

Contents

Preface	v
PART I The Male Point of View	1
1 Who Are You?	3
2 The Many Business Types	29
3 Getting Inside the Head of the Alpha Male	41
4 Things that Drive Men in Business	59
PART II Female as a Saboteur	79
5 Bailing Water: Taking Things Personally	81
6 Singing Sirens: Wearing Masks	87
7 Dead Calm: Putting Ideas in Question Form	99
8 Stranded: Making Excuses	103
9 Walking the Plank: Declaring Open War	107
10 Loose Lips Sink Ships: Not Keeping Secrets	111
11 Lost at Sea: Bringing Personal Issues to Work	115
12 You're Waving and Drowning: Seeking External Affirmation	119

13	Chapter 13 Who Deserves a Spot in the Lifeboat?: Expecting Fairness in Business	123
14	Abandon Ship: Accepting Poor Treatment	129
15	“Let Me Do All the Rowing”: Trying to be Liked and Selfless	133
16	“Here, You Take the Last Life Preserver”: Asking for What You Want	137
17	“Lifeboats in the Back”: Developing a Plan B	141
18	“Welcome Aboard!”: Understanding Business Endorsements	145
PART III	Common Questions That Women Ask	149
	Men: What Makes a Strong Sailor?	149
	Getting Promoted: Taking Command of Your Own Ship	154
	Family Versus Career: With or Without a Crew	158
	Office Relationships: Sailing Off Course	162
	Emotional Management: Incoming Tide	167
	Political Correctness: Navigating Uncertain Waters	168
	Manhandling: Avoiding Shark Bites	170
	Hostile Takeovers and General Hostilities: Battleships in Combat	174
	Gaining Respect: Earning Your Sailing Stripes	178
	Epilogue	180
	Index	183