Satchmo's home for almost 30 years and it's been preserved almost exactly as it was at Armstrong's death in 1971. See p. 304.

4 Best New York City Structures

- Best Historic Building: Grand Central Terminal. Despite all the modern steel and glass skyscrapers in New York, there are still many historic marvels standing, and the best of those is this Beaux Arts gem. This railroad station, built in 1913, was remarkably restored in the 1990s to recapture its initial brilliance. Even if you don't have to catch a train, make sure you visit. See p. 244.
- Best Skyscraper: The Chrysler Building. There is no observation deck, but that's okay, this Art Deco masterpiece is best viewed from outside or from other observation decks like the Empire State Building. See p. 268.
- Most Impressive Place of Worship: Cathedral of St. John the Divine. Construction began at this, the world's largest Gothic cathedral, in 1892 and it's still going on. But this is one structure that doesn't need finishing.

5 Best Parks

- Best Park: Central Park. One of the world's greatest urban refuges—a center of calm and tranquillity amongst the noise and bustle that is Manhattan. See p. 275.
- Best Runner-Up Park: Riverside Park. This 4-mile-long park along the picturesque Hudson River is a welcome alternative to the sometimes-overcrowded Central Park. See p. 283.

6 Best Places to Take the Kids

- Central Park. With its lovely carousel, a zoo, two ice-skating rinks, and numerous playgrounds and ball fields, Central Park is a children's wonderland. See p. 275.
- Bronx Zoo Wildlife Conservation Park. This is one of the great zoos in the world—and you don't have to be a kid to love it. See p. 297.
- Intrepid Sea-Air-Space Museum. Climbing through a retired battleship beats the playground any day. With real planes on deck and interactive exhibits inside, kids are never bored here. See p. 255.

7 Best Places to Stroll

- The Upper West Side. With museums, two great parks, some lovely old buildings and brownstones, inexpensive restaurants, and a real residential feel, this is my favorite neighborhood to stroll.
- Greenwich Village. With its historic streets, hidden cafes, cozy restaurants, and eccentric characters, Greenwich Village is a constant, but pleasant, barrage on the senses.

- Chinatown. With the constant din of activity and the very crowded sidewalks, Chinatown might not seem like ideal strolling territory; but the neighborhood is so colorful, it's worth braving the mobs.

8 Best Things to Do for Free (or Almost)

- Ride the Staten Island Ferry. The Staten Island Ferry is used daily by thousands of commuters. Ride with them for a great view of the Statue of Liberty, Ellis Island, New York Harbor, and the skyline of lower Manhattan. You really can't beat the price. It's free. See p. 248.
- Attend a Gospel Service. All around New York you'll find Sunday gospel services, but for some special soul-stirring head to Harlem and the Abyssinian Baptist Church or Brooklyn and the Brooklyn Tabernacle. Services are free but when the basket is passed, don't be stingy. See p. 272 and 300.

- Visit Free Museums. Believe it or not, there are museums in New York that don't charge admission. Two of my favorites are the National Museum of the American Indian and the Federal Hall National Memorial. See p. 261 and 271.
- Take in a Game at the West 4th Street Basketball Courts, West 4th Street and Sixth Avenue. I don't know what's more entertaining here—the showtime moves on the court or the inventive and constant trash talk that accompanies the games.

9 Best Offbeat Experiences

- Visit the Little Italy of the Bronx. Though it still qualifies, this experience, growing in popularity, is slowly becoming not so offbeat. With the demise of Little Italy in Manhattan, the area centered around Arthur Avenue, known as the Little Italy of the Bronx, is the place to go for old-fashioned Italian charm, food, and ambience. See p. 95.
- Museum of Sex. How many cities can claim their own Museum of Sex? Only in New York. But you must be 18 or older to enter. See p. 260.
- Roosevelt Island Tram. Impress your family and friends with a little known, but spectacular view of the New York skyline and take them for a ride on the Roosevelt Island Tram. During the 4-minute ride you will be treated to a gorgeous view down the East River and the east side skyline with views of the United Nations and four bridges: the Queensboro, Williamsburg, Manhattan, and Brooklyn bridges. On a clear day you might even spot Lady Liberty. See p. 248.

