

Index

• Numerics •

802.11a, 71
802.11b, 71–72
802.11g, 72
802.11n, 72
100Base-T cable, 36
10Base-T cable, 36
3Com, 25

• A •

access points
 configuring, 89, 93
 overview, 22 wireless networks, 75–76
accessing
 My Network Places (Windows XP), 165–166 remote computers, 136–137 across the network, files that should never be opened, 198
Ad-Aware from Lavasoft, 231
Add a Port dialog box (Windows XP firewall), 221
Add a Program dialog box (Windows XP firewall), 220
ad-hoc mode for wireless networks, 90
ADSL (asynchronous DSL), 60–61
Advanced tab (Windows XP firewall), 222–223 advantages of home networks, 10–11
advertising spyware, 231
The American Library Association
 (Web site), 319
antivirus experts, checking with, 215
antivirus programs cleaning the file, 213 deleting the file, 213
 heuristic scanning, 213
 isolating the file, 213
 McAfee VirusScan, 212

Norton AntiVirus, 212
 overview, 211–213
 PC-Cillin, 212
AOL parental controls, 314–315
AppleTalk, 110
asynchronous DSL (ADSL), 60–61 availability of print server, 161

• B • backbone servers, 95 backing up to network computers computer folder, copying documents from, 249 external hard drive used for, 252–253 NAS (Network Attached Storage) devices,

 using, 252–253
 overview, 248–249
 Send To feature used for, 249–251 backups, data. See data backups baseband signaling, 36 basement/second-floor room arrangement, cabling between, 45 batch file for removal of Microsoft Word backup files, 263–265
Belkin firewall device, 229–230
 overview, 25
 routers, 91–92
blogs, 296–297 boot sector viruses, 207–208
bridges setup configuration process, 89
 using, 61–62 brownouts, protecting against, 238–240
budget for household
 overview, 294
 setting up, 294–295 software for, selecting, 294
 using, 294–295
built-in Ethernet adapter, using, 65

• C •

- C drive displayed, opening Windows
 - Explorer with, 185–186
- Cable Unplugged error, 32–33
- cabling system
 - between adjacent rooms, 43
 - checking cables as preventive maintenance, 242
 - concentrator, 17
 - electrical line connections, 20–21
 - Ethernet cable, 17
 - between floors, 45–46
 - hub, 17
 - megabit, 17
 - megabits per second (Mbps), 17
 - between nonadjacent rooms on the same floor, 43–45
 - overview, 16–17
 - patch cables, creating your own, 42
 - powerline networking, 20–21
 - RJ-45 connectors, 17
 - within a room, 43
 - switch, 17
 - telephone line cable, 17–20
 - troubleshooting, 163
 - twisted-pair cable, 17
 - wireless connections, 21–23
- canceling print jobs, 152–153
- canned air, using, 245
- CAT-5 cable, 17, 35–37
- CAT-5e cable, 35–37
- CD-ROM subcategory (System Information), 280
- chain letters, 215
- Change Scope dialog box (Windows XP firewall), 221–222
- chat rooms, tips for, 316–317
- child safety while on the Internet
 - AOL parental controls, 314–315
 - chat rooms, tips for, 316–317
 - child's room, not putting a computer in a, 308
 - Comcast parental controls, 316
 - computer games, setting guidelines for the level of violence in, 318–319
 - content of Web sites, setting controls on, 308–309
 - e-mail filtering, 316
 - filters, creating Web site, 312–313
 - finding acceptable Web sites for children, 317–318
 - Internet, talking to your children about the, 308
 - ISP restrictions, 314–316
 - MSN parental controls, 315–316
 - parental controls in Windows Vista, using, 311–312
 - password protect your configuration settings so child can't access, 309–311
 - software used to filter Web sites, 314
 - child shares, 114–115
 - child's room, not putting a computer in a, 308
 - cleaning files with antivirus programs, 213
 - client computers, 12
 - client/server networks, 12–13
 - closet, keeping your drill holes in the, 44–45
 - collaboration on documents, 292–294
 - color documents, printing, 155–159
 - color printer configured for monochrome printing, 158–159
 - Comcast parental controls, 316
 - command line, working with mapped drives at the, 180–181
 - commands visible to other users, logging off to prevent, 125
 - Components category (System Information), 279–280
 - computer added to network, 93–97
 - computer folder
 - copying documents from, 249
 - working with mapped drives in the, 180
 - computer output watched on television, 304–305
 - computer sharing
 - child shares, 114–115
 - folders, sharing, 119–120
 - hard drive, sharing a, 116–118
 - hidden shares, 124–125
 - hierarchy for, 114–116

- overview, 113–114
- parent shares, 114–115
- peripheral drives, sharing, 118–119
- pre-shared documents folder, 121–124
- removable drives, sharing, 118–119
- Windows XP security and sharing resources, 120–121
- concentrators
 - adding, 49–50
 - electrical outlet, need for, 39
 - environmental requirements of, 39
 - hub as, 37–38
 - overview, 17, 37–38
 - star topology, 38
 - surge protector, using a, 39
 - switch as, 37
 - uplink port, 37
 - use of multiple, 46
 - where to put, 38–39
- configuration types
 - client/server networks, 12–13
 - mixed networks, 14
 - overview, 12
 - peer-to-peer networks, 13–14
- configuring computers for efficient backups, 247
- conflicts with Windows XP firewall, avoiding, 225
- Conflicts/Sharing subcategory (System Information), 279
- connecting
 - print server to network, 161
 - two patch cables, 41
 - when reconnection fails, 179–180
- connectors, checking, 241–242
- content of Web sites, setting controls on, 308–309
- converting music files, 302–303
- copying files
 - between computers, 186–189
 - with Send To feature, 251
- couplers, 41
- crossover cable, 50
- Cyber Patrol, 314
- Cyber Sentinel, 314

