
CONTENTS

Preface	xv
1 INTRODUCTION	1
To Begin	2
The Risk Communication Process	5
Audiences, Situations, and Purposes	6
References	7
PART I UNDERSTANDING RISK COMMUNICATION
2 APPROACHES TO COMMUNICATING RISK	11
Communication Process Approach	12
National Research Council's Approach	12
Mental Models Approach	13
Crisis Communication Approach	14
Convergence Communication Approach	15
Three-Challenge Approach	15
Social Constructionist Approach	16
Hazard Plus Outrage Approach	17
Mental Noise Approach	17
Social Network Contagion Approach	18
Social Amplification of Risk Approach	18
Social Trust Approach	19
Evolutionary Theory Approach	20
Summary	20
References	20
Additional Resources	22
3 LAWS THAT MANDATE RISK COMMUNICATION	23
Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation, and Liability Act	24
Emergency Planning and Community Right-to-Know Act	25

Executive Order 12898, Environmental Justice in Minority Populations	25
Executive Order 13045, Reduce Environmental Health and Safety Risks to Children	28
National Environmental Policy Act	28
Natural Resource Damage Assessment	29
Occupational Safety and Health Act	30
Resource Conservation and Recovery Act	32
Risk Management Program Rule	32
Privacy Rule	32
Other Government Inducements	33
International Standards	33
North American Standards	33
Grants	34
Summary	34
References	34
Additional Resources	35
4 CONSTRAINTS TO EFFECTIVE RISK COMMUNICATION	37
Constraints on the Communicator	37
Organizational Constraints	37
Emotional Constraints	43
Constraints from the Audience	45
Hostility and Outrage	45
Panic and Denial	47
Apathy	48
Mistrust of Risk Assessment	48
Disagreements on the Acceptable Magnitude of Risk	49
Lack of Faith in Science and Institutions	50
Learning Difficulties	50
Constraints for Both Communicator and Audience	51
Stigma	51
Stability of the Knowledge Base	52
Summary	53
References	53
Additional Resources	54
5 ETHICAL ISSUES	57
Social Ethics	58
The Sociopolitical Environment's Influence	58
The Use of the Risk Idiom	60
Fairness of the Risk	61

Consequences of Multiple Meanings	62
The Issue of Stigma	63
Organizational Ethics	63
Legitimacy of Representation	64
Designation of Primary Audience	65
Releasing Information	66
Attitude toward Compliance with Regulations	67
Personal Ethics	68
Using Persuasion	68
The Role of the Communicator	68
Organizational Ethics or Personal Ethics?	69
Summary	69
References	70
Additional Resources	70
6 PRINCIPLES OF RISK COMMUNICATION	71
Principles of Process	72
Know Your Communication Limits and Purpose	72
Whenever Possible, Pretest Your Message	73
Communicate Early, Often, and Fully	73
Remember That Perception is Reality	74
Principles of Presentation	74
Know Your Audience	75
Do Not Limit Yourself to One Form or One Method	75
Simplify Language and Presentation, Not Content	75
Be Objective, Not Subjective	75
Communicate Honestly, Clearly, and Compassionately	76
Listen and Deal with Specific Concerns	76
Convey the Same Information to All Segments of Your Audience	77
Deal with Uncertainty	77
Principles for Comparing Risks	78
Use Analogies, but Do Not Trivialize	79
Use Ranges	79
Compare to Standards	79
Compare to Other Estimates of the Same Risk	80
Compare Traits	80
Do Not Compare Risks with Different Levels of Associated Outrage	80
Explain Reductions in Magnitude	81
Summary	81
References	81
Additional Resources	82