- Bike Along the Hudson River. If you are physically ambitious and walking is just not enough exercise for you, a good alternative is to rent a bike and ride the length of Manhattan via the work in progress, Hudson River Park. As of this writing, you can bike from Battery Park to Fort Tryon Park near the George Washington Bridge. However, there are detours along the way that occasionally take you on and off the paths. For bike rental information, see p. 280.
- Ride the International Express. The 7 train is sometimes known as the International Express. Take it out of Manhattan and through the borough of Queens and you will pass one ethnic neighborhood after another, from Indian to Thai, from Peruvian to Columbian, from Chinese to Korean.

10 Best Way to Spend a Day in a Borough

- In the Bronx: Spend the morning at the Bronx Zoo Wildlife Conservation Park or the Bronx Botanical Gardens and then head to Arthur Avenue, the Little Italy of the Bronx (see “Best Offbeat Experiences,” above, and p. 95), for an authentic Italian feast. See also p. 297 and 108.
- In Brooklyn: First take a look at what’s showing at the always exciting Brooklyn Museum, and then get some fresh air with a stroll in nearby, lovely Prospect Park. Cap it off with a sandwich and a slice of cheesecake at Junior’s on Flatbush Avenue. See p. 299, 301, and 228.

- In Queens: Take the 7 train, the International Express (see “Best Offbeat Experiences,” above), to either the Queens Museum of Art, on the grounds of the 1964 World’s Fair, or the Louis Armstrong House Museum. On your way back, stop for a meal at any number of ethnic restaurants you will find within close proximity of the 7 train. See also p. 305 and 304.

11 Best Splurge Hotels

- Ritz-Carlton New York, Central Park, 160 Central Park South (☎ 212/308-9100). The combination of a great location, just across from Central Park, large well-outfitted rooms, typically excellent Ritz-Carlton service, and the magnificent restaurant Atelier (see below under “The Most Unforgettable Dining Experiences”) make this Ritz extra special. See p. 139.
- The Mercer, 147 Mercer St. (☎ 888/918-6060 or 212/966-6060). The best of the hip, downtown hotels, the Mercer is located in the heart of SoHo. The high-ceilinged, loftlike rooms and suites, some with fireplaces and all with ceiling fans and luxurious bathrooms, are spectacular. See p. 129.
- The Peninsula-New York, 700 Fifth Ave. (☎ 800/262-9467 or 212/956-2888). The combination of Old World elegance and 21st-century technology is best realized in this practically perfect hotel. See p. 151.
- St. Regis, 2 E. 55th St. (☎ 212/753-4500). Across the street from The Peninsula, the St. Regis offers unrivaled luxury—Louis XVI furniture, crystal chandeliers, and silk wall coverings—and impeccable service, including personalized butler service. See p. 152.

- Trump International Hotel & Tower, 1 Central Park West (☎ 212/299-1000). Suites are huge and overlook Central Park. Service is so good they treat you like the Donald here. The great restaurant Jean-Georges offers room service and guests have use of an excellent fitness club and pool. See p. 160.
- The Carlyle: A Rosewood Hotel, 35 E. 76th St. (☎ 800/227-5737 or 212/744-1600). You are in rarefied territory when you stay in The Carlyle. Service is elegantly white-gloved and rooms are sumptuous. Many have incredible views of the city and Central Park. And don’t forget the Café Carlyle for cabaret and Bemelmans Bar for a cocktail. See p. 165.

- The Lowell, 28 E. 63rd St. (☎ 212/838-1400). Smaller and more intimate than the Carlyle, but the Lowell is just as elegant and romantic.

Rooms are all unique; many have fireplaces while some have good-size terraces. See p. 166.

12 Best Moderately Priced Hotels

- The Lucerne, 201 W. 79th St. (☎ 800/492-8122 or 212/875-1000). This is my favorite hotel on the Upper West Side and one of my favorites in New York. The homey, neighborhood feel of the hotel, combined with exceptional service, nicely sized, well-equipped rooms, and room service from Nice Matin, make this a very attractive midprice option. See p. 164.
- Inn on 23rd Street, 131 W. 23rd St. (☎ 877/387-2323 or 212/463-0330). You cannot do better than this charming inn for top-notch quality and extras. Rooms are rustic and originally designed but all have up-to-date amenities. Breakfast is complimentary and served in a lovely library. See p. 134.

