

Index

- A.T. Kearney, 64–67
Abrams, C., 105
Accenture, 107
Accountability, 123–124
Achievement motivation, 10
Active listening, 63–64
Adaptability principle: accepting ambiguity as part of, 40–41; G Quotient environment context of, 35–37; nonconformity and flexibility elements of, 44–46; Replacements, Ltd., implementation of, 41–44. See also Change
Affiliation motivation, 10
A-frame building workplace analogy, 158–159
Alcott, L. M., 131, 132
Ambiguity, 40–41
American Management Association survey (2000), 22
American Psychological Association, 115
American Psychologist, 133
Anna Karenina (Tolstoy), 45
Aristotle, 51
Arthur Andersen, 95
Authenticity: commitment to, 59; communicating with truth and, 61–63, 66; G Quotient environment commitment to, 59, 67–68; link between trust and, 60–61; respect invoked by, 62
Authority/power motivation, 10
Awareness: connectivity and internal, 47–48; Johari Window model on levels of personal, 110
Bain & Company: creativity principle implemented by, 28–30; as “making a difference” example, 142–143
Barclays Bank, 68, 69
Barclays Global Investors (BGI), 68–72
Barrios, J., 61–63
Bell, S., 64–67
Bennis, W., 26
Bilodeau, B., 142–143
Blanchard, K., 158
BlessingWhite, 15
Brainstorming, 22
Brown, J. S., 23
BTO (business transformation outsourcing), 32
Buckingham, M., 132
Burgess, T., 87–89
Burnett, L., 115
Canon, 112
Carolina Parenting Magazine’s best companies list, 42
Carp, D., 112
CEI (corporate equality index) (Human Rights Campaign): Citigroup’s ranking in, 51; description of, 15–16; Replacements, Ltd., ranking in, 42
Challenger, J., 152
Change: being open to shift in direction and, 39; as catalyst for success, 44; as constructive force in organizations, 36–37; David White as representative of, 37–39; Eastern cultural perspective of, 40–41; G Quotient environment and process of, 45–46; value of, 43. See also Adaptability principle; Status quo
Chester, E., 154
Chicago Innovation Awards, 131
Chief Executive magazine, 152
Child Enrichment Center (Mitchell Gold + Bob Williams), 139
CIRP survey, 156–157
CitiCapital, 50–53
Citigroup: connectivity principle practiced by, 50; as “making a difference” example, 140–141
Clifton, D., 132
Cognitive flexibility, 45
Colaner, K., 90–93, 141–142
Collaboration: employee engagement facilitated by, 86–87, 92; maximizing employee talents through, 87–89; orchestration of, 96; positive impact on workplace of, 90; self-disclosure as part of, 93–97
Collaboration principle: creating professional community through, 89–93; Ernst & Young’s implementation of, 94–97; Morgan Stanley’s implementation of, 87–89; USC Rossier School of Education’s implementation of, 90–93
Collins, J., 115
Comfort Zone (Mitchell Gold + Bob Williams), 7–8

- Communication: with authenticity and truth, 61–63, 66; benefits of direct, 70–71; “emoticon” symbols used as part of, 57; engaging your employees with effective, 59–60; ethics in, 67–72; global marketplace and role of, 72; of individual value of employees, 71–72; Johari Window model of, 110; organization honesty in management, practices, 68–72
- Communication principle: ethics as part of, 67–72; implemented at A.T. Kearney, 64–67; implemented by Barclays Global Investors, 68–72; importance of being heard as part of, 63–64; Jarrett Barrios’s implementation of, 61–63
- Communication World*, 149
- Concepts (creativity), 22
- Connectivity: creating tribal knowledge through, 55–57; exploring concept of, 48–50; external networking, 47; of gay men’s networks, 49–50; and internal awareness, 47–48
- Connectivity principle: Citi-Capital implementation of, 50–52; creating meaning through, 52–53; University of California implementation of, 53–55
- “Connectors,” 55
- Cooperative Institutional Research Program, 156
- Copyright registrations, 130
