

Index

- ABC of Stock Speculation, The* (Nelson), 5
- Advances:
and declines in market trends, 53
in bear market, as secondary reaction,
7–8, 64
- Air Freight, 9
- Airlines, 9
- All About Market Timing* (Masonson), 154
- American Stock Exchange Traded Funds
(ETFs), 178
- Amex Interactive Internet New Index
(IIX), 48
- Analysis of stock trends:
neural network analysis of Hamilton's
editorials, 45–46
1998 to 1999, 37–44
record of Dow Theory results, 26–29
- Anxious Index, Survey of Professional Forecasters, 160–161
- Appel, Gerald, 154
- Arms, Richard Jr., 89
- Arms Index (TRIN), 89
- Averages:
hypotheses of Dow's theory, 5–6 movements and confirmation, 9 nonconfirmation and buy signals, 19–21
primary trend, 6–7
- Bancroft, Hugh, 35
- Barron's*, 37, 46
- Baruch, Bernard, 47
- Bassetti, W. H. C., 25, 26–29, 47, 48
- Battle for Investment Survival* (Loeb), 171
- Bear markets. See also Bull and bear markets; Bull markets; "Mini"-bull markets
- bell curve, 64
- buy signals and composite indicator,
171–173
- capitulation at ending of, 80
- capitulation following 9/11 event, 72
- changing to bull markets, 9–10
- consumer confidence, 135–137
- day of year, best single for investing, 148–149
- definitions of, 61–63, 86–87
- duration of, 70, 72
- "How Now, Dow Jones?" (Boland), 37
- identifying, 70
- versus index peaking, in forecasting
recessions, 136
- indicators of lows, 87–90
- "official," 64–65
- primary trend, theorem of, 6–7
- and recessions, 33, 62–67, 157
- secondary rallies in, 64
- sell signals, 21–23
- in the twentieth and twenty-first centuries, 61–65, 70–72
- yield curve, inverted, and forecasting
recessions, 133–135
- unemployment rate and recessions,
158–162
- "Best Six Months" strategy (Harding), 154
- Bleiberg, Robert N., 46
- Boland, John, 37
- Bonds and market tops, 131–135
- Bounces:
following capitulation, 100–101
patterns of change, 17–21
- Break downs, in bull markets, 22–23
- Break ups, 17–21

220 Index

- Brown, Stephen, 45
- Bull and bear markets. See also Bear markets; Bull markets; “Mini”-bull markets
- Dow, Charles, and human nature, 69
- duration of, 70, 72
- history, 70–73
- identifying, 70
- ingredients for formation, 123–124
- of the twentieth and twenty-first centuries, 70–72
- Bull markets. See also Bear markets; Bull and bear markets; “Mini”-bull markets
- bell curve of 25 bull markets, 58
- buy signals, 18–21
- consumer confidence, 139
- data of 25 bull markets, 56–57
- definitions of, 53–54
- duration of, 70, 72
- economic expansion, 54, 58–59, 164–166
- “How Now, Dow Jones?” (Boland), 37
- identifying, 70
- versus “mini”-bull markets, 54, 73
- patterns of advances, 54–55
- primary trend, theorem of, 7
- pullbacks and bounces, 17–21
- sell signals and composite indicator, 172–174
- shortest and longest, 55–58
- in the twentieth and twenty-first centuries, 53–58, 70–72
- volume peaks and market tops, 129–131
- Bureau of Labor Statistics, unemployment rate, 159–162
- Business and recessions, 157–162
- Business Cycle Dating Committee of National Bureau of Economic Research (NBER), 157
- Business cycles, 58–59, 65–67
- Buy-and-hold strategy:
- day of year, best single for investing, 149
- versus Dow theory, 44–45, 46, 49
- Buy and sell signals, Dow Jones Industrials and Transportation Average, 17–23
- Buy signals:
- analysis, 1998–1999, 38–44
- in bull markets, 18–21
- capitulation, 170
- composite indicator and, 171–173
- and Dow Theory, 1998 example, 39–44
- economic expansions, 34
- examples, 177–178
- following capitulation, 102–106
- during recessions, 162–166
- traditional, and capitulation, 100–101
- “Can Stock Market Forecasters Forecast?” (Cowles), 44–45
- Capacity utilization, 164–166
- Capitulation:
- bounce following, 100–101
- buy signals, 79–80, 102–106, 170
- buy signals, traditional, 100–101
- “Capitulation—The Ultimate Bear Market Low Indicator” (Schanep), 86–95
- degrees of, and aftermaths, 80–85
- distress selling, 79
- ending of bear markets, 80
- example of August 1998 low markets, 38–39, 41
- indicator, use of for investing, 181
- signals, 91–95
- “Capitulation—The Ultimate Bear Market Low Indicator” (Schanep), 86–95
- Carlson, Chuck, 43–44
- Cash, 179
- CBOE Volatility Index (VIX), 88
- Charles H. Dow Award competition, 86, 88
- Cherney, Paul, 87, 88, 89
- Chicago Board Options Exchange, 88
- Closing prices:
- hypothesis of Dow’s theory, 5–6
- use of, for analysis, 38
- COMPARE (Computer Assistance to Research), 90–91, 123–128
- Composite indexes and forecasting, 47–48
- Composite indicator, 169–175
- Composite iShares (NYC), 170, 178–179
- Conference Board, The:
- compared with Consumer Sentiment index, 137–138
- consumer confidence, 135
- Index of Leading Economic Indicators, 54

