

Index

- A
- Adult states, 6
 - Adults: Knowles's theory on learning by, 5; past classroom experiences of, 4–5
 - Agreement career discussion, 229, 231
 - Agreements: implementing performance system, 244; on realistic development goals, 221–223
 - Alice in Wonderland* (Carroll), 68
 - Alternative training aids, 152
 - Analytical skills assessment, 39–40
 - Announcement career discussion, 229, 230
 - Announcing instruction position, 29–30
 - Annual performance appraisal: discussion following, 198–200; Instructor Performance Appraisal Form, 195e–197e; six steps to, 194
 - Attitudes: positive, 110–111; questions to test, 130–132
- B
- Bad-seed child state, 6
 - Benkowski, J., 22
 - Brown, K., 8
 - Butler, M., 9, 139
- C
- Canavan, F., 92
 - Career discussion: conducting, 232; determining type of, 229–231; monitoring progress following, 232–233. See also Development
 - Characteristics (instructor): definition of, 15, 19; required for instructor role, 23. See also Competencies
 - Child states: communication from, 6–7; two types of, 6
 - Circle room arrangement, 72, 73
 - Classroom problems: appropriate handling of, 93, 96–98; computer-related, 150–151; “Powers tips” on handling, 96–97; three categories of common, 94e–95e; turning them into positive learning experiences, 98–100
 - Classroom type arrangement, 72, 73
 - Classrooms: appropriate handling of problems in, 93–98; creating a vision for, 105; instructor control over, 89–90; making it comfortable, 105–106; types of arrangements for, 72–73. See also Facilities
 - Closed questions: comparing open-ended and, 128; use to end discussions, 129–130; to test for knowledge, 132
 - Cohen, S., 17
 - Communication: implications for instructors of adults, 7–8; instructor use of clear language, 111–112; instructor use of voice and inflections, 108–109; nondiscriminatory language used in, 92–93; from parent and child states, 6–7; of performance expectations, 55–56, 240. See also Feedback; Questioning skills
 - “Company-ese,” 111–112
 - Compensation. See Rewards/recognition
 - Competencies, 15. See also Characteristics (instructor)
 - Computer equipment, 150–151
 - Confidentiality issues, 224–225
 - Content/sequencing: adhering to specified schedule, 117–118; all material accurately/thoroughly presented, 118–119; flexibility when necessary, 120–121; instructor overview of, 114–115; instructor provided instructions on tests/exercises, 116–117; instructor provided objectives and, 115; instructor provided summaries and transitions, 115–116; instructor review of course, 68; instructor review of course logistics, 113–114; material presented in proper sequence, 120; performance standards on, 59e–60e, 113–121. See also Training materials

Cotton mouths, 104–105

Course evaluation standards, 61e

Creative child state, 6, 8

Critical parent, 6

Cues (minimal and overt), 85–88

D

Daily evaluations, 159

Decision making skills, 37–39

Deep breathing, 106

DeRouin, R., 5

“Desire to Be Here” exercise, 130

Development: career discussion role in, 229–233; confidentiality and privacy issues of, 224–225; feedback during, 225, 240; forms of, 223–224; instructor responsibility for, 234–237; instructor training, 233–234; monitoring progress of, 232–233; rating performance and potential role in, 215–216; reaching consensus on realistic goals for, 221–223; responsibility for instructor, 214–215; reviewing tools available for, 241–243; stages of, 234–235; steps to effective, 228–229; ten characteristics of excellent, 213–214. See also Performance

Development groups: appropriate steps for specific, 219e–220e; identifying six types of, 216–218

Development plans: application of, 225, 227–228; Instructor Development Plan, 226e; steps in formulating, 221–223

Developmental (formative) feedback: comparing motivational and, 175; criteria for excellent, 172–173; described, 41, 157, 173–174; differences between negative and, 174; timing of, 176

Discriminatory language, 92–93

Distance learning, 9

Donahue, W., 22

Donar, S., 18

Drippers, 103–104

Dubois, D., 15

Duhaney, D., 18

E

Educational technology, 9

Electronically mediated instruction: definition of, 9; instructor responsibilities for, 18–19; level of student motivation and, 8–9

