

Index

A

- Acquisition of knowledge, 11, 115–116
- Action learning, 47
- Action plans, 171–173
- Activities for transformative journeys, 182
- Adult education: goals of, 13–14, 44; literature on, 101
- Adult learners, 2–6, 4–5
- Adult learning: asymmetrical power relationships in, 22; characteristics of/categorizing, 17; dimensions of, 2, 17–18; distinctive process of, 2–6; historical perspectives on, 9–10; individual and group, 48; integration, 14–17; kinds of knowledge, 11–14; overview, 9–11; personal nature of, 48; research on transformative, 71; shifts in, 17; Transformative Dimensions of Adult Learning (Mezirow), 21–22. See also Learning
- Aesthetic habits of mind, 27, 28
- Alienation, 128
- Alternative perspectives, 23–24
- Analysis of power, Foucault's, 108–109
- “Angela” (support example), 66
- Antigonish movement, 14, 44
- Anxiety, 5
- Appreciation (for supporting transformative learning), 165
- Apps, J., 183
- Argyris, C., 47
- Arts-based activities, 152–154, 156–157
- Artistic learning, 70
- Assumptions: articulating one's, 198; frame of reference as web of, 22; language-based, 31; as point of resistance, 120; psycho-cultural, 21; questioning, 63–65; rejecting identification with, 189–190; revealing, 186–189; unexamined, 30

- Attitudes for authentic dialogue, 161–162
- Authenticity, 178, 199;
 authentic identity, 53–54;
Becoming an Authentic Teacher in Higher Education (Cranton), 112; educator roles, 112–115, 116; facets of, 196–197; principles of authentic relationships, 162; in supporting learners, 161–163; in supporting transformative learning, 178; through involvement in relationships, 113–114, 115
- Authority and power, 108–112, 116, 122–123, 133
- Autobiography strategy, 145–146
- Autodidaxy, 4, 127
- Autonomous learning, 6, 127
- Autonomy, 3, 165
- Awareness: of contexts, 197; of others, 196; of power relations, 119–122; of self as educator, 182–186; self-awareness, 131–132, 182–186, 185–186, 196. See also Educators' transformative journeys
- B
- Baumgartner, L. M., 39
- Becoming a Critically Reflective Teacher* (Brookfield), 181
- Becoming an Authentic Teacher in Higher Education* (Cranton), 112
- Behaviorism, 9, 41
- Belenky, M. F., 8, 22, 29, 42, 76, 98, 115, 159, 191
- Beliefs, questioning one's, 65
- Berger, J. G., 75
- Biography strategy, 145–146
- Blanchard, L. J., 127
- Blessings* (Quindlen), 72–73
- Blogs, 147
- Bond, L. A., 76, 115
- Booth, G., 49
- Boyd, R. D., 49, 50, 163
- Brian, D., 44
- Brockett, R., 9, 107
- Brookfield, S., 4, 10, 25, 26, 27, 41, 45, 55, 58, 61, 65, 101, 105, 107, 108, 109, 110, 111–112, 115, 119, 121, 123, 127, 128, 141, 143, 144, 151, 152, 164, 174, 176, 181, 186, 193
- Buber, M., 162
- Burford, M. L., 44
- C
- Caffarella, R., 46, 174
- Campbell, E., 68
- Campbell, V. N., 126
- Canada, 14, 44, 66
- Candy, P., 3, 127
- “Carmen” (learner empowerment example), 117–119
- Carter, T., 43
- Carusetta, E., 54, 112, 115, 181, 196
- Characteristics in dimensions of development, 75