- on 2001 recession, 158
- Confirmation:
 - nonconfirmation in buy signals, 19–21
 - of two averages, 9
- Construction employment, 140, 142
- Consumer confidence:
 - Conference Board, The, 137–138
 - “Small Business Optimism Index,” 138
 - University of Michigan’s Consumer Sentiment index, 137–138
 - and recessions, 157
- Contrary indicators:
 - Equity-only put/call ratio, 87
 - net cash into/out of equity funds, 87–88
- Cowles, Alfred, 44–45
 - Customer’s Afternoon Letter*, 3
- CXO Advisory, 153
- Daily fluctuation, theory of, 8
- Day of the year, best single, as indicator, 145–149
- Day-to-day movements, 5, 8
- Dean Witter & Co.:
 - author’s career with, 123
 - COMPARE (Computer Assistance to Research) Department, 90–91, 123–128
 - publications, 47, 124–125
- Decline:
 - indication of, 9
 - as secondary reaction, 7–8
- Desmond, Paul, 88
- “Diamonds” (DIA—Dow Jones Index Shares):
 - exchange-traded funds and Dow Jones Industrial Average, 98
 - index funds for tracking Dow Jones Industrial Average, 11
 - as investment vehicle, 170, 178
- Distress selling, 79
- DJIA. See Dow Jones Industrial Average
- DJTA. See Dow Jones Transportation Average
- DJUA. See Dow Jones Utilities
 - origins of, 4
- Double tops and double bottoms, 10, 19–23
- Dow, Charles Henry. See also Charles H. Dow Award competition
 - averages as guide to economy, 54, 58–59
 - on confirmation of Industrials and Transports, 48–49
 - Customer’s Afternoon Letter*, 3
 - first stock index, 4
 - on human nature, 69
 - market wisdom of, 35
 - as a reporter and editor, 3
 - Wall Street Journal*, 4
 - on values as determining prices, 50
- Dow Jones & Co.
 - definition of bear market, 62
 - origins, 3–4
- Dow Jones Industrial and Transportation Averages:
 - analysis, 1998–1999, 37–44
 - prior lows and buy signals, 18–21
- Dow Jones Industrial Average (DJIA):
 - affected by Transportation Average, 49
 - as economic predictor of business activity, 58–59
 - high point, May 13, 1998, 37
 - measurements of stocks and bull markets, 54
 - Nasdaq composite (COMP) in place of, 48
 - pullbacks and bounces, 17–21
 - interrelationship with Transportation Average, 4
 - performance compared to S&P 500, 178–179
 - signals, compared with S&P 500 indices, 18, 29, 32
 - Standard & Poor’s 500 role in confirming signals, 99
 - of the twentieth and twenty-first centuries, 70–72
- Dow Jones Transportation Average (DJTA):
 - Amex Interactive Internet New Index (IIX) in place of, 48
 - arguments for eliminating, 48
 - highest point, April 16, 1998, 37
 - movements, 1998 to 1999, 37–44
 - origins of, 4
 - pullbacks and bounces, 17–18

