1. GIS IN THE DIGITAL ECONOMY	1
Business in the Digital Economy / 1
• The Rise in the Internet Platform for GIS / 2
• Spatial Data / 6
Case Study: Global Integrated Oil / 9
The Spatial Re-Evolution / 14
• Historical Antecedents / 14
• Coupling Technologies / 17
• Broadband as the Foundation for Web Services / 20
• Spatial Web Services / 21
• Open Source Software / 22
• Event-Driven Architecture / 23
The Spatial Industry / 24
Strategy, Competitive Advantage, and GIS / 31
Sperry Van Ness: Gaining Competitive Advantage from GIS / 32

vi CONTENTS

2. INFORMATION SYSTEMS AND GIS 38

Introduction / 38
Overview of Information Systems / 40
GIS: Concepts and Definitions / 43

- GIS Location and Coordinates / 46
- Map Layers and their Relationship to Attribute Tables / 48
- Spatial Analysis—What It Is and an Example / 49

Linkages to Other Disciplines / 51
Case Study: Baystate Health / 53
Understanding Spatial Data and Mapping / 54

- Digitizing / 55
- Scanning / 56
- Use of GPS / 56
- Satellite and Remote Sensing / 58

GIS Analysis / 58

- Spatial Analysis / 59
- Buffer Analysis / 61
- Map Overlay Functions / 61
- Proximity Analysis / 61
- Longitudinal Change Detection / 62
- Modeling and Forecasting / 62
- Statistical Analysis / 62

Example: Location Quotient Analysis for Siting / 62
National Spatial Data Infrastructures / 64
GeoWeb / 64
Future Trends in Spatial Technologies / 65
Chapter Summary / 66
References / 66

3. SUPPORTING BUSINESS DECISIONS 70

Introduction / 70
GIS to Support Decision-Making in Organizations / 71
Case Study of Spatial Decision-Making in a Large Personal/Corporate Bank / 79

- (1) Trade Area Analysis / 79
- (2) Market Demographics, Competitor Analysis, and Customer Satisfaction / 80

- (3) Branch-Related Campaigns / 80
  - (4) LPCB Securities / 80
  - (5) Mapping Support for Executives on Strategy / 80
- Spatial Decision Support Systems / 81
- SDSS and Visualization / 82
  - Prevalence of SDSS / 84
- Spatial Business Intelligence Systems / 90
- WebFocus from Information Builders / 91
  - Map Intelligence / 92
- Case Study of Large Insurance Company / 93
- Chapter Summary / 95
- References / 95

4. ENTERPRISE APPLICATIONS 99

- Introduction / 99
- GIS and Enterprise Resource Planning / 102
- Case Study of ERP at Pidpa, Belgian Water Utility / 107
- GIS and Customer Relationship Management / 110
- Site Evaluation Models / 114
  - Distribution of Resources / 114
- Chico's Case Study: GIS and CRM in a Customer-Centric Fashion Company / 115
- GIS and Supply Chain Management / 118
- Spatial Data Warehouses and Data Mining / 122
- Case Study: Nesa, Danish Electrical Utility / 124
- Chapter Summary / 129
- References / 129

5. CUSTOMER-FACING GIS: WEB, E-COMMERCE, AND MOBILE SOLUTIONS 133

- Introduction / 133
- Architectural Approaches to Spatial Technologies / 134
- Client-Server / 134
  - Web Services / 138
- Consumer Web Services / 142
- Trulia.com / 145
  - DataPlace.org / 145

viii CONTENTS

Mobile Services / 147

- DS Waters / 149
- Seaspan International Ltd. / 152

Case Study: MotionBased Technologies / 154

E-Commerce / 155

- MasterCard / 157
- Zillow.com / 158
- Market Efficiency / 159

Standardization / 161

- Grid Computing / 165

Chapter Summary / 166

References / 167

6. SPATIAL SYSTEMS DEVELOPMENT 169

Introduction / 169

Systems Development for GIS / 170

Phases in Systems Development for GIS / 174

- The Planning Phase / 174
- The Analysis Phase / 176
- Design / 178
- The Implementation Phase / 184
- The Maintenance Phase / 185

Case Study Findings on Systems Development / 185

- Was Systems Development Done in-House or Mostly Outsourced? / 186
- If in-House, were Formal Phases Taken, or were Information Steps Followed? / 187
- What was the Composition of the Systems Development Project Team? / 187
- Was the Systems Development Approach Traditional or Object-Oriented? / 187
- Were there Differences by the Size of Company in the Approach Taken? / 187

