

INDEX

A

Adler, T., 73, 75
Advancement Via Individual Determination (AVID), 93–94, 106, 110, 119
Advisories, 3–15; ASVAB (Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Test), 11; believing in the students, 10–12; breaking down the system into manageable numbers, 5; community, 3–4; goals of, 7; lessons learned, 12–14; Maslow’s Hierarchy of Needs, 10; parents/caregivers, including, 8–10; principles for improvement, 4; reflection questions, 14–15; success of, 5–8; WASL (Washington Assessment of Student Learning), 11
Alternative Learning Centers, 72
Alternatives (opposing viewpoints/supposition) rubric category, Habits of Mind, 88
Alvermann, D. E., xvii
Arts and humanities (AH) class, Francis W. Parker Charter Essential School, 26–27
Assessment, 81–95; Center for Secondary School Redesign (CSSR), 177–178
ASVAB (Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Test), 11
Atkinson, M., xvi
Attentiveness (Parker School habit of learning), 24

AVID, See Advancement Via Individual Determination (AVID)

B

BAA, See Boston Arts Academy (BAA)
Big Picture Company, Inc., 148, 149
Big Picture schools: assessment, 155–156; Caleb (case study), 158–171; College Portfolios, 156; communication with parents, 157; community events, 157; design, 147–148, 152–158; Dylan’s story, 148; exhibitions, 155; family engagement, 157; Family Engagement Committee, 157; Final Presentation Portfolio, 156; Final Presentation Portfolios, 156; flexibility, 157–158; Gateway Requirements, 156; graduation requirements, 156; Janessa’s story, 152; learning goals, 155; learning goals and standards (table), 154; Learning Plan Team, 157; Learning Through Internship (LTIs), 153–155; narratives, 155; Portfolio Box, 156; portfolios, 155–156; relationships, 150–151; relevance, 150; rigor, 151; Senior Institute, 156; Senior Thesis Project, 156; teaching/learning, 152–153; typical student learning experience, 158; Working Portfolio, 156

- Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, 149–150; grant, 60–61; high school initiative, 147
- Block scheduling, 45–47, 187
- Bloomberg, Michael, 83
- Boston Arts Academy (BAA), Boston, MA,
125–145, 179, See also Professional learning communities; and Boston Pilot Schools,
125; Camilla’s story, 128–130; Emily’s story,
139–141; interdisciplinary, use of term,
138; lessons learned, 144; MEAL, 134–136;
Open Honors, 137; peer observation, 131;
professional practice, deepening, 136–137;
strength of, 142–143; teacher retention, 139;
writing seminar, 134–136
- Bransford, R., xvii
- Brown, B., 73
- C
- Caldwell, B. J., 72–73
- Caleb (case study), 158–171; evaluating Caleb’s work, 168–170; internship, 160–161;
learning objectives, 164; learning plan, 160,
162–163; project, 165–168; results, 170–171
- Call To Action: Transforming High School for All Youth (HAS)*, xxii–xxiii, 173; core principles for student success, xxiii
- Callahan, J., xvii
- Center for Secondary School Redesign (CSSR), 180; leadership and governance, 174–175;
list of practices, 174–175; personalized assessment, 177–178; personalized curriculum, 177; personalized learning, 175–176; personalized teaching, 176;
professional community, 175
- CES Essential Visions, 93
- CES Small Schools Network, 93
- Clarke, J., xiii–xiv, xv
- Coalition of essential schools, 20–21
- “Cocoa and Cram” sessions, Madison High School, San Diego, CA, 116
- Collaboration (Parker School habit of learning), 23
- Collaborative leadership, 99–123, See also Madison High School, San Diego, CA; new application of, 100
- Collaborative learning, 72
- Colorado Small Schools Initiative
(CSSI), 148
- Communication rubric category, Habits of Mind, 88–89
- Community, importance of, 139–142
- Computers, and curriculum, 54–56
- Connections rubric category, Habits of Mind, 88
- Constructivist theory: and brain research, 70;
personalized instruction, 69–70
- Contextual learning, 72
- Cooney, Lauren, 47–49
- Cotton, K., xvii
- “Criteria for Excellence,” Francis W. Parker
Charter Essential School, 26
- Critical thinking (Parker School habit of learning), 23
- CSSR, See Center for Secondary School
Redesign (CSSR)
- Culture, 51–52
- Curriculum, 43–63; Center for Secondary School Redesign (CSSR), 177; committing to PBL as the primary mode of instruction, 62; computers, 54–56; and culture, 51–52;
instructional practice, 57–60; integration, 46; Lauren Cooney’s story, 47–49; lessons learned, 61–62; purpose of, 52–54; results and findings, 60–61; structure, 54–56; and student success, 49–50; switching to PBL, 62;
twenty-first century skills, focus on, 52–54, 58–59
- Curtis, P., 43, 186–187
- Cushman-Brandjes, E., xiv
- D
- Darling-Hammond, L., xvii
- Davidson, J., xvii, 81
- Deci, E., 74