- Sofitel New York, 45 W. 44th St. (☎ 212/354-8844). This relatively new hotel exudes Old World (French) elegance. And you should be able to score some very good weekend packages on the Internet. See p. 142.
- Hotel Metro, 45 W. 35th St. (☎ 800/356-3870 or 212/947-2500). You'll find very good deals and lots of extras at this conveniently located Midtown hotel that's popular with Europeans. See p. 146.

13 Best Hotels for Families

- Hotel Beacon, 2130 Broadway (☎ 800/572-4969 or 212/787-1100). Not only is this hotel a great deal—you can get good-size suites for so much less than you would pay in Midtown—the Upper West Side, with its parks, the Museum of Natural History, and fun, inexpensive restaurants, is also a great neighborhood for children. See p. 162.

- Doubletree Guest Suites-Times Square, 1568 Broadway (☎ 800/222-TREE or 212/719-1600). This hotel boasts an entire floor of child-proof suites, complete with living rooms for spreading out and kitchenettes for preparing light meals. Also just a block from kid-friendly chain restaurants and the Toys “R” Us superstore. See p. 140.

14 Best Incentives for Hotel-Hopping

- Best Hotel Suite: Townhouse Suite in the Kitano New York, 66 Park Ave. (☎ 212/885-7000). Each of the three one-bedroom suites built inside the landmark town house that is part of this hotel feature a long hallway leading to a sunken living room with original art, a state-of-the-art stereo system, and a tea maker with green tea. See p. 155.

- Best Inexpensive Hotel Restaurant: Burger Joint in Le Parker Meridien, 118 W. 57th St. (☎ 800/543-4300 or 212/245-5000). Discreetly hidden off the lobby, this sensational unnamed burger joint has been discovered by locals looking for cheap eats for their lunch break, so the lines are long, but worth it. The burgers are fabulous (see below under “Best Burger”) and under $6. See p. 141.

- Best Hotel Bar: Bemelmans Bar in The Carlyle, 35 E. 76th St. (☎ 800/227-5737 or 212/744-1600). Named after book illustrator Ludwig Bemelmans, who created the Madeline books and painted the mural in the bar, this romantic and charming bar features white-gloved service and tremendous cocktails conceived by master mixologist Audrey Saunders. For more on Bemelmans, see p. 165.

- Best Hotel for a Romantic Tryst: Hotel Elysée, 60 E. 54th St. (☎ 800/535-9733 or 212/753-1066). This lovely old hotel, a favorite of mid-20th-century writers and actors, is discreetly dwarfed between two mammoth office buildings and is the perfect romantic hideaway in the middle of Manhattan. See p. 154.

15 The Most Unforgettable Dining Experiences

- Chanterelle, 2 Harrison St. (☎ 212/966-6960). You'll be made to feel very special here from the impeccable, personalized service in a simple but lovely room to the exquisitely prepared food. Other restaurants try, but this is how it's supposed to be. See p. 174.
- Eleven Madison Park, 11 Madison Ave. (☎ 212/889-0905). Higher praise has consistently gone to chef/restaurateur Danny Meyer's other restaurants, Gramercy Park Tavern and Union Square Café, so this gem is often overlooked, which is a shame. It is a magnificent restaurant on every level. The Art Deco room is spectacular, the service almost otherworldly, and the food truly memorable. See p. 195.
- The River Café, 1 Water St., Brooklyn (☎ 718/522-5200). Located at the foot of the Brooklyn Bridge in Brooklyn, there is no better dining view of Manhattan. Go at twilight as the lights of downtown begin to flicker on; it's a magical experience.

Though the food at restaurants with views is usually not very good, you won't be disappointed by the sophisticated fare prepared here. See p. 227.

- Atelier, in the Ritz-Carlton, Central Park, 50 Central Park South (☎ 212/521-6125). This beautiful restaurant is one of the few in New York where you can actually converse with your companion. But you may want to forgo talk and just concentrate on the fantastic food. See p. 199.
- Aquavit, 65 E. 55th St. (☎ 212/307-7311). Though its new digs are not nearly as charming as its former town house setting, the service and the food are as good as ever. See p. 207.
- Big Wong King, 67 Mott St. (☎ 212/964-0540). For the quintessential Chinatown experience. You'll share tables with Chinese families, order huge bowls of congee with fried crullers, plates of stir-fried vegetables, and heaping platters of roast pork and duck. I guarantee it will be an unforgettable dining experience. See p. 178.