• D •

- daily backups, 246–247
- daisy chain, 60
- data backups
 - configuring computers for efficient backups, 247
 - daily backups, 246–247
 - full backups, 254
 - incremental backups, 254
 - media, backups for, 248
 - to network computers, 248–253
 - overview, 245
 - software CDs and disks, storing, 247–248
 - what to back up, deciding, 245–246
 - when to back up, 246–247
- data encryption
 - overview, 79
 - WEP (Wired Equivalent Privacy), 80–82
 - WPA (Wi-Fi Protected Access), 81–82
- Dave (software), 200–201
- decor issues and installation of Ethernet cable, 47–49
- default printer, creating a, 148
- Default Settings section (Windows XP firewall), 223
- definitions, 233
- defragging your hard drive
 - how hard drives get fragged, 269–270
 - how it works, 270–273
 - overview, 268
 - in Windows Vista, 272–273
 - in Windows XP, 270–272
- deleting files
 - with antivirus programs, 213
 - remote files, 190
- descriptive information on network components, viewing, 170–171
- Device Manager
 - drives, viewing specific, 274
 - opening, 273
 - overview, 273–274
 - printing a report on devices in your system, 275
 - problems, resolving, 274–275

- DHCP (Dynamic Host Configuration Protocol), 75
 - dial-up networking (DUN), 97
 - digital subscriber line (DSL)
 - overview, 60–61
 - powerline kits, 66
 - Direct connection to a concentrator or a modem that won't be shared, option (Windows XP Network Setup Wizard), 101
 - Direct connection to a modem option (Windows XP Network Setup Wizard), 100
 - Direct connection to a router or to a computer with a modem option (Windows XP Network Setup Wizard), 100
 - disaster planning and recovery
 - backing up to network computers, 248–253
 - data backups, 245–253
 - electrical damage, 235–240
 - Microsoft Backup, 253–255
 - preventive maintenance for your hardware, 240–245
 - restoring a system after a disaster, 255
 - Send To feature, 249–251
 - System Restore, 256
 - Disk Cleanup, 257–258, 277–278
 - Disk Defragmenter, 268. See also defragging your hard drive
 - disk errors, troubleshooting, 281–282
 - Display subcategory (System Information), 280
 - distance of signals in wireless networks, 73
 - D-Link
 - firewall device, 229–230
 - overview, 25
 - routers, 91–92
 - DMA subcategory (System Information), 279
 - documents
 - collaboration, 292–294
 - library, setting up a, 295
 - tracking changes in, 292–294
 - in use, 195–198
 - Domain Profile tab (Windows Vista firewall), 226
 - download center, setting up a, 295–296
 - downloaded music, playing, 301–302
 - dragging files, copying by, 186–188
 - drivers
 - described, 88
 - installed for network adapters, 88–89
 - drives, viewing specific, 274
 - DSL (digital subscriber line)
 - overview, 60–61
 - powerline kits, 66
 - dual-band devices, 72
 - ducts, installation of Ethernet cable and using, 46
 - DUN (dial-up networking), 97
 - duplicating users on remote computers, 136–137
 - Dynamic Host Configuration Protocol (DHCP), 75
- E ●
- 802.11a standard, 71
 - 802.11b standard, 71–72
 - 802.11g standard, 72
 - 802.11n standard, 72
 - electrical damage
 - brownouts, protecting against, 238–240
 - electrical surges, protecting against, 235–236
 - lightning hits, protecting against, 237
 - low-voltage problems, 238–240
 - power loss, protecting against, 238
 - static electricity damage, preventing, 240
 - surge protectors, using, 236
 - telephone line surges, protecting against, 237
 - uninterruptible power supply (UPS), using, 238
 - voltage regulators, using, 239
 - electrical line connections, 20–21
 - electrical outlet, need for, 39
 - electrical surges, protecting against, 235–236
 - e-mail filtering, 316
 - e-mail, precautions to take when reading, 214
 - embedded network cards, 15
 - embedded network controllers, 15
 - enabling printer sharing, 142–144
 - encryption. See data encryption environmental requirements of

 concentrators, 39
 error-checking tool, running, 267–268
 Ethernet adapter, connecting wireless devices to an, 90–91
 Ethernet cable, 17
 Ethernet networks, checking connectors in, 241
 EtherTalk, 110
 Exceptions tab (Windows XP firewall), 220–222
 existing wires used for your network phonline networking, 54–64
 powerline networking, 64–67
 external hard drive used for backing up to network computers, 252–253 external modem, steps for using, 19

● F ●

faceplates, adding cable, 47–48
 FamiliesConnect (Web site), 318 family. See also child safety while on the Internet
 blogging, 296–297 document library, setting up a, 295 picture album, creating a network, 303
 slide shows, creating, 303–304
 Web site, setting up a, 305–306 family shopping list creating, 290–291
 overview, 290
 tips for using, 291
 using, 291–292
 fast user switching, 131
 FAT (File Allocation Table), 266
 FDM (Frequency Division Multiplexing), 55
 File Transfer Protocol. See FTP file-infecting viruses, 206–207 files. See also remote files across the network, files that should never be opened, 198 batch file for removal of Microsoft Word
 backup files, 263–265
 cleaning files with antivirus programs, 213
 converting music files, 302–303
 copying files, 186–189, 251
 deleting files, 190, 213
 dragging files, copying by, 186–188
 extensions, visibility of, 207 Internet, precautions to take when downloading files from the, 214–215
 Microsoft Word backup files, removing, 263–265
 moving files, 189–190
 read-only files, 196
 right-dragging files, 188, 189 separate windows, dragging files between, 188
 sharing, enabling, 102
 temporary Internet files removal, 258, 258–260, 260, 261 transferring files between PCs and Macintosh, 199–201
 filters creating Web site, 312–313
 e-mail filters, 316
 overview, 61
 Firefox, temporary Internet files removal in, 261
 firewalls
 how it works, 217–218 need for, reasons for, 217
 overview, 216
 port scanning, 218
 in routers, 229–230
 stateful inspection, 218
 troubleshooting, 163
 Windows Vista firewall, 225–228
 Windows XP firewall, 219–225
 firmware update, 81 floor cable covers, using, 48–49 folder trees, 132
 folders, sharing, 119–120
 Forced Hardware subcategory (System Information), 279 format for universal naming convention
 (UNC), 172–173
 Frequency Division Multiplexing (FDM), 55
 frequency hopping, 23
 FTP (File Transfer Protocol)
 overview, 199
 used to transfer files between PCs and Macintosh, 199–200
 full backups, 254