Dow Jones Transportation Average

(Continued)

relevance in twenty-first century, 48–49

Standard & Poor's 500 role in confirming signals, 37, 99

using Standard & Poor's 500 in place of, 98–99

Dow Jones Utilities (DJUA), 4

Down markets and market timers, 45

Dow theorists:

disagreement on signals, in 1998

example, 38–44

Hamilton, William Peter, 5–8, 11–12,

18, 35, 39, 42–46, 48–50, 64, 103

misconception of signals, 49–50

other theorists, 43–46

Rhea, Robert, 5–11, 38, 42–43, 46, 62,

86–87, 90, 91, 102

Russell, Richard, 43

Dow Theory:

“almost classic” versus “rigid”

interpretations of 1998 market,

39–44

versus buy-and-hold strategy, 44–45 buys, and following bull markets and

economic expansions, 34

“Can Stock Market Forecasters

Forecast?” (Cowles), 44–45

capitulation, 79–95

combined with Schanep Timing

indicator, 125–128

compared to other indexes, 48

compared with S&P 500, 29, 31, 32

“definite theorems,” 6

definitions of bear market, 61–63

disagreement on signals, 46–50

“Dow Theory: It's Alive! Alive! And

Bullish?” (Task), 41–44

enhancement of, 101–102

fallibility, 6, 46–50

Hamilton, William Peter, quotes on, historical record, improved, 109–119

5–11

market highs and lows, 1998–1999,

38–40

“mini-” bull markets, 54, 73, 99–100

“misses” of market tops and bottoms, 47

new, for the twenty-first century,

106–108

origins of, 4–6

pertinent to New York Stock

Exchange, 47

Rhea, Robert, writings on, 5–11, 38,

42–43, 46, 62, 86–87, 90, 91, 102 sells, and following bear markets and

recessions, 33

sell signals, 182

signals, in 1998 example, 39–40

Standard & Poor's 500 compared with

Dow Jones Industrials, 97–99

twentieth and twenty-first centuries

chart, 29–30

“Dow Theory: It's Alive! Alive! And

Bullish?” (Task), 41–44

“Dow Theory, The: William Peter

Hamilton's Track Record

Re-Considered” (Goetzmann, Kumar,

& Brown), 45

Dow Theory, The (Rhea), 5–11, 38, 42–43,

46, 62, 86–87, 90, 91, 102

Dow Theory Forecasts (Carlson), 43

Dow Theory Letters (Russell), 43

Economic Cycle Research Institute

(ECRI), and 2001 recession, 158

Economic expansion:

following recessions, 164–166

preceded by bull markets, 34–35, 54,

58–59

Economist, The, on 2001 recession, 158

Economy. See also National Bureau of Economic Research (NBER)

bear market as forecaster of recession,

62, 65–67

construction employment, 140, 142

consumer confidence, 135

Dow Jones as predictor of, 58–59

evaluating status of, 180

housing starts and recessions, 138–141 stock market as predictor of business activity, 58–59, 65–67