DeLaura, C., 81, 186

DiMartino, J., xiv, xv, xxiv

Dornbusch, S., 73

Dryfoos, J. G., 74

E

Eccles, J. S., 73, 74, 75

Education Resource Strategies, xv

Educators for Social Responsibility, Cambridge, MA, 180

Epstein, J. L., 73

Eves, V., 99, 188

Evidence rubric category, Habits of Mind, 87–88

Exhibitions, as alternative assessments, 81

Expeditionary Learning Outward Bound (ELOB), xiv

Expression (Parker School habit of learning), 23

F

Fall PLP conference, Francis W. Parker Charter Essential School, 30–31

Federal Hocking High School, Stewart, OH, 179

Feldlaufer, H., 74, 75

Fleming, J. S., 73

Foreign Language rubrics, 91–92

Francis W. Parker Charter Essential School, Devens, MA, 17, 179; Academic Check-in, 27–28; Advisory Check-in, 27–28; arts and humanities (AH) class, 26–27; “Criteria for Excellence,” 26; fall PLP conference, 30–31; habits of learning, 23–24; intellectual domains, 26–27; math, science, and technology (MST) class, 27; spring PLP conference, 37

French, D., xvi

Front Range Early College High School, Denver, Colorado, 147, 149–150, 179, 189

G

Gottfried, A. W., 73

Grabelle, S., xv

Grading rubrics, 88–89

Granger High School, Granger, WA, 179

H

Habits of Mind, 87–89; alternatives (opposing viewpoints/supposition) rubric category, 88; communication rubric category, 88–89; connections rubric category, 88; evidence rubric category, 87–88; point of view rubric category, 87; significance rubric category, 88

Harter, S., 73

Hierarchy of Needs (Maslow), 10; for school change, 49–51

High school education, new 3 Rs of, 150–151
High Schools on a Human Scale (Tock), 51

Hinchman, K. A., xvii

Hirsch, B. J., 73

Hope Study, 76

Humanities rubric, 91

I

Independent learning: creating an environment fostering, xiv–xv

Inquiry (Parker School habit of learning), 23

Instruction, 65–79

Instructional practice, changing, 43–63

Involvement (Parker School habit of learning), 24

“I’s Have It” Committees, Madison High School, San Diego, California, 117

J

Josephson Institute of Ethics, 73

Just-in-time learning, 72

K

Kazdin, A. E., 74

Klein, Joel, 83

Koppenhaver, D., xvii

L

Langer, J. A., xvii
Learner-driven learning, 72
Learning: Big Picture schools, 152–153; Center for Secondary School Redesign (CSSR), 175–176; just-in-time, 72; life-long, 72
Learning Through Internship (LTIs), 153–155
Learning-to-learn, 72
Leblanc-Esparza, R., 3, 185
Levine, E., xiv
Lieber, C., xvi
Life-long learning, 72
Link Crew Program: Madison High School, San Diego, CA, 116
Littky, D., xv, 147, 149