16 Best New Restaurants

- BLT Steak, 106 E. 57th St. (☎ 212/752-7470). Chef Laurent Tourendel has put his spin on the steakhouse and it's a winner. It's not your traditional men's club steakhouse, but the meat is as good as I've had at any of those other testosterone-fueled red meat joints. See p. 207.

- Devi, 8 E. 18th St. (© 212/691-1300). There are so many Indian restaurants in New York, I didn't think I could experience anything different in terms of Indian cuisine, but Devi's menu is an eye-opener and the food as flavorful as it gets. See p. 195.
- Abbccato, 136 W. 55th St. (© 212/265-4000). The newest addition from the owners of the excellent Molyvos and Oceana, Abbccato offers an exciting, rustic Italian menu. I'd go back just for another taste of the spaghetti with razor clams and mullet roe. See p. 200.

17 Best Bites for All Appetites

- Best for Breakfast: Good Enough to Eat, 483 Amsterdam Ave. (© 212/496-0163). They've been lining up on Amsterdam Avenue on weekend mornings for over 20 years to get a taste of chef/owner Carrie Levin's bountiful home-cooked breakfasts. But why wait in line? You're on vacation; go during the week. See p. 221.
- Best for Brunch: Norma's, at Le Parker Meridien hotel, 118 W. 57th St. (© 212/708-7460). Though I am not a devotee of brunch (see sidebar "Breakfast, Not Brunch," in chapter 8), I make an exception for Norma's. Traditional breakfast items are available but skip them and go for the creative interpretations, like the asparagus and seared rock lobster omelet. See p. 202.
- Best Dessert: Fiamma Osteria, 206 Spring St. (© 212/653-0100). There are many impressive pastry chefs in town, but few of them can top the remarkable Elizabeth Katz. Everything on Fiamma's "Dolci" menu is outstanding, but her torta (dark chocolate praline cake layered with hazelnut brittle) and gianduja gelato (hazelnut-flavored chocolate gelato) are as close to perfection as you can get. See p. 182.
- Best Italian: Beppe, 45 E. 22nd St. (© 212/982-8422). Restaurant critics don't give Beppe enough credit, but the mobs that pour into the place nightly know better. This is as close to true Tuscan cuisine as you'll find outside of the Italy region. See p. 195.
- Best Jewish Deli: Katz's Delicatessen, 205 E. Houston St. (© 212/254-2246). This is the choice among those who know their kreplach, knishes, and pastrami. No cutesy sandwiches named for celebrities here—just top-notch Jewish classics. See p. 182.
- Best Burger: Burger Joint, at Le Parker Meridien hotel, 118 W. 57th St. (© 212/708-7460). Who woulda thunk that a fancy hotel like Le Parker Meridien would be the home to a "joint" that serves great burgers at great prices? See p. 203.
- Best Decadent Burger: db Bistro Moderne, 55 W. 44th St. (© 212/391-2400). Daniel Boulud's creation is made with braised short ribs, foie gras, preserved black truffles, and minced sirloin and goes for a whopping $29. See p. 200.
- Best Pizza: Patsy's Pizzeria, 2287 First Ave. (© 212/534-9783). This great East Harlem pizzeria has been cranking out coal-oven pizza since 1932. You can also order by the slice here, but only do so if the pie is fresh out of the oven. See p. 205.
- Best Seafood: Oceana, 55 E. 54th St. (© 212/759-5941). You won't believe what chef Cornelius Gallagher can do with fish. His culinary creations look so good on the plate that they are worthy of museum status.

What's really remarkable is that the food tastes as good as it looks. See p. 208.

