

Contents

Preface	xiii
Part I The Business of Venture Capital	1
1 Entrepreneurs and Venture Capitalists	3
1.1 Introduction	3
1.2 Entrepreneurs and business creation	3
1.3 Why entrepreneurs need external capital	4
1.4 Venture capitalists	6
1.5 How to read this book	7
2 Other People's Money	9
2.1 Introduction	9
2.2 The fund-raising cycle	10
2.3 Relationship with LPs	11
2.4 Identity of the LPs	11
2.5 Conclusions	13
3 The Limited Partnership	15
3.1 Introduction	15
3.2 The primacy of a limited partnership	15
3.3 Facets of a limited partnership	17
3.4 Partnership terms	19
3.4.1 Life	19
3.4.2 Capital commitments	20
3.4.3 GP management	20
3.4.4 Profit share	21
3.4.5 Investment restrictions	21
3.4.6 Transaction costs and fees	21
3.4.7 Further funds	22
3.4.8 Transfer of LP interests	22
3.5 Conclusion: The venture capital business in a nutshell	22

4	The Competitive Environment	25
4.1	Introduction	25
4.2	Capital competition	25
4.2.1	Vintage years	25
4.2.2	Sector and geography	26
4.2.3	IRRs and cash-on-cash metrics	27
4.3	Deal competition	28
4.4	Conclusions	28
5	The VC's Investment Model	31
5.1	Introduction	31
5.2	Fundamentals of VC risk	31
5.3	Extreme caution over the act of investment	33
5.3.1	Focus on proprietary deal flow	33
5.3.2	Early exclusivity	34
5.3.3	Due diligence	34
5.3.4	Drip-feed approach to investment	35
5.3.5	Syndication	35
5.3.6	Internal investment process	36
5.4	Exit obsession	38
5.5	High reward for high risk	39
5.6	Downside risk management	40
5.6.1	Tranching of investments	41
5.6.2	Price protection	41
5.6.3	Follow-on capability	43
5.6.4	Information and veto rights	44
5.6.5	Special exit rights	45
5.7	Dynamic capital allocation	45
5.8	The human element	46
5.9	Conclusions	48
Part II	Accessing Venture Capital	49
6	Introduction to Part II	51
7	Is Venture Capital the Right Option?	53
7.1	Introduction	53
7.2	What do I want my business to become?	53
7.3	Can my business match those ambitions?	54
7.4	How much capital does my business require?	54
7.5	Do I want to control my business for a long time?	55
7.6	What kind of life do I want to lead?	56
7.7	Am I comfortable with an exit?	56
8	Choosing a VC Firm	59
8.1	Introduction	59
8.2	Substantial long-term resources	59

8.3	Long and relevant experience	61
8.4	A leader, not a follower	62
8.5	Scaling the business	62
8.5.1	Powerful proprietary networks	62
8.5.2	Portfolio community	62
8.5.3	International capability	63
8.5.4	Additional skills leverage	63
8.6	Successful reputation	63
8.7	Personal chemistry	63
9	The Entry Point	65
9.1	Introduction	65
9.2	Which qualified access route?	65
9.2.1	A personal contact	66
9.2.2	A portfolio company contact	66
9.2.3	Industry gurus	66
9.2.4	Professional advisors	66
9.2.5	Professional intermediaries	66
9.2.6	Cold calling	67
9.3	Generating a qualified access point	67
9.3.1	Portfolio company access	67
9.3.2	The great and the good	68
9.3.3	Personal contacts	68
9.4	Communicating the initial message	69
9.5	What is the VC firm looking for?	69
9.6	Conclusion	70
10	The Investment Process	71
10.1	Introduction	71
10.2	Phase one – initial engagement with the VC firm	72
10.2.1	The kick-off meeting	72
10.2.2	The initial presentation	73
10.3	Phase two – preliminary due diligence to term sheet	74
10.3.1	Preliminary due diligence	74
10.3.2	Term sheet negotiations	75
10.4	Phase three – from term sheet to completed investment	76
10.4.1	Final due diligence	76
10.4.2	Legal documentation	77
10.4.3	Syndication	79
10.4.4	Special situations	79
10.4.5	Internal approvals	80
10.5	Afterwards	80
11	Preparing for the Investment Process	81
11.1	Introduction	81
11.2	Timing	82