- “Chen” (individual differences example), 176–178
 Childhood experiences, 32
 Circles of trust, 192
 “Clara” (extrarational perspective example), 67
 Clark, J. E., 43, 63
 Clark, M. C., 39
 Classifying/categorizing knowledge, 10, 14, 18
 Classifying individual differences, 79–80
 Clinchard-Sepeda, L., 68
 Clinchy, B. M., 29, 42
 Coady, Father Moses, 44, 125
 Coady, M. M., 125
 Cognitive style, 5–6
 Cohen, J. B., 40, 43, 71
 Cohen, L. R., 142
 “Cohort 14” example, 68
 Colin, S., 25, 65
 Collaboration, communicative learning in, 12
 Collaborative construction of knowledge, 110
 Collaborative inquiry, 47, 78
 Collaborative learning, 4
 Collard, S., 39, 44
 Collective transformation, 49
 Communication, teaching as, 114
 Communicative domain, 106
 Communicative knowledge, 12, 15–16, 18, 104–106, 116
 Compulsory visibility, 109
 Conflict, 173–176, 179–180
 Congruence of teacher roles, 114–115
 Connected Knowers, 98
 Connected knowing, 41–43, 159–160
 Consciousness, 31, 92
 Consciousness-raising experiences, 142–146, 156
 Constructivism, 79, 81, 103
 Content reflection, 33, 34, 139–140
 Contexts: developing awareness of, 197; educational, 67–68; educators’ work, 114; transformative learning, 6–9, 57–58
 Control, mechanisms of, 123–124
 Conversational roles, 144
 Cranton, P., 2, 6, 9, 35, 49, 54, 74, 80, 81, 90, 96, 112, 115, 121, 132, 139, 155, 161, 162, 181, 183, 196, 198
 Crises, life, 63
 Crisis-decision simulations, 186–187, 188–189
 Criteria analysis, 186–187
 Critical Incident Questionnaire (CIQ), 152
 Critical incidents, 150–152, 156
 Critical questioning and imagining, 189–191
 Critical self-reflection. See Self-reflection/critical self-reflection Critical theory, 13, 127–128, 176

- Critical thinking, 58–59, 103–104, 173
- Criticism: of organizational learning, 47; of transformative learning theory, 39, 43–44
- Cultural assumptions, 21
- Cultural differences, 176–178
- Cunningham, P., 44
- D
- Daloz, L., 22, 40, 74, 77, 135, 159, 170
- “David” (empowerment example), 60–61
- Davis, A., 45
- Debriefing, 144
- Dechant, K., 47
- Decision making, 129–130, 188–189
- Deliberation (for supporting transformative learning), 165
- Della-Dora, D., 127
- Democracy, practicing, 128
- Democratic discussion, 164–165
- Democratic participation in education, 46
- Developing Critical Thinkers (Brookfield), 107–108
- Development, dimensions of, 75
- Developmental perspective, 77
- Developmental relationships, 42
- Developmental stages of knowing for women, 42
- Developmental transformation, 74–76
- Development of transformative learning theory, 20–23
- Dewey, J., 4, 33, 148
- Dialogue/discourse, 36, 198; attitudes for authentic, 161–162; conditions of rational, 117–118; definition of, 24; empowerment through, 124–126, 133; engaging others in, 191–192; role of, 65–66
- Dialogue education, principles of, 105
- Diaries, 146–148
- Differences among people. See Psychological types/type theory
- Dirkx, J., 2, 7, 23, 32, 39, 40, 50, 51, 53, 55, 67, 68, 69, 77, 80, 98, 152, 188
- Dirkx’s four-lens approach to understanding, 40–41
- Discernment process, 49–50
- Disciplinary power, 109, 123, 133
- Discourse. See Dialogue/discourse
- Discussion circles, 121
- Disorienting events, 61–63, 77, 94
- Distorted meaning perspectives, 28–29
- Divergent thinking, 128
- Doll’s House, A* (Ibsen), 189–190
- Dominicé, P., 145
- Dualistic thinking, 42
- E
- Ebert, O., 44
- Ecological view of transformative learning, 48–49

- Educational biographies, 145–146
- Educational experiences, 33
- Educational tasks, 45
- Educator roles, 45–46; acquisition of knowledge, 115–116; adult education literature, 101; authenticity, 112–115, 116; communicative knowledge, 104–106, 116; emancipatory learning, 106–108, 116; power and authority, 108–112, 116
- Educators' transformative journeys: awareness of self as educator, 182–186; describing a perspective on education, 192–195; engaging others in dialogue, 191–192; individuation of teacher as Self, 195–197; individuation process, 199; rationale for work, 199; revealing assumptions, 186–189; self-awareness, 198
- Elias, D., 46, 47, 48, 55, 69, 164
- Emancipatory learning, 13–14, 16, 18, 106–108, 111–112, 116, 117
- Emergence of self, transformation as, 195
- Emotional intelligence, 41
- Emotions, management of, 6
- Empowerment of learners. See Learner empowerment
- English, L., 6, 43, 53
- Epistemic habits of mind, 25, 28, 184–185; content reflection questions, 139–140; premise questions, 141; process reflection questions, 140
- Epistemologies, 74–75
- Epochal (incremental) learning, 71–74
- Ethical issues, 26, 28, 173–176, 179–180
- Expectations, 19, 62
- Experience and Education* (Dewey), 148
- Experience(s), 4–5; childhood, 26, 32; consciousness-raising, 142–146; educational, 33; filtering of, 23; habits of mind from, 27; making meaning out of, 8; precipitating events, 72; reflection on, 33–35; validity of internal, 83
- Experiential activities for self-reflection, 148–150
- Experiential learning, 4, 7, 149
- Extrarational learning, 49–52, 55–56, 67–71, 77
- Extrarational perspective, 67–71
- Extraversion and introversion, 81–83
- Extraverted functions, illustration of, 86
- F
- Facets of authenticity, 196–197
- Facets of self-directed learning, 3–4
- Facilitator role of educators, 104–105