- Cousins, N., 52
- Crate & Barrel, 7
- Creativity: becoming inspired by, 30–31; bridging innovation and, 28–30; confidence required for, 33; G Quotient environment context of, 21–22, 26, 30; managing, 26–28; standing apart through, 32–34; turned into innovation, 23
- Creativity principle: Bain & Company’s implementation of, 28–30, 142–143; concepts, possibilities, and people focus of, 22–23; Hampshire College’s implementation of, 24–26; IBM Global Services’ implementation of, 32–34
- Cultural differences, 13
- Daewoo Motors, 111
- Deloitte & Touche USA LLP, 37, 106
- Deloitte Career Connections, 107
- Deloitte Consulting, 37–39
- DeMille, C. B., 53
- DePree, M., 30
- Dewey, J., 74–75
- Dickens, C., 43
- Digital Age: changing context of life in the, 151; communication techniques of the, 60; Eastman Kodak’s strategy for entering the, 112–113; information availability through, 125; information of, 60, 62, 125; Internet as information source in the, 149–150; reflection and intuition as currency of, 79; taking us beyond the, 159; using truth to communicate in the, 62
- Direct communication, 70–71
- Disney, R., 74
- Disney, W., 73–74, 78
- Disneyland, 73–74
- Diversity: GLBT, 15–16, 32–33, 42, 81; how G Quotient leadership facilitates, 119–120; learning to appreciate benefits of, 119–120
- Diversity Best Practices survey, 104
- Diversity Inc.’s top fifty companies list, 103
- “Don Quixote” syndrome, 45
- Donne, J., 48
- Douglas, Lord A., 135
- Drucker, P., 111
- Eastman Kodak Company, 112–113
- Economy of Cities, The* (Jacobs), 105
- Edwards, J., 150
- Einstein, A., 84
- eMarketer, 150
- “Emoticon” symbols, 57
- Employee blame cycle, 133–134
- Employee engagement: collaboration contributions to, 86–87, 92; creative opportunities for, 26; effective communication to facilitate, 59–60; experiential learning linked to, 125–126; inclusion to invite, 15–17; job ownership element of, 115–117, 135; low levels of U.S., 101–102
- Employee-management relationships: connectivity as part of, 51–52; inclusion principle’s impact on, 9–10, 14–15; trust element of, 60–61, 68, 93–97
- Employees: accessing intellectual capital of, 90; average work week of, 108–109; balancing needs of organizations, customers, and, 121–122; collaboration with, 85–97; Comfort Zone at Mitchell Gold + Bob Williams created for, 7–8; creating meaning through connectivity, 52–53; developing potential of, 66–67; feedback on G Quotient environment by, 116–117, 138–147; focus on positive characteristics of, 133–134; G Quotient leadership’s respect and value of, 4; Gen X, 102; Gen Y, 52, 101, 102, 153–157; happiness matters to, 108–110; importance of being heard to, 63–64; inclusion as promoting motivation of, 8–14; increasing concerns over erosion of trust by, 68; individual value of, 37, 71–72; job ownership by,

- 115–117, 135; job satisfaction levels of, 101–102; maximizing talents of, 87–89; recognizing and using talents of, 23; trusting in, ability to do the work, 147; X-Y management theory on managing, 113–114
- Employing Generation Why* (Chester), 154
- Enron, 114
- Entrepreneur-style management, 134–135, 157
- Equality: CEI measurement of GLBT, 15–16, 42; as central to inclusion principle, 6; G Quotient leadership approach's use of justice and, 8; inclusion principle to promote workplace, 3–19
- Ethics: Barclays Global Investors' commitment to, 68–72; communication in context of, 67–68
- "Executive cheerleader," 34
- Experience and Nature* (Dewey), 74–75
- Experiential flexibility, 45
- Experiential learning, 125–126
- External networking, 47
- "Face of the Web" survey, 149
- Fast Company*, 42
- FedEx, 152
- Feedback: from employees in G Quotient environments, 116–117, 138–147; X-Y management theory approach to, 113–114