• G •

- games
 - played over Windows Live Messenger, 305
 - setting guidelines for the level of violence in, 318–319
- ganging the network and the telephone, 56
- ganging the network, the telephone, and an external modem, 57
- ganging the network, the telephone, and an internal modem, 58–59
- gigabit, 36
- growth of network, accommodating, 49–50

• H •

- hackers, 216
- handling cable, 41–42
- hard drive damage
 - checking for, 265–268
 - error-checking tool, running, 267–268
 - overview, 265
 - reasons for, 266
- hard drive sharing
 - overview, 116
 - in Windows Vista, 117–118
 - in Windows XP, 116
- hardware
 - cabling system, 16–23
 - embedded network cards, 15
 - embedded network controllers, 15
 - network connection types, 15–16
 - network interface card (NIC), 15, 16
 - overview, 15
 - USB connectors, 15–16
 - for wireless networks, 74–76
- hardware purchasing
 - computer geeks, gathering information from, 24
 - Internet, gathering information from, 24
 - kits, 25–26
 - magazines, gathering information from computer, 24
 - overview, 23–24
 - researching home networking before, 24
 - tips for, 25–26
- Hardware Resources category (System Information), 279

- Harry Potter (Web site), 318
- heuristic scanning, 213
- hidden shares
 - commands visible to other users, logging off to prevent, 125
 - creating, 125
 - overview, 124
 - remote computer, retrieving file in hidden share from, 125
- hierarchy for computer sharing, 114–116
- Home Phoneline Networking Alliance, 54
- HomePlug Powerline Alliance, 54
- HomePNA, 54
- hops, 95
- hot installation, 88
- hotspots, 82–83
- household inventory, creating a, 298–299
- hub
 - as concentrator, 37–38
 - overview, 17

• I •

- ICMP setting (Windows XP firewall), 223
- icons
 - in My Network Places (Windows XP), 168–171
 - for network adapter on taskbar, displaying, 30–31
- ICRA (Internet Content Rating Association), 309, 311
- ICS (Internet Connection Sharing), 31–32, 66, 98
- IEEE (Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers), 71
- IMs (Instant Messages), 297
- incremental backups, 254
- individual message boards, creating, 287
- Infrared subcategory (System Information), 280
- infrared wireless connections, 21–22
- infrastructure mode for wireless networks, 90
- Input subcategory (System Information), 280
- installation. See also installation of Ethernet cable; installation of network adapters
 - hot installation, 88
 - of Microsoft Backup, 253–254

- of network printer, 146–150
 - of print server, 161–162
 - installation of Ethernet cable
 - basement/second-floor room
 - arrangement, cabling between, 45
 - cabling between adjacent rooms, 43
 - cabling between floors, 45–46
 - cabling between nonadjacent rooms on the same floor, 43–45
 - cabling within a room, 43
 - CAT-5 cable, 35–37
 - CAT-5e cable, 35–37
 - closet, keeping your drill holes in the, 44–45
 - concentrators, 37–39, 46, 49–50
 - connecting two patch cables, 41
 - couplers, 41
 - creating your own patch cables, 42
 - crossover cable, 50
 - decor issues, 47–49
 - ducts, using, 46
 - faceplates, adding cable, 47–48
 - floor cable covers, using, 48–49
 - gravity, using, 46
 - growth of network, accommodating, 49–50
 - handling cable, 41–42
 - kitty-corner room arrangement, cabling between, 46
 - length of cable, location of concentrator determining, 40
 - 100Base-T cable, 36
 - overview, 35–37
 - routers, not adding additional, 51
 - running the cable, 43–45
 - runs, planning, 35–37
 - shielded twisted-pair (STP) cable, 36–37
 - stacked room arrangement, cabling between, 45
 - 10Base-T cable, 36
 - tips for running cable across multiple levels, 46
 - unshielded twisted-pair (UTP) cable, 36–37
 - uplink ports, 49–50
 - zoning, 51–52
 - installation of network adapters
 - laptop adapters, installing, 29–30
 - network connection type, 27
 - network device connection type, 27
 - NIC connections, mixing, 27
 - PC Card network adapter, 29–30
 - USB connectors, adding, 28–29
 - Instant Messages (IMs), 297
 - Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers (IEEE), 71
 - Intel, 25
 - Intellon, 25
 - Internet
 - child safety while on the Internet, 308
 - hardware purchasing, gathering information on, 24
 - how it works, 95
 - precautions to take when downloading files from the, 214–215
 - set up only an Internet connection, option for, 101
 - telephone switchboard, creating an, 306
 - Internet Connection Sharing (ICS), 31–32, 66, 98
 - Internet Content Rating Association (ICRA), 309, 311
 - Internet Explorer 6, temporary Internet files removal in, 258–260
 - Internet Explorer 7, temporary Internet files removal in, 260
 - Internet hacking, 216
 - Internet Settings category (System Information), 281
 - inventory, creating a, 298–299
 - I/O subcategory (System Information), 279
 - IP addresses of popular routers, 91, 230
 - IPsec Settings tab (Windows Vista firewall), 227
 - IRQs subcategory (System Information), 279
 - isolating the file with antivirus programs, 213
 - ISP restrictions
 - AOL parental controls, 314–315
 - child safety while on the Internet, 314–316
 - Comcast parental controls, 316
 - MSN parental controls, 315–316
- 1 •
- Judy Blume (Web site), 318