- Feedback, 66, 111, 120, 173
 Feeling and thinking functions, 83
 Feeling questions, 142
 Feller, A., 68
 Feminist writers, 42
 Fenwick, T., 33, 47
 Fiddler, M., 179
 Flanagan, J., 150
 Flannery, D., 42
Fostering Critical Reflection in Adulthood (Mezirow), 21
 Fostering self-reflection, 135–138, 155–156. See also Self-reflection/critical self-reflection
 Foucault, M., 108
 Foucault's analysis of power, 4, 108–109, 123
 Four-lens approach. See Progress of transformative learning theory
 Frame of reference about education, 193
 Frames of reference, 22, 23, 37
 Frankl, V., 60
 Freire, P., 10, 13, 31, 39, 43, 46, 107, 119, 125, 143, 161
 Friendship, role in transformative learning of, 43
 Functions (type theory), 83, 84–89

G

- Gardner, H., 6, 41
 Gender issues: feminist theory, 10; gender differences in learning, 42; learning preferences according to, 6;

- supporting development of others, 76
 Gillen, M., 14, 53
 Gilly, M. S., 43, 54
 Goals: adult education, 13–14, 44; implementation of, 173; learner empowerment, 121; learning, 104–105; psychological development, 92
 Goldberg, N. R., 29, 42
 Goleman, D., 6, 41
 Gozawa, J., 61
 Greene, M., 71, 152, 188
 Griffin, V., 170
 Group identity, 51
 Group mind concept, 55
 Groups: evolution of, 165–166; learner networks, 166–169; special interest, 168; transformations, 46–48, 55
 Group support, 163–166
 Growing edge of transformation, 75
 Guidelines: asking good questions, 138–139; encouraging group cohesiveness/support, 165–166; journal writing, 147; providing, 132
 Gunnlaugson, O., 49

H

- Habermas, J., 10, 13, 14, 21, 26, 31, 35, 43
 Habits of mind, 22, 77; aesthetic, 27, 28; epistemic, 25, 28, 139–140, 141, 184–185; moral-ethical, 26, 28; philosophical, 27, 28;

- psychological, 140;
 questioning, 30–31; reflective questions for, 36; revising,
 96–97, 179; sociolinguistic,
 25, 28, 30–31, 106, 139, 140,
 184; sources of, 37–38;
 transforming, 35; types of,
 24–28, 37; unquestioned,
 28–33
- Harrison, J., 13
 Hart, M., 39, 44
 Hayes, E., 42
 Hegemony, 127
 Herman, L., 49
 Highland Folk School (Highlander Research and Education Center), 44–45
 Hillman, J., 50
 Historical perspectives on adult learning, 9–10
 Holistic theory of transformative learning,
 51–52, 170
 Hollis, J., 114, 162
 Holma College of Integral Studies, 49
 Hope (for supporting transformative learning), 165
 Horton, Myles, 44, 119, 125
 Hospitality, 164
 Humanism, 4, 9
 Humanity, visions of, 32
 Humility, 164
- I
- Ibsen, Henrik, 189
 Identity, authentic, 53–54
 Ideology critique, 45, 127
- Illich, Ivan, 10
 Imaginative perception, 142
 Imagining, critically, 189–191
 Incremental (epochal) learning,
 71–74
 Individual differences, 131–132,
 154–155, 157, 176–178, 180.
See also Psychological types/type theory
 Individualism, 41–42
 Individual-to-social continuum,
 10
 Individuation, 50, 51, 92–93,
 195–197, 199
 Initial reactions, 71
 Instrumental knowledge, 15–16
 Instrumental learning, 102–103
 Integrative thinking, 42–43
 International Transformative
 Learning Conference, 40, 131
 Introversion and extraversion,
 81–83
 Introverted functions,
 illustration of, 89
 Introverted people, learning styles, 7
 Intuition and sensing functions,
 83, 85–86
 Irrational (perceptive) functions, 83
- J
- Jarvis, P., 114, 127, 161
 Jensen, A., 68
 “Jim” (extrarational perspective example), 69–70 “John” (questioning assumptions example), 64