- "Fighting windmills," 45
- Flexibility, 44–46
- Flight of the Creative Class* (Florida), 105
- Florida, R., 21, 105, 147
- Ford, H., 8
- Ford Motor Company, 8–9
- Fortnightly Review*, 135
- Fortune* magazine, 85, 107
- Frank, T., 79–81
- Fuller, M., 32–34
- G Quotient environment:
   adaptability in, 35–37; balancing needs of organiza-
- tions, customers, and employees in, 121–122; challenge and responsibility as part of, 147–148; challenging the status quo in, 44–45; collaboration in, 85–87, 90, 92, 94; commitment to authenticity and truth in, 59, 67–68; competitive and successful nature of, 52; creativity in, 21–22, 26, 30; drawing strength from stakeholder talents, 105; employee feedback on working in, 116–117; external networking and internal awareness encouraged in, 47–48; inclusion in, 3–4; innovation in, 23; intuitive process in, 82–84; mistakes leading to innovation in, 113–115; process of radical change in, 45–46; two forms of flexibility in, 45; yet-to-be-discovered information as part of, 41
- G Quotient leader: accountability of, 123–124; Jarrett Barrios as, 61–63; Simon Bell as, 64–67; Trevor Burgess as, 87–89; Kevin Colaner as, 90–93, 141–142; connectivity valued by, 48; creativity facilitation by, 27–28; entrepreneur-style management of, 134–135, 157; examples of "making a difference" by, 138–147; Tod Frank as, 79–81; Mitchell Gold and Bob Williams as, 4–8, 140; Roland Jarquio as, 75–77; job ownership facilitated by, 115–117, 135; justice and equity approach used by, 8; as managing inspiration, 130–132; Brent Mitchell as, 50–52, 140–141; Greg Morley as, 11–14; new type of power by, 111–113; as open to shift in direction, 39; Bob Page as, 41–44, 143–146; rejection of status quo by, 46; respect and value conveyed by, 4; Steve Sears as, 15–17, 146–147; Chad Spittler as, 68–72; Mike Syers as, 94–97; Steven Tallman as, 28–30, 142–143; as in the trenches, 129–130; unique characteristics of, 66–67; as valuing his or her own leadership, 135–136. See also Managers
- G Quotient leadership: advancing a new type of power, 111–113; building collaborative/positive work communities, 91; CEI in context of, 15–16; diversity facilitated by, 119–120; "executive cheerleader" role of, 34; globalization and role of, 151–153; inclusion used to inspire rather than rule in, 8–11; as increasing profitability, 105–108; job ownership facilitated by, 115–117, 135; justice and equity approach used in, 8; and making a difference, 137–147; qualities of, that managers need to know, 120–136; and shifting to new era of leadership, 157–159. See also Leadership
- G Quotient leadership differences: Charley Holt on, 138–140; Christopher Newman and Carolyn Stirling on, 141–142; Toby Pearlstein and Barbara Bilodeau on, 142–143; Kelly M. Smith on, 145–146; Rita Stockett on, 146–147; Amy Sullivan on, 140–141; two forms of, 137–138; Jack Whitley and Andrew Spainhour on, 143–145
- G Quotient leadership qualities: both objective and subjective, 121–122; focuses on positive employee characteristics,

- 133–134; focuses on processes of work, 122–124; focuses on the present, 126–129; manages inspiration, 130–132; runs organization like an entrepreneur, 134–135; systems approach to management, 124–125; in the trenches, 129–130; understands and values its own leadership, 135–136; values experiential learning, 125–126
- G Quotient principles: adaptability, 35–46; collaboration, 85–97; communication, 59–72; connectivity, 47–57; creativity, 21–34; inclusion, 3–19, 105–108, 113; intuition, 73–84
- Gallup Management Journal*, 101
- Gardner, H., 82
- Gay Financial Network, 18
- Gay marriage debate, 62
- Gay men's connectivity, 49–50
- "Gay Soldier/Iraq" e-mail, 18–19
- GE Consumer Finance, 75–77
- Gen X, 102