• K •

keychain drive, 105
 kits for home networks, 25–26 kitty-corner room arrangement, cabling between, 46

• L • laptop adapters, installing, 29–30 launching. See opening length of cable, location of concentrator

 determining, 40
 letters, understanding drive, 175–176
 license agreements, 199
 lightning hits, protecting against, 237 line jack, 56
 Linksys
 firewall device, 229–230
 overview, 25
 routers, 91–92
 local computer, 165 location
 length of cable, location of concentrator determining, 40
 for print server, 160 for printer, choosing, 142 Logging settings (Windows Vista firewall), 228
 logon name for routers, 92, 230
 in Windows Vista, 134
 in Windows XP, 128
 low-voltage problems, 238–240

• M •

Macintosh network, adding Macintosh to, 110–111
 remote files, 199–201 transferring files between PCs, 199–201 macro viruses, 208–210
 MacTalk, 110 magazines, gathering information on hardware purchasing from computer, 24 maintenance. See preventive maintenance for your hardware management of network printing

 canceling print jobs, 152–153
 manipulating print jobs, 151–153
 overview, 151
 pausing print jobs, 152, 153
 pausing the printer, 152
 resuming print jobs, 152
 spooler, 151
 managing users and profiles in Windows Vista changing passwords, 135 creating users, 134
 logon name, 134
 overview, 133
 user profiles, managing, 135–136 managing users and profiles in Windows XP
 adding passwords, 130–131
 changing passwords, 130–131 creating passwords, 129 creating users, 128–129
 logon name, 128
 overview, 128
 user profiles, managing, 132–133
 manipulating print jobs, 151–153
 manually setting up network keys, 108
 manually setting up the network computer added to network, 93–97
 overview, 93
 router, sharing a connection with a, 97
 telephone mode, sharing a, 97–98
 Windows Vista, adding a computer running, 95–97
 Windows XP, adding a computer running, 94, 97
 workgroup name, default name for, 93 manufacturers of networking products
 Belkin, 25
 D-Link, 25
 Intel, 25
 Intellon, 25
 Linksys, 25
 Netgear, 25
 3Com, 25

- mapping drives
 - added to Send To folder in Windows XP, 250–251
 - command line, working with mapped drives at the, 180–181
 - computer folder, working with mapped drives in the, 180
 - connecting when reconnection fails, 179–180
 - how it works, 175–176
 - letters, understanding drive, 175–176
 - overview, 175
 - persistent connections, 179
 - reconnecting mapped drives, 179
 - UNC, mapping, 176–178
 - using, 178–179
 - viewing, 178
 - Master Boot Record (MBR), 207
 - Master File Table (MFT), 266
 - McAfee VirusScan, 212
 - media, backups for, 248
 - megabit, 17
 - megabits per second (Mbps), 17
 - Memory subcategory (System Information), 279
 - message center
 - individual message boards, creating, 287
 - overview, 285
 - setting up, 285–289
 - shared folder created for, 286
 - shortcut to, creating a, 289
 - testing message boards, 287–288
 - tips for using, 288–289
 - microfilters, 61
 - Microsoft Backup
 - configuration options for, 254–255
 - described, 253
 - installation of, 253–254
 - Microsoft Word backup files, removing, 263–265
 - microsplitters, 61
 - mixed networks, 14
 - Modem subcategory (System Information), 280
 - modes. See configuration types
 - modular duplex jack, 18, 56
 - monitors, maintaining, 243–244
 - monochrome printing, color printer
 - configured for, 158–159
 - motherboard. See NIC (Network Interface Card)
 - moving files, 189–190
 - MSN parental controls, 315–316
 - Multimedia subcategory (System Information), 280
 - multiple devices connected to telephone line, 56
 - multiple icons for network adapter, 31–32
 - multiple printers, using, 150
 - music
 - converting music files, 302–303
 - network music collection, creating, 302
 - playing downloaded, 301–302
 - My Network Places (Windows XP)
 - accessing, 165–166
 - icons in, managing, 168–171
 - overview, 165–168
 - shortcut to, 167
 - viewing, 171
- N ●
- naming
 - the computer, 102, 172
 - the network, 102
 - shared resources, 172
 - Nancy Drew (Web site), 318
 - NAS (Network Attached Storage) devices
 - backing up to network computers, 252–253
 - for creation of network music collection, 302
 - Net Nanny, 314
 - Netgear
 - firewall device, 229–230
 - overview, 25
 - routers, 91–92
 - network adapters, 87. See also installation of network adapters; troubleshooting network adapters
 - Network Connection Settings dialog box (Windows XP firewall), 223