End-of-Course Evaluation form, 160e–161e

End-of-course evaluations, 159–162, 165–166

Environmental factors: common classroom problems related to, 95e; setting up and checking, 71–73

Equipment: common classroom problems related to, 95e; setting up and ensuring working order of, 70–71. See also Training aids

Evaluation forms: annual performance appraisal, 194–200; daily, 159; end-of-course, 159–162, 165–166; follow-up, 162, 163e–164e, 166; observing instructor performance, 178–186; progress reviews, 186–190

Evaluations: consistent reviewing feedback on, 157–162; instructor action based on reviewed, 165–166; Instructor Assessment Tool for, 180e–185e; observation, 178–186; participant performance and consistent, 155–156; performance standards on, 61e, 76–77, 155–167; providing feedback to participants, 156–157; referring evaluation items requiring action, 162, 165; reviewing previous course, 76–77; self-evaluation by instructor, 166–167. See also Performance; Testing

Exercises: clear instructions for, 116–117; “Desire to Be Here,” 130

Experience: definition of, 15, 19; required for instructor role, 22–23

Eye contact, 106, 107–108

F

Facilitator questioning techniques, 123

Facilities, 71–73. See also Classrooms

Fact finding career discussion, 229, 230

Feedback: annual performance appraisal, 198–200; career development, 225, 240; criteria for excellent, 172–173; definition of, 10; developmental (formative), 41, 157, 172–176; importance of applying, 240–241; instructor action based on reviewed, 165–166; instructor observation, 171–200; interviewing to assess skills in, 41–42; motivational (summative), 41, 157, 172–178; negative, 174; private and public, 177; providing participant, 156–157; reviewing evaluation, 157–162; sincerity of, 178, 225; specificity of, 177; tape recorders as source of, 147–148; Training Manager's Guide to Providing Feedback, 199*e*.
See also Communication; Performance system

Feuer, D., 5

Flexibility: in asking questions, 124; in course outline when necessary, 120–121; interviewing to assess, 39

Flip charts, 148–150

Follow-up evaluation, 162, 163*e*–164*e*, 166

Formative feedback. See Developmental (formative) feedback

Fritzsche, B., 5

G

Garblers, 104

Geber, B., 5

George, J., 92

Gestures/movements, 108

Gividen, J., 9

Glarers, 85

Greeting participants, 106

Gut wrenchers, 104

H

Harris, T. A., 5

High performance/high potential development groups, 217, 219*e*

High performance/low potential development groups, 217, 219*e*

How to Prepare Your Expatriate Employees for Cross-Cultural Work Environments (2005), 17

Hunt, D., 9, 139

I

Inflections/voice, 108–109

Initiative skills assessment, 43

Instruction: motivation and media-based/instructor-led, 8–9; performance standards on classroom, 58*e*–61

Instruction preparation: checklist for, 69*e*; performance standards on, 57*e*–58*e*, 67–77

Instructional technology, 9

Instructor Assessment Tool, 180*e*–185*e*

Instructor Development Plan, 226*e*

Instructor evaluation. See Evaluations

Instructor excellence: common reasons for failing to reach, 246–248; development process of, 213–237; ensuring successful, 239–248; impact on the way we interact, 5–9; impact on the way we learn, 3–5; performance system to produce, 10–11; recognizing and rewarding, 201–212. See also Performance standards

Instructor Interview Form, 46*e*–47*e*

Instructor job definition, 25*e*–26*e*

Instructor nervousness: categories of, 102–105; tips to eliminate, 105–107

Instructor nervousness categories: cotton mouths, 104–105; dippers, 103–104; garblers, 104; gut wrenchers, 104; mind blowers, 103; movers and shakers, 102–103

Instructor Performance Appraisal Form, 195*e*–197*e*

Instructor performance. See Performance expectations

Instructor preparation: content and objectives reviewed prior to class, 68; determining trainee skill and knowledge levels, 75–76; ensuring availability of training materials, 74; ensuring required supplies are set up, 74–75; ensuring timely pre-course material distribution, 75; overview of, 58*e*; performance standards for, 67–77; preparation completed in time for class, 67–68; reviewing previous course evaluations, 76–77; reviewing training plan to meet objectives, 70; setting up and checking equipment/training aids, 70–71; setting up facilities, 71–73