11.2.1	Timing the approach	82
11.2.2	Raising enough funds	82
11.3	Valuation	82
11.3.1	Introduction to valuation	82
11.3.2	Valuation bases – the entrepreneur’s perspective	84
11.3.3	Valuation bases – the VC’s perspective	85
11.3.4	Why value is important	86
11.3.5	Conclusions for an entrepreneur	87
11.4	Choosing an investor	88
11.5	Grooming the business	88
11.5.1	Revisiting timing and value assumptions	89
11.5.2	Ensuring management stability	90
11.5.3	Spring cleaning	91
11.6	Transaction structure	92
11.7	Transaction logistics	95
11.7.1	Confidentiality	95
11.7.2	Non-solicitation	96
11.7.3	Preparing for site visits	97
11.7.4	Poison pills	97
11.8	Conclusion	98
Part III The VC Term Sheet		99
12	Introduction to Term Sheets	101
12.1	Purpose	101
12.2	What is a term sheet?	101
12.3	Why have term sheets at all?	102
12.3.1	Risk management	102
12.3.2	VC policy	103
12.3.3	Deal syndication	103
12.4	What happens to a term sheet?	104
12.5	Methodology of Part III	104
	Pro forma term sheet	106
13	Business Valuation	121
14	Investment Structure	123
15	Syndication	125
15.1	Introduction to syndication	125
15.2	Reward for syndicate leadership	126
15.3	The entrepreneur’s response	127
16	Investment Milestones	129
16.1	Introduction to investment milestones	129
16.1.1	Milestone definitions	129
16.1.2	Milestone waivers	130

16.2	Attractions for the VC firm	131
16.3	Attractions for the entrepreneur	132
16.3.1	Protected committed funding	132
16.3.2	Guaranteed subscription price	133
16.3.3	Fund-raising without milestones	133
16.4	Areas to watch out for	134
16.4.1	Sizing each tranche	134
16.4.2	Careful drafting of milestones	135
16.4.3	Syndicate decision-making	135
16.4.4	Enforcement teeth	136
16.4.5	Negotiation approaches	137
16.4.6	Earn-ins and ratchets as an alternative	137
17	Corporate Governance	139
17.1	Introduction to corporate governance	139
17.2	VC board representation	139
17.2.1	Composition of the board	139
17.2.2	Nominations to the board	140
17.3	Board process	142
17.3.1	Regularity and quorum	142
17.3.2	Committees	142
17.3.3	Board veto rights	143
17.4	Shareholder information	144
17.5	Shareholder veto powers	145
18	Equity Participation	147
18.1	Introduction to equity participation	147
18.2	Voting rights	147
18.2.1	Introduction to voting rights	147
18.2.2	Attractions of voting rights to the VC firm	147
18.2.3	Attractions for the entrepreneur	149
18.2.4	Voting rights – areas to watch out for	149
18.3	Dividend rights	150
18.3.1	Introduction to dividend rights	150
18.3.2	Attraction of dividend rights to the VC firm	150
18.3.3	The entrepreneur’s response	151
18.4	The preference cascade	152
18.4.1	Preference shares	152
18.4.2	“Double-dipping” preferred shares	154
18.4.3	“High watermark” preferred shares	157
18.4.4	The best type of preference?	159
18.4.5	Application of the preference	159
18.4.6	Legal considerations	161
18.5	Redemption features	162
18.5.1	Attractions of a redemption feature to the VC firm	162
18.5.2	Events of default	163

