

Index

- A
- Accountability, political push for, 79
Achievement: compared to learning, 79;
as state religion, xx, 79–81
Al-Maalik, A., teacher, xxi, 101–110, 121
Alyson, P., college student, 35
Alyssa, student, 92
Amanda, student, 29
And What Do YOU Mean by Learning?, 204
Andres, student, 2
Animal Farm, 5
A.P. courses, 30
Appalachia, and illiterate parents, 139
Assessment, as support or punishment,
130–131
Audubon Society, 55
Australopithecus, 60
Authentic Learning, accessible to all teachers, 184; and children's evolutionary heritage, 201; contrast to Game of School, 38, 112; contrast to pseudolearning, 67; defined, 2–5; examples of, 3–5; fostering energy, imagination, curiosity, 198; teachers going all out for, 197; threatened by boredom and abuse of power, 199
- B
- Bailey, P., teacher, 120
Barth, R., 206, 207
Big Book of Hell, The, xi
Big Picture, The, 207
Bill of Rights, lesson on, 4
Blink, student, 98
Book of Learning and Forgetting, The,
65–66, 133, 205, 206
Boomer, R., 206
- Boredom, of students, xiv, 34, 61, 81, 113, 127, 129, 199
Boston Latin School, 29
Bribes and threats from teachers, 37, 128,
135, 137
Bruer, I., teacher intern, 116, 187
Bruner, J., 112–113, 126–128, 206
Building a Beloved Community, 191–195
Burke, J., 206
- C
- Cadet, P., graduate student, 31–33
Calgary, Canada: vignette on inquiry-based teaching, 176–178
Cape Verdian students, 109
Caromile, B., college student, 187
Carson, R., xx, 39, 51, 204; and nephew,
Roger, 60–61
Categories of learners, 84–94; category 1,
True-Blue Learners, 83–85; category 2,
Go-Getters, 85–86; category 3, Cherry-
Pickers, 87–89; category 4, Pluggers,
89–91; category 5, Goof-Offs or Rebels, 91–92; category 6, Socializers or Hang-Outers, 92–94; category 7:
Give-Uppers, 94–96; outline of seven possible, 82
Change Forces: The Sequel, 207
Cheating, by students, xix, 18–19, 29, 31, 132
Chicago Public Schools, failed efforts at school reform, 155
Children, and language, 65–66; asking questions, 192–194; joy and competence as learners, xiv; losing zest for learning, 49–50; as naturally enthusiastic learners, 23; of parents ill-served by school, 36; and senior citizens, 4;
sense of power in learning, 62–65

Chin, J., graduate student, 115–116
 Chris F., college student, 34
 City Year program, Boston, 142, 190–196
 Classroom management, xxi, 13, 42, 113–122; as challenge to new teachers, 114
 Clinchy, E., xx, 38, 51–52, 57, 67, 128
 Coalition of Essential Schools, 164
 Colby College, 34–35
 College, bringing “the Game” to, 33–35; as extension of high school, 35
 Common Core of Learning, 123
 Community, students link neighborhood life with school, 193
 Conformity, and schools, 25, 28, 47–48
 Connelly, I., student intern, 116
 Control, and teacher stance, 199; pedagogy of, 122, 137, 157
 Controlling students, alternatives to, 119
 Curriculum, defined as term of intent, 122–123; created by asking questions, 192–193; guiding agenda or ominous threat, 121–126; and instruction, coverage vs. learning, 123; units that promote teacher-student partnership, 185–187
 Currie, E., 26–27, 204
 Cushman, K., xviii, xxi, 31, 117, 136, 165, 203–206

D

Darling-Hammond, L., 131, 206
 Delgado, E., xx, 16–21
 Dewey, J., 79

E

Earlham College, xxi, 145, 190
 Education, mediocrity in, xv, xix; resources, relative importance of, 112–113; students trying to get it over with, xiii, 14, 81, 144; system failure, two causes, xv
 Educational jargon, example of, 111
Educative Assessment, 207
 Emotional and intellectual connection in teaching, 181
 Erevia, A., graduate student, 116, 186
 Ervin, D., teacher, xxi, 179–184, 199
 Evan K., student, 97
 Evolution, impact of on learning, 51, 66–67, 119, 132, 144, 172, 201

