

Contents

Executive Summary	vii
Foreword	xiii
Acknowledgments	xv
Grading Problems in Higher Education	1
Assessment of College Student Learning	4
Purpose	5
Overview and Scope	6
Correlates of College Grades	9
Students	11
Faculty	12
Courses	13
Discipline	13
Institution	13
Reframing the College Grading Problem	15
Guiding Conceptual Framework	20
Consequences of College Grading Problems	22
Reexamining the Empirical Evidence	29
Grade Increase	30
Grade Inflation	32

Grade Compression	36
Grading Disparity	38
Uncovering the Roots	45
Influences on Grade Change	46
Causes of Grading Disparity	53
Causes of Grade Inflation	55
Incentive Matters	59
Searching for Cures	63
Emerging Practices	64
Strategies and Innovations	65
A Shared Responsibility	66
Policy Instruments as a Guide for Policy Design	68
Conclusions and Implications	75
Implications for Research	76
Implications for Practice	78
Diagnostic Method for Grading Problems	79
Appendix: Grading Proposals at Princeton University	81
References	83
Name Index	91
Subject Index	95
About the Author	99