- network connection types
 - embedded network cards, 15
 - embedded network controllers, 15
 - NIC controller cards, 16
 - overview, 15, 27
 - USB connectors, 15–16
 - network device connection type, 27
 - network devices preparation, 88–89
 - Network Drives (Windows XP), 180
 - network folder
 - descriptive information on network components, viewing, 170–171
 - overview, 165
 - in Windows Vista, 168, 171
 - in Windows XP, 165–168
 - network interface card. See NIC
 - Network Locations (Windows Vista), 180
 - network music collection, creating, 302
 - network operating systems, 11
 - network printer
 - choosing method of installation for, 146–147
 - default printer, creating a, 148
 - installing, 146–150
 - maintaining, 244
 - multiple printers, using, 150
 - overview, 146
 - renaming, 148
 - running the installation procedure, 147–148
 - sharing, enabling, 102
 - switching between printers, 149–150
 - troubleshooting, 162
 - Network subcategory (System Information), 280
 - NIC (network interface card)
 - checking, 243
 - connections, mixing, 27
 - controller cards, 16
 - overview, 15, 87
 - No Signal Can Be Found error, 33
 - Norton AntiVirus, 212
 - notification area, 30
 - NTFS file system, 266
 - null password, 127
- 0 •
- obstructions, detouring around, 73–74
 - 100Base-T cable, 36
 - opening
 - Device Manager, 273
 - remote files, 190–192
 - a share by typing the UNC, 174
 - System Information (SI), 278
 - Windows XP Network Setup Wizard, 99
 - Windows XP Wireless Network Setup Wizard, 103–104
 - original printer, renaming the, 158
 - Other Internet connection methods option (Windows XP Network Setup Wizard), 100–101
 - Outlook, 211
 - Outlook Express, 211
- p •
- Parent News (Web site), 318
 - parent shares, 114–115
 - parental controls in Windows Vista, using, 311–312
 - passwords
 - adding, 130–131
 - changing passwords in Windows Vista, 135
 - changing passwords in Windows XP, 130–131
 - creating network, 67
 - creating passwords in Windows XP, 129
 - null password, 127
 - for routers, 92, 230
 - used to protect your configuration settings so child can't access, 309–311
 - patch cables, creating your own, 42
 - patches, 37
 - pausing print jobs, 152, 153
 - pausing the printer, 152
 - PC Card network adapter, 29–30
 - PC MACLAN, 201
 - PC-Cillin, 212
 - PCMCIA (Personal Computer Memory Card International Association), 29

- peer-to-peer networks, 13–14
- peripheral drives, sharing, 118–119
- persistent connections, 179
- Pestpatroll, 210
- phone jack, 56
- phoneline networking
 - bridge, using a, 61–62
 - checking connectors in, 241
 - daisy chain, 60
 - DSL service, 60–61
 - Frequency Division Multiplexing (FDM), 55
 - ganging the network and the telephone, 56
 - ganging the network, the telephone, and an external modem, 57
 - ganging the network, the telephone, and an internal modem, 58–59
 - HomePNA, 54
 - line jack, 56
 - modular duplex jack, 56
 - multiple devices connected to telephone line, 56
 - overview, 54–56
 - phone jack, 56
 - plain old telephone service (POTS), 55
 - sharing an Internet connection on a phoneline network, 61–62
 - splitter, 56
 - static, troubleshooting, 62–64
 - testing, 63–64
 - troubleshooting, 62–64
 - white noise, 57
- picture album, creating a network, 303
- plain old telephone service (POTS), 55
- playing downloaded music, 301–302
- Plug and Play feature, 88
- port, checking that printers are assigned to the same, 156
- port scanning, 218
- Ports subcategory (System Information), 280
- positioning computers for wireless networks, 72–74
- power loss, protecting against, 238
- powerline networking
 - built-in Ethernet adapter, using, 65
 - checking connectors in, 242
 - DSL powerline kits, 66
 - Internet Connection Sharing, 66
 - overview, 20–21, 64–65
 - password, creating network, 67
 - security, 66–67
 - surge protection, 67
 - troubleshooting, 67
 - USB powerline adapters, using, 65
- precautions you should take for security, 214–216
- pre-shared documents folder
 - overview, 121–122
 - in Windows Vista, 123–124
 - in Windows XP, 122
- preventive maintenance for your hardware
 - cables, checking, 242
 - canned air, using, 245
 - connectors, checking, 241–242
 - Ethernet networks, checking connectors in, 241
 - monitors, maintaining, 243–244
 - NICs, checking, 243
 - overview, 240–241
 - phoneline networks, checking connectors in, 241
 - powerline networks, checking connectors in, 242
 - printers, maintaining, 244
 - wireless networks, checking connectors in, 242
- print client, 146
- print server
 - availability of, 161
 - connecting to network, 161
 - installing, 161–162
 - location for, 160
 - overview, 146, 160–161
 - speed of printing, increasing, 161
 - troubleshooting, 162
 - using, 160–162
- printer. See network printer
- printer clone, creating, 155–159

printer drivers, 145–146

printing

- color documents, 155–159
- color printer configured for monochrome, 158–159
- enabling printer sharing, 142–144
- firewall, troubleshooting, 163
- location for printer, choosing, 142
- management of network printing, 151–153
- network cable, troubleshooting, 163
- original printer, renaming the, 158
- port, checking that printers are assigned to the same, 156
- printer clone, creating, 155–159
- printer drivers, 145–146
- remote printer, installing, 146–150
- a report on devices in your system, 275
- separator pages used to identify users, 154–155
- setting up shared printers, 142–146
- shared resource, setting up printer as a, 144–145
- sharing printers in Windows Vista, 143–144
- sharing printers in Windows XP, 142–143
- shortcut to printer on Desktop, creating a, 153–154
- tips for, 153–160
- toner and ink, creating separate printers for settings that save, 160
- tray, creating separate printers for each, 159–160
- troubleshooting, 162–163
- usage patterns of computers used to determine location for printer, 142

Printing subcategory (System Information), 280

Private Profile tab (Windows Vista firewall), 226

Problem devices subcategory (System Information), 280 problems, Device Manager used for resolving, 274–275 profile, 127

Public Documents folder (Windows Vista), 123

Public Profile tab (Windows Vista firewall), 227 public use of wireless networks, 82–83

• R •

radio frequency (RF)