- Gen Y: characteristics of, 101–102, 153–154; emerging work patterns of, 155–157; importance of connectivity to, 52–53; social values of, 156; three job requirements for members of, 155
- General Electric Company, 75
- General Mills, 101, 102, 103
- "Generation Y: They've Arrived at Work with a New Attitude" (USA Today), 154
- Gitlin, S., 103
- Gladwell, M., 55
- GLBT diversity: CEI measurement of equality and, 15–16, 42; IBM's commitment to, 32–33; Quest Diagnostics' officially sanctioned resource for, 81
- Globalization, 151–153
- Gold, M., 4–8, 42, 140
- Gray & Christmas, 152
- Groupthink, 37
- Guidance, power of, 111–113
- Hampshire College, 24–26
- Happiness, 108–110
- Harrington, K., 130
- Hay Group, 85
- Hay Insight, 89
- Herman Miller, 30
- Hexter, R., 24–26
- Hierarchy of needs theory, 80, 137
- Higher Education Research Institute, 156
- Hong Kong Disneyland, 11–14
- Hudson survey (2005), 9
- Human Capital Development Framework tool (Accenture), 107
- Human Rights Campaign's Corporate Equality Index (CEI): Citigroup's ranking on, 51; description of, 15–16; Replacements, Ltd. ranking on, 42
- IBM Global Services, 32–34
- Inclusion principle: building value through, 17–19; embraced by Eastman Kodak, 113; equality as central to, 6; inviting employee engagement through, 15–17; Mitchell Gold Company implementation of, 4–8; motivation built through, 8–14; overview of the, 3–4; professional relationships affected by, 9–10, 14–15; profitability of the, 105–108
- Information: Digital Age, 60, 62, 125; Internet as source of, 149–150; reflection on existing, 78–79; right- and left-brain processing of, 82–83
- Information Week* surveys, 147
- Inglehart, R., 109
- Innovation: bridging creativity and, 28–30; mistakes leading to, 113–115; turning creativity into, 23
- Inspiration management, 130–132
- Intellectual capital, 90
- Internal awareness, 47–58
- Internet: increasing rates of use, 149–150; as information source, 149. See also Web sites
- Intuition: defined as business skill, 77–79; dictionary definition of, 77; as effective leadership strategy, 73–75; as right-brain process, 83; value of, 84
- Intuition principle: GE Consumer Finance implementation of, 75–77; perceptual intelligence level required for using, 82–84; Quest Diagnostics' implementation of, 79–81
- Ipsos-Insight "Face of the Web" survey, 149
- Jacobs, J., 105
- Jarquo, R., 31, 75–77
- Job ownership, 115–117, 135
- Job satisfaction levels, 101–102
- Johari Window model of communication behavior, 110
- Jung, C., 77
- Kang & Lee Advertising, 103
- Kaplan, J., 155
- Knowledge sharing, 55–57
- Kolb, D. A., 125
- Korthagen, F., 78
- Leadership: paradigm shift of, 157–159; vision of responsibility of, 153. See also G Quotient leadership
- Learning by doing, 125–126
- Left-brain processes, 82–83
- LGBT diversity. See GLBT diversity
- LifeCare poll (2003), 52
- Library of Congress, 130
- Little Women* (Alcott), 131
- "Making a difference" examples: Charley Holt on, 138–140; Christopher Newman and Carolyn Stirling on, 141–142;

- Toby Pearlstein and Barbara Bilodeau on, 142–143; Kelly M. Smith on, 145–146; Rita Stockett on, 146–147; Amy Sullivan on, 140–141; Jack Whitley and Andrew Spainhour on, 143–145
- Management: entrepreneur-style, 134–135, 157; of inspiration, 130–132; organization honesty regarding practices of, 68–72; scientific, 105; systems theory approach to, 124–125; X-Y theory of, 113–114
- Management-employee relationships: connectivity as part of, 51–52; inclusion principle's impact on, 9–10, 14–15; trust element of, 60–61, 68, 93–97
- Managers: appreciating job ownership by employees, 115–117, 135; direction and guidance as new form of power, 111–113; employee blame cycle by some, 133–134; understanding importance of happy employees, 108–110; understanding the new workplace, 101–105; understanding that inclusion is profitable, 105–108; understanding that mistakes can lead to innovation, 113–115. See also G Quotient leaders
