

Contents

---

About the Authors	xiii
Preface	xv
Acknowledgements	xvii
Introduction	xix
PART 1 Communication in Daily Life	1
Chapter 1 The Building Blocks of Communication	3
Executive Summary	3
Introduction to Integrated Communication	4
Silo mentality	5
Why Does Integrated Business Communication Work?	6
What Is Communication?	7
The Development of Theory	9
The boom years	9
Communication education today	10
Forms of Communication	11
Intrapersonal communication	11
Interpersonal communication	12
Mediated communication	12
Business communication	14
Integrated business communication	14
Understanding What This Means to You	15
Shaping the Communication Process	17

Chapter 2	The Complex World of the Sender	27
	Executive Summary	27
	Introduction to the World of the Sender	28
	Understanding Verbal Language	29
	Word choice	29
	What is paralanguage? Should I care about it?	30
	Non-verbal Communication is Complex and Ever Changing	34
	Body language	35
	Persuasion as a Communication Tool	36
	Using persuasive tactics to reach your audience	38
	Language in the Global Setting	39
	Words both denote and connote information	39
	Using concrete words	41
	Using abstract words	41
	Barriers to direct and ethical language	43
Chapter 3	Knowing the Receivers of Your Messages	51
	Executive Summary	51
	Introduction to Understanding Receivers	52
	Looking at a Global Audience	53
	Globalization and localization	53
	Diversity and individualism in the workplace	54
	Knowing Your Audience	56
	Defining stakeholders	57
	Qualitative research	61
	Quantitative research	63
	Reaching Your Audience	63
	Abraham Maslow and the hierarchy of needs	64
	Profiling and narrowcasting	65
	Cultural Influences Affect Receivers of Messages	69
	Types of Audience	71
	Interested/disinterested	72
	Voluntary/captive	72
	Eager/resistant	72
Chapter 4	Breaking Through the Noise	81
	Executive Summary	81
	Introduction to Message Perception	82

What is Noise?	83
External noise	84
Internal noise	85
Semantic noise	85
Filtering Out Unwanted Noise	86
Cognitive dissonance	87
Selective filters	87
Information overload	90
Multitasking as noise	90
Hearing Versus Listening	92
The complex listening process	93
Types of listener	95
Chapter 5 Communication Channels	103
Executive Summary	103
Introduction to Message Delivery	104
Spoken Language	105
Written Language	105
Printed Language	106
Electronic Language	107
Advantages and Disadvantages of Oral and Written Channels	108
Oral communication	109
Written communication	109
Choosing a Channel	111
The Mechanics of Effective Messaging	112
Outlining	112
Organizational patterns for outlines	113
Formal Written Communication Formats	115
Formal business letters	115
Office memoranda	118
Oral Communication Guidelines	118
Art/science dichotomy	119
Speech delivery formats	123
Effective presentations	125
Electronic Communication	128
Technology and communication	128

PART 2	Towards Integrated Business Communication	137
Chapter 6	Business Communication, Public Relations and Integrated Marketing Communication	139
	Executive Summary	139
	Introduction to the Practice of Persuasive Communication	140
	Early History	141
	Revolution and persuasion	142
	Industrial Revolution	142
	Twentieth Century	144
	Mergers and acquisitions	144
	What's in a name?	145
	Models of public relations management	145
	The Public Relations Industry Today	147
	Significant Publics	149
	External publics	149
	Internal publics	150
	Why Integrated Communication?	151
	Impact of globalization	153
	Influence of integrated marketing communication (MARCOM)	154
	Characteristics of integrated business communication	155
	Strategic planning	156
	Meeting Public Expectations	157
Chapter 7	External Communication: Messaging to Your Publics	165
	Executive Summary	165
	Introduction to Recognizing Publics	166
	Stakeholders – primary publics	166
	Secondary publics	170
	Forms of Corporate Messaging	170
	Vision statements	171
	Mission statements	172
	Marketing and public relations	173
	Advertising	176
	Promotions	177
	Communicating with special publics	179
	Protecting a brand	184