- overview, 21, 70
- wireless connections, 22–23

Rathbone, Andy

- Windows Vista For Dummies*, 124, 136, 255, 256, 258
- Windows XP For Dummies*, 121, 124, 131, 255, 256, 258

read-only files, 196

reconnecting mapped drives, 179

recovery. See disaster planning and recovery

Recycle Bin, emptying, 258

remote computers

- accessing, 136–137
- duplicating users on, 136–137
- retrieving file in hidden share from, 125

remote files

- across the network, files that should never be opened, 198
- copying files between computers, 186–189
- deleting files, 190
- documents in use, 195–198
- dragging files, copying by, 186–188
- license agreements, 199
- on Macintosh, 199–201
- moving files, 189–190
- opening, 190–192
- overview, 184
- read-only files, 196
- right-dragging files for copying, 188
- right-dragging files for moving, 189
- same name, two documents with, 194–195
- saving, 192–195, 197–198
- saving a local file to the remote computer, 193–194
- saving a remote file to the local computer, 193
- separate windows, dragging files between, 188
- shortcut menu used to copy files, 188–189
- shortcut menu used to move files, 190
- single-user database programs, 198
- Windows Explorer used to manage, 184–186

remote printer. See network printer

- removable drives, sharing, 118–119
 - renaming network printer, 148
 - researching home networking, 24
 - restoring a system after a disaster, 255
 - resuming print jobs, 152
 - RF (radio frequency)
 - overview, 21, 70
 - wireless connections, 22–23
 - right-dragging files
 - for copying, 188
 - for moving, 189
 - RJ-45 connectors, 17, 37
 - root drive, 116
 - router firewalls
 - Belkin firewall device, 229–230
 - D-Link firewall device, 229–230
 - Linksys firewall device, 229–230
 - NetGear firewall device, 229–230
 - overview, 229
 - troubleshooting, 229–230
 - routers
 - Belkin routers, 91–92
 - configuring, 91–92
 - D-Link routers, 91–92
 - firewalls in, 229–230
 - IP addresses of popular, 91
 - Linksys routers, 91–92
 - login names for, 92, 230
 - Netgear routers, 91–92
 - not adding additional, 51
 - passwords for, 92, 230
 - setup configuration process, 89
 - sharing a connection with a, 97
 - Run command, 125
 - Run dialog box, opening a share from, 174
 - running the cable, 43–45
 - running the installation procedure, 147–148
 - runs, planning, 35–37
- S •
- same name, two documents with, 194–195
 - saving
 - a local file to the remote computer, 193–194
 - a remote file to the local computer, 193
 - remote files, 192–195, 197–198
 - settings, 105–106
 - system information to a file, 281
 - SDSL (synchronous DSL), 60
 - security
 - advertising spyware, 231
 - antivirus experts, checking with, 215
 - antivirus programs, 211–213
 - boot sector viruses, 207–208
 - chain letters, 215
 - definitions, 233
 - e-mail, precautions to take when
 - reading, 214
 - file extensions, visibility of, 207
 - file-infecting viruses, 206–207
 - firewalls, 216–230
 - hackers, 216
 - heuristic scanning, 213
 - Internet hacking, 216
 - Internet, precautions to take when
 - downloading files from the, 214–215
 - macro viruses, 208–210
 - for Outlook, 211
 - for Outlook Express, 211
 - port scanning, 218
 - powerline networking, 66–67
 - precautions you should take, 214–216
 - spyware, 230–231
 - surveillance spyware, 231
 - system viruses, 207–208
 - Trojan horses, 210
 - virus hoaxes, identifying, 215–216
 - viruses, 205–211
 - Windows Defender, 233–234
 - Windows Security Center, 232–233
 - worms, 211
 - security for wireless networks
 - data encryption, 79–82
 - firmware update, 81
 - overview, 76–77
 - SSIDs (Service Set Identifiers), 77–79
 - Security Logging section (Windows XP firewall), 223
 - Send To feature
 - backing up to network computers, 249–251
 - copying files with, 251
 - mapped drive added to Send To folder in
 - Windows XP, 250–251
 - overview, 249–250
 - separate windows, dragging files
 - between, 188

- separator pages used to identify users
 - while printing, 154–155
- servers, 12
- service not running, troubleshooting, 224–225
- Service Pack 2 (SP2) needed to run
 - Windows XP firewall, 219
- Service Set Identifiers (SSIDs)
 - broadcasting, turning off, 78–79
 - overview, 77–78
- settings
 - confirming, 102–103
 - for Windows Vista firewall, 225–228
 - for Windows XP firewall, 219–220
- Settings (Windows Vista firewall), 227–228
- setup configuration process
 - access points, 89, 93
 - bridges, 89
 - drivers installed for network adapters, 88–89
 - Ethernet adapter, connecting wireless devices to an, 90–91
 - overview, 88
 - routers, 89, 91–92
- shadow file, 151
- Shared Documents folder (Windows XP), 122
- shared folder created for message center, 286
- shared printers, 142–146
- shared resource, setting up printer as a, 144–145
- sharing an Internet connection on a phonline network, 61–62
- sharing printers in Windows Vista, 143–144
- sharing printers in Windows XP, 142–143
- shielded twisted-pair (STP) cable, 36–37
- shortcut menu
 - used to copy files, 188–189
 - used to move files, 190
- shortcuts
 - creating, 174
 - to message center, creating, 289
 - to My Network Places (Windows XP), 167
 - to Printer on Desktop, 153–154
 - to Windows Explorer, 184–185
- SI. See System Information
- signal boosters, 76
- simplified file sharing, 120
- single-user database programs, 198
- slide shows, creating, 303–304
- software
 - for budget, 294
 - CDs and disks, storing, 247–248
 - used to filter Web sites, 314
- Software Environment category (System Information), 281
- Sound Device subcategory (System Information), 280
- speed of printing, increasing, 161
- speed of signals in wireless networks, 73
- splitter, 18, 56
- spool file, 151
- spooler, 151
- spooling, 151
- Spybot Search & Destroy, 231
- spyware, 230–231
- SSIDs (Service Set Identifiers)
 - broadcasting, turning off, 78–79
 - overview, 77–78
- stacked room arrangement, cabling
 - between, 45
- standards for wireless networks, 70–72
- star topology, 38
- starting. See opening
- State settings (Windows Vista firewall), 227
- stateful inspection, 218
- static electricity damage, preventing, 240
- static, troubleshooting, 62–64
- stick drive, 105
- Storage subcategory (System Information), 280
- STP (shielded twisted-pair) cable, 36–37
- surge protection
 - concentrators, 39
 - powerline networking, 67
 - using, 236
- surveillance spyware, 231
- switch, 17, 37
- switching between printers, 149–150
- synchronous DSL (SDSL), 60
- System Information (SI)
 - CD-ROM subcategory, 280
 - Components category, 279–280