F

Failure and shame among students, 26–27, 36, 102
 Family involvement, advantages and limitations, 137–142
Fires in the Bathroom, xviii, 136, 165, 203–206
 Flatley, M., graduate student, 2, 7–8, 187
 Freedom to learn, balanced with learning how to behave, 42, 28
 Fried, J., college student, 33–35, 204
 Fried, Richard, 204
 Friesen, S., teacher, 176–178
 Fullan, M., 207

G

Game of School, as adaptation to sensory-deprived environment, 67; children’s first experience of, xii, 23; as “con game” against the system, 24–25; consequences of not playing, 37–38; demoralizing to winners and losers, 33; disengagement of intellect in, xiii; entrenched in psychology of education, xvi; as fact of life, xii–xiii; helping us get through life, xiii; as immutable and normal-seeming, xx, 153; stranglehold on learning, 198; students who refuse to play, 36–37; teachers as victims, 15; tentacles wrapped around beginning teachers, 197; three manifestations of, xi–xiii; victimizing us all, xv; we all have to learn to play, 37–38; what’s the big deal?, xiii–xiv, xix; as wobbly tyrant, vulnerable to authentic learning, 198
 Game of School, changing: difficulty of, xvii; how to change, 184–188; parents’ role in, 38; requires kids as partners, 38, 198; requires observation, instinct, stance, 189–190; teachers’ role in, 38
 Game-playing, replacing authentic learning, xv–xvii
 Garvey, M., 108
 Getting stuck, unstuck, 153–165
 Gheridian, A., teacher, 115, 187
 Gifted and talented, 25, 81
 Glass, I., This American Life, 23–24, 155, 204, 207
 Goodrich-Andrade, H., 207

Grades, excessive competition among students for, 30
 Grading, effects on young children, 24; giving credit for "effort," 149, 151; interference with learning, 146; student preoccupation with, xvii; teachers grading defensively, 30
 Griffin, Y., teacher, 65
 Groening, M., xi
 Guskey, T., 207

H

High school, feelings of anonymity and captivity in, xviii; playing the Game in, 28–31
 High stakes, in struggle over the Game, xv–xvi
 High-stakes testing, xv–xvi, xix. See also Standardized tests
 Hirschi, R., and Mangelsen, T., 55
 Home-schooling, not wasting time in, 203
Horace's Compromise, 203
Horace's School, 206
 Humor, importance of, 199

I

In Schools We Trust, 206
 Independence movements, as high school social studies unit, 105
 Inequality, lesson for fifth-graders, 3
 Instruction, definition and pitfalls of, 126–130; delivery as a daily grind, 153; as undemocratic and anti-intellectual, 38
 Intellect, of children and students, 9, 25, 27, 33–34, 58, 63, 67, 107, 113, 125, 135, 180, 184, 190, 198, 200; paralysis and abuse of, xiv–xv, 38, 157
 Irvine, M., graduate student, 116, 186
 Isolation, of new teachers, 151–152
 Ivy S., student, 98

J

Jargon, educational, xxi, 143
 Jefferson, T., 64
 Joey, student, 97–98
 Josiah Quincy School, Boston, 41

K

Kids' Wildlife Book, The, 55

Kohn, A., xx, 13, 81, 204, 205
 Kozol, J., 112, 127, 206
 Kung, interaction in learning, 126–127
 Kyla M., student, 97