Case Study: Engineering Systems / 190

Chapter Summary / 193

References / 194

7. THE VALUE OF INVESTING IN GIS 195

GIS and Geographic Information—Their Value / 195

Setting the Context for Cost-Benefit Analysis / 196

The Costs and Benefits of GIS / 199

- Costs / 199
- Benefits / 200

Prevalence of Costs and Benefits in Case Study Companies / 202

- Unit of Analysis / 207

The Substeps in Cost-Benefit Analysis from Systems Design Perspective / 208

Comparison of Costs and Benefits Over Time / 210

The Method of Discounted Cash Flow / 211

Comparison with a Criterion / 211

Intangible Costs and Benefits / 212

The Feasibility Decision / 213

Stakeholders and Externalities / 213

Case Study of GIS Costs and Benefits: Sears Roebuck / 214

The Productivity Paradox for GIS / 218

Chapter Summary / 219

Case Study: Norwich Union Unexpected Benefits of GIS / 220

Acknowledgments / 221

References / 222

8. MANAGING SPATIAL DATA 227

Introduction / 227

Introduction to Managing Spatial Data / 228

GIS, Spatial Data, and Relational Databases / 231

- Spatial Relational Data Model / 232
- Spatial Object-Oriented Data Model / 235
- Spatial Object-Relational Data Model / 238
- Oracle Spatial 10g / 239
- ESRI's Geodatabases / 243

Case Study of Enmax / 246

GIS and Data Warehouses / 248

- Definition / 248
- Historical Background / 249
- Fundamentals of the Data Warehouse / 249
- Key Applications of Spatial Data Warehouses / 254
- Future Directions in Data Warehouses / 255

Managing Data Quality / 256

Chapter Summary / 258

x CONTENTS

Acknowledgment / 258
References / 258

9. ORGANIZATIONAL AND INDUSTRY ASPECTS 261

GIS and the Organization / 262
GIS in Industry Areas / 264
Utilities / 267
Case Study of Southern Company / 278
Transportation / 280
Retail / 286
Chapter Summary / 292
References / 293

10. INDUSTRIES AND OUTSOURCING 295

Introduction / 295
Insurance / 296
Swiss Reinsurance Company / 298
Marketing/Geodemographics / 302
Banking and Finance / 311
Case Study of Large Credit Bank / 312
Agriculture / 314
Health Care / 317
Spatial Technologies and Outsourcing / 319
Kaiser Permanente / 321
Chapter Summary / 323
References / 324

11. ETHICAL, LEGAL, AND SECURITY ISSUES OF SPATIAL TECHNOLOGIES 327

Introduction / 327
Ethical Issues / 328
Privacy / 336
Legal Issues / 339
Case Study of Legal Aspects of Surveillance: Kyllo v. United States / 346
Crime and Security / 347
Chapter Summary / 350
References / 351

12. GIS AND BUSINESS STRATEGY 355

Strategic Vision for GIS and Establishing a Strategic Plan / 356

Theories of IT Alignment, Internet Strategy and Situational Analysis / 356

- IT Alignment / 357
- Internet Strategy / 359
- Situational Analysis / 360

Case Study: Norwich Union / 361

An Evolutionary Framework for Strategic GIS / 364

Findings of Case Study Analysis / 367

Case Findings for High Strategic Firms / 367

- Global Integrated Oil / 367
- MotionBased Technologies / 367
- Rand McNally / 368
- Sears Roebuck / 368
- Southern Company / 368
- Arizona Republic / 369
- Chico's / 369
- Lamar Advertising Company / 370
- Prudential Preferred Realty / 370
- MapGistics / 370

Case Findings for Medium Strategic Firms / 371

- Kaiser Permanente / 371
- Large Insurance Company / 371
- URS / 371
- Sperry Van Ness / 372
- Western Exterminator / 372

Case Findings for Low Strategic Firms / 372

- Large Personal/Corporate Bank / 372
- Large Credit Bank / 372
- Norwich Union / 373
- Baystate Health / 373
- Engineering Systems / 373

Summary of Findings / 374

Practical Advice to Managers on Strategies for GIS and Spatial Technologies / 377

- Matching the GIS Strategic Plan with the Corporate Strategic Plan and the Corporate IT Plan / 377

Case Study: Rand McNally / 378
