

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction: The Case for Peace	1
PART I
Overcoming the Geopolitical Barriers to Peace	9
1. The End Result: Two States with Secure and Recognized Borders	11
2. Is the One-State Solution a Barrier to Peace?	27
3. Is a Noncontiguous Palestinian State a Barrier to Peace?	35
4. Can Peace Be Achieved without Compromising Rights?	45
5. Is the Division of Jerusalem a Barrier to Peace?	51
6. Are the Informal Geneva Accords a Basis for or a Barrier to Peace?	59
7. Can Israel Make Peace and Prevent Terrorism at the Same Time?	65
8. Are Israeli Counterterrorism Measures the Cause of Suicide Bombings and a Barrier to Peace?	75
9. What If a Palestinian State Became a Launching Pad for Terrorism?	89

10. Will Civil Wars Be Necessary to Bring About Peace?	93
11. Is the Security Fence a Barrier to Peace?	99
12. Is a Militarized Palestine a Barrier to Peace?	107
13. Is the Iranian Nuclear Threat a Barrier to Peace?	111

PART II

Overcoming the Hatred Barriers to Peace	121
14. More Palestinian Than the Palestinians	123
15. More Israeli Than the Israelis	157
16. A Case Study in Hate and Intimidation	167
17. Will Anti-Semitism Decrease as Israel Moves toward Peace with the Palestinians?	189
Conclusion: The Contributions Peace Can Make	199
Notes	205
Index	243