

To S*A*M*I

The money that we possess is the instrument of liberty, that which we lack and strive to obtain is the instrument of slavery.

Jean-Jacques Rousseau, The Confessions of Jean-Jacques Rousseau, Book I
(translated by W. Conyngham Mallory)

Emperor: There is no money. Well then, get it now!

J. W. Goethe, Faust II, Act I, The Emperor's Palace
(translated by George Madison Priest)

Contents

Preface 11

Money Magic

- 1 From ›obelos‹ to ›e-cash‹ 17
- 2 Why the market for banknote printing is special 33
 - Secret and farcical 34
 - A market, but no market price 41

Moneymakers I

- 3 How Signor Giori was able to carve out a worldwide monopoly with his printing presses 53
 - The meeting in Alexandria 54
 - The ›Italian connection‹ 56
 - Developer, supplier and service provider in one 59
 - Rino and Sig 62
 - Every triangle is perfect 66
 - Now the ›greenback‹ too 68
 - Pay and say nothing 69
 - Komori-sans admiration 74
 - From Salboni to Abuja 78
 - Warning from Munich 81
 - Fat years, lean years 84
- 4 Why Monsieur Amon had the same success with printing ink 87
 - ›Stradivarius‹ of printing inks 88
 - The market climate is changing 94
 - Family crisis 98

Money-makers II

5 What caused De La Rue's imperial aura to fade 103

- Urbi et orbi 103
- Beyond Malta 106
- The Portals debacle 107
- Efforts toward an additional business line 114
- The underestimated competition 117
- Faded glory 121

6 How Giesecke & Devrient struggles for technological leadership 129

- In labore virtus* - The puritan work ethic 130
- He wins who dares 136
- The crisis 142
- The bid for technological leadership 146

7 Where hard work and politics helped Francois Charles Oberthur Fiduciaire 159

- ›Phoenix from the ashes‹ 159
- Challenges 162

Money Losers

8 What brought Bundesdruckerei to the brink of ruin 169

- Global dreams ... 172
- ... and the hard realities at home 179
- Rescuers or robbers? 182

9 How Ciccone Calcográfica wasted its fiduciary capital 193

- Secure printing without security 193
- Sole note printer in the Southern Hemisphere 197
- Banknotes for kleptocrats 200
- ›Real-phony‹ Bahrain dinars 207

Money Jitters

10 Why the euro became a bonanza for moneymakers 219

- Friendly enemies 222
- Euro investment rapture 224
- The French patient 229
- The political note 233

Ruining competitors with an equipment binge 235
Euro bonanza 237
Mistakes, mishaps, and misprints 240
The unloved rescuers 244
Euro quality 246

11 Why there is a problem with the euro's security 251

Digifeiting, the new copying quality 252
Icon in distress 256
Mysterious supernote 260
Euro frailties 266
New euro frontiers 272

12 Quo vadis euro printing? 277

Competition à la euro system 279
Uncertain future 283

Acknowledgments 287

Bibliography 289

Reference 295

Index 311