L

Language of school, 143
 Lauraliz, student, 28
 Learning agendas, drawn from students, 133–134
 Learning, as continuous, 133; children empowered by, 65; defined as "work," xx, 13; effects of "test prep" pedagogy on, 80; essence of, 146; and human curiosity, 171; impact of powerlessness on, 65; for its own sake, 31–33, 81; love for, 32, 197; recovery of, at all stages of life, 15–16; role of curiosity in, 58–59; self-motivation for, 36; sense of power in, 58; spirit of, xvi, 61; students "will to learn," 113; superficial rewards of, xvii; zest for, in college or afterwards, 12–13
Learning by Heart, 206
 Learning potential, enhancement of, xvi; waste of, xvi;
 Learning spirit, alienation from, 28; atrophy of, 81; attacks on, 6–9; maintaining, 80; eclipse of, xiv; parents role in protecting, xiv
 Littky, D., 207
 Livingston, M., xx, 68–77, 121, 197, 205
 "Losers" in school, 25–28

M

Mahogany, student, 136, 203
 Managing students, 117–118
 Math, excitement of teaching, 182–183; exercise using student feelings about, 4
 Matt, student, 147–148
 MCAS, Massachusetts' standardized test, 69–70, 73–77
 Meier, D., 62–63, 138, 196, 203, 204, 205, 206
 Middle school, impact of Game on, 25
 Miller, M., college student, 30
 Miraldi, M., 24
 Mission Hill Elementary School, Roxbury, Boston, 138
 Montoya, student, 14, 136
 Munez, M., 69

"Mystery in the Hollow Tree," fable, 52–57

N

Nation at Risk, A, 9, 10
National Education Commission on Time and Learning, 10, 203
Neill, A. S., 133
Networking among new teachers, 151
"No Child Left Behind," xv–xvi

O

O. Henry, "Hearts and Hands" story, in
MCAS preparation, 73–77
O'Neil, J., City Year director of training, xxii, 142, 190–196
O'Regan, K., college student, 24
Othello, xx, 70–73
Owens, M., graduate student, 185–186
Oyster River Middle School, Durham,
NH, 179

P

Parents, as advocates for children's love of learning, 81, 165; confusion regarding student achievement, 81; influencing schools unfairly, xix; nurturing child's curiosity, 80–81; role in changing
Game, 38
Passionate Learner, The, 165, 176, 203, 206
Passionate Teacher, The, 8, 203, 205, 206
Passionate teachers, 145–152
Passionate teaching, more than skills or habits of mind, 147; not dependent on only one pedagogy, 200; taking big risks for, 197
Passivity among students, xiv–xv, 2, 14,
67, 143, 176, 199
Phi Delta Kappa, 164
Pickering, T., teacher-researcher, 85–99,
142–143
Power of Their Ideas, The, 63, 204
Power relationships, in schools, 143, 189
Powerlessness in teachers, learners, 65,
144, 198
Predictable Failure of Educational Reform,
The, 204
Principals, requiring test-prep, xix–xx
Prisoners of Time, 10, 203
Productive and unproductive learning, xx,
12, 14, 37–38, 118, 122, 154, 164

Professors, comparing their goals with their grading practices, 206
Pseudo-learners, teachers, xvii–xviii, 67
Punished by Rewards, 204

Q

Quality of learning, 102, 149, 151, 177, 200
Questioning children about school, 7

R

Raphael Hernandez School, Jamaica
Plain, Boston, 69
Recovery of learning spirit, 15–16
Resources, thinking beyond need for,
112–113
Right to Learn, The, 206
Road to Whatever, The, 25–27, 204
Rob, student, 95
Rogers, C., 133
Routines vs. conformity in classroom, 47

S

Sallee, T., graduate student, 185
Sarason, S., xx, 12, 62, 64, 162, 204, 207
Savage Inequalities, 206
School: in contrast to pre-school learning, 6; culture of, 172; impact on children's sense of reality, 11; infantilizing teachers and students, 155–158; as opportunity-rich community, 171; sorting and categorizing students, 27
Self-assessment, related to student success in life, 131
Self-motivation, 131–137, 143; factors influencing, 134–135; lack of in students, 20; student advice on how teachers can promote, 136
Sense of Wonder, The, 204
Sensory awareness in children's learning,
57–60
Shedd, W., 55
Sheila, student, 88
Simpsons, The, 124
Sizer, T., 203, 206
Skiing, as metaphor of control need,
119–120
Smith, F., 65–66, 132–133, 205, 206
Spelling tests, in first grade, 49
Spiff, student, 98
Staff development, negative teacher attitudes toward, 157