18.5.3	Default	163
18.5.4	The decision-making process	163
18.5.5	Legal issues	164
18.5.6	Alternatives to redemption	164
18.6	Conversion rights	165
18.6.1	Voluntary conversion rights	165
18.6.2	Compulsory conversion rights	166
18.6.3	Adjustment to conversion rights	167
19	Share Incentives	169
19.1	Introduction to share incentives	169
19.2	Sizing of incentive programmes	170
19.3	Who bears the dilution?	171
19.4	Ratchets	172
20	Share Vesting	175
20.1	Introduction to share vesting	175
20.2	Attractions of vesting to the VC firm	175
20.3	The entrepreneur's response	176
20.4	Vesting – areas to watch out for	178
20.4.1	Pace and level of vesting	178
20.4.2	Good/bad leaver provisions	180
20.4.3	Acceleration on exit events	181
20.4.4	Treatment of vested shares	183
20.4.5	Repurchase mechanics	184
21	Pre-emption Rights on Securities Issues	185
21.1	Introduction to share issue pre-emption rights	185
21.2	Attractions of share issue pre-emption rights to a VC firm	185
21.3	The entrepreneur's response	186
21.4	Areas to watch out for	186
21.4.1	What triggers pre-emption rights?	187
21.4.2	Reference terms of pre-emption	188
21.4.3	Partial pre-emption?	188
21.4.4	Who gets pre-emption rights?	189
21.4.5	Pre-emption top-ups	189
21.4.6	Administration of pre-emption rights	190
22	Anti-dilution Rights	191
22.1	Introduction to anti-dilution rights	191
22.1.1	Full ratchet anti-dilution	191
22.1.2	Weighted average anti-dilution	192
22.1.3	Mechanism of action	192
22.2	Attraction of anti-dilution to a VC firm	193
22.3	The entrepreneur's response	194

22.3.1	Fundamental unfairness	194
22.3.2	Limitation of anti-dilution in practice	194
22.3.3	Shareholder double advantage	195
22.4	Pay to play	196
22.4.1	What is “pay to play”?	196
22.4.2	Determining the amount to pay	196
22.4.3	Consequences of not paying...	197
22.4.4	New developments	198
22.5	Areas to watch out for	198
22.5.1	Carve-outs	198
22.5.2	Pricing considerations	199
22.5.3	Proxies for value	199
22.5.4	Price benchmarks	200
22.5.5	Who squeezes who?	200
22.5.6	Differential pricing	200
22.5.7	Syndicate dangers	201
23	Provisions Relating to Share Transfers	203
23.1	Introduction to share transfers	203
23.2	Transfer restrictions	203
23.2.1	General restrictions	203
23.2.2	IPO restrictions	204
23.2.3	Mandatory sales	205
23.3	Transfer pre-emption rights	205
23.3.1	Nature of pre-emption	206
23.3.2	Partial pre-emption?	206
23.3.3	Who gets pre-emption rights?	207
23.3.4	Pre-emption top-ups	207
23.3.5	Buyer of last resort	208
23.3.6	Administration of pre-emption rights	208
23.3.7	Exclusion of certain transactions	208
23.4	Drag-along rights	209
23.4.1	What are drag-along rights?	209
23.4.2	Why is drag-along needed?	209
23.4.3	Drag-along implementation	211
23.4.4	Further issues to consider	212
23.4.5	Enforcement of drag-along rights	213
23.5	Tag-along rights	214
23.5.1	Introduction to tag-along rights	214
23.5.2	Nature of tag-along rights	214
23.5.3	Partial tag-along?	216
23.5.4	Timing of subsequent sale	216
23.5.5	Different classes of shares	216
23.5.6	Who gets tag-along rights?	217
23.5.7	Pre-emption top-ups	218
23.5.8	Administration of pre-emption rights	218
23.5.9	Exclusion of certain transactions	218

24 Deal Management Terms	219
24.1 Introduction	219
24.2 Conditions precedent	219
24.2.1 VC firm's strategy	220
24.2.2 Entrepreneur's strategy	220
24.3 Exclusivity	222
24.3.1 VC firm's strategy	222
24.3.2 Entrepreneur's strategy	223
24.4 Cost reimbursement	225
24.4.1 VC firm's strategy	225
24.4.2 Entrepreneur's strategy	226
24.4.3 Financial assistance	228
Index	229