Instructor Progress Review Form, 187*e*–188*e*

Instructor roles: areas of responsibilities, 17–19, 245–246; characteristics required for, 19, 23; components required to fulfill, 19–23; defining your own, 24; experience required for, 19, 22–23; importance of well-defined, 13–14; knowledge required for, 19, 21; purpose of training and, 16–17; qualifications required for, 19, 21–22; skills required for, 19, 20–21

Instructor selection: characteristics of a good system for, 28–29; conducting the interview, 48–52; definition of selection system for, 10; post-interview actions, 52–53; pre-interview actions, 29–47e

Instructor Selection Form, 32e–33e

Instructors: accessibility to trainees, 80–82; areas of responsibilities by, 17–19, 234–237; ensuring success of, 239–248; eye contact by, 106, 107–108; job definition of, 25e–26e; performance system role of, 245–246; positive attitude toward subject by, 110–111; selecting, 10, 28–52; training, 233–234. See also Participants; Skills requirements; Training managers

Interpersonal skills assessment, 35–36

Interviews: conducting the, 48–52; post-interview actions, 52–53; pre-interview actions, 29–47e

J

Jamieson, D., 123

Jewett, F., 166

Job definition: components of, 14–15; definition of, 10; of instructor job, 25e–26e

Job tools, 10. See also Training aids

Justice, T., 123

K

Kazanas, H., 22

Kirk, J., 92

Knowledge: definition of, 14, 19; determining trainee level of, 75–76; using questions to test for, 130–132; required for instructor role, 21. See also Skills

Knowles, M., 5

L

Language: instructor use of clear, 111–112; nondiscriminatory, 92–93

Leadership skills assessment, 36

Learning: instructor excellence impact on, 3–5; Knowles's theory on adult, 5; turning negative situations into positive experiences of, 98–100; the way we interact and impact on, 5–9

Legum, E., 92

Li, J., 9, 139

Lindholm, J., 15

Low performance/high potential development groups, 217, 220e

Low performance/low potential development groups, 218, 220e

M

Maldonado, C., 9, 139

Managing diverse groups skills, 43–44

Mantyla, K., 9

Medium performance/potential development groups, 218, 220e

Millbower, L., 92

Mind blowers, 103

Minimal cues, 85–88

Monitoring development progress, 232–233

Motivation, 8–9

Motivational (summative) feedback: comparing developmental and, 175; criteria for excellent, 172–173; described, 41, 157, 173; private and public, 177; sincerity of, 178; timing of, 175–176

Movements/gestures, 108

Movers and shakers, 102–103

Movie projectors, 145–146

Myers, J., 92

N

Negative feedback, 174

Negative student labels, 4

Nervousness. See Instructor nervousness

Nodders, 86

Nondiscriminatory language, 92–93

Norton, M., 92

Nurturing parent, 6, 8

O

Objectives: instructor provided, 115; instructor review of course, 68; instructor review of training plan to meet, 70

Observing instructor performance: guidelines for, 179, 186; importance of, 178–179; Instructor Assessment Tool for, 180e–185e