- Johnson, R., 146
 Johnson-Bailey, J., 25, 65
 Journal of Transformative Education, 50, 52
 Journals, 146–148, 156, 189
 Judgmental functions, 84
 Judgment(s): how we make, 26; preferences in making, 99; reflective, 29–30, 124–125
 Jung, C., 50, 51, 52, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 87, 92, 97, 143, 195
 Jungian psychology, 49–50, 51
- K
- Kasl, E., 46, 47, 48, 55, 69, 164
 Kegan, R., 33, 46–47, 74, 76, 79, 124, 189, 191
 King, P., 8, 29, 33, 74, 125
 Kitchener, K., 8, 29, 33, 74, 125
 Knoop, R., 81, 90, 132, 183
 Knowledge: categorizing, 104; classifying, 10; emancipatory, 13–14; practical, 12; technical, 11; ways of obtaining, 139–140
 Knowles, M., 3, 4, 5, 127
 Kolb, D., 7, 132, 149, 183
 Kornhaber, M. L., 6, 41
 Kuhne, G. W., 189
- L
- Lange, E., 135
 Language: failure of, 75; understanding each other through, 12
 Language-based assumptions, 31
 Law, M., 39, 44
 Leadership, 76
 Learner control, 3, 126–127
 Learner empowerment, 59–61, 71–74, 174–175; awareness of power relations, 119–122; decision making, 134; definition of empowerment, 119; educator support for, 133; example of, 117–119; exercising power, 122–123; individual differences, 131–132; learner decision making, 126–130; power relationships, 133; through discourse, 124–126
 Learner networks, 166–169, 179
 Learners: adult, 2–6, 4–5; authenticity in supporting, 161–163; contexts of transformative learning, 57–58; critical self-reflection perspective of, 58–66; developing learner networks, 167–168; developmental transformation, 74–76; encouraging learner decision making, 129–130, 134; extrarational perspective, 67–71; growth of, 174; incremental or epochal learning, 71–74; networks, 166–169, 179; worldviews, 97–98. See also Learner empowerment

- Learning: action, 47; artistic, 70; autonomous, 6, 127; collaborative, 4, 12; contexts, 6–9, 57–58; debates about, 41; emancipatory, 13–14, 16, 18, 106–108, 111–112, 116, 117; epochal (incremental), 71–74; experiential, 4, 7, 149; extrarational, 49–52, 55–56, 67–71, 77; gender differences in, 6, 42; goals, 104–105; group and organizational, 46–48; instrumental, 102–103; organizational, 47; participatory, 4; practical, 4, 7; as problem of self-reflection, 50; relational, 6, 98; research on, 52–54; scientific methodologies for, 11; self-directed, 3–4, 7, 21, 127; self-reflection for, 50; social conditions for, 60; styles, 5–6, 7, 25, 42, 98–99, 112; temporal dimension of, 71–74, 74–76; voluntary, 2–3, 6–7. See also Adult learning
- Learning as Transformation: Critical Perspectives on a Theory in Progress (Mezirow), 22
- Learning Style Inventory (Kolb), 132
- Lennard, D., 49
- Liaisons, fostering, 168
- Liberation, 128
- Life crises, 63
- Life story strategy, 145–146
- Lin, L., 96, 155
- Lindeman, E. C., 13
- Lipton, Bruce, 68–69, 77
- “Lisa” (extrarational perspective example), 70
- Literacy, adult, 104
- Literature, adult education, 79–80, 108
- Livneh, C., 4
- Livneh, H., 4
- “Lois” (discourse/dialogue/support example), 66
- M
- MacKeracher, D., 6, 41
- Making meaning, 19
- Marcuse, H., 27
- Marie, D., 68
- Marienu, C., 179
- Markos, L., 50
- Marsick, V. J., 39, 46, 47
- “Martin” (self-reflection example), 136–137
- McWhinney, W., 50
- Meaning perspectives, 23
- Meaning schemes, 22
- Mechanisms of control, 123–124
- Men, learning preferences of, 6
- Mentor role of educators, 105–106
- Merriam, S., 7, 9, 46, 107, 174
- Meyers, S. R., 39
- Meyers-Briggs Type Indicator (MBTI), 84, 132
- Mezirow, J., 2, 4, 7, 8, 10, 11, 13, 16, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24,