ECRI. See Economic Cycle Research

Institute, 158

Edwards, Robert D., 25, 26–29

Efficient market theory, 45

1878 silver strike, 3

Employment, 140, 142. See also

Unemployment rate

- Equity funds, net cash into/out of, 87–88
- Equity-only put/call ratio as contrary indicator, 87
- “Estimated Recession Probabilities for Profit Model Using the Yield Curve Spread” (New York Federal Reserve Bank), 131
- ETFs (American Stock Exchange Traded Funds), 178
- Federal Reserve, 164–166
- Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia, Anxious Index, 160–161
- Federal Reserve Open Market Committee, 124, 125, 158
- 50-day moving average (EMA), 90
- 52-week lows, calculated by New York Stock Exchange (NYSE), 88
- Fisher, Kenneth L., 164
- Forbes Magazine*:
- definition of bear market, 61
 - definition of bull market, 54
- Forecasting:
- Anxious Index, Survey of Professional Forecasters, 160–161
 - composite indicator, 169–175
 - consumer confidence tops, 135–143
 - Inverted yield curve, 131–135
 - New York Stock Exchange volume peaks, 129–131
 - and recessions, 157–166
 - with Schannep Timing Indicator and Dow Theory, 123–128
 - “three tops and a tumble,” 129–143
- Forecasting Survey for 2001 (Wall Street Journal), 159
- Future Shock* (Toffler), 70, 72
- Glickstein, David, 46
- Hamilton, William Peter:
- comments on Dow Theory, 35, 44–46, 48–50, 103
 - and Dow Theory, 1998 example, 39
 - editorial, October 25, 1929, 11–12
 - “Rule of Three,” 42–43
 - on secondary rallies in bear markets, 64
 - secondary reactions, timing of, 18
 - theorems of Dow’s theory, 6–8
- Wall Street Journal* editorials, 5
- Harding, Sy, 154
- Hirsch, Yale, 154
- Historical analysis:
- bear and bull markets, 37–42
 - day of the year, best single for investing, 145–149
 - “How Now, Dow Jones?” (Boland), 37
 - improved record with new Dow Theory, 109–119
 - “January Barometer” versus February, 149–153
 - long term versus near term, 155–157
 - “Presidential cycle,” 154–155
 - recessions, 157–166
 - “typical” year, 153–154
- Housing starts:
- construction employment, 140, 142
 - recessions, 138–140
- “How Now, Dow Jones?” (Boland), 37
- Hulbert, Mark, 45–46
- Hulbert Financial Digest* (Hulbert), 45–46
- Human nature and change, 69
- Hypotheses of Dow Theory (Rhea), 5–6
- Iacocca, Lee, 158
- IIX (Amex Interactive Internet New Index), 48
- Index funds, 11
- Index of Leading Economic Indicators, 54
- Index peaking in forecasting recessions, versus bear markets, 136
- 90% Indicator (Lowry’s Reports), 88–89
- Indicators:
- capacity utilization, 164–166
 - capitulation, 181
 - composite indicator, 169–175
 - consumer confidence, 135–138
 - day of the year, best single, 145–149
 - economic expansion following recession, 164–166
 - housing starts, 138–143
 - January versus February, 149–153
 - non-farm payroll, 164–166
 - Schannep Timing indicator, 123–128
 - Stock Market Major Trend Timing Indicator, 124–128
 - “three tops and a tumble,” 129–143

224 Index

- Indicators (Continued)
volume peaks, 129–131
yield curve, inverted, 131–135
- Industrial and Transportation Averages.
See Dow Jones Industrial and Transportation Averages
- Industrial Average. See Dow Jones Industrial Average
- Intel, 48
- Interest rates:
“The Yield Curve and Predicting Recessions” (New York Federal Reserve Bank working paper), 132 yield curve, inverted, and market tops, 131–135
- Internet stocks and forecasting, 47
- Inverted yield curve, 131–135
- Investing:
composite indicator, 169–175
“Diamonds” (DIA—Dow Jones Industrial Averages), 170, 178–179
effect of Seasonal Affective Disorder, 146 economy, evaluating status of, 180 during January versus December, 145–149
long term versus near term, 155–157
market timing indicators, evaluating, 180–181
NYC iShares (New York Stock Exchange Composite Index), 170, 178–179
and recessions, 157–166
“Spiders” (SPY—Standard & Poor’s 500), 170, 178–179 stock market, evaluating status of, 180
“typical” year, 153–154
- Investment Company Institute, 87
- “January Barometer” versus February, 149–153
- Jones, Edward, Customer’s Afternoon Letter, 3
- Kansas, Dave, 41
- Kiernan News Agency (1880s), 3
- Kumar, Alok, 45
- “Lines,” defined, 10
- Loeb, Gerald M., 171
- Lowry’s Reports “90%” Indicator, 88, 91
- MACD. See Moving Average Convergence Divergence (Appel)
- Magee, John, 25, 26–29
- Malkiel, Burton, 45
- Manipulation, hypothesis of Dow’s theory, 5
- Marcel, Pedro V., 48
- Marine transport, 9
- Market highs and lows. See also Market movements; Market tops and bottoms; Market trends
bull markets, 22–23
CBOE Volatility Index (VIX), 88
consumer confidence, 135
indicators of lows of bear markets, 87–90
lows, 17–21
Seasonal Affective Disorder, effect of, 146
- Market movements. See also Market highs and lows; Market tops and bottoms; Market trends declines versus bear markets, 63
extent or duration, 47
1998 to 1999, 37–44
overbought or oversold, 10
patterns revealed in Hamilton’s editorials, 45–46
prior lows and buy signals, 18–21
tops and bottoms, 47
- Market Technicians Association, 86
- Market theory, efficient, 45
- Market timing:
capitulation indicator, 181
day of the year, best single, for investing, 145–149
down markets, 45
and Dow Theory, 47
Dow Theory combined with Schanep Timing Indicator, 125–128 evaluating status of indicators, when investing, 180–181 major U.S. markets, 178 months compared, 153–154
patterns revealed in Hamilton’s editorials, 45–46