- Martin Chuzzlewit* (Dickens), 43
- Maslow, A., 80, 137
- Maslow's hierarchy of needs theory, 80, 137
- Massachusetts gay marriage debate, 62
- McClelland, D., 10, 11
- McGregor, D., 113
- McKinsey & Company, 31, 76
- Mitchell, B., 50–52, 140–141
- Mitchell, G., 27
- Mitchell Gold + Bob Williams: inclusion practiced at, 4–8; as “making a difference” example, 138–140; on-site day care at, 139
- Mittelstaedt, R. E., Jr., 114
- Morgan Stanley, 87–89
- Morley, G., 11–14
- Motivation. See Workplace motivation
- MTV Networks, 156
- National Sleep Foundation, 108
- NatSteel, 111
- New York Times Book Review*, 105
- Newman, C., 141–142
- Nichols Institute (Quest Diagnostics), 79
- Nielsen/NetRatings Internet use report, 150
- Nonconformity, 44–46
- Now Discover Your Strengths* (Buckingham and Clifton), 132
- Oakley, J., 108
- One America, 150
- Organizations: balancing needs of employees, customers, and, 121–122; change as constructive force in, 36–37; creating tribal knowledge of, 55–57; facilitating forward movement through creativity, 22–23; honest communication regarding management of, 68–72; instilling creativity into life stream of, 31; positive effects of active listening to employees for, 64; responses to diverse “new neighborhood” by, 103–105; running, like entrepreneurs, 134–135
- Organizational P's (planning, proficiency, and profitability), 85–86, 92–93
- Page, B., 41–44, 143–146
- Palo Alto Research Center (PARC), 23
- Patent applications, 130
- Pearlstein, T., 142–143
- People, and creativity, 23
- PepsiCo: inclusion principle implementation by, 15–17; as “making a difference” example, 146–147
- Perez, A., 113
- Planning, 85–86
- Positive psychology, 133–134
- Possibilities, and creativity, 22
- Pottery Barn, 7
- Power: of guidance, 111–113; motivation for, 10
- Present versus past focus, 126–129
- Principles of Scientific Management, The* (Taylor), 105
- Professional relationships: collaboration to create community of, 89–93; connectivity as part of, 51–52; inclusion principle's impact on, 9–10, 14–15
- Proficiency, 85, 86, 92–93
- Profitability: of inclusion, 105–108; as one of organizational P's, 85, 86
- Queensberry Scandal (1895), 135–136
- Quest Diagnostics, 79–81
- Quigley, J., 106
- RainmakerThinking, 154–155
- Reflection, 78–79
- Replacements, Ltd.: adaptability principle implemented by, 41–44; as “making a difference” example, 143–146
- Respect: authentic communication invoking, 62; as G Quotient leadership approach, 4; “Gay Soldier/Iraq” e-mail on lack of, 18–19; subtle language of, 72
- Responsibility: leadership, 153; as workplace motivation factor, 147–148
- Restoration Hardware, 7
- Reuters global economy report (2006), 152
- Rice, C., 15
- Right-brain processes, 82–83
- Rise of the Creative Class* (Florida), 21, 105, 147
- Royal, M., 89–90
- Royal Bank of Canada, 27
- RSS (Really Simple Syndication), 151

- Saturday Review*, 52
 Schubert, W., 18
 Scientific management, 105
 Sears, S., 15–17, 146–147
 Seeger, M. W., 68
 Self-actualization, 80
 Self-disclosure: example of implementing, 94–97; professional, 93–94; trust developed through, 93–97
 Seligman, M., 133
 SHRM (Society for Human Resource Management)
   Workplace Forecast, 68
 Six degrees of separation theory, 55
 Small Business Administration,
   135
 Smith, F., 152
 Smith, K. M., 145–146
 Social values development, 156
 Sony, 112
 “Soul of Man Under Socialism,
   The” (Wilde), 135
 Spainhour, A., 143–145, 145
 Sperry, R., 82–83
 Spider web, 49
 Spitler, C., 68–72
 Split-brain individuals, 83
 Status quo: as more comfortable path, 80–81; process of changing the, 45–46.
