

Index

A

Account management, 208–212
Accountability, 113; and action, 12–15, 22–23, 257; and the closed-loop process, 226–228
Action: and accountability, 12–15, 22–23, 257; aligning actions with desired outcomes, 201
Adaptive Conversation, 162, 174–178
Aggreko, 212–214, 239–240
Alignment, 68–69; characteristics of an aligned organization, 61–62; Dell, 60–61; front line, 66–71; getting senior leadership committed, 62–63; misalignment of goals, 59; organizational, 19–20; techniques for cementing leadership, 63–66; Virgin Media, 59–60
Allianz, 164, 170–171, 199, 204, 224–225
Analysis of strategic customers, 34–38
Aon Corporation, 128, 154–155
Apple: Net Promoter economics, 54–56; word of mouth success, 52–54
Ascension Health, 259–264
Assessment, 114
Automated tools, for comment analysis, 173–174

B

Bad profits, 8–9
Bain & Company, 25
Baseline performance, 242
BearingPoint, 214–218, 234
Beer, Dan, 226–228

Benchmarks, 95; approaches to gathering competitive benchmarks, 230–232; cross-cultural, 249; GE Real Estate, 233–234; industry variation, 232–233; and relative performance, 229–230. See also cultural differences; goal setting; goals
Berkett, Neil, 17, 57, 59–60, 66
Big bang approach: vs. phased approach, 109–118; Virgin Media, 114–116
Big bets, 113
Blade, Vivian Hairston, 258
Bloom, Hal, 84
Bosworth, Laura, 25, 106
Brady Asia, 196, 236–237
Brady Corporation, 219; and goal setting, 236–237
Brand-focused communities, 264–268
Business function owners, 80
Business-to-business (B2B), 28; strategic accounts management, 221–223
Business-to-consumer (B2C), 28

C

CEOs, governance role of, 78–79
Champions, 83–84
Change agents, Experian, 84–85
Change management, 57–58; aligning the organization, 61–66; challenges in NPS-driven change, 58–59; Dell, 60–61; goal setting in the context of, 71–77; Virgin Media, 59–60
Cheating, 74–75
Chronology, 99
Clayton, Andrew, 161, 164, 170–171, 199, 204, 224–225
Clement, Philip, 128, 154

- Closed-loop process, 13, 191; account management, 208–212; accountability at all levels, 226–228; after the follow-up, 201–202; Aggreko, 212–214; BearingPoint, 214–218; Cognos, 226–228; coverage, 192; designing, 194–202; at the executive level, 223–225; at the front line, 204–214; governance, 193; how to handle follow-up, 200–201; initiate action, 193; at the management level, 218–223; mapping account relationships, 210; most effective time for follow-up, 200; operating on multiple levels, 202–204; root cause analysis, 192–193; Sage Software’s Simply Accounting, 207–208; service and support center, 205–207; speed, 192; which customers receive follow-up, 195–197; who conducts follow-up, 197–200
- Cognos, 226–228
- Collection channels, 149–152
- Comment analysis and categorization, 169–174
- Communication, internal, 113
- Communities: brand-focused, 264–268; Intuit’s Inner Circle, 269–274; LEGO Company, 268–269
- Compensation, 241–242; and employee level, 244–247; establishing baseline performance, 242; participating in the compensation program, 243; single or combined metrics, 243–244
- Conley, Peggy, 129
- Correlation analysis, 178–181
- Cross-functional champions, 83–84
- Cultural differences, 234–236; goal setting, 236–238; goals and organizational learning, 240–241; internal comparisons, 238–240
- Culture, shifting, 105–106
- Customer behaviors, 25–26
- Customer corridor: defining from the measurement perspective, 139–140; and touch points, 97–99; Virgin Media, 100–103
- Customer experience mapping, 142
- Customer intimacy, 26–27
- Customer relationship management (CRM) system, 27
- Customer service and support management, and the closed-loop process, 219–221
- Customer solutions, 90; customer corridor and its touch points, 97–99; Dell’s “Call Factory”, 92–93; operational and structural improvements, 90–92; putting yourself in your customer’s shoes, 99–100; relationship vs. transactional survey processes, 94–95; Sage Software, 140–143; survey types and time frames, 96–97; Virgin Media’s customer corridor, 100–103
- Customer strategy, 111–113
- Customer value, calculating total customer value, 51–52
- Customer-centric decision making, 224–225
- Customer-centric DNA, 19–20
- Customizing, 69
- ## D
- Data analysis skills, 82
- Data collection channels, 149–152
- Dell, 6–7, 25, 60–61; “Call Factory”, 92–93; employee campaign, 106–109
- Dell, Michael, 109
- DeSoto, Laura, 13, 84, 105, 120
- Detractors, 3, 15; estimated value of negative word of mouth, 51; identifying by region, 38; revenue growth rates, 4
- Diffusion, 59
- Dubner, Stephen J., 74
- Dykstra, Diana, 253–254
- ## E
- EBay, 264–265
- Economics, building a case around Net Promoter economics, 65–66
- Educating, 68
- Elationships, 253
- Emotionality, 15–16
- Emotions, drawing on, 64–65

