

Contents

Acknowledgments xi

Introduction

Bridget Jones: Not Your Average Spiritual Sage xvii

1

The Confessions of a (Neurotic) Diary-Keeper

Why Telling Our Stories Is a Spiritual Act 1

2

Real Feminists Don't Wear Pink—or Do They?

Making Spirituality Fit for Chicks (in Kitten Heels) 18

3

“Oh God, Why Am I So Unattractive?”

Understanding the Body as Spiritual Temple,

Not Grotesque Obstacle 33

4

“Forgive Us Our Trespasses!”

When It Comes to Vice, We Shall Flourish as Tulips! 49

5

“Am Irresistible Sex Goddess! Hurrah!”

When Shagging and Snogging Are Divine 63

6

“Up the Fireman’s Pole”

Career as Spiritually Liberating or Bane of Existence? 78

7

Bread and Wine Among Friends

Finding Spiritual Community at a Local Bar 95

8

“Have You Noticed Anything Odd
About Your Mother?”

*Facing Family, Martyr Mums, and Smug Marital Obsessions
on the Road to Enlightenment* 109

9

Tick-Tock Goes the Biological Clock
Is Chick Mummyhood a Divine Fantasy or Just Religious Fiction? 126

10

All Goddesses Have a Romantic Side (or Ten)
Love, Mr. Darcy, and Loving Mr. Darcy 141

11

“Human Beings Are Like Streams of Water”
Self-Help, Inner Poise, and Spiritual Epiphany 157

Epilogue

Laughing All the Way to My Debutante Ball 171

A Reader's Guide to the Heroines of Chick Lit

The Syllabus You Won't Find in a Course on Feminist Studies 177

Kindred Spirits

Conversations with Some V. Cool Real-Life Chicks: Katrina Markoff, Meg Cabot, Amy Richards, and Jennifer Baumgardner 187

Notes 213

The Author 239