In Sweet Company Retreats, Workshops, and Keynotes

There is a renaissance going on, a grassroots spiritual revolution spearheaded by women of all ages, faiths, and backgrounds—women who are gathering in coffeehouses and conference rooms to share their stories, to explore their options, and to give and receive support.

Margaret Wolff's programs provide models, skills, and inspiration that help women respond to their innate wisdom and integrate their most deeply held values into their lives, no matter what their spiritual tradition. Personal reflection, interactive exercises, storytelling, and excerpts from In Sweet Company are used as stepping-stones to self-exploration.

Programs include

Women in Spirit: The Emerging Face of Women's Spirituality A new vision of power—one that champions diversity, collaboration, and connection—has emerged. Trace the roots of this movement, historically and within your own life, and discover direction for the future.

Listening to Your Inner Voice There is a still, small voice, an internal guide, an intuitive knowing within you that can align you with an inner well-spring beyond logic, beyond “shoulds,” beyond strategizing. Connect to that unfailing source of decision making and transform the anxiety of not knowing into self-trust.

Spirit at Work: Making Your Work and Your Life Be About What You Value Most Take stock of your knowledge, skills, achievements, resources, and dreams, and reframe the direction of your work and life in ways that feed your soul.

Women as Peacemakers Move beyond the compelling images of global wounding and experience what the mystics of all religions tell us: we are wedded to each other—undeniably bound—as the varied expressions of a singular and loving consciousness. Nurture your inner peacemaker and explore options for global peacemaking.