- Employee solutions, 103; Dell's employee campaign, 106–109; employee impact, 103–105; listening to employees, 108; shifting the organization's culture, 105–106
- Employee-based surveys, 109
- Employees, frontline, 67
- Enlisting, 68
- Enterprise roadmap, 20–21, 255–256; sequencing, 111–114
- Execution, 58–59
- Executive engagement, 111
- Executive level, and the closed-loop process, 223–225
- Executive sponsorship, 19–20, 79–80
- Experian, 13; change agents, 84–85; Client Promise, 105–106, 107
- F
- Fanatical Support, 69–71
- Feedback, 26; data collection channels, 149–152; determining the right time to measure, 143–149; and operational and structural improvements, 96; using to improve fulfillment at LEGO Company, 129–131
- Fegel, Julia, 13
- FileNet, 75–77, 243
- Financial data, estimating the value of moving customers between NPS segments, 38–44
- Financial metrics, 39
- Financial outcomes, linkage to, 16–17
- Financial reporting, standards, 7–8
- Five Whys, 164–168
- Follow-up interview process, 166–167
- Freakonomics* (Levitt and Dubner), 74
- G
- Gaming, 156–159
- GE Consumer and Industrial division, 258–259
- GE Real Estate, 132–134, 172–173; competitive benchmarks, 233–234; regression analysis, 182; root cause analysis, 168–169
- Generally Accepted Accounting Principles, 7
- Gladwell, Malcolm, 275
- Goal setting, 238; Brady Corporation, 236–237; in the context of change management, 71–77; methodology, 248–250. See also benchmarks
- Goals, 71; making goals personal, 72; making goals visible, 72; misalignment of, 59; and organizational learning, 240–241
- Godin, John, 168, 172, 233
- Golden Rule, 11, 12
- Good profits, 12; segmentation for, 31–34
- Governance: CEO's governance role, 78–79; closed-loop process, 193; creating roles and responsibilities for, 78; general guidelines, 85–87; program governance model, 77–78; program governance roles and responsibilities, 76; roles and responsibilities, 86–87
- Griffin, Mary Ellen, 259, 260, 261, 263
- Gutierrez, Cheryl, 214–215, 217
- H
- Haentjens, Axel, 12, 119, 120
- Hanson, April, 140
- Hassell, Aisling, 22
- Hunter, Dick, 6–7, 60–61, 92–93, 108
- Hyett, Larry, 16
- Hygiene factors, 99–100
- I
- IBM Cognos, 226–228
- IBM FileNet, 75–77, 243
- Improvement rates, 248–249
- Improvement time frames and rhythm, 247–248
- Incentives, 73–75, 154–155
- Inferential driver analysis, 162, 178; correlation analysis, 178–181; regression analysis, 181–184; relative impact analysis, 184–186
- Innovation: and operational improvements, 258–264; and transformation, 23, 253–254, 257–258
- Intuit, Inner Circle, 269–274