- Open-ended questions: overview of, 124–128; testing for skills/knowledge using, 132
- Organizations: adapting performance standards to your, 62–63; trainer certification programs offered by, 23
- Organizing skills assessment, 37
- Overhead projectors, 143–144
- Overt cues, 85–88
- P
- Parent states: communication from, 6–7; two types of, 6
- Park, J., 22
- Participants: common classroom problems related to, 94e; “Desire to Be Here” exercise for, 130; determining skill and knowledge levels of, 75–76; greeting, 106; guided to reach answers themselves, 136–137; handling irrelevant questions by, 137–138; instructor accessibility to, 80–82; instructor answers to questions by, 132–133; instructor research to answer questions by, 133; instructor response to cues given by, 85–88; maintaining eye contact with, 106, 107–108; nondiscriminatory treatment of, 92–93; past classroom experiences of, 4–5; put at ease by instructor, 88–89; questions referred back to, 135–136; referred to by name by participants, 82–83; as resources for instructor, 90–92. See also Instructors; Training
- Participation: interviewing to assess skills in, 42–43; performance standards on evaluating, 61e; performance standards on gaining, 58e, 80–100
- Participation performance standards: appropriate manner of classroom problems, 93–98; instructor accessibility to participants, 80–82; instructor control over classroom, 89–90; instructor encouragement of participation, 80; instructor responses to cues, 85–88; instructor use of nondiscriminatory language, 92–93; overview of, 58e; participants put at ease by instructor, 88–89; participants referred to by instructor by name, 82–83; participants as resources for instructor, 90–92; positive reinforcement techniques used, 83–85; turning negative situations into positive learning experiences, 98–100
- Performance: achieving excellent, 9–11; annual appraisal of, 194–200; consistent evaluation of participant, 155–156; difficult problems related to, 190–194; observing instructor, 178–186; rating instructor potential and, 215–216. See also Development; Evaluations; Rewards/recognition
- Performance expectations: definition of, 10; importance of communicating, 55–56, 240; performance standard communication vehicle for, 56–62; vehicles used to communicate, 56–62
- Performance problems: how to solve, 192e; theme-and-cue approach to solving, 190–191, 193–194
- Performance standards: adapting to your organization, 62–63; advantages as communication vehicle, 62; on course content and sequencing, 59e–60e, 113–121; description and use of, 56; on evaluation instruction, 61e; on gaining participation, 58e, 80–100; on instructing the class, 58e–61e; on platform skills, 59e, 101–112; on preparing to instruct, 57e–58e, 67–77; on questioning techniques, 60e, 123–138; on training aids, 60e–61e, 139–153. See also Instructor excellence
- Performance system: components of successful, 10–11; defining performance expectations, 10, 55–62, 240; instructor role in, 245–246; instructor selection, 10, 28–53; reviewing the, 239; training manager role in, 243–245. See also Feedback; Skills requirements
- Peters, K., 9, 139
- Piskurich, G., 92
- Planning skills assessment, 37
- Platform skills: using clear language, 111–112; described, 101; instructor management of own nervousness, 102–107; instructor use of voice, 108–109; instructor’s positive attitude toward subject, 110–111; interviewing to assess, 37; maintaining eye contact, 106, 107–108; using natural gestures and movements, 108; performance standards on, 59e, 101–112; using training materials as guide, 109

Positive attitude, 110–111
 Positive reinforcement techniques, 83–85
 Post-interview actions, 52–53
 Power tips on classroom problems, 96–97
 PowerPoint presentations, 141–143
 Powers 1-2-3 scale, 97–98
 Powers, B., 9, 14, 98–100, 111, 112, 117, 130, 131, 165
 Pre-interview actions: analyzing pre-interview data, 30–31, 34; announcing the open position, 29–30; Instructor Interview Form preparation, 45–47e; Instructor Selection Form to guide, 32e–33e; preparing for the interview, 34–45
 Preparation. See Instructor preparation
 Privacy issues, 224–225
 Private feedback, 177
 Problem solving: of difficult performance problems, 190–194; interviewing to assess skills in, 40–41
 Problem solving career discussion, 229, 230, 231
 Progress reviews: conducting, 189–190; Instructor Progress Review Form, 187e–188e; purpose of, 186, 189
 Public feedback, 177

Q

Qualifications: definition of, 14–15, 19; required for instructor role, 21–22
 Questioning skills: closed questions, 128, 129–130; guiding participants to reach answers themselves, 136–137; handling irrelevant questions, 137–138; instructor answers to participant questions, 132–133; instructor research to answer participant questions, 133; of instructors versus facilitators, 123; interviewing to assess, 42; non-defensive answers by instructor, 134–135; using open questions, 124–128; performance standards on, 60e, 123–138; providing opportunities for questions/reviews, 124; questions referred back to participants by instructors, 135–136. See also Communication