Conflicts/Sharing subcategory, 279
 Display subcategory, 280
 DMA subcategory, 279
 Forced Hardware subcategory, 279
 Hardware Resources category, 279
 Infrared subcategory, 280
 Input subcategory, 280
 Internet Settings category, 281
 I/O subcategory, 279
 IRQs subcategory, 279
 Memory subcategory, 279
 Modem subcategory, 280
 Multimedia subcategory, 280
 Network subcategory, 280
 overview, 278
 Ports subcategory, 280
 Printing subcategory, 280
 Problem devices subcategory, 280 saving system information to a file, 281
 Software Environment category, 281 Sound Device subcategory, 280 starting, 278
 Storage subcategory, 280
 USB subcategory, 280
 System Restore, 256
 system viruses, 207–208

• T •

Tauscan, 210
 technical standards for network devices using household electrical wires, 54
 overview, 53–54
 for phonline networking, 54
 telephone line cable disadvantages of, 20 external modem, steps for using, 19
 modular duplex jack, 18
 overview, 17–20
 splitter, 18
 Y-connector, 19
 telephone line surges, protecting against, 237
 telephone mode, sharing a, 97–98
 telephone switchboard, creating an Internet, 306

television on your computer, watching, 304 temporary Internet files removal in Firefox, 261
 in Internet Explorer 6, 258–260
 in Internet Explorer 7, 260
 overview, 258
 temporary Windows files, removing, 261–263
 10Base-T cable, 36
 testing message boards, 287–288
 phonline networking, 63–64
 3Com, 25
 tips hardware purchasing, 25–26
 printing, 153–160
 for running cable across multiple levels, 46 toner and ink, creating separate printers for settings that save, 160 tracert command, 96
 tracing the route from your computer to a Web site, 96 tracking changes in documents, 292–294
 transceivers, 70
 transferring files between PCs and Macintosh, 199–201
 tray, creating separate printers for each, 159–160
 Trojan horses, 210
 troubleshooting. See also troubleshooting network adapters firewalls, 163
 network cable, 163
 phonline networking, 62–64
 powerline networking, 67
 print server, 162
 printers, 162
 printing, 162–163
 router firewalls, 229–230
 Windows XP firewall, 224, 224–225
 troubleshooting network adapters
 Cable Unplugged error, 32–33
 icon for network adapter on taskbar, displaying, 30–31
 multiple icons for network adapter, 31–32
 No Signal Can Be Found error, 33
 overview, 30
 twisted-pair cable, 35–37

• U •

- uninterruptible power supply (UPS), using, 238
- universal naming convention (UNC)
 - displaying, 173
 - format for, 172–173
 - mapping, 176–178
 - naming your computers and shared resources, 172
 - opening a share by typing the UNC, 174
 - overview, 172
 - shortcuts, creating, 174
- Universal Serial Bus (USB)
 - connectors, 15–16, 28–29
 - flash drive, 105
 - hub, 28
 - overview, 15
 - port, 28
 - powerline adapters, using, 65
- unshielded twisted-pair (UTP) cable, 36–37
- uplink ports, 37, 49–50
- usage patterns of computers used to
 - determine location for printer, 142
- USB subcategory (System Information), 280
- user profiles
 - in Windows Vista, 135–136
 - in Windows XP, 132–133
- users
 - authentication of, 12
 - created in Windows Vista, 134
 - created in Windows XP, 128–129
 - of files or resources, viewing, 276

• V •

- VB (Visual Basic) code, 208
- video records of your house, creating, 299
- viewing
 - mapped drives, 178
 - My Network Places (Windows XP), 171
 - Network folder (Windows Vista), 171
- virus hoaxes
 - antivirus experts, checking with, 215
 - chain letters, 215
 - identifying, 215–216
 - overview, 215–216
- viruses
 - boot sector viruses, 207–208
 - file extensions, visibility of, 207
 - file-infecting viruses, 206–207
 - macro viruses, 208–210
 - overview, 205–206
 - system viruses, 207–208
 - Trojan horses, 210
 - worms, 211
- Visual Basic (VB) code, 208
- Voice over Internet Protocol (VoIP), 306
- voltage regulators, using, 239

• W •

- Web browser, opening a share from, 174
- Web sites
 - The American Library Association, 319
 - FamiliesConnect, 318
 - finding acceptable Web sites for children, 317–318
 - Harry Potter, 318
 - Judy Blume, 318
 - Nancy Drew, 318
 - Parent News, 318
 - setting up, 305–306
 - tracing the route from your computer to a Web site, 96
- WECA (Wireless Ethernet Compatibility Alliance), 71
- WEP (Wired Equivalent Privacy), 80–82, 108
- white noise, 57
- Wi-Fi Protected Access (WPA), 81–82
- Windows 2000, 11
- Windows Defender, 233–234
- Windows Explorer
 - C drive displayed, opening Windows Explorer with, 185–186
 - remote files managed with, 184–186
 - shortcut to, creating a, 184–185
 - in Windows Vista, 184
 - in Windows XP, 184