- Schanep Timing Indicator, 170–175
- Stock Market Major Trend Timing Indicator, 124–128
- years compared, 154–157
- Market Timing with Technical Analysis* (Marcel), 48
- Market tops and bottoms:
- consumer confidence, 135–143
 - Dow theory and “misses” of, 47
 - forecasting, 123–128
 - New York Stock Exchange volume peaks, 129–131
 - recessions, 157
 - “return move” at tops and bottoms, 10
- Market trends. See also Market highs and lows; Market movements; Market tops and bottoms
- advances and declines, 53
 - bear to bull markets, 9–10, 18–21
 - bounces and pullbacks, 102–106
 - bull to bear market, 21–23
 - “Capitulation—The Ultimate Bear Market Low Indicator” (Schanep), 86–95
 - daily fluctuation, 8
 - composite indicator, 169–175
 - determining, 9–10
 - “lines” defined, 10
 - manipulation, 5
 - momentum, 124
 - monetary atmosphere, 124
 - primary trend, 6–7
 - secondary reaction, 7–8, 18
 - Stock Market Major Trend Timing Indicator, 124–128
 - theories of, 7–9
 - volume of price movements, 10
 - yield curve, inverted, 131–135
- Masonson, Les, 154
- Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Beane, 125
- Microsoft, 48
- “Mini”-bull markets, 54, 73, 99–100
- Momentum, 124
- Monetary atmosphere, 124
- Money Magazine*, definition of bear market, 61, 86–87
- Morgan, J. P., 53, 70
- Morgan Stanley, 47, 123
- Morgan Stanley Dean Witter, definition of bear market, 62
- Moving Average Convergence Divergence (MACD) (Appel), 154
- Nasdaq:
- capitalization of, compared with New York Stock Exchange (NYSE), 98
 - dot-com companies in 1990s, 48
 - stock market forecasting, 47
- Nasdaq composite (COMP), 48
- National Bureau of Economic Research (NBER):
- Business Cycle Dating Committee, 157
 - definition of recession, 62, 145
 - recession indicators, 157–166
- NBER. See National Bureau of Economic Research
- Ned Davis Research:
- definition of bear market, 61, 62
 - definition of bull market, 53
- Nelson, A. J., 5
- Net cash into/out of equity funds, 87–88
- Neural network analysis, 45–46
- New York Federal Reserve Bank, 131
- “Estimated Recession Probabilities for Profit Model Using the Yield Curve Spread” (New York Federal Reserve Bank), 131
 - “The Yield Curve and Predicting Recessions” (working paper), 132
- New York Stock Exchange (NYSE):
- capitalization of, compared with Nasdaq, 98
 - Dow Theory pertinent to, 47
 - 52-week lows, 88
 - iShares (NYC) as investment vehicle, 170, 178–179
 - volume peaks and market tops, 129–131
 - volume and bull market peaks, 10
- NFIB. See “Small Business Optimism Index”
- 1929 stock market crash, 11–13
- 1999 stock market crash, 13–15
- Nonconfirmation of indices, 19–21
- Non-farm payroll, 164–166
- NYSE. See New York Stock Exchange