Mezirow, J., continued
 28, 29, 31, 32, 33, 35, 37, 38,
 39, 40, 43, 45, 46, 53, 54, 55,
 56, 58, 59, 63, 65, 71, 77, 79,
 93, 95, 96, 98, 99, 102, 106,
 117, 124, 125, 138, 154, 160,
 169, 171, 175, 191
 Mindfulness, 164
 Modeling role of educators,
 105–106
 Models: experiential learning,
 149; linearity of, 59; reflective judgment, 29–30
 Modernism, 11
Mona Lisa Smile (film), 173
 Moore, J., 181
 Moore, T., 50
 Moral-ethical habits of mind,
 26, 28
 Multiple intelligences, 6, 41
 Mutuality, 164
 Myers, I. B., 49, 132

N

Nesbit, T., 174
 Networks, 166–169, 179, 181
 Neuman, P., 39
 Newman, M., 45

O

Observers, task of, 81
 O'Hara, M., 165
 One-dimensional thought,
 127
 Organizational transformation,
 46–48, 55
 O'Sullivan, E., 48, 49

Outcomes of transformative learning, 8

P

Palmer, P., 53, 115, 183, 185,
 188, 190, 191, 192, 199
 Participation (group support),
 164
 Participatory learning, 4
 Patterns of understanding, 9–10,
 58
 Peddigrew, B., 68
 Peer support, 178–179
 Peer teaching, 167
 Perceptive (irrational)
 functions, 83
 Perry, W. G., 29
 Personal adjustments, support for, 169–171
 Personal Empowerment through
 Type (PET) inventory, 132
 Personality: development, 51;
 traits, 26
 Personal perspective transformation, 20, 49
 Personal transformation, definition of, 49–50
 Personas, 162
 Perspectives: acquiring new,
 190–191; alternative, 23–24;
 in communicative domain,
 106; critical self-reflection,
 58–66; developmental, 77;
 distorted meaning, 28–29; on education, 192–195; extra-rational, 67–71; Learning as Transformation: Critical

- Perspectives on a Theory in Progress* (Mezirow), 22; meaning, 23; personal perspective transformation,
 20, 49; psychological,
 182–183; questioning, 63–65,
 185; on race, 25–26;
 unquestioned meaning, 30
- Perspective transformation, 20, 21, 62
- Pfhal, N., 39
- Phases of transformation, 59
- Philosophical habits of mind,
 27, 28
- Philosophy of practice, 193–194
- Points of view, 42
- Power: asymmetrical relationships, 22; authority and, 108–112, 116, 122–123, 133; exercising, 122–123;
 exploring, 121–122;
 Foucault's analysis of, 4,
 108–109, 123; position, 108;
 relations, 117, 119–122,
 174–175; unmasking, 127. See also Learner empowerment
- Practical knowledge, 12
- Practical learning, 4, 7
- Premise reflection, 33, 34–35
- Premise reflection questions,
 141
- Preskill, S., 105, 144, 152, 164
- Problem solving, 34, 148
- Process of adult learning. See
 Adult learning
- Process of transformation, 22, 24
- Process reflection, 33, 34
- Process reflection questions, 140
- Professional and Organizational Development (POD)
 network, 181
- Professional Development as Transformative Learning*
 (Cranton), 181
- Profiles of preferences, developing, 93
- Progoff, I., 146
- Progoff journal process,
 146–148
- Progress of transformative learning theory: central aspects of, 43; connected knowing, 41–43; critics of, 39;
 Dirkx's four-lens approach to understanding, 40–41;
 ecological view, 48–49;
 emphasis of researchers/writers, 54–55; extrarational approach, 49–52, 55–56;
 groups and organizations,
 46–48; research on transformation learning,
 52–54, 56; social change,
 43–46
- Provocateurs, 108
- Psycho-cultural assumptions, 21
- Psychological development, goal of, 92
- Psychological habits of mind.
See Habits of mind
- Psychological perspectives,
 182–183

