

Contents

Preface	vii
Acknowledgments	xv
Introduction: Ripe for Disruption—and Innovation	xix

Part One: Reframing the Higher Education Crisis

Chapter 1	The Educational Innovator's Dilemma: Threat of Danger, Reasons for Hope	3
-----------	---	---

Part Two: The Great American University

Chapter 2	Puritan College	33
Chapter 3	Charles Eliot, Father of American Higher Education	46
Chapter 4	Pioneer Academy	72
Chapter 5	Revitalizing Harvard College	80
Chapter 6	Struggling College	98
Chapter 7	The Drive for Excellence	110
Chapter 8	Four-Year Aspirations in Rexburg	139
Chapter 9	Harvard's Growing Power and Profile	148
Chapter 10	Staying Rooted	157

Contents

Part Three: Ripe for Disruption

Chapter 11	The Weight of the DNA	171
Chapter 12	Even at Harvard	185
Chapter 13	Vulnerable Institutions	192
Chapter 14	Disruptive Competition	206

Part Four: A New Kind of University

Chapter 15	A Unique University Design	223
Chapter 16	Getting Started	238
Chapter 17	Raising Quality	249
Chapter 18	Lowering Cost	276
Chapter 19	Serving More Students	301

Part Five: Genetic Reengineering

Chapter 20	New Models	325
Chapter 21	Students and Subjects	347
Chapter 22	Scholarship	358
Chapter 23	New DNA	379
Chapter 24	Change and the Indispensable University	396

Notes		403
The Authors		445
Innosight Institute		447
Index		449