*This book is written in honor of my father, Fred Littauer, whose spiritual personality was so different from mine
that it sent me on the quest to understand these differences, resulting in the foundation of this book.*

Special thanks to my dear friend, speaker and writer Betty Southard. She did the original research on the topic of spiritual personalities. As we discussed her work, we each discovered that we shared the same interest in curiosity regarding our personality and our spiritual life. Both of us knew we had a vital and active faith, yet neither of us followed the apparent path to righteousness. Together we investigated and came to the conclusions found in this book. Betty graciously allowed me to use her research.

Thank you to my online reading group who eagerly read each chapter in its roughest form, critiqued and commented, and added their stories—enriching the text and illustrating the points I was making. I appreciate each of you!

Final thanks to Pam Morgan who jumped in to help me at the end when I was feeling stressed and unsure that I would make the deadline. Pam helped me and encouraged me.