---

Chapter 8	Internal Communications: Messaging Within
	Your Company	191
	Executive Summary	191
	Introduction to Sending Messages Within the Company	192
	Organizational Communication	193
	Internal Verbal Communication	195
	Face-to-face communication	196
	Telephone and voice mail	197
	Meetings	198
	Videoconferencing	201
	Special events for employees	201
	Written Internal Communication	204
	Memos	204
	Traditional memo	205
	High-impact memo	205
	Email memo	206
	Newsletters	206
	Blogs	208
	Supplemental internal publications	209
	Protecting Your Company Image from Within	210
Chapter 9	The Importance of Effective Communication in the
	Workplace	219
	Executive Summary	219
	Introduction to Effective Workplace Communication	220
	The Changing Workplace	221
	Diversity in the workplace	221
	Increased use of technology	224
	Communicating to Employees	225
	Two ways to reach employees	226
	Two-way Open Communication	226
	Employee and management empowerment	228
	Sharing knowledge	229
	Encouraging innovation	230
	Effective Communication as a Function of Management	232
	Listening	232
	Recruitment	233
	Training	233

X Contents

---

Communication Challenges	235
Strategic Planning	236
Planning for the future	237
Goals, objectives and tactics	238
Chapter 10 Issues of Organizational Leadership	247
Executive Summary	247
Introduction to the Role of Communication in Management and Leadership	248
Institutional Cultures in International Business	249
Reading institutional culture	251
Leadership or Management?	251
Leadership Theory	252
Trait approach	252
Situational approach	253
Style approach	255
Transformational and transactional approaches	257
Challenges in Leadership Communication	258
Leaders Emerge when Ethical and Legal Issues Arise	258
Definition of ethics	259
Cross-cultural issues	260
Legal issues	261
PART 3 Integrated Business Communication	271
Chapter 11 Global Communication Expands	273
Executive Summary	273
Introduction to Global Communication as Everyday Communication	274
The World Is Indeed Flat	275
Overriding stereotypes	276
Think Globally, Act Locally	278
Changing Markets	279
Traditional markets	280
Emerging markets	280
Communication Technology in the Global Marketplace	281
Websites	282
Social media	283

Communicasting	284
Datacasting	286
Applied Global Communication	287
Chapter 12 Communication in the New Management World	295
Executive Summary	295
Introduction to Communication Challenges	296
Strategic Communication Management	297
Visibility of the executive	297
The executive as team builder	299
The executive as mediator	301
The executive as negotiator	302
The executive as educator	303
The executive as facilitator of creativity and innovation	303
Accountability and Decision-making	304
Leading the Way for Effective Communication
for the Future	306
Measuring communication effectiveness	306
Reading, researching, learning	307
Sound decision-making	308
Improving Two-way Communication	312
Chapter 13 Emerging Issues Affecting Communication Strategy	319
Executive Summary	319
Introduction to New Approaches to Communication
Strategy	320
Bridging the Communication Gap between Executives
and Employees	321
Bridging the Communication Gap between Employees
and Customers	322
Issues Management Strategy	323
Internal issues management	326
Crisis management and risk assessment	328
Steps in crisis communication planning	330
Public affairs takes new directions	331
Trendwatching: What's on the Horizon?	332
Reactive responses to trends	333
Proactive trendwatching	336

Chapter 14	New Focus on Responsible Communication	347
	Executive Summary	347
	Introduction to New Communication Directions	348
	Integrated Marketing Communication	349
	Steps in integrated marketing communication planning	350
	Developing and Implementing Communication Strategies	350
	Choosing communication channels	350
	The business of branding	352
	Specialized marketing techniques	353
	Integrated Business Communication	356
	The foundations of integrated business communication (IBC)	356
	The integrated business communication model	356
	Making IBC work	358
	Issues in IBC Planning	360
	The corporate social responsibility movement	360
	Customer communication management	362
	Employee communication management	365
	Laying the foundation	366
Chapter 15	Looking Ahead	373
	Executive Summary	373
	Introduction to Communicating in the Future	374
	Organizational and Technological Changes	376
	Organizational changes	377
	Technological changes	382
	New Communication Challenges Emerge	382
	Ethical uncertainties	383
	Security issues	385
	Creativity Rules the New Global Marketplace	386
	Training Communicators for the New Global Marketplace	386
	Educational training	386
	Futurists See the World from a Different Perspective	387
	Glossary	395
	Index	413