PART II PLANNING THE RISK COMMUNICATION EFFORT

7	DETERMINE PURPOSE AND OBJECTIVES	85
	Factors That Influence Purpose and Objectives	86
	Legal Issues	86
	Organizational Requirements	86
	The Risk Itself	87
	Audience Requirements	88
	Checklist for Determining Purpose and Objectives	89
	Reference	90
	Additional Resources	90
8	ANALYZE YOUR AUDIENCE	91
	Begin with Purpose and Objectives	92
	Choose a Level of Analysis	92
	Determine Key Audience Characteristics	95
	Determine How to Find Audience Analysis Information	95
	Incorporate Audience Analysis Information into Risk Communication Efforts	101
	Checklist for Audience Analysis	102
	References	103
	Additional Resources	103
9	DEVELOP YOUR MESSAGE	105
	Common Pitfalls	106
	Information People Want	107
	Mental Models	108
	Message Mapping	111
	Health Risk Communication	111
	Crisis Communication	114
	Checklist for Message Development	115
	References	115
	Additional Resources	116
10	DETERMINE THE APPROPRIATE METHODS	117
	Information Materials	117
	Visual Representation of Risk	118
	Face-to-Face Communication	119
	Working with the News Media	120
	Stakeholder Participation	122
	Technology-Assisted Communication	123

Checklist for Determining Methods	125
Additional Resources	126
11 SET A SCHEDULE	127
Legal Requirements	127
Organizational Requirements	127
The Scientific Process	128
Ongoing Activities	128
Audience Needs	130
Checklist for Setting Schedules	132
References	132
12 DEVELOP A COMMUNICATION PLAN	133
What to Include in a Communication Plan	133
Developing Risk Communication Strategies	136
Storyboarding as a Planning Tool	136
Communication Planning Using the CERCLA Approach	137
Using an Audience Focus	137
Strategic Planning for Risk Communication	140
Checklist for Communication Planning	140
References	140
Additional Resources	141
PART III PUTTING RISK COMMUNICATION INTO ACTION
13 INFORMATION MATERIALS	145
Constructing Information Materials	145
Information to Be Included	145
Organizing Material for Information Materials	148
Language for Information Materials	149
Narrative Style in Information Materials	150
Guidelines for Specific Types of Information Materials	151
Newsletters	151
Pamphlets, Booklets, and Fact Sheets	152
Posters, Advertisements, and Displays	153
Articles	154
Technical Reports	154
Checklist for Information Materials	155
References	157
Additional Resources	157

14 VISUAL REPRESENTATION OF RISKS	159
Design Visuals for Specific Audiences and Uses	160
Match the Visual Portrayal to the Information to Be Conveyed	162
Pretest Graphics with Those Who Will Use Them	165
Using Visuals to Personalize Risk Information	168
Comparing Risks in Visual Formats	168
Depicting Probability and Uncertainty	170
Presenting Probability	171
Presenting Uncertainty	176
Probability Plus Uncertainty	176
Warning Labels	179
Consider Using Action Levels	182
Ethical Portrayal of Risk Information	184
Using Visual Information in Group Decision Making	187
Checklist for Visual Representation of Risk	187
References	187
Additional Resources	190
15 FACE-TO-FACE COMMUNICATION	191
Constructing Face-to-Face Messages	192
Choose the Appropriate Spokesperson	192
Give the Audience Something to Take Away	194
Reinforce Your Message with Visual Aids	195
Speak in the Language of the Audience	195
Do Not Promise What You Cannot Deliver	195
Guidelines for Specific Types of Face-to-Face Communication	196
Speaking Engagements	196
Speakers Bureaus	198
Tours and Demonstrations	198
Video Presentations	199
Audience Interviews	201
Information Fairs	202
Training	202
Checklist for Face-to-Face Communication	203
References	204
Additional Resource	205
16 WORKING WITH THE MEDIA	207
The Roles of Mass Media in Risk Communication	207
Media Contrasted with Other Stakeholders	209
Productive Interaction, Not Polarization	209