- Windows Live Messenger, playing games over, 305
- Windows maintenance tools
 - batch file for removal of Microsoft Word backup files, 263–265
 - defragging your hard drive, 268–273
 - Device Manager, 273–275
 - Disk Cleanup, 257–258, 277–278
 - disk errors, troubleshooting, 281–282
 - hard drive damage, checking for, 265–268
 - Microsoft Word backup files, removing, 263–265
 - overview, 257–258
 - Recycle Bin, emptying, 258
 - System Information, 278–281
 - temporary Internet files, removing, 258–261
 - temporary Windows files, removing, 261–263
 - users of files or resources, viewing, 276
- Windows 98SE, 11
- Windows Security Center, 232–233
- Windows Vista. See also Windows Vista firewall
 - adding a computer, 95–97
 - defragging your hard drive, 272–273
 - hard drive sharing, 117–118
 - managing users and profiles in, 128–133
 - Microsoft Word backup files, removing, 265
 - multiple icons for network adapter, 32
 - network folder, 168
 - Network Locations, 180
 - pre-shared documents folder, 123–124
 - Public Documents folder, 123
 - Windows Defender, 233–234
 - Windows Explorer, 184
- Windows Vista firewall
 - Domain Profile tab, 226
 - IPsec Settings tab, 227
 - Logging settings, 228
 - overview, 225–228
 - Private Profile tab, 226
 - Public Profile tab, 227
 - settings for, 225–228
 - Settings settings, 227–228
 - State settings, 227
- Windows Vista For Dummies* (Rathbone), 124, 136, 255, 256, 258
- Windows Vista Wireless Network Setup Wizard, 109–110
- Windows XP. See also Windows XP firewall
 - adding a computer, 94, 97
 - defragging your hard drive, 270–272
 - hard drive sharing, 116
 - icon for network adapter on taskbar, displaying, 30–31
 - managing users and profiles in, 128–133
 - Microsoft Backup, installation of, 253–254
 - Microsoft Word backup files, removing, 265
 - multiple icons for network adapter, 32
 - Network Drives, 180
 - network folder, 165–168
 - pre-shared documents folder, 122
 - security and sharing resources, 120–121
 - Shared Documents folder, 122
 - simplified file sharing, 120
 - Windows Explorer, 184
- Windows XP firewall
 - Add a Port dialog box, 221
 - Add a Program dialog box, 220
 - Advanced tab, 222–223
 - Change Scope dialog box, 221–222
 - configuration options not available, troubleshooting, 224
 - conflicts, avoiding, 225
 - Default Settings section, 223
 - Exceptions tab, 220–222
 - ICMP (Internet Control Message Protocol) setting, 223
 - Network Connection Settings dialog box, 223
 - overview, 219–220
 - Security Logging section, 223
 - service not running, troubleshooting, 224–225
 - Service Pack 2 (SP2) needed to run, 219
 - settings for, checking, 219–220
 - troubleshooting, 224–225

- Windows XP For Dummies* (Rathbone), 121, 124, 131, 255, 256, 258
 - Windows XP Network Setup Wizard
 - direct connection to a concentrator or a modem that won't be shared, option for, 101
 - Direct connection to a modem option, 100
 - Direct connection to a router or to a computer with a modem option, 100
 - file and printer sharing, enabling, 102
 - launching, 99
 - naming the computer, 102
 - naming the network, 102
 - no Internet connection available, option for, 101
 - Other Internet connection methods option, 100–101
 - overview, 98–99
 - selecting a connection method, 99–101
 - set up only an Internet connection, option for, 101
 - settings, confirming, 102–103
 - Windows XP Wireless Network Setup Wizard
 - applying the settings, 107
 - launching, 103–104
 - manually setting up network keys, 108
 - overview, 103–104
 - saving the settings, 105–106
 - wireless configuration options, setting basic, 104
 - Wired Equivalent Privacy (WEP), 80–82, 108
 - wireless configuration options, setting basic, 104
 - wireless connections
 - access point, 22
 - frequency hopping, 23
 - infrared wireless connections, 21–22
 - overview, 21
 - radio frequency (RF), 21, 22–23, 70
 - Wireless Ethernet Compatibility Alliance (WECA), 71
 - wireless networks
 - access points, 75–76
 - ad-hoc mode, 90
 - checking connectors in, 242
 - distance of signals in, 73
 - dual-band devices, 72
 - hardware for, 74–76
 - hotspots, 82–83
 - infrastructure mode, 90
 - obstructions, detouring around, 73–74
 - overview, 69–70
 - positioning computers for, 72–74
 - public use of, 82–83
 - radio frequency (RF), 21, 22–23, 70
 - security for, 76–82
 - signal boosters, 76
 - speed of signals in, 73
 - standards for, 70–72
 - transceivers, 70
 - wireless routers, 75
 - wireless routers, 75
 - wireless standards
 - 802.11a, 71
 - 802.11b, 71–72
 - 802.11g, 72
 - 802.11n, 72
 - overview, 70–71
 - wires, using existing, 54–67
 - wizards
 - overview, 98
 - Windows Vista Wireless Network Setup Wizard, 109–110
 - Windows XP Network Setup Wizard, 98–103
 - Windows XP Wireless Network Setup Wizard, 103–108
 - workgroup name, default name for, 93
 - workstations, 12
 - worms, 211
 - WPA (Wi-Fi Protected Access), 81–82
-
- Y •
 - Y-connector, 19
 - Z •
 - zoning, 51–52