   See also Change
 Stirling, C., 141–142
 Stockett, R., 146–147
 Stofan, J., 53–55
 Sullivan, A., 140–141
 Syers, M., 94–97
Systems of Survival (Jacobs), 105
 Systems theory, 124–125
- Tallman, S., 28–30, 142–143
Tao: The Watercourse Way
   (Watts and Huang), 121
 TAS (Transaction Advisory Services) (Ernst & Young),
   94–95
 Tata, R., 111–112
 Tata Group, 111–112
 Tata Sons, 111
 Tata Steel, 112
 Taylor, F., 105–106, 111
 Tetley Tea, 111
- Thoreau, H. D., 72
Tipping Point, The (Gladwell),
   55
 Toffler, A., 40
 Tolstoy, L., 45
 Tribal knowledge, 55–57
 Trust: dictionary definition of,
   93; increasing concerns
   over erosion of employee, 68; link between authenticity, truth, and, 60–61;
   of managers in employees’
   ability to do the work, 147;
   self-disclosure necessary for developing, 93–97
 Truth: commitment to, 59;
   communicating with authenticity and, 61–63,
   66; G Quotient environment commitment to, 59,
   67–68; link between trust and, 60–61
 Tulgan, B., 154
 Twain, M., 17
- United States: average work week in the, 108; new business “neighborhood” in the, 103–105; job satisfaction levels in the, 101–102
 University of California, 53–55
 U.S. Census (2000), 103
 U.S. patent office, 130
USA Today, 154
 USC Rossier School of Education: collaboration principle practiced by, 90–93;
   as “making a difference”
   example, 141–142
 Utrecht University (Amsterdam), 78
- Value: of change, 43; conveyed by G Quotient leaders, 4; employees and their individual, 37, 71–72; inclusion principle used to build,
   17–19; of intuition, 84;
   placed by G Quotient leaders on their own leadership, 135–136; placed on experiential learning, 125–126
 von Bertalanffy, L., 124
- War and Peace* (Tolstoy), 45
 Watts, A., 121
 Web sites: Gay Financial Network, 18; as information
   source, 149–150; RSS (Really Simple Syndica-tion) technology used with,
   151. See also Internet
 “What might have been” mentality, 126–129
 White, D., 37–39, 46
 Whitley, J., 143–145
 Whole-brained, 31
 Wilde, O., 135–136
Will Your Next Mistake Be Fatal? (Mittelstaedt), 114
 Williams, B., 4–8, 42, 140
 Winston (dog), 48
 Wizard of Oz syndrome, 110
Work and Family Newsbrief, 52 Workplace: A-frame building analogy of, 158–159; average work week spent at the,
   108–109; equality as central to inclusion in the, 6;
   “family” used to describe,
   93; positive impact of collaboration on, 90–93
 Workplace Forecast (2004-
   2005) (SHRM), 68
 Workplace motivation: challenge and responsibility factors of, 147–148; Hong Kong
   Disneyland’s use of inclusion to build, 11–14; how inclusion paves the way for, 8–14;
   three types of, 10; workplace motivational thinking as basis for promoting, 10
 World Values Survey (WVS), 109
 Worldwide Web, 48–49
 Wrigley Company, 131
- Xerox, 23
 X-Y management theory,
   113–114
- Yahoo! 150
 Yet-to-be-discovered information, 41
 Yin-yang philosophy, 121
 Young & Rubicam, 103