R

Rating performance/potential, 215–216
 Reading skills assessment, 36

Relaxation exercises, 106
 Reward programs, 201–202
 Rewards/recognition: as appropriate to the performance, 205–206; creative and resourceful approach to giving, 206–207; definition of, 10; instructor responsibility for, 211–212; matching what instructor values to, 202–203; messages sent through, 203–205; ninety-nine ways of giving, 208e–209e; private and public timing of, 210; role of feedback in, 240–241; sincere presentation of, 207. See also Performance
 Rietz, T., 8
 Risk taking skills, 44
 Room arrangements: four types of, 72–73; setting up and checking, 71–73
 Rothwell, W. J., 5, 9, 15, 22, 42, 88, 107, 139, 142–143

S

Safety issues: setting up and checking, 71–73; training aids and, 152–153
 Salas, E., 5
 Scale for Rating Performance, 215–216
 Scale for Rating Potential, 216
 Schwager, S., 92
 Schwarz, R., 123
 Selection system. See Instructor selection
 Sequencing. See Content/sequencing
 Sexist language, 92–93
 Shakers and movers, 102–103
 Silberman, M., 91
 Sincerity: of development feedback, 225; of rewards/recognition, 207
 Skills: definition of, 14, 19; determining trainee level of, 75–76; interviewing to assess job candidate, 34–45; using questions to test for, 130–132; required for instructor role, 20–21, 34–45. See also Knowledge
 Skills requirements: analytical skills, 39–40; to avoid first-level failures, 20–21; decision making skills, 37–39; feedback skills, 41–42; flexibility skills, 39, 120–121, 124; initiative skills, 43; interpersonal skills, 35–36; leadership skills, 36; managing diverse groups skills, 43–44; organizing and planning skills, 37; participation skills, 42–43; platform skills, 37, 101–112; problem solving skills, 40–41; questioning

- skills, 42, 60e, 123–138; reading skills, 36; risk taking skills, 44; verbal skills, 34–35; writing skills, 44–45. See also Instructors; Performance system
- Slide projectors, 144–145
- “Smile tests,” 158
- Squirmers, 85
- Stage fright, 107
- Stern, J., 9, 139
- Student labels, 4
- “Sugarcoating” behavior, 134
- Sugrue, B., 8
- Summaries, 115–116
- Summative feedback. See Motivational (summative) feedback
- T
- Tape recorders, 147–148
- “Telephone-ese,” 111
- Testing: clear instructions for, 116–117; consistent use of evaluation, 155–156; using questions for skills/knowledge, 130–132; “smile tests,” 158. See also Evaluations
- Theater room arrangement, 72, 73
- Theme-and-cue technique, 190–191, 193–194
- Torrence, D., 92
- Tosti, D., 173, 190
- Trainer certification programs, 23
- Training: definition of, 10; instructor, 233–234. See also Participants
- Training aids: used to add to the learning experience, 140–141; using alternative, 152; instructor maintenance or adjustments on, 151–152; instructor proficiency in using, 141–151; performance standards on, 60e–61e, 139–153; prescribed instructions for caring for, 153; using safety practices when using, 152–153; setting up and ensuring working order of, 70–71. See also Equipment; Job tools
- Training aids list: computers, 150–151; flip charts, 148–150; movie projectors, 145–146; overhead projectors, 143–144; slide projectors, 144–145; tape recorders, 147–148; video equipment, 146–147; video projectors and PowerPoint, 141–143
- Training* (magazine), 5
- Training managers: appropriate development role of, 223–224; career discussion conducted by, 229–233; confidentiality and privacy issues for, 224–225; Guide to Providing Feedback, 199e; monitoring development progress, 232–233; performance system role of, 243–245; recognizing and rewarding instructors, 201–212, 240–241. See also Instructors
- Training materials: ensuring availability of, 74; ensuring timely distribution of pre-course, 75; used as guide and not script, 109; presented as per instructor guide, 118–119; presented in proper sequence, 120. See also Content/sequencing
- Training supplies, ensuring on-time availability of, 74–75
- Transactional analysis (TA), 5–6
- Transitions, 115–116
- U
- U shape room arrangement, 72
- Unknown performance and/or potential development groups, 218, 220e
- V
- Van Gundy, A., 91
- Vanguard Consulting Group, 173
- Verbal skills assessment, 34–35
- Video equipment, 146–147
- Video projectors, 141–143
- Vision creation, 105
- Voice/inflections, 108–109
- W
- Writing skills assessment, 44–45
- Y
- Yorton, T., 92