- Psychological types/type theory, 80, 157; attitudes and functions, 84; differentiation, 91–92; extrarational transformative learning, 97–98; extraverted feeling, 84–85; extraverted intuition, 85–86; extraverted sensing, 85; extraverted thinking, 84; functions, 83, 84–89; individuation, 92–93; introversion and extraversion, 81–83; introverted feeling, 86–87; introverted intuition, 88–89; introverted sensing, 88; introverted thinking, 86–87; learning styles and, 99; Meyers-Briggs Type Indicator (MBTI), 84, 132; overview, 80–81; participation in discourse, 95–96; preferences, 51–52, 90–91; psychological types, 84–89; relational transformative learning, 98; revision of habits of mind, 96–97; self-reflection and, 154–155; transformation learning and, 93–98
- Q
- Questioning: assumptions/perspectives, 63–65; critically, 189–191; habits of mind, 30–31; perspectives, 185; self-reflection, 138–142
- Questionnaires, Critical Incident Questionnaire (CIQ), 152
- Questions: asking good, 138–139; content reflection, 139–140; for developing a philosophy of practice, 193–195; feeling, 142; premise reflection, 141; process reflection, 140; for promoting self-reflection, 137; reflective, 34–35, 36, 37, 183–184, 185; spiraling, 142; use of critical, 156
- Quigley, B. A., 189
- Quindlen, A., 72
- R
- Race, mainstream perspectives on, 25–26
- Rationale for teaching, 192–195, 199
- Rational problem solving, 148
- Rational transformation, 77
- Reason, reclaiming, 128
- Reflection: critical, 197; Dewey's definition of, 33; questions for, 36; types of, 33–35. See also Self-reflection/critical self-reflection
- Reflective judgment, 29–30, 124–125
- Reflective questions, 36, 37
- Reformist role of educators, 106–108
- Relational learning, 6
- Relational transformative learning, 98

- Relationships: asymmetrical power, 22; authenticity through involvement in, 113–114, 115; developing, 196; developmental, 42; learner networks, 166–169; power, 133; principles of authentic, 162; types of developmental, 43
- Relationship styles, 162–163
- Relativism, 103
- Research on transformation learning, 52–54
- Resistance to power, 110
- Resources of adult learners, 4–5
- Robinson, P., 40
- Rogers, Carl, 165
- Role play strategy, 143–144
- Roles: congruence of teacher, 114–115; conversational, 144; of discourse, dialogue, and support, 65–66; educators, 104–105; familiar, 143; friendship, 43. See also Educator roles
- Roy, M., 2, 49
- S
- Sawyer, L., 77
- Schön, D.A., 47
- Scientific methodologies for learning, 11
- Scott, S., 46, 159
- Selective perception, 31
- Self, teacher as, 195–197
- Self-awareness, 131–132, 182–186, 185–186, 196. See also Educators' transformative journeys
- Self-concept, 8–9, 26
- Self-determination, 13
- Self-directed learning, 3–4, 7, 21, 127
- Self-in-the-world, 46
- Self-management, 3–4, 127
- Self-perception, impact of experiences on, 32
- Self-reflection/critical self-reflection, 13, 33, 38, 94–95, 117, 197, 198; arts-based activities, 152–154, 156–157; consciousness-raising experiences, 142–146; critical, 94–95; critical incidents, 150–152, 156; disorienting events for, 61–63; educators', 114; events that stimulate, 62; experiential activities for, 148–150; fostering, 135–138, 155–156; individual differences in, 154–155; journals, 146–148, 156; learners' perspectives, 58–66; learning as problem of, 50; for participating in discourse, 124; psychological types and, 154–155; questioning, 138–142; questions for promoting, 137; strategies for, 138; without social action, 45
- Self-surveillance, 109
- Self-understanding, 131
- Selman, G., 104
- Senge, P. M., 47