M

MacIver, D., 74
Madison High School, San Diego, CA, 99, 179: academic focus, 119; accomplishments, 121; achievements, 118–121; Advancement Via Individual Determination (AVID), 106, 110, 119; belief system, redesigning, 109–121; challenge defined, 109; changes, 104–105, 117–118; changing teachers' beliefs about students, 112–115; "Cocoa and Cram" sessions, 116; community input on what not to change, 108; community input on what to change, 107; community support, 120; disconnect between facts and staff's beliefs about, 103–104; faculty and staff strategies, 115–117; first steps, 104–105; getting started in making changes, 100–101; history, 101–103; improving its reputation, 100; "I's Have It" Committees, 117; lessons learned, 121–122; Link Crew Program, 116; negative press, 103; parents, 104–105; parents' input on what not to change, 108; parents' input on what to change, 107; professional development, improving through student achievement, 115–118; renaissance, 110–111;

rewards and recognition, 121; safety, 111–112; San Diego Unified School District (SDUSD), 99–100; staff, 104; staff input on what not to change, 108; staff input on what to change, 106–107; student input on what not to change, 107–108; student input on what to change, 105–106; students, 104; teacher input on what not to change, 108; teacher input on what to change, 106–107
Mapleton Preparatory High School, Denver, CO, 149–150, 179, 189
Marks, H. M., 73
Martino, J. A., 181–182
Maslow's Hierarchy of Needs, 10
Math, science, and technology (MST) class, Francis W. Parker Charter Essential School, 27
McPartland, J. M., 73
MEAL, 134–136
Met School, Providence, RI, 147–149
Metropolitan Career and Technical Center (The Met), xiv–xv
Midgley & Feldlaufer, 75
Midgley, C., 73, 74, 75
Mills, Richard, 82
Minnesota New Country School (MNCS), 180, See also Personalized instruction; advisors, 66; instruction at, 65–77; personalized instruction process, 67–69
Moore, D. W., xvii

N

Napa Unified School District, 44, 60
Nathan, L., 125, 188–189
National Association of Secondary School Principals (NASSP), xiii, xvi
National Center for Educational Statistics, 74
National High School Alliance (HAS), xxii, 173, 174; Call To Action: Transforming High School for All Youth (HAS), xxii–xxiii, 173
National Staff Development Council (NSDC), xiv

- New Technology Foundation, 62, 180; Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation grant, 61
- New Technology High School, Napa, California, 43–62; educational software, 55; grade book, 60; grade book software, 59–60; graduation requirements, 56; instructional practice, 57–60; lessons learned, 61–62; Power Skills course, 56; project-based learning (PBL), 57–60; reform, as norm instead of exception, 51; schedule changes, 56; twenty-first century skills, focus on, 52–54, 58–59
- New York Performance Standards Consortium, 81–82, 90; and high-stakes testing, 82
- Newell, R., 65, 187
- O
- October pre-PLP check-in, 24–26; classes (part 1), 24–25; habits of learning (part 3), 25; initial goal setting (part 6), 26; outside of academics (part 4), 25; partnering (part 5), 25–26; skills (part 2), 25
- Orchestrated immersion, 70–71
- Organization, changes to, xvi
- Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development, xxi
- Organization (Parker School habit of learning), 23
- Osofsky, D., 17, 185–186
- P
- Park, J., xiv, 147, 189
- Partnership for 21st Century Skills, 51–53
- Pedagogy of the Oppressed* (Freire), 137
- Peer observation, 131
- Pelles, Kathy, 82–83
- Perkins, Carl, 46
- Personal Learning and Postsecondary Plans (PLPPs), xiv
- Personal learning plans (PLPs), 17–40; Anne Dufault's story, 28–29; challenges of, 38; coalition of essential schools, 20–21; collaboration, as common goal, 36; defined, 22; Emily Browning's story, 18–19; essential questions, 17–18; fall PLP conference, 30–31; fall PLP conference preparation, 22–23; Francis W. Parker Charter Essential School, 17; Habits of Learning (Parker School), 23–24; lessons learned, 39–40; October pre-PLP check-in, 24–26; PLP peer reflection protocol, 35–36; process, 22–23; professional development and support for advisors, 38–39; sample PLP goals and strategies, 32–33; spring PLP conference, 37; using, 34–35; writing of, 31–32, 34; year-end closure, 37–38
- Personalized Education Plan (PEP), 10–11
- Personalized instruction, 69–70; active processing, 70–71; constructivist theory, 69–70; lessons learned, 75–76; orchestrated immersion, 70–71; placing personalization at the forefront of education, 73; process, 67–69; purpose of, 69–73; relaxed alertness, 70; research supporting, 73–75
- Phelps, S. F., xvii
- Piecemeal reform, plague of, 44–47
- PISA (Programme of International Student Assessment) exam, xxi
- Piton Foundation, 149
- PLPPs, See Personal Learning and Postsecondary Plans (PLPPs)
- Point of view rubric category, Habits of Mind, 87
- Practices, Center for Secondary School Redesign (CSSR), 174–175
- Principal Residency Network (Northeastern University), 126
- Professional learning community, 125; building buy-in for, 143–144; building supportive communities for teachers, 126–132; Center for Secondary School Redesign (CSSR), 175; community, importance of,