K

Kalcher, Conny, 14, 28, 29–30
 Key differentiators, 100
 Key interactions, 100
 Khan, Suhail, 243
 Kirchmann, Timothy, 176–177
 Klein Wassink, Bernhard, 132–134,
 169, 182, 234
 Klotsche, Allan, 196, 236–237, 240
 Knight, Kip, 11, 264–265
 Kurusz, Peggy, 259

L

LEGO Company, 14–15; Adaptive Conversation, 176–178; communities, 268–269; event-driven NPS at, 130; segmentation, 28–31; using feedback to improve fulfillment,
 129–131
 Levitt, Stephen D., 74
 Libier, Monique, 214, 218, 234
 Line management perspective, 81–82
 Linkage to financial outcomes, 16–17
 Listening to employees, 108
 Loyalty: customer behaviors, 25–26;
 economic impact of improving,
 41; employee-to-customer linkage model, 104; metrics, 39; vs.
 satisfaction, 6–7
The Loyalty Effect (Reichheld), 166
 Lyons, Simon, 10, 191, 212–213,
 239–240

M

Management level, and the closed-loop process, 218–223
 Mapping: account relationships, 210;
 customer experience, 142; touch points, 142
 Mendez, Yesenia, 214, 216, 217, 234
 Methodology, 10–11; goal setting,
 248–250
 Metrics, 68; choosing the right
 metric, 128–131; financial, 39;
 loyalty, 39; measurement pyramid,
 146–147; single or combined metrics, 243–244
 Misalignment of goals, 59
 Misys plc, 135–137, 169

Morrison, Aaron, 135, 169
 Morrison, Christine, 270–274

N

Napier, Lanham, 70–71
 Negative referrals. See word of mouth
 Net, 2
 Net Promoter: key tenets, 10–17;
 primer, 1–3
 Net Promoter Operating Model:
 elements of, 18–23; overview, 17–23
 the Net Promoter question, 2
 Net Promoter Score (NPS), 26; benefit, 3; defined, 2; effect of drop in, 40; historical NPS data, 248; key behaviors, 2–3; recognizing
 NPS improvements and stability,
 72–73; relationship vs. transactional survey processes, 94–95; show-and-tell wins, 63–64; when to measure, 144–146
 NetWorked Promoters, 274–281.
See also Promoters
 Networkers, 277
 NPS. See Net Promoter Score (NPS)

O

Ongoing improvements, 114
 Operational approach, vs. research-based approach, 4–5
 Operational improvements, 90–92;
 Ascension Health, 259–264
 Optimization, 74–75
 Orange Business Services, 12, 119
 Organizational alignment, 19–20
 Organizational context, 111–113
 Ownership: business function owners,
 80; cross-functional integration through, 75–77

P

Passives, 41, 42, 43; impact of moving customers from Passive to Promoter, 44
 Phased approach: vs. big bang
 approach, 109–118; Sage Software,
 116–118
 Philosophy, 11–12
 Positive referrals. See word of mouth

Process skills, 82
 Profits: bad profits, 8–9; good profits, 12, 31–34
 Program governance model, 77–78, 79. See also governance
 Program team, 81–82
 Promoters, 3, 15, 277–278; calculating return on, 34–44; estimated value of positive word of mouth, 49; identifying NetWorked Promoters, 274–281; revenue growth rates, 4; value of, 26
 Proof points, 111
 Proxy measures, 42–44
 Purchase, increased, 25
 Pythagoras, 11

Q

Question design, 137–138; sequencing questions by touch point, 139
 Quick-win improvements, 113

R

Rackspace Hosting, 69–71
 Recommend question, 95
 Recruiting strategies, 125, 155–156
 Referrals, 26. See also word of mouth
 Regression analysis, 181–184
 Reichheld, Fred, 25, 166
 Relationship survey processes, 94–95; and time frames, 96–97
 Relative impact analysis, 184–186
 Relative performance, 229–230; approaches to gathering competitive benchmarks, 230–232; to competitors, 230; GE Real Estate, 233–234; industry variation, 232–233
 Reluctant organization, 117
 Reporting, 69
 Repurchase, 25
 Research-based approach, vs. operational approach, 4–5
 Resistance, 59
 Response rates, 152–159
 Revolutionary approach. See big bang approach
 Rewarding, 69, 156
 RFM model, 123