- Sensing and intuition functions, 83, 85
- Separate versus integrated knowing, 42–43
- Shahjahan, R. A., 152
- Sharp, D., 51, 93, 121, 197
- Sheared, V., 25, 65
- “Sheila” (disorienting event example), 61–62
- Simulations, 145, 186
- Skills, teaching technical, 102
- Smith, S., 175
- Social change, 43–46, 55
- Social conditions for transformative learning, 60
- Social evolution, 26–27
- Social norms, 62
- Sociolinguistic habits of mind, 25, 28, 106, 184; articulating and questioning, 30–31; content reflection questions, 139; process reflection questions, 140
- Sokol, A., 74
- Soul, devaluation of, 67–68
- Soul work, 32, 40, 50–51
- Sovereign power, 122, 133
- Special interest groups, 168
- Spiraling questions, 142
- Spirituality, 68
- Stanton, A., 8, 22, 42, 98, 159, 191
- Strategies: cognitive-based, 188; consciousness-raising, 143–146, 156; critical incident activity, 151–152; developing learner networks, 167–168; encouraging learner decision making, 129–130, 134; encouraging participation in discourse, 125–126; engaging in dialogue, 191–192; experiential activities, 148–150; for personal advisement/support, 170–171; problem solving, 34; for revealing assumptions, 186–187; self-reflection, 138; stimulating critical thinking, 107–108
- Structural change, 45, 48, 71
- Structure, providing, 132
- Styles, learning, 5–6, 7, 25, 42, 98–99, 112
- Support, role of, 65–66
- Supporting transformative learning, individual differences, 180; authenticity, 161–163, 178; conflict and ethical issues, 173–176; connected knowing, 159–160; group support, 163–166; helping with personal adjustments, 169–171; learner networks, 166–169, 179; peer support, 178–179; responsibility for providing support, 160; revising habits of mind, 179; supporting action, 171–173
- Surveillance, 109, 110–112
- Sweden, 49
- System world, 31

T

- “Tammy” (self-reflection example), 135–136
- Tarule, J. M., 29, 42
- Taylor, E., 23, 41, 52, 57, 59, 61, 71, 77, 78
- Taylor, K., 75, 179
- Teacher as Self, 195–197
- Teaching: as communication, 114; nature of, 25; peer, 167; rationale for, 192–195, 199; technical skills, 102; transformative nature of, 181–182
- Technical knowledge, 11, 17–18, 102–104
- Temporal dimension of learning, 71–74, 74–76
- Tennant, M., 74
- Theories: adult developmental, 29; critical, 13, 21, 127–128, 176; holistic theory of transformative learning, 51–52, 170; individuation, 92–93; Learning as Transformation: Critical Perspectives on a Theory in Progress (Mezirow), 22; learning styles and, 99; participation in discourse, 95–96; relational transformative learning, 98; self-reflection and, 154–155; traditional learning theory, 41, 42–43, 50; transformation learning and, 93–98; transformative learning theory, 17, 20–23, 39, 43–44. See also Psychological types/type theory; Transformative learning theory
- Thinking and feeling functions, 83
- Thompson, T., 49
- Tisdell, E. J., 40, 42, 53, 54, 68, 153
- Tolliver, D. E., 40, 54
- Tompkins, Father Jimmy, 44
- Torres, C. A., 46
- Traditional learning theory, 41, 42; ego-based, rational, objective, 50; women’s stages of knowing, 42–43
- Training programs, 11, 41–42
- Transformative Dimensions of Adult Learning* (Mezirow), 21–22
- Transformative Learning Centre, 48
- Transformative Learning Conferences, 39
- Transformative learning theory: development of, 20–23, 35–36; types of habits of mind, 24–28; types of reflection, 33–35; unquestioned habits of mind, 28–33
- Transitions, normal life, 74
- Traumatic events/crises, 63, 72
- Trigger events, 71
- Trust, circles of, 192
- Type theory. See Psychological types/type theory; Theories

U

Unconscious, Watkins's
 description of, 32
 Understanding, examples of kinds of, 90–91
 Undifferentiation, 91–92
 Unquestioned habits of mind,
 28–33
 Unquestioned meaning perspectives, 30

V

Values, questioning, 174–176
 Vella, J., 105
 Vital Knowledge Software, 90
 Voluntary learning, 2–3, 6–7

W

Wake, W. K., 6, 41
 Watkins, K., 47
 Watkins, M., 32
 Ways of knowing, 58–66,
 67–71

Weinstock, J. S., 76, 115
 Wiessner, C. A., 39, 40, 56, 60,
 138, 191
 Wilson, A. L., 39
 Wisdom, 76
 Women: learning in volunteer organizations by, 43; learning preferences of, 6; learning styles of, 42, 112
 Workplace, training programs,
 11
 Worldview(s): constructivist,
 79; development of, 28; habits of mind, 24–25; opposing, 28;
 reflecting on, 156; theorists and learners, 97–98;
 transcendental, 27. See also
 Habits of mind

Y

“Yeshey” (support example), 66
 Yorks, L., 46, 47
 Yukl, G., 108