- 139–142; deepening professional practice, 136–137; Emily’s story, 139–141; interaction between teacher and administrator, 141–143; schoolwide and individual goals/strategies, 132–134; students’ neighborhoods, becoming familiar with, 138–139
- Project-based learning (PBL), 43–63
- Public engagement: and school empowerment, xiv
- R
- Rapkin, B. D., 73
- Reflection (Parker School habit of learning), 24
- Relaxed alertness, 70
- Renaissance, at Madison High School, San Diego, CA, 110–111
- Reuman, D., 74
- Roeser, R. W., 74, 75
- Roeser, R. W., Eccles, J. S., & Sameroff, A. J., 74
- Roeser, R. W., Midgley, C., & Urdan, T. C., 74
- Rose Community Foundation, 149
- Rubrics, 87–92; types of, 91–92
- Rugen, L., xvi
- Ryan, L., xvii
- Ryan, R., 74
- S
- San Diego Unified School District (SDUSD), 99–100
- S.C.A.N.S. (Secretary’s Commission on Achieving Necessary Skills) report, 51–52
- Schmoker, M., xv
- Schnab, F., 73
- School change, hierarchy of needs for, 49–51
- School of the Future (SOF), New York City, 81–95, 180; CES Common Principles, 83, 89; coaches, teachers as, 93–94; developing the exhibition process at, 82–83; Eric’s story, 84–86; exhibitions, using to deepen learning experiences, 83–86; Habits of Mind, 87–89; lessons learned, 94; New York Performance Standards Consortium, 81–82; rubrics, 87–92; workers, students as, 93–94
- School organization: adapting to promote student success, xv–xvi
- School structures, changes to, xvi
- Schraeder, T., 17, 186
- Science/Math rubric, 92
- Shared values, developing, xiii–xiv
- Significance rubric category, Habits of Mind, 88
- Sizer, Theodore, 89
- Skilled teacher, becoming, 39–40
- Skyland Community High School, Denver, Colorado, 149, 179, 189
- Small learning community (SLC), xiii, xv, 46
- Small schools, xiii, xv; culture, 51–52
- Smith, P., xiv
- Sobol, Thomas, 81
- SOF, See School of the Future (SOF), New York City
- Spring PLP conference, Francis W. Parker Charter Essential School, 37
- Standards-based instruction, xvi–xvii
- Stapleton Foundation, 149
- Steinberg et al., 73
- Steinberg, L., 73
- Stoddard, L., 71–72
- Strategic Designs: Lessons from Leading Edge Small Urban High Schools*, xv
- Strobel, K. R., 74, 75
- Student leadership, integrating, 147–172; lessons learned, 171
- Supportive communities, 126–132
- Swanson, Mary Catherine, 110
- T
- Teachers: building supportive communities for, 126–132; retention, 139
- Teaching: Big Picture schools, 152–153, Center for Secondary School Redesign (CSSR), 176
- Ten Common Principles of the Coalition of Essential Schools, 20–21

Tomlinson, C., xvii
Transformative learning, 72
Twenty-first century skills, 52–54, 58–59

V

Van Ryzin, M. J., 65, 187–188

W

Waff, D. R., xvii
Washor, E., 147, 149

WASL (Washington Assessment of Student Learning), 11
WestEd, 53
Wigfield, A., 74
Wolk, D., xv, xvii
Wolk, D. L., 173, 183
Wood, B., 83
Worsley, D., xvii
Writing seminar, at BAA, 134–136