Risebrow, Sean, 100, 101
 Root cause analysis, 22, 161–162, 256–257; comment analysis and categorization, 169–174; comparison of analysis tools, 187–188; Five Whys, 164–168; GE Real Estate, 168–169; inferential driver analysis, 162, 178–186; stated driver analysis, 162–178

S

Sage Software, 15–16, 84; closed-loop process, 207–208; customer solutions, 140–143; phased approach, 116–118
 Salem, Enrique, 10, 62, 65, 69, 246–247
 Sampling strategies, 122–124; considerations, 125–127; recruiting strategies, 125
 San Francisco Fire Credit Union, 253–254
 Satisfaction, vs. loyalty, 6–7
 Satmetrix, 25; Adaptive Conversation, 162
 Schultz, Laurie, 15–16, 116–118, 207–208
 Segmentation, 27–28, 224–225; estimating the value of moving customers between NPS segments, 38–44; for good profits, 31–34; LEGO Company, 28–31
 Sequencing your enterprise roadmap, 111–114
 Service and support centers, 205–207
The Service Profit Chain (Heskett, Sasser, and Schlesinger), 103, 104
 Show-and-tell NPS wins, 63–64
 Significant improvement test, 250
 Skepticism, 58
 Soames, Rupert, 8–9, 213
 Social networking services, 265. See also communities
 Sponsorship. See executive sponsorship
 Standards of financial reporting, 7–8
 Stated driver analysis, 162–163; Adaptive Conversation, 162, 174–178; comment analysis and categorization, 169–174;

- Stated driver analysis (continued)
 Five Whys, 164–168; follow-up process, 166–167; root cause analysis, 163–169
- Strategic customers, analysis of, 34–38
- Structural improvements, 90–92;
 Dell’s “Call Factory”, 92–93
- Surprising insights, 64
- Surveys: Dell’s employee-based survey, 109; designing a sound business survey, 135–137; face-to-face interviews, 150–151; fitting survey strategy to the business, 131–143; guidelines, 134–135, 136–137; phone interviews, 150–151; relationship vs. transactional, 94–95; sequencing questions by touch point, 139; telephone IVR surveys, 152; time frames, 96–97; Web surveys, 152; writing good business questions, 137–138
- Symantec, 62, 64–65, 69, 246–247
- T
- Target setting. See goal setting
- Targets, 71
- TD Canada Trust (TDCT), 16
- Technology, and transformation, 254–258
- Thompson, John W., 1, 71–72
- Time frames, improvement time frames and rhythm, 247–248
- The Tipping Point* (Gladwell), 275
- Touch points, 14; customer corridor and, 97–99; mapping, 142; sequencing questions by, 139
- Training, 67
- Transactional approach, 144
- Transactional survey processes, 94–95; and time frames, 96–97
- Transformation: and innovation, 23, 253–254; and technology, 254–258
- Trustworthy data, 21, 113, 119–120, 256; achieving an enterprise view, 146–149; choosing the right metric, 128–131; data collection channels, 149–152; defined, 120–121; designing a sound business survey, 135–137; determining the right time to measure, 143–149; fitting survey strategy to the business, 131–143; key elements of strategy, 121–122; measuring the right customers, 122–127; recruiting strategies, 125; response rates and gaming, 152–159; sequencing questions by touch point, 139; survey guidelines, 134–135, 136–137; using feedback to improve fulfillment, 129–131; writing good business questions, 137–138
- U
- the ultimate question, 2
- The Ultimate Question* (Reichheld), 25, 166
- V
- Vertical-sector benchmarks, 231
- Virgin Media, 59–60, 66; big bang approach, 114–116; customer corridor, 100–103
- Voice according to value, 122–123; by role and revenue, 124
- Volunteers, 117
- W
- Wanamaker, John, 44–45
- Weighted growth information, 249
- Word of mouth: Apple’s success, 52–54; estimating the impact of, 44–47; harnessing, 278–279; valuing (case study), 47–56