Contents

Notes on Contributors viii
Preface xiv
Acknowledgments xvi
Abbreviations Used for Works by T. S. Eliot xvii

Part I: Influences 1

1 The Poet and the Pressure Chamber: Eliot’s Life
   Anthony Cuda 3

2 Eliot’s Ghosts: Tradition and its Transformations
   Sanford Schwartz 15

3 T. S. Eliot and the Symbolist City
   Barry J. Faulk 27

4 Not One, Not Two: Eliot and Buddhism
   Christina Hauck 40

5 Yes and No: Eliot and Western Philosophy
   Jewel Spears Brooker 53

6 A Vast Wasteland? Eliot and Popular Culture
   David E. Chinitz 66

7 Mind, Myth, and Culture: Eliot and Anthropology
   Marc Manganaro 79

8 “Where are the eagles and the trumpets?”: Imperial Decline and
   Eliot’s Development
   Vincent Sherry 91
Contents

Part II: Works

9. Searching for the Early Eliot: *Inventions of the March Hare
   Jayme Stayer
   107

10. Prufrock and Other Observations: A Walking Tour
    Frances Dickey
    120

11. Disambivalent Quatrains
    Jeffrey M. Perl
    133

12. “Gerontion”: The Mind of Postwar Europe and the Mind(s) of Eliot
    Edward Brunner
    145

13. “Fishing, with the arid plain behind me”: Difficulty, Deferral, and Form in *The Waste Land
    Michael Coyle
    157

14. The Enigma of “The Hollow Men”
    Elisabeth Däumer
    168

15. Sweeney Agonistes: A Sensational Snarl
    Christine Buttram
    179

16. “Having to construct”: Disassembly Lines in the “Ariel” Poems and *Ash-Wednesday
    Tony Sharpe
    191

17. “The inexplicable mystery of sound”: Coriolan, Minor Poems, Occasional Verses
    Gareth Reeves
    204

18. Coming to Terms with *Four Quartets
    Lee Oser
    216

19. “Away we go”: Poetry and Play in Old Possum’s Book of Practical Cats and Andrew Lloyd Webber’s *Cats
    Sarah Bay-Cheng
    228

20. Eliot’s 1930s Plays: The Rock, Murder in the Cathedral, and *The Family Reunion
    Randy Malamud
    239

    Carol H. Smith
    251

22. Taking Literature Seriously: Essays to 1927
    Leonard Diepeveen
    263
Contents

23 He Do the Critic in Different Voices: The Literary Essays after 1927
   Richard Badenhausen
   275

24 In Times of Emergency: Eliot’s Social Criticism
   John Xiros Cooper
   287

Part III: Contexts

25 Eliot’s Poetics: Classicism and Histrionics
   Lawrence Rainey
   301

26 T. S. Eliot and Something Called Modernism
   Ann Ardis
   311

27 Conflict and Concealment: Eliot’s Approach to Women and Gender
   Cyrena Pondrom
   323

28 Eliot and “Race”: Jews, Irish, and Blacks
   Bryan Cheyette
   335

29 “The pleasures of higher vices”: Sexuality in Eliot’s Work
   Patrick Query
   350

30 “An occupation for the saint”: Eliot as a Religious Thinker
   Kevin J. H. Dettmar
   363

31 Eliot’s Politics
   Michael Levenson
   376

32 Keeping Critical Thought Alive: Eliot’s Editorship of the Criterion
   Jason Harding
   388

33 Making Modernism: Eliot as Publisher
   John Timberman Newcomb
   399

34 Eliot and the New Critics
   Gail McDonald
   411

35 “T. S. Eliot rates socko!”: Modernism, Obituary, and Celebrity
   Aaron Jaffe
   423

   Nancy K. Gish
   436

37 Radical Innovation and Pervasive Influence: The Waste Land
   James Longenbach
   449

Bibliography of Works by T. S. Eliot

Index