- Best Steak: Strip House, 13 E. 12th St. (☎ 212/328-0000). Forget the cute play on words and the dizzying number of photos and artwork of old strippers and burlesque performers on the walls and concentrate on the red meat in front of you. Believe me, after a few bites, strippers and burlesque will be the last thing on your mind. See p. 189.
- Best for Families: Virgil's Real BBQ, 152 W. 44th St. (☎ 212/921-9494). Located in kid-friendly Times Square, Virgil's, in a sense, is a theme restaurant, the theme being barbecue, but they do an excellent job smoking their meats. It's loud, colorful, and has great options for the children. See p. 202.
- Best Cheap Meal: Gray's Papaya, 2090 Broadway (☎ 212/799-0243). Though the $2.45 "recession special"—two hot dogs and a fruit drink—is almost a $1 increase from the previous recession, it's still a bargain. But is it any good? Witness the lines out the door every day for lunch. See p. 218.
- Best Ice Cream: Brooklyn Ice Cream Factory, Fulton Ferry Landing Pier,

Brooklyn (☎ 718/246-3963). The perfect reward after a brisk walk across the Brooklyn Bridge. Rich homemade ice cream with a view of the Manhattan skyline, a tough combination to beat. See p. 180.

- Best Bagel: Absolute Bagels, 2788 Broadway (☎ 212/932-2105). They're not huge like some bagels these days, but they are always hot and cooked to perfection. See p. 198.
- Best Soul Food: Charles' Southern Style Kitchen, 2841 Eighth Ave. (☎ 877/813-2920 or 212/926-4313). Not only is this tiny Harlem restaurant the best soul food in the city, it's also the best buffet. For $9.95 on weekdays and $12 on weekends, the down-home offerings will tempt you to make an obscene amount of visits to the buffet line. See p. 226.
- Best Restaurant Restroom: Sapa, 43 W. 24th St. (☎ 212/929-1800). You can tell a lot about a restaurant by its restrooms and Sapa's, with its bubbling pool, candles, and Chinese screens, are so immaculate and beautifully designed you might want to linger a little longer than you should. But then the very good grub prepared by chef Patricia Yeo might get cold and you wouldn't want that. See p. 196.

18 Best Shopping

- Best Store: Saks Fifth Avenue. Not as overwhelming as other department stores, Saks is consistently good. And don't miss those window displays at Christmas. See p. 318.
- Best Clothes Store: Barney's. This store is the pinnacle with prices to match. See p. 316.
- Best Bookstore: Coliseum Books. This book-lover's paradise is a mini-superstore (if there is such a thing) with the heart of an independent. See p. 321.

- Best Music Store: Tower Records. A huge selection and frequent sales make this my personal favorite. See p. 340.
- Best Shopping Zone: SoHo, NoHo, and NoLita. All three neighborhoods are within easy walking distance of one another and feature the newest, trendiest boutiques. See p. 309.

19 Best Culture & Nightlife

- Best Performance Space: Carnegie Hall. You can find few greater performance spaces in the world than this one. Visually and acoustically brilliant, Carnegie Hall regularly attracts an amazing array of talent. See p. 357.
- Best Free Cultural Event: Shakespeare in the Park. Imagine Shakespeare performed by stars, under the stars, in Central Park. No wonder it has become a New York institution. See p. 360.
- Best Children's Theater: Paper Bag Players. For children ages 4–9, this group performs in the winter only and offers tales told in imaginative and original ways. See p. 348.
- Best Jazz Club: Village Vanguard. The acoustics and sight lines aren't great, but you can't do better for finding consistent, good-quality jazz. See p. 369.
- Best Rock Club: Mercury Lounge. This venue is intimate, but not obscure. The Merc is the best for hard-edged rock and roll. See p. 365.
- Best Comedy Club: Gotham Comedy Club. Comfortable and sophisticated, this is where the best come to hone their acts. See p. 370.
- Best Pub: Ear Inn. Located in an old hanger-on in chic SoHo, I hope it continues to survive amongst the lush lounges that surround it. See p. 373.
- Best Dive Bar: Subway Inn. Sure, I know you came to New York to go to a dive bar. Enter the Subway Inn, and it's as if you stepped into a 1940s moody film noir—minus the cigarette smoke, of course. See p. 379.
- Best Bar With a View: Rise Bar, in the Ritz-Carlton Battery Park Hotel. With views of Lady Liberty, New York Harbor, and incredible sunsets, this bar is worth seeking out even if you're not staying at the hotel. See p. 372.