Understand “Cultural” Differences	210
The Media are Event-Focused	210
Certain Kinds of Risks Get More Coverage	211
Journalistic Independence and Deadlines Affect Content	211
The Need for Balance Invites Opposing Views	212
Information is Condensed, Simplified, and Personalized	212
Guidelines for Specific Situations	212
Develop Relationships with Local and Regional Media Representatives	213
Know When to Approach Media Representatives or When They May Approach You	213
Prepare Messages and Materials Carefully	214
Know Where to Draw the Line	215
Put Your Message in Terms the Reporter’s Audience Can Understand	216
Put the Risk in Perspective	216
Respect the Reporter’s Deadlines	217
Maintain Ethical Standards of Disclosure	217
Take Action When Inaccurate or Misleading Material is Published or Aired	218
Using Technology	218
Distribution Services	218
Video and Audio News Releases	219
Social Media	220
Public Service Announcements	220
Telebriefings	221
Special Case: The Use of Mass Media in Public Health Campaigns	221
Paid Placements or Independent Coverage	222
Guidelines	223
Checklist for Media Approaches	225
References	226
Additional Resources	227

17 STAKEHOLDER PARTICIPATION 229

Requirements for Stakeholder Participation	230
Organizational Requirements for Successful Stakeholder Participation	230
Stakeholder Requirements for Successful Participation	231
Guidelines for Specific Types of Stakeholder Participation Activities	232
The Formal Hearing	233
Group Interactions	234
Interactions Involving Risk Assessment	239
Interactions Involving Decision Making	240
Interactions Involving Risk Management	246
Evaluating Stakeholder Participation Based on Your Situation	248

Checklist for Stakeholder Participation	249
References	250
Additional Resources	252

18 TECHNOLOGY-ASSISTED COMMUNICATION 253

Choosing Technology-Based Applications	253
Computers in the Workplace	254
Computer-Based Training	255
Informing Employees about Risks	257
Web-Delivered and Stand-Alone Multimedia Programs	259
Web Tools, CDs, and DVDs	259
Web and Satellite Broadcasts	261
Social Media and Other Interactive Forums	262
Blogs and Podcasts	264
Social Network Sites	265
Traditional Electronic Forums	269
Interactive Multimedia Programs in Public Places	270
Technology in Care Communication	272
Technology in Consensus Communication	276
Websites	276
Local Area Networks, Extranets, and Bulletin Boards	277
Computers in Centralized Public Locations	277
Tracking and Analyzing Comments and Responses	278
Facilitating Group Decision Making	279
Technology in Crisis Communication	281
Checklist for Technology-Assisted Communication	282
References	282
Additional Resources	283

PART IV EVALUATING RISK COMMUNICATION EFFORTS

19 Evaluating Risk Communication Efforts 287

Why Evaluate Risk Communication Efforts?	287
The Meaning of Success	288
Types of Evaluation	290
Conducting the Evaluation	292
Checklist for Evaluating Risk Communication Efforts	294
References	295
Additional Resources	295

PART V SPECIAL CASES IN RISK COMMUNICATION

20	EMERGENCY RISK COMMUNICATION	299
	Understanding Emergency Risk Communication	300
	Emotions and Public Actions	300
	Credibility and Trust	302
	Planning for the Unexpected	304
	Preparing Your Organization	304
	Teaming with Other Organizations	307
	Working with Communities in Advance	308
	Determining Appropriate Communication Methods	309
	Developing an Emergency Risk Communication Plan	312
	Communicating During an Emergency	317
	Emergency Operation Centers	319
	Working with the Media in an Emergency	319
	Answering Questions	322
	Communicating After an Emergency	323
	References	325
	Additional Resources	327
21	International Risk Communication	329
	Recognize the Similarities	330
	Account for Cultural Differences	330
	Look for “Your” Risk in Other Countries	331
	Plan for Cross-Country Communication	332
	References	334
	Additional Resources	336
	RESOURCES	335
	GLOSSARY	343
	INDEX	347
	ABOUT THE AUTHORS