- Stance in teaching, 75, 77, 102, 110, 117, 120–121, 135–136, 144, 173–176, 182, 187–190, 192, 199–210
- Standardized tests, xv, xix, 79, 82, 123–124, 138, 146, 168, 169. See also High-stakes testing
- Sternness and flexibility, seeking a balance of, 107
- Stiggins, R., 207
- Structure, and authority in school: benefits of, 15; role of, in fostering independent learning, 46–48
- Student-Involved Classroom Assessment*, 207
- Students: cynical attitudes of, 31; with disabilities, 118–119; economically disadvantaged, 37–38; estrangement from school, 28; faking out teachers, xi; focus on “being good” as opposed to “learning,” 6–7; getting good grades without working, 19, 34; high school anxieties of, 30; and homeless, 177–178; as local historians, 3; loss of self-motivation, 11, 114, 134–135; as natural-born learners, xvii; as partners with teachers, 5; resistance to learning, 7; unmotivated, 134–135; wasting time in school, xx, 1–15, 38, 89, 188; working below their learning capacity, xvi
- Sullivan, A., student intern, 116–117
- Sundaravalli, P., teacher-researcher, 85–99
- T
- Tables (this volume): table 5.1, “Classroom Management,” 122; table 5.2, “Curriculum,” 125; table 5.3, “Instruction,” 129; table 5.4, “Assessment,” 132; table 5.5, “Student Motivation for Academic Learning,” 135; table 5.6, “Family Involvement,” 141; table 6.1, “Attitudes that Make or Break a Teacher’s Career,” 156
- Teacher Education Quarterly*, 205
- Teachers, adversarial stance of, 173–176; asking crucial questions, 152; changing the Game, 38; delivering instruction, 5; feeling paralyzed, 158–159; getting unstuck, 160–162; identifying with student culture, 201; killing school reform, 155; lack of professional reading, 162; liberation from paralysis, 163–164; losing vibrancy, 159; mirroring antagonistic attitudes of students, 174; networking, 151; not reaching their students, 197; obsessed with “right answer,” 124; partnership with students and families, 171–172; risk-taking, 197; role in self-motivated learning, 198; seeing themselves as victims, 155–158; subservient to test-based curriculum, xvii; talking frankly to students, 8; treating students as “friends,” 117; unspoken pact with students, xi–xii; victims of Game, 15
- Teachers’ Lounge, 124, 155, 174
- Teaching, as complex art, 144; energy output not matched by results, 154–155
- Teaching to the test, xv, xviii–xix, 124
- Telling vs. explaining, 127–128
- Test scores, focus on, xix, xxi, 79, 145–146, 152, 205
- Tez, student, 88
- This American Life*, 204
- Thomas, H., teacher, xx, 39, 41–50, 197
- Tiffany, student, 128–129
- Tim G., student, 97
- Time for Meaning, A*, 206
- Tobey, student, 90
- Toward a Theory of Instruction*, 112–113, 206
- Tyler, R., student, 85
- Tyler, S. student, 86
- V
- Vance, student, 121, 136
- Veronica, student, 129
- Vocabulary, children’s growth in, 66
- W
- Walter S., student, 96
- Warner, A., teacher-researcher, 85–99
- When Night Comes*, 54
- Wiggins, G., 207
- Winerip, M., 30, 204
- Wishart, R., xxi, 144–152
- Writing Reminders*, 206
- Y
- You Are Thinking of Teaching?*, 207
- Yvonne, student, 88–89
- Z
- Zach S., student, 90