- Pensions & Investment Age*, 46
- Portfolio, 101–106
- Position, in rising market, 100–101
- “Presidential cycle,” 154–155
- Price movements, 10, 38, 124–128
- Prices determined by values, 50
- Primary trend:
 - bear and bull markets, 7
 - downtrend in bear market, 17
 - extent and/or duration, 6, 13, 18, 47
 - versus secondary reaction, 7–8
 - theorem of, 6–7
- Profit:
 - enhanced Dow Theory and, 101–106
 - “Estimated Recession Probabilities for Profit Model Using the Yield Curve Spread” (New York Federal Reserve Bank), 131
- Providence Journal* (1870s), 3
- Providence Sunday Dispatch* (1870s–80s), 3
- Pullbacks and bounces:
 - bear markets, 21–23
 - bull markets, 17–23
 - and Dow Theory, 1998 example, 39–40
 - with enhanced Dow Theory, 102–106
 - following capitulation, 100–101
 - pullbacks of bull markets, 17–18
- Rail equipment, 9
- Railroads (Transports):
 - included in first stock index, 4
 - composite of 20 stocks, 9
 - Railroad (Transportation) Average, 58–59
- Rallies:
 - in bull market, 21
 - indication of, 9
- Recessions:
 - bear markets and, 62–67
 - buy signals, 162–166
 - Dow Theory and forecasting of, 33, 35
 - Economic Cycle Research Institute (ECRI), 158
 - “Estimated Recession Probabilities for Profit Model Using the Yield Curve Spread” (New York Federal Reserve Bank), 131
 - followed by economic expansion, 164–166
 - housing starts, 138–140, 138–141
 - “How Now, Dow Jones?” (Boland), 37
 - indications of ends of, 164–166
 - preceded by bear markets, 61–63
 - sell signals, 33, 157–162
 - “The Yield Curve and Predicting Recessions, The” (New York Federal Reserve Bank working paper), 132
 - unemployment rate, 158–162
 - Wall Street Journal* reports on unemployment rate, 158
 - warnings of, 157
 - White House Council of Economic Advisers, 158
 - yield curve of various interest rates, 131–135
- Record of Dow Theory results:
 - analysis of stock trends, 26–29
 - compared to S&P 500, 29, 31–32
 - compared to Standard & Poor’s 500, 29, 32
 - 103-year record, 27–28
 - twentieth and twenty-first centuries chart, 30
- “Return move” at market tops and bottoms, 10
- Rhea, Robert:
 - comments on Dow theory, 38, 42–43, 46–50, 91, 102
 - comments on bear markets, 62, 79, 90
 - Dow Theory, The*, 50
 - hypotheses and theorems of Dow’s theory, 5–8
 - pullbacks and bounces, 17
 - secondary reactions, timing of, 18
- Riding the Bear* (Harding), 154
- “Rule of Three,” 1998 market example, 42–43
- Russell, Richard, 43
- Schannep Timing Indicator, 123–128, 170–175
- Seasonal Affective Disorder effect on markets, 146
- Secondary reaction:
 - market trends, 7–8
 - “pullbacks” of bull markets, 17–18
- “Selling climax,” 79–95
- Sell signals:

- analysis, 1998–1999, 38
- bear markets, 21–23
- with enhanced Dow Theory, 106
- unemployment rate and recession, 157–162
- September 11, 2001, interpretation of Dow Theory, 99
- “Short History of Bull Markets, A” (Forbes Magazine), 54
- Signals:
 - analysis of sell, 1998–1999, 38
 - bear market sell, 21–23
 - bull markets buy, 18–21
 - formation, and “return move” at tops and bottoms, 10
 - identifying patterns of change, 17–23
 - interrelated Transports and Industrials indices, 4
 - sell signals in bear markets, 21–23
- “Small Business Optimism Index” (NFIB), 138
- “Smokestack” companies, 4
- Speculation:
 - and Dow Theory, 38, 50
 - market trends, theories of, 7–9
- “Spiders” (SPY—Standard & Poor’s Depository Receipts):
 - exchange-traded funds, 98
 - exchange-traded funds and Dow Jones Industrial Average, 98
 - index funds for tracking Standard & Poor’s 500, 11
 - investment vehicle, 170, 178
- S&P MarketScope, 87–89
- Springfield Republican* (1870s), 3
- SPY. See “Spiders”
- Standard & Poor’s 500 (S&P 500)
 - Cherney, Paul, Chief Market Analyst, 87
 - compared to Dow Theory results, 29, 32
 - Conference Board, The, and Index of Leading Economic Indicators, 54
 - in conjunction with Dow Jones Industrials and Transports, 47–48, 99–100
 - current role in Dow Theory, 99
 - CXO Advisory chart of “typical” year, 153
 - definition of bear market, 62–63
 - market index as basis of, 45
 - measurements of stocks and bull markets, 54
 - as part of composite of indexes, 47–48
 - performance compared to Dow Jones Industrial Average, 178–179
 - S&P MarketScope, 87–89
 - technology-related stocks, 178
- State Street Research, definition of bear market, 62
- Stein, Jonathan, 81, 164–165
- Stock index, first published by Dow, 4
- Stock market:
 - business cycle predictor, 58–59, 65–67
 - composite indicator, 169–175
 - declines versus bear markets, 63
 - effect of Seasonal Affective Disorder, 146
 - evaluating status of, 180
 - human nature and change, 69
- Stock Market Barometer, The: A Study of Its Forecast Value Based on Charles H. Dow’s Theory of the Price Movement* (Hamilton), 5, 35
- Stock Market Major Trend Timing Indicator, 124–128
- Stock market theory, twentieth century versus twenty-first century, 6
- Stocks:
 - individual, and relation to averages, 10–11
 - over-the-counter, 48
 - technology-related stocks, 178
- Stock Trader’s Almanac* (Hirsch), 154
- Survey of Professional Forecasters* (Anxious Index), 160–161
- Task, Aaron L., 41–44
- Technical Analysis of Stock Trends* (Edwards, Magee, & Bassetti), 26–29, 47, 49
- 10-Week Moving Averages, 89
- TheDowTheory.com Newsletter, 62
- TheStreet.com Internet index (DOT), 41–44, 48
- Third Wave* (Toffler), 32
- Toffler, Alvin, 32, 70, 72
- Tops of markets. See Market tops
- Transactions, volume during rallies and declines, 10

- Transports. See Dow Jones Transportation Averages (DJTA)
- Trends. See Market trends
- TrimTabs, 87
- Trucking, 9
- Tucson Indicator, 123–128
- “Turn in the Tide, A” (Hamilton), 11–12
- “Turn in the Tide, A—Part II” (Schannep), 13–15
- 200-Day Moving Average, 89
- “Typical” year, 153–154
- Unemployment rate:
 - bear markets and recessions, 158–162
 - Bureau of Labor Statistics, 159–162
 - Wall Street Journal* reports, 158
- University of Michigan’s Consumer Sentiment index, 137–138
- Up markets and market timers, 45
- Values determining prices, 50
- Volatility. See CBOE Volatility Index (VIX)
- Volume:
 - peaks, 129–131
 - relation to price movements, 10
- Wall Street Journal*:
 - Arms Index, 89
 - Customer’s Afternoon Letter* as precursor, 3
 - definition of bear market, 61–63
 - definition of bull market, 53
 - Dow, Charles Henry, as first editor, 4
 - editorial, October 25, 1929, 11–13
 - editorial, October 26, 1929, 12–13
 - Fed Fund rates, 124–125
 - Forecasting Survey for 2001, 159
 - on unemployment rate, 158
- Wall Street Waltz* (Fisher), 164
- “Way Above Average—For a Century Dow Theory Has Served Investors Well” (Bleiberg), 46
- Web sites:
 - author’s, editorial of 1999, 13
 - www.bigcharts.com, 89
 - www.cboe.com, 87, 88
 - www.ici.org, 87
 - www.InvestorsIntelligence.com, 89
 - www.johnmageeta.com, 47
 - www.lowryreports.com, 88
 - www.mta.com, 88
 - www.nber.org, 62
 - www.philadelphiafed.org/files/spf/anxind.html, 162
 - www.profit.net, 90
 - www.stockcharts.com, 89, 90
 - www.TheStreet.com Internet index (DOT), 48
 - www.trimtabs.com, 87
- White House Council of Economic Advisers, 158
- White Mountain Independent*, 61
- “Will COMPARE Improve Your Sense of Timing?” (Dean Witter & Co.), 125
- Wilshire 5000, 48
- Wubbels, Rolf, 46
- Yahoo! Finance*, 145
- Yield curve:
 - “Estimated Recession Probabilities for Profit Model Using the Yield Curve Spread” (New York Federal Reserve Bank), 131
 - inverted, and market tops, 131–135
 - and recessions, 157
- “Yield Curve and Predicting Recessions, The” (New York Federal Reserve